

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 481

Alex didn't really want to show his face so publicly if possible. However, for the sake of the endorsement of Lush Cosmetics' products and to help his mother, he finally nodded.

There were some other reasons among them.

Facing Zendaya's eager gaze, he couldn't bear to refuse her, as if he seemed to not want to see her unhappy at all. It was exactly the same as the obsession feeling between the hero and heroine over three lives in the background story of the song.

After leaving Zendaya's villa, Alex gave a call to his mother immediately to report the good news.

When Brittany heard this, she jumped up happily. "Really? That's great, Son! I didn't expect you to have such a wide network of contacts now, and you're even acquainted with Zendaya. With her joining us, I believe our Lush Cosmetics will definitely become ultra-popular."

After a pause, she then asked, "By the way, how much does Zendaya's endorsement fee cost? It should be quite expensive, right? We have about twenty million dollars in our accounts now. If that's not enough, I'll have to figure out to see if I can borrow some money."

Alex smiled and said, "Don't worry, Zendaya agreed to be our endorser for free."

"What did you say?"

"It's free. You don't have to come out with a single penny."

“Am I hearing this right? How could she not want a single penny? What in the world is your relationship with her?”

“This... I’ll keep it a secret for now. Oh right, she’ll be having a concert three days later in California, do you want to come over and listen to her singing? I have a few tickets in hand, and I’ve reserved one for you.”

Zendaya had given him these tickets just now.

“Yes, of course I want to!”

Once that call was over, Alex gave another call to Michell to inform her that the medicinal clay had been successfully refined.

Michelle was most concerned about her face right now, and immediately rushed over to Maple Villa once she got the call.

By the time Alex drove his Aston Martin back to the villa, Michell had already arrived. Half an hour later, Alex gently applied the pink medicinal clay over Michelle’s wound.

Maya and Waltz were also present at the time.

This was the first time they were seeing the words engraved on Michelle’s face.

They couldn’t help but frown in shock.

“Are you sure you can treat this wound?” Maya asked in concern, because the wound was extremely deep. Not only had it cut into the surface of the skin, it had also damaged the muscle tissues underneath.

Alex smiled and said confidently, "Don't worry, I promise it'll be as good as new! Originally, even without this medicinal clay, I could have used just witchcraft to heal the wound, but I couldn't guarantee that it wouldn't leave any scar. With this, you can rest assured!"

Then, he turned to Michelle and said, "The wound on your face will become itchy after a while, Michelle. In case you can't stand it, I'll just knock you out first. Sleep, and once you wake up, everything will be healed."

Smack!

As soon as he said that, Waltz knocked Michelle out with her palm.

Waltz urged. "Hurry up, I can't wait to see your legendary medical skills. If you can heal this scar, can you also take a look and see if you can heal my scar?"

As she said that, she lifted the hem of her dress to reveal the snow white skin of her lower back.

There was a very small strip-shaped scar on it.

Alex was speechless. "It's such a small wound, and it can't really be seen clearly if one were to squint. Why does it matter?"

Waltz glared at him and said, "Any scar on a woman's body is a stain that cannot be allowed to exist."

Maya nodded. "Yes, especially if it's on the face, that's even more unacceptable. I dare to guarantee that if there is a scar on a woman's face, she would even ruin all her fortunes just to get rid of it."

Waltz added, "Even more so for beautiful women."

After letting out a sigh, Maya said, "Unfortunately, scars are problems for everyone in this world. They are like a piece of cloth, it's almost impossible to completely repair it once they are torn..."

While they were talking, Alex had started to perform witchcraft to heal Michelle, using his blood as a primer and talismans as a medium. Very quickly, a scarlet scripture that looked mystical started to float on Michelle's face. The medicinal clay that had been applied to her face started to absorb it quickly at a speed visible to the naked eye.

Maya and Waltz couldn't help but stare, with their beautiful eyes widened.

Even though they had known for a long time that Alex's medicinal skills had been known to be mysterious, it was still shocking to see such a scene with their own eyes.

Half an hour later, the medicinal clay on Michelle's face had changed from the original pink to off-white color.
