

Triplets on SM 341

Chapter 341

Molly said with a smile. "It's nothing. I have my own children at home, so that's how I got it. It'll be easier for us to do things as long as the children's fears are relieved."

Several other doctors agreed that Molly's statement was reasonable

Molly and the doctors at the free clinic had already begun their work, and the children had started cooperating

The majority of the children were only slightly weaker. Some children suffered from a common cold and a mild fever. Molly and several doctors were relieved.

It was nearly noon when Sean arrived. He came here with Tony. Sean crossed paths with Benjamin as soon as he entered the orphanage.

The two were at odds, and Sean's appearance also made Benjamin a little unhappy.

This guy is everywhere. Benjamin thought to himself. He stepped in front of Sean, blocking his path.

"I'm surprised that the Andersons' young master is interested in visiting an orphanage. We already have a sufficient number of people here. Even if you have good intentions, read the room. Molly is involved in a serious business," Benjamin stated.

Benjamin's words contained ambiguity.

Sean stared at him with ice-cold eyes. He came here solely to support Molly in finishing this free clinic and assisting the sick children at the orphanage. He had no other plans.

And, Benjamin's words clearly accused him of failing to distinguish the difference between public and private matters, which was revolting.

Tony listened carefully and realized that Benjamin had misunderstood Sean. Seeing that his boss was silent, he explained, "My boss learned about the free clinic at the orphanage and immediately mobilized many resources and medicines for it. All expenses are the responsibility of the Anderson Corporation. Please be careful with your words, Mr. Forts."

Tony was also dissatisfied.

Molly had just arrived and noticed Sean and Benjamin together. She also heard Tony's words.

Knowing that the two were not on good terms, she rushed to Benjamin. She said, "Mr. Anderson mentioned it to me a few days ago, but I forgot to tell you that he also wants to help the children at the orphanage. That's a good thing."

Benjamin looked at Sean after he finished listening, but the latter ignored him.

"If that's the case, I've wronged him, Mr. Anderson, please accept my heartfelt gratitude on behalf of the children,"

Sean did not care about Benjamin's words, and he did not do it for him.

“Are you tired from the free clinic in the morning?” Sean asked Molly

“Not at all. The kids cooperated, and the doctors’ work went well.” Molly raised her head

Benjamin was speechless and upset, but he remained silent and stood beside them

A child appeared not far away while they were talking and when he saw Molly and Benjamin, he ran to them

“Help! Something’s wrong. Ms. Doctor, something happened to Tinkerbelle. Please come and see her!” Molly became anxious when he heard the child panting and looking anxious.

“What’s the problem, and where is she? Take me to her!” Molly instructed the child

Everyone rushed over because they were concerned about the child’s condition

Tinkerbelle was a five-year-old fair-skinned girl with big bright eyes

When Molly and the others arrived, Tinkerbelle curled up on the ground, breathing rapidly and her limbs were twitching

Chapter 342

Tinkerbelle looked as though she was in pain.

Madam Goldstein, the orphanage’s director, received the news and arrived at the same time. She was familiar with every child in the orphanage. When she heard that something had happened to Tinkerbelle, she rushed over *Tinkerbelle has had asthma since she was born, doctor. She hasn’t been able to run or jump since she was a child. “Molly and Benjamin placed Tinkerbelle on the bed while Madam Goldstein told her about Tinkerbelle.

“Let me take a look at her,” Molly said. She assisted Tinkerbelle in adjusting her posture and allowed her to kneel on the bed with her pillow in her arms and her waist leaning forward. That was a good posture for her breathing

“The fewer people there are, the better. Others may wait outside if there is no air circulation here, the child will suffer. Please get the asthma spray or respirator so we can treat the child’s asthma.” Molly turned to face everyone and said

Madam Goldstein remained in the room. Her facial expression showed that she was not in a good shape. “Doctor May, is there any other way?” she asked Molly. *The additional medical supplies haven’t arrived yet. Only the most critical ones were urgently delivered. We have already urged them to arrive sooner, but the supplies are stuck in traffic on the road. I’m not sure when they’ll arrive”

Supplies and medications could be delayed, but Tinkerbelle, who was in front of them, could not

Madam Goldstein looked after all of the orphanage’s children. She was in more pain than anyone else after seeing Tinkerbelle in that state, but she could not help

“Don’t worry, it’s in the supplies we brought here today Tony, bring someone to get the items.” Sean ordered Tony and told him to go get it

“That’s fantastic news, Mr Anderson, You’re a huge help!” Madam Goldstein and everyone’s tense hearts eased a little

Tony did not waste time, and he asked a few people to go out and help him move the supplies. He quickly returned and brought over what Molly had requested

Molly immediately performed first aid on Tinkerbelle

Tinkerbelle’s asthma cleared up quickly after that. Her skin tone had improved significantly, but her small face remained pale And, her twitching symptoms did not change

Molly continued to allow Tinkerbelle to lie on the bed and carefully examined her condition

“Dr. May, is Tinkerbelle all right? How is she doing?”

Madam Goldstein looked at Tinkerbelle, who was still twitching as if she was in pain Madam Goldstein was concerned after seeing Molly check on Tinkerbelle, and she did not make a sound for a long time.

“It should be a nerve spasm that’s causing the whole-body convulsion Molly explained

Everyone had never seen anything like this before. Madam Goldstein listened, as her heart was pounding even faster

‘Is there any way we can help her?’* Sean asked He was not able to bear the sight of the frail child lying on the bed

Molly had a plan, but Tinkerbelle was twitching all over the place. She could not cooperate and let Molly insert her needles into the targeted areas.

“Benjamin, Madam Goldstein, please lend me a hand and try to keep Tinkerbelle’s body as still as possible

“Okay Benjamin had confidence in Molly’s needle treatment and came to help

Molly took out her silver needle and inserted it into several of Tinkerbelle’s meridians after the two held her down

Molly lightly twisted the silver needle. Her needle technique had never been seen before, and the tail of the needle vibrated rapidly Tinkerbelle had woken up, and her pale little face had gradually returned to its normal complexion,

The process took more than ten minutes before Tinkerbelle’s body stopped twitching Molly then removed the needles from Tinkerbelle’s body one by one

Chapter 343

Molly breathed a sigh of relief Fortunately, the delivered medical equipment could be used immediately Otherwise, a situation like Tinkerbelle’s would have been complicated and dangerous!

Molly pondered. Her gaze was drawn naturally to Sean. Her smile was light, but there was no sense of alienation

Sean noticed Molly's gaze and turned around "Just in case, Tinkerbelle should be taken to the hospital," Molly said to the people around her

Nobody noticed their silent tacit agreement

Benjamin was talking on the phone. After a few words, he hung up. He said, "The hospital has already made preparations I just called someone to register her in, so we can get her there immediately

When Madam Goldstein and the other children heard this, they smiled with relief

"Great! Tinkerbelle is now safe! Madam Goldstein thought to herself 'Perhaps these people could help Tinkerbelle with her innate asthma."

"I'll leave her in your capable hands," Madam Goldstein said gratefully

"It's fine, Madam Goldstein It's what we do," one of the doctors replied

Another doctor took the carrying frame from Madam Goldstein and said, "Let's put the child in the car first and get her to the hospital as soon as possible Take extra care with her hands and feet."

They gathered their belongings, started the car, and drove to the hospital

Molly walked to Sean after packing up the used equipment She paused briefly before she said, "Thank you for bringing in the supplies earlier We are fortunate to have you here!"

"It's nothing In fact, I think it's great every time you help others without hesitation, Sean said, raising his chin slightly

Sean's praise was an affirmation of Molly's work and respect for the doctor's profession

Molly smiled. The corners of her mouth rose like the first rays of sunshine in Spring She remained speechless because these words had lifted all of her heart's fatigue

"Go and reserve the hotel's luxury dinner set, and ask them to deliver it later,' Sean instructed Tony after a while

Sean was concerned about the orphanage preparing the food. He looked at the always-busy figure, who was occasionally surrounded by children. The children seemed to like her a lot

The conditions here are deplorable, and the children require adequate nutrition.' Sean thought to himself.

Tony agreed, and he contacted the hotel

A car pulled up to the orphanage's entrance at noon, and three men in surts stepped out Each of them was carrying large packages They came here because Tony told them to.

Tony had been standing at the dining room door for quite some time. He waved to them, and delicious food was placed on the simple dining table

“Wow!”

“Wow, that’s a lot of delicious food I’m getting hungry!!”

“That looks delicious!”

The young ones began to converse while secretly gulping down food that they had just seen for the first time

The amount of food seemed as though it was not only intended for doctors but also for children

“What is this, Mr. Anderson? Madam Goldstein was taken aback, and she asked Sean

“I don’t know much about saving lives or assisting the injured. But, I only have a smidgeon of common sense. Doctors have the energy to treat diseases when they are well-fed, and children require additional nutrition as well.” Sean replied, looking at Madam Goldstein

These were insignificant to Sean. Because Molly was so tired these days, he hoped she could eat more nutritious food

“I agreed with the hotel that I will also take care of the meals for the orphanage for the next few days.” Sean said

Chapter 344

The Andersons’ rumored ruthless and powerful leader did not appear to be so inhumane

*Children, what should you say to Mr Anderson?” Madam Goldstein smiled “Thank you, Mr. Anderson!” the children exclaimed in unison

Everyone had a big grin on their face

Molly stood quietly by the side, looking straight at Sean through other people’s figures, as everyone thanked Sean. Her heartbeat rose and fell just in time with the children’s voices

Sean excused himself after lunch because there was still work to be done at the company “What time does your duty end today?” he asked Molly before leaving

*About eight o’clock.” Molly replied

“By then, I should be on the way home, and will pick you up

Benjamin followed Sean. He became enraged when he heard Sean’s words “Don’t bother, Mr Anderson. Molly is here now, and I will naturally take care of her,” he said subconsciously to the two of them

Benjamin frowned and cast a sidelong glance at Sean

“Mr Forts, it’s no trouble at all.” Sean said. He turned around and walked to the luxury car in front of the door

Benjamin stood there for two minutes, watching the car drive away

Molly did not give much thought to it because she had a lot of things to do. She returned to her work at the tree clinic with the doctors

Time flew by, and when Molly raised her head, she was aching. This collaborative project was incredibly taxing.

Molly stretched her muscles and joints before walking out the door, only to discover that it was already nighttime.

Several doctors left one by one at the end of the day's work, and the familiar car pulled up to the front door and waited quietly.

Is he really here? Molly was perplexed.

Molly noticed and raised her brows slightly. She was taken aback when she saw the car window slowly lowering. Like the wind blowing the shrouded clouds away, his face was revealed like a full moon in the sky.

"Do you need a lift, Molly?" Benjamin appeared behind and inquired of Molly, claiming he had not noticed the car at the door.

Molly shifted her weight to the side. She knew the person beside him was tired after a long day, so she said, "It's okay."

Molly noticed a slightly tired face behind her. "Let's all go back and sleep early," she comforted Benjamin.

Benjamin grinned. He was exhausted, but he also wanted to send Molly home. He was still unsure when he noticed her walking away.

"You really came," Molly said as she approached the car, bending down and leaning her face against the car window.

Sean looked at Molly before opening the door of the car, and she sat beside him. "Are you tired?" he inquired.

Molly sighed and leaned back against the soft seat. She stated, "Yes, I was exhausted when I got out. But, treating so many children was also worthwhile."

Sean's eyes softened, and he softly said, "Have some herbal tea. You'll feel better after drinking it."

Sean took a thermos cup beside him. "If you're tired, you can rest for a while. I'll wake you up when we get home," he said as he handed the thermos cup to Molly.

Molly took an obedient sip, and a warm, comfortable feeling filled her chest. It made her feel drowsy and want to sleep.

Molly closed her eyes and fell asleep without realizing it. She tilted slightly after a while and unknowingly leaned on the shoulder beside her.

Sean smiled as he raised the corners of his eyes. He reached his hand out and held Molly to prevent her from slipping from his shoulder. He moved gently, as he straightened Molly's neck.

Chapter 345

Sean gently woke Molly up a few moments later.

Molly woke up in a daze, and she heard a familiar voice say, "We're home"

Molly was still a little dizzy, and she nodded subconsciously before her eyes were in focus

Molly's consciousness returned after she got out of the car, but the tired look on her face remained
"Let's get this treatment started."

Sean's needle treatment for the day had not been completed yet She yawned while covering her mouth
She followed Sean and Tony into Sean's house and did not return home

She's exhausted, but she still wants to treat me like how we planned' Sean thought

Sean looked behind Molly as she walked up the stairs He felt as though someone was squeezing his heart and was indescribably distressed

The following two days.

Molly was still running back and forth for the free clinic in the orphanage

She visited two orphanages quickly this time and discovered that several children suffered from serious illnesses. Fortunately, the children were taken to the hospital as soon as possible and were promptly treated

As a result, Madam Goldstein and the other directors of the two orphanages were extremely grateful
Some members of the media, who were interested in the area's activities and public welfare, came to do interviews, and Molly was the person they mentioned the most

The news about Molly's true identity as Dr Joye was revealed some time ago At this moment, the interview where the children expressed their heartfelt gratitude was all broadcast on television news several times

Molly's reputation skyrocketed, and the general public had a favorable impression of her

Molly walked out of the office, rubbing her tired eyes She felt her chest tightening and the steps beneath her feet becoming difficult to move on

Maybe I'm too tired 'Molly thought

Molly looked up to see the luxury car waiting outside the door and the man sitting beside it.

He came down and waited for her

Molly took a deep breath and walked calmly to his side Suddenly, her mind went blank as if a string had been severed

Molly's eyes darkened, and she lost consciousness when she saw Sean's agitated expression

Sean quickly extended his hand and attempted to wrap his arms around Molly. He was so nervous that he tried to stand up to catch her, but he could not move an inch

Sean could not help but fold his arms tightly around Molly's He began to feel a little sour in his heart and became increasingly determined to stand up.

A female doctor who had known Molly for a few days noticed what had happened and rushed over to examine her

When Benjamin saw what happened, he came out and ran to them

“Fortunately, it’s not a serious problem, but Dr. May has been extremely busy recently. She passed out due to exhaustion. She needs to rest. The female doctor exhaled a sigh of relief before explaining to Sean

Molly’s extraordinary medical abilities had impressed many of her coworkers She was a very humble doctor, which made people feel more at ease around her

‘Does this gentleman happen to be Dr May’s boyfriend?’

The female doctor stood up, looked at Sean, and walked away

Although Molly never mentioned it, everyone agreed in their hearts whenever they saw this man arrive to pick her up

“I will take Molly to the hospital now Give her to me,” Benjamin said after hearing the female doctor’s words

Benjamin reached out his hand and grabbed Molly’s right arm, sensing the soft touch of her palm He could not bear the thought of exerting force subconsciously, even if she was unconscious

*Absolutely not. It’s the same for me to take Molly home to rest, and a family doctor nearby can examine her * A little rage rose between his brows, as Sean cast a cold glance at Benjamin’s hand. While keeping an eye out for Benjamin, he unconsciously hugged Molly a little tighter

Benjamin’s face sank, and he became perplexed. Why is this man always appearing by Molly’s side and not giving me the slightest chance? Did he do this on purpose?

This made Benjamin even more resentful. He could not go on like this. He desired to fight

The two were at odds, and the war was on the verge of breaking out

Sean locked his gaze on Benjamin, reading the determination in his eyes His face was frosty, and he raged, “Her three kids are still at home Don’t you think they’d be worried if you just took her away?”

They were both aware that the triplets were devoted to Molly. The three would be very worried if someone took Molly away without saying anything

In Benjamin’s mind, three worried faces appeared. He moved his gaze to Molly’s pale and haggard face

Benjamin was struggling on the inside the baby voices calling Uncle Benji were still ringing in his ear His palms’ delicate limbs were slightly cold and heavy It was as though he was holding his great love

After an unknown amount of time, Benjamin slowly let go of his hand, and when he pulled away, all he took was nostalgia.

“Molly adores her children, so she probably doesn’t want them to be worried,’ Benjamin thought

Sean did not care about Benjamin anymore. He wanted to get Molly back to get her some sleep, so the car started quickly and drove away

Before bringing Molly home, Sean informed the triplets and the others

Grandpa Dave, the triplets, and Molly's two brothers all rushed to Sean's house They felt relieved when they saw the doctor examine Molly

Sean sat on the edge of Molly's bed that night, as he was afraid that she would wake up in the middle of the night with no one to care for her

Fortunately, Molly was fast asleep on the bed. It was as though to compensate for the lack of sleep over the last few days

In the end, Sean spent the entire night by Molly's side

Molly woke up the following day to find Sean sleeping on the chair

Molly quickly regained her consciousness She paused for a moment, and then the memory ran through her mind, realizing she had missed the treatment for him yet again

Sean opened his eyes when Molly stood up. He smiled and locked his gaze on her with concern, he asked, "Have you gotten enough sleep? If not, you can sleep for a little while longer

Sean's concern amplified Molly's inner remorse by a hundredfold

"I didn't give you the treatment last night," Molly mumbled and did not respond to Sean's question. Sean could tell that she was unhappy judging by her tone and the look on her face.

Sean's heart was a little touched in an instant.

She was exhausted, but she's still thinking about treating me'

"We can talk about that after you take care of yourself,' Sean said, frowning slightly

Molly felt strange when she looked at Sean 'This straightforward man rarely loses his cool She had no idea that she had missed last night's battle between Sean and Benjamin

However, after some thought, she realized that she would be in a difficult situation if she was truly awake last night

Grandpa Dave and Brycer showed up at the same time. They could not sit still when they woke up early in the morning, and they wanted to check on Molly

"Are you awake?"

Grandpa Dave knocked, then he pushed open the half-closed door He felt less worried when he saw his granddaughter awake.

The triplets rushed to her bedside and looked at her nervously "Are you okay, Mommy? Do you still feel sick?"

They all heard what Sean had just said and could probably figure out what he was on about

Chapter 347

"Molly. If you're too tired, we can postpone today's treatment,* Brycen suggested. When she got home, he understood that Molly had to work and then treat him. Sowyer, and Sean

"This is far too much for Molly, Benjamin thought

Molly initially consoled the triplets. She relused, shaking her head "No, but I'll make arrangements based on my current situation. I'm not going to push myself"

Sean was glum. He lowered his eyes and did not say anything else

Molly looked over and noticed that Sean was enraged. She did not want him to be angry for some reason

Molly extended her hand, carefully grasping Sean's cull, and softened her voice "Please don't be angry

Molly's tone had an inexplicable hint of coquettishness, and Sean's anger dissipated

Molly lacked the energy to go out these days, but her thoughts were still on the sick children at the orphanage. She inquired with Benjamin *Don't be concerned about the children's well-being. What's your opinion on this?" Benjamin was more concerned about Molly than the children he occasionally looked after

"I'm fine. Nothing serious happened. I'll be back at the hospital in two days to see how they're doing." Molly said to Benjamin with a smile

"Okay

The triplets remained by Molly's side. They were worried about their mother after seeing Molly in that state, and the word "dissatisfied" was written on their faces

"You're now a patient yourself, Mommy

Alex, who seemed like a small adult, said to Molly. He took Molly's phone and handed it to Ben to keep it safe

"Patients must behave like patients, and you must rest well. Three patients in our family need your help

"Mommy is disobedient. What if Uncle Sean finds out and gets angry again? Ben and Claudia were also admonishing her

Sean was upset this morning because Molly did not take care of herself, and everyone in the family was aware of it

Molly laughed as she listened to their words.

"Then, let him. In any case, he rarely gets angry." Molly remained calm throughout

Sean was in charge of the Anderson Corporation's entire operations. How would he have the time to pay attention to me when he was so busy all day? Molly was puzzled. Molly rested at home for a day, and when it was time to treat Sean at night, she could not stop thinking about him

‘Thalman kept an eye on me all night.’

The night breeze carried a faint floral scent with it Molly looked around, and the flowers in the yard were quietly blooming, it bloomed brilliantly until it burst open. The faint floral fragrance smelled lovely and instantly made people feel relaxed and happy

Molly picked the most lovely flower and brought it to Sean’s house

Molly approached Sean and handed him the flower she had picked without thinking

Sean smiled as he looked at the flower in front of him, then at the person in front of him, and asked, ‘What are you doing?’

Molly appeared to have woken up from a daze. Her actions became a little clumsy as a result of her silly behavior

Molly elaborated, ‘it’s nothing I hope you’re not angry next time It’s terrifying. This flower is for bribing you’

Sean sighed quietly in response to Molly’s remarks

Chapter 348

This lady is naive She has no idea how to use her vocabulary Was it her intention to entice me? Sean was puzzled

‘It also depends on what is making me angry I’ll accept the flower first Sean took the flower from Molly The faint smell of flowers made him feel good

‘Forget it. I can’t be calculative with her After all, she takes a long time to get it’ Sean thought about it and the corner of his mouth turned into a slight smile

It was clear that Sean had stunned Molly for a moment as she stared at him

Molly’s face was hot when she came to, so she hid her unnaturalness by lowering her head and opening her needle case

‘Let’s get started.’

Rather than linger, Molly went right to work She could not stop thinking about how she had skipped Sean’s treatment the night before

Rehab exercises should be done regularly, but skipping one or two was fine

However, Molly was a very responsible individual She felt guilty and uneasy because, last night, she did not help Sean with his treatment for her own reasons

After administering the needle treatment to Sean, Molly was visibly exhausted. Her face had turned pale due to her recent low mood and excessive workload

Molly's legs were unsteady as she got to her feet, but she managed to steady herself. As she reached up to rub her forehead, the uneasy sensation returned.

Sean made his usual herbal tea for Molly, and she was almost done drinking it. She met Sean's worried gaze when she set down the cup.

"Would you like me to rub your temples?"

"Can you?" Molly chuckled, still not entirely convinced that Sean could massage anyone besides himself.

Sean said, "Probably. You're the teacher, and you do this in front of me every day. I can't help but pick up a few pointers just by observing you."

Since she agreed with Sean, Molly said, "Then, let's give it a try." She straightened up, sat down, and let Sean's skinny fingers touch her temple.

Sean's pressure on Molly's head was relatively light, and she soon stopped feeling uncomfortable.

Because of physical exhaustion or just the pleasantness of Sean's massage, Molly started dozing off.

Molly's head finally settled on Sean's lap, and she dozed off without realizing it.

As Sean watched Molly nod off, he removed his hands.

Looking at Molly's tranquil face as she slept, Sean felt a sense of calmness. He looked at her like that for a long time, and he could not take his eyes off her.

Until the outside door was opened and Tony came in. With a motion and a silent command, Sean turned to Tony and said, "Bring a blanket over."

Sean carefully draped the blanket over her to keep Molly from waking up. In this peaceful setting he allowed Molly to sleep on his leg and soon found himself dozing off.

It had been a few hours by the time Molly woke up. When she opened her eyes, she saw that Sean was fast asleep too. He held onto the wheelchair's armrest with one hand while the other held up his head. There was none of the typical indifference on his handsome face. The dim yellow light illuminated the side of his face, blurring out a layer of halo. It was a shock to Molly.

"I didn't notice until now, but he has a very handsome face."

Molly kept looking at the man for a while, even though she knew that he was falling asleep.

There was awkwardly close proximity between them, and they stared at each other until Sean opened his eyes.

When Molly's mind finally cleared, she jerked her head away from Sean's lap in a panic and realized her hand was still there.

Chapter 349

"Cough, cough." Molly coughed awkwardly, attempting to divert Sean's attention and herself.

"Why didn't you wake me up?" Molly did not notice that her tone sounded angry.

Because Sean did not want to ruin the mood, he just said, 'I don't often see you fast asleep, and I want you to get a good night's sleep You wouldn't fall asleep like this if you weren't exhausted'

Molly could only blush and nod her head She look off the blanket that was on her and set it aside

*Then, mi go back now 'Molly's heart was beating and she felt like she could not stop that feeling

Sean said, "Go spend one night in the guest room Everyone should have gone to bed by now because it's getting late You don't want to wake up everyone, do you?"

Sean's question also made sense to Molly

*All right, thanks for the place to stay, it was not the first time that Molly had stayed al Sean's house She ran away from Sean as if she had a chance

Molly usually would not wake up so late. So, Sean knocked on her door because it was past breakfast time, and he had not seen her come downstairs.

Molly got up and let Sean in by opening the door She had no energy, so she went back to bed and laid down

"What's going on? Come and have some breakfast before you go to bed" When Sean saw Molly's condition, he asked with worry

Molly said in a nasal voice, "It's okay, I'm tired, and my body cant heal others for a while, so I'll just sleep more

Sean could tell from the way Molly spoke that something was wrong. He put his hand out and touched Molly's head. Her forehead felt a bit warm

Are you aware that you're down with a fever?' Sean pulled his hand back and looked al Molly with a frown

Molly took the blanket and went back to sleep "I'm fine Just give me some medicine later,' said a voice that was hard to hear from under the blanket

Molly did not seem to care about the cold, as if she was used to it

But, Sean could not let her stay like that Before Molly could say no, Sean said, "You should get some rest. I'll call the family doctor to come here. A doctor who doesn't care for herself, your counter isn't valid Now that you're a patient, you need to get a good night's sleep Another doctor will come to see you."

When Sean was done talking he left Molly pulled the quilt up and looked at Sean's back, feeling helpless

Molly just thought that she had a little cold, which she was used to

When Molly was tired from work in the past, she would often get a cold and just take some medicine if it was really bad, she would just get an IV drip.

But, when Molly saw that someone was willing to take care of her, she felt warm and a little sweet

Molly's face lit up with a smile She pulled back the quilt and went back to sleep,

Molly had not slept for a very long time, however. The triplets and Brycen found out at her house that Molly had gotten sick again and was still at Sean's house They were worried and went straight to Sean's house

At the same time, the family doctor Sean had called over also showed up

Sharon, who they had just met a few days ago, came as a surprise When Sharon showed up, Sean made an unhappy face

Sharon saw how Sean's face changed immediately, and before he started to yell at her to get her to leave, she told him. "Mrs. Anderson asked me to come"

Chapter 350

Sharon smiled and looked at Sean "Mr. Anderson, you don't have to treat me so badly. It depends on what the doctor and the patient want when treating diseases. If Mr Anderson doesn't let me treat him, then I won't

Even after hearing Sharon say that, Sean did not feel any better. Since Sharon had already come, finding another doctor would be a waste of time at this point Sean could only ask Sharon to take a look at Molly

Sharon hesitated for a moment when she heard that Sean asked her to take a look at Molly But, she was good at hiding it, and no one caught on

"Dr May is fine. I'll give her some medicine Just let her take the medicine and rest more," Sharon said as she packed her things and prepared to leave

*Thanks again

"No problem. I was paid to do this anyway * Sharon put Molly's medicine on the table and left

Sharon acted normally while she was at Sean's home But, after she had left Terahis Grove, she could not help but frown

Sharon had already met Molly So, she knew Molly as soon as she saw her, which surprised her "She's merely a doctor, so how was she able to stay in Sean's guest room?"

"And, Sean hired a family doctor just for her because she was sick?"

No matter what Sharon thought in her heart, she felt that something was wrong, and she felt that the relationship between the two was the most suspicious thing she had ever seen

Sharon did not like to say too much, and she was not in a position to So, she thought of Alice

Sharon turned on her phone and texted Alice about what had happened today She did not think twice about it

Sean had brought some congee up just for Molly, and she had eaten it. Molly took all of the medicine under Sean's watch, and then she went back asleep

“Your mommy is going to sleep, so don’t wake her up. Go downstairs, instead Brycen stood next to Molly’s bed and whispered to his nephews and niece,

The triplets did not want to leave Molly But, they knew that they could not wake their mother up, so they went downstairs with Brycen and waited.

Sean went into his study room, but he did not start working immediately. Instead, he called his mother

“What’s the deal with Sharon, Mom? Why did you change my usual doctor without asking?’ Sean asked straight out

Sean was distraught with how Sharon showed up at his house

Sean was even more disgusted with Sharon, who Alice had suggested, because he knew what Alice thought about her

“Sharon is very good at being a doctor. For your own good, I made plans for her to go there. Don’t talk to her if you don’t want her to. She is just a family doctor, after all. But, look at her now. Isn’t she useful?” Alice said bitterly

“Dr Lewis wasn’t fired anyways. He is old and hasn’t been feeling well lately, so I asked Sharon to go in his place Dr Lewis will come back when he is feeling well again.”

Sean did not like how things were going, but he did not know what to say. He pursed his lips and tried to figure out how he felt

As Sean stopped responding to her questions. Alice asked him, “So, what exactly is the matter with Dr May? Why is she sleeping in your quest room when her family lives next door?”

When it was about Molly. Alice was also a little unhappy

Alice and Sean had several tense exchanges about Molly
