

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 206

“That’s right. This document is real. Jack Trent from Thousand Leaves personally signed it and passed it to me,” Alex Rockefeller said.

Joanne spat in Alex’s face.

“Who do you think you are? You’re just a useless shut-in. Why would Jack Trent from Thousand Leaves personally sign and send a document to you? That’s the biggest lie I’ve ever heard,” Joanne said.

“Alright. We’ll eventually find out if he’s telling the truth or not. The police will be involved when the time comes. For now, we must temporarily shut Assex City South Subsidiary Company down. My apologies, Ms. Assex,” Marshall Roberts said.

However, Dorothy Assex’s new secretary came running in. “Ms. Assex, Mr. Trent from Thousand Leaves is here,” she said.

Dorothy was stunned. Emma Assex, on the other hand, started laughing loudly.

“Mr. Trent must have found out that you forged the authorization letter and came to demand an apology. Dorothy, are you still in denial?”

Dorothy was actually feeling very nervous, but Alex held her soft hands to calm her down.

Soon, Jack Trent arrived.

When Anderson Assex saw Jack, he immediately greeted the man with a warm smile on his face. Anderson knew that Jack was backed by the Yowell family who was a hundred times more powerful than the Assex family.

“Nice to meet you, Mr. Trent. It’s my pleasure to meet you here. You must be here because of Dorothy’s nasty forgery of the permit. She really did go too far. Fortunately, I have already torn the document,” Anderson said with a smile.

Jack looked shocked.

The document had been torn? What was going on?

However, Jack wasn’t in the mood to think about it. He circled past Anderson and quickly walked up to Alex and Dorothy with a smile on his face.

“Mr. Rockefeller, Ms. Rockefeller, I apologize for showing up without an invitation, ” Jack said humbly.

Suddenly, Anderson’s body tensed up. He was in disbelief.

Joanne couldn’t believe what she was seeing. Her eyes were wide with surprise.

“Impossible. How is this possible?” Emma mumbled to herself.

“Mr. Trent, you’re here at the right time. These people suspect that I forged the document from yesterday, they even tore it apart. Mr. Marshall here even wanted to shut down my wife’s company just now. But there are so many employees that rely on the company for an income. They have mouths to feed. What would they do if the company shut down? That’s why you must help explain things to Mr. Marshall over here,” Alex said with a smile.

When Marshall saw how Jack greeted Alex, he was already dumbfounded. Marshall's heart was beating wildly.

Even he wouldn't dare get in trouble with someone from the Yowell family.

Marshall started cursing Anderson for setting him up.

"It's been a while, Mr. Marshall. You look as good as ever! But I really did personally sign the permit. It's a binding agreement. We, Thousand Leaves, have a working relationship with Ms. Assex's company," Jack said calmly.

Marshall's expression froze momentarily.

"To be honest, I believed the document was real when I saw it. Unfortunately, Anderson over here tore it apart. I was only asking Ms. Assex to explain things clearly," Marshall said.

"I see," Jack murmured.

"That's exactly what happened. But now that you've personally shown up and explained things, Mr. Trent, it's all clear now. It's merely a misunderstanding... In that case, I shall leave to deal with other business. Farewell," Marshall said quickly.

"Farewell, Mr. Marshall." Jack nodded.

Jack immediately glared at Anderson coldly. "Why did you tear the permit I signed for Ms. Assex on behalf of Thousand Leaves? You have to give me a reasonable explanation," he said.
