

Chapter 16

When Molly reached home, she looked at Tony, who was still following behind them. She asked flatly, "Haven't you had enough?" Tony looked composed. "Dr. May, I won't give up until you agree to treat my boss." The three little ones were next to Molly as they looked up at the pestering Uncle Tony. They started to feel bad for him and supported him by persuading their mom. "Mommy, money is money. Aren't you angry? Turn that anger into energy and use it to earn a huge amount of money from him to let off some steam!" "That's right, Mommy! Aren't we going to bring great-grandpa over to stay with us? We should stay in a big house and hire a servant to take care of him. How are we going to do that if you continue acting like this?" Ben chimed in. Even Claudia started to act cute as she said, "Also, isn't Grand aunt Sue going to stay with us when she comes back to Northfolk next time? It seems like this room is a little too small!" Molly's expression shifted, and it was obvious that she was moved! "Pardon me for asking, but you're a highly-skilled physician, Dr. May. Putting your other patients aside, you'll get tens of millions of dollars just by treating my boss. Besides, you've had plenty of successful cases. Why are you still in this financial position?" Ben sighed as he placed his hands on his hips, looking like an adult. "My mom doesn't like to deal with rich people, so her patients are mostly from poor families. We're lucky if we didn't have to lose money. Most of the time, my mommy would fork out some money as an act of charity because she felt bad for them." Molly did not refute because Ben was speaking the truth. Furthermore, she truly wanted Grandpa Dave to live a good life out here. It was hard for her to do so if she was just renting a room! Molly looked hesitant. Tony read the situation and the wheels in his head spun as he immediately said, "My boss owns an empty mansion in Terahis Grove, and he was planning to sell it away. I'll settle the transfer procedure as soon as I get back if you'd like! Only if you're willing to treat my boss, that is." The trio's eyes glimmered as they thought, 'That's exactly what we want!' Sean was there too. If they moved in there, they would have the chance to get closer to him! Besides, Terahis Grove was the wealthiest neighborhood in the city, so its residents were all filthy rich. Even the May family did not have what it took to live there. Molly's expression loosened up as she was clear that nothing comes for free in this world. If she accepted Sean's case, it only meant that she had to be fully responsible for him and treat him! The little ones saw that she was in a dilemma, so they immediately said, "Mommy, please give in for the sake of great-grandpa and Grand aunt Sue." Since they mentioned two of these people, Molly had no choice but to agree. "Okay! I can treat Sean but on one condition. No one is allowed to disturb me or comment on any of my decisions." "No problem!" Tony responded immediately. "We accept your conditions, but I hope you'll treat my boss until he is fully recovered as you've already agreed to take on our case, Dr. May." Molly smiled, and her eyes were filled with confidence. "Don't worry about this. I'll definitely take full responsibility for my patient!" Tony was overjoyed once everything was settled and immediately went back to see his boss. But Sean frowned when he heard the news! 'That mansion is right next to mine. Doesn't that mean that we'll be neighbors?' Tony saw his expression and explained, "It's convenient for them to stay nearby as it'll be easier for her to check up on your treatments. Besides, they can't escape easily too!" But Sean was not worried about these issues, so he reluctantly agreed and asked, "When will the treatment start?" "Dr. May will start as soon as she moves in. I'll get some people to help her move tomorrow," Tony answered. Sean nodded slightly.
