

Triplets on SM 41

Chapter 41 Sean sat alone in the bathtub as the corners of his lips curled at the thought of Molly's bashful look. He removed his clothes and laid himself down in the bathtub. His limbs were outstretched as the warm water wrapped around him while he enjoyed some shuteye.

Even after some time, he could still feel the odd sensation on his collarbone. He could not help but touch it as he felt tingles around that area.

The next morning, Molly received a call from Grandpa Dave right after she was done eating breakfast with her triplets. "Molly, I want to move in with you," said Grandpa Dave on the phone. Molly did not mind. In fact, she welcomed the idea very much. "Sure! I'll pick you up, Grandpa.

"Never mind that! You don't have to come here and endure hell. I'll pack my things and get the driver to send them over." Grandpa Dave's deep voice echoed from the other end of the phone.

Grandpa Dave was persistent, so Molly did not argue any further. 'This is a good idea too. After all, I haven't gotten a car yet. I might as well wait for grandpa at home and prepare a room for him while I'm at it,' she thought as she gave her address to Grandpa Dave. She then smiled and continued, "Alright then. Don't pack too many things, Grandpa. I've already gotten everything prepared for you." "Sure," said Grandpa Dave. After ending their call, Molly started to clean Grandpa Dave's room. She organized everything as best as she could.

But Grandpa Dave still had not arrived even after she was done with the preparation. Molly frowned as she thought, 'Did something happen?' The May Residence— Grandpa Dave had already packed his luggage and was about to leave the house. Walter and Lara were confused when they saw him. 'Is the old man going out for a vacation? A vacation sounds great! That way, he couldn't transfer his shares anymore!' "Dad, you're going out with luggage early in the morning. Are you going on a holiday?" Walter let out a rare smile and asked.

Grandpa Dave took a glance at him. "Molly prepared a room for me, and I'm going to move in with her. That way, you people can't bug me anymore!"

'What?!' Everyone was shocked when Grandpa Dave said that. Lara immediately voiced out, "Dad! You're joking, right? That d*mn... girl couldn't even take care of herself. How could she take care of you?"

"How did she even get a place? You didn't give it to her, did you, Dad?" Walter asked with a frown.

Grandpa Dave scoffed. "If my granddaughter couldn't take care of me, are you going to do so? Look at you now, siding with an outsider. You even plan to give my shares to this outsider. Over my dead body!"

While he was speaking, he glared at Diana and continued, "Since you've already acknowledged your own family, stop coming back to my family. After all, you've already gotten what you wanted!"

Grandpa Dave was sharp, and his eyes seemed like they could see through anyone. He was obviously talking about the two percent of shares that Diana had gotten from Walter and Lara.

Diana's face went pale when she heard Grandpa Dave. She then lowered her head as if she had been wronged.

"Grandpa Dave, Diana just misses you and my parents. That's why she's been coming back to visit you. She respects you, so you shouldn't talk about her like that. After all, she's been my sister for years." Nathan frowned as he defended Diana.

Grandpa Dave immediately scowled, "Don't you forget that your real sister is Molly. She's related to you by blood! You're all heartless, and it's fine if you don't take her in. I'll go and live with my granddaughter myself!" He then turned to leave right after he was done speaking.

Everyone immediately stood up to stop him. Diana even threw herself at Grandpa Dave pretentiously and grabbed his arm, saying, "Grandpa, it's all my fault. Don't leave. This is your home. If it makes you feel better, I'll leave!"

"Don't touch me!" Grandpa Dave looked disgusted as he swung Diana's hand away. But while he did that, he lost balance and fell hard onto the ground. Suddenly, he could not stand back up and was looking like he was in immense pain. He had hurt his back.<

Chapter 42 "AH!" Diana was startled as she did not seem to expect things to escalate like this. Walter, Lara, and Nathan were all in shock as well. They immediately ran up to Grandpa Dave and asked about his condition, "Dad! Are you alright?"

Grandpa Dave was in so much pain he could not speak, his face pale. Nathan walked up when he saw that Grandpa Dave could not move. He carried Grandpa Dave in an instant and walked out of the house before driving to the hospital.

Molly was still waiting for Grandpa Dave's arrival. But he did not show, so she could not help but make a call.

"Miss Molly, something happened to Grandpa Dave! He accidentally fell down and has already been sent to the hospital." The butler sounded panicked. 'What?' Molly stood up, and her expression looked serious. "When did this happen? What hospital did grandpa go to? How did he fall?"

The butler answered truthfully, "Half an hour ago. Yve Hospital..." When he got to the reason, he paused before continuing slowly, "It's because of Miss Diana. She was pushing and pulling with Grandpa Dave, which led to him falling."

Molly's expression turned cold in an instant when she heard the butler. "Alright, got it!" After hanging up, she immediately got prepared to go to the hospital to inspect Grandpa Dave's condition. While she was worried, her heart was filled with anger as well.

'DIANA MAY!'

Grandpa Dave was the one who saved Molly from hell and was also her closest family. She would never let anyone harm him!

The triplets saw the changed look on Molly's face, who was waiting for Grandpa Dave's arrival excitedly. They immediately asked, "What happened, Mommy?". "Your great-grandpa fell and got admitted to the hospital. I'm going to see him." Molly simplified it and explained it to the triplets. They quickly said they wanted to follow her when they heard that Grandpa Dave had fallen down. "Mommy, we want to see great-grandpa too!" Molly knew that they were worried, so she responded, "Sure!" She was panicking. At that moment, she realized the cons of not owning a car. She did not have much time for delay, so she immediately walked next door to borrow a car from Sean. "My grandfather fell and got into the hospital. I want to see him. Could you lend me your car?" Molly cut straight to the point. Her worry was written all over her face.

Sean paused for a while before he replied, "I was just about to head out, so I'll give you a lift. Besides, you shouldn't drive when you're in this state."

"Thank you!" Molly thanked him. She was very well aware that her overwhelming concerns were stopping her from keeping calm. It was fine if she was going alone, but she could not endanger her children.

Tony drove the car out as Molly, and her triplets sat in the backseats. They arrived at the hospital very soon. After they got down the car, Molly thanked Sean again. She then took her triplets into the hospital building. When they reached Grandpa Dave's ward, they saw the May family standing in there. Even Diana was standing among them!

Diana was sobbing until her eyes went red. Her expression was filled with guilt as she blamed herself continuously. "It's all my fault! I was too eager to make grandpa feel better. He only fell because I failed to grab him on time. I should've caught him on time! I should've been the one who fell!"

"Silly girl! Why is this your fault? No one saw this coming, so you shouldn't be blamed. This is purely an accident. Don't beat yourself up." Lara wrapped her arms around Diana as she consoled her with a heartbroken face.

Chapter 43 "Besides, this wouldn't happen if that freaking Molly didn't coax Grandpa Dave to go live with her. Honestly, I know what she's up to. She must be waiting for Grandpa Dave to move in with her so she could act pitiful and take Grandpa Dave's shares and properties for herself. She's pure evil!" Lara complained as she had already regarded Molly as the same type of person as the Grant family from the countryside. It was rare to see a mother thinking so badly of her own daughter.

Bang!

Molly pushed open the door and entered the ward. Everyone heard the commotion and looked in her direction. When they saw her, they frowned as they wondered, "Who called her here?" "Why are you here?" Lara immediately questioned her. Walter and Nathan furrowed their brows as well.

Molly's eyes were cold as they swept across the May family intensely before stopping at Diana. She stared Diana down and said to them, "I'm obviously here to visit grandpa!" She was about to walk into the ward when she was done speaking. They did not want to see her, but neither did she! Or else she might not be able to control her rage.

Suddenly, a figure stopped in front of Molly. It was Nathan!

He blocked Molly and said with a straight face, "You shouldn't be here. Grandpa only got hurt because he wanted to look for you."

Molly looked up and glared at him sharply as she questioned him, “What a joke. Who was the one who caused this? Don’t you all know? Didn’t this happen because you people tried to stop him? Mr. May, you’ve been educated for nine years. Where did all that knowledge go? Even a three-year-old knows how to admit their mistakes.... You’re protecting the culprit and putting the blame on me. How ridiculous!”

She then looked at Diana. “Since you caused this, own up to it. Do you think you’re innocent just because you cried? Let me get this straight, although the May family can forgive you, I will not! I will kill you if something happens to grandpa, no matter if you did it intentionally or not!”

Diana took a few steps back as her eyes met Molly’s cold gaze. At the same time, she was angry at Molly for startling her. After all, Molly was just a country bumpkin to her. ‘So what if she’s the real daughter of the May family? I still have Walter and Lara wrapped around my finger.’ For that reason, Diana had always turned her nose up at Molly and believed that she was higher than her. However, she just got frightened by the person that she had looked down on. That was the biggest humiliation for her! Lara immediately stood in front of Diana to defend her, just like a hen protecting its chick.

Molly pretended like she did not see that scene. “Move!” she said coldly as she stared at Nathan. She then pushed him aside and walked to Grandpa Dave’s bed.

With a worried look on her face, Molly placed her hand on his wrist. Then, she was relieved and thought, ‘Thank god. His pulse is stable. It should be a minor injury, nothing serious.’ Her triplets were next to her. They were also very worried about Grandpa Dave and asked, “Mommy, how is great-grandpa doing?” “Nothing much. He’s sleeping now. He probably injured his muscle and bones,” Molly answered them gently.

The May family was confused when they heard her. ‘Why does she know about Grandpa Dave’s condition when she just got here?’

Chapter 44 However, that only lasted for a second. When Lara pulled herself back together, she lashed out and pointed at Molly. “Watch your attitude when you’re talking to your brother!”

‘Hah!’ Molly did not want to argue with them in the hospital ward, but Lara had been pushing her buttons, so she could only scoff. “Are you joking? My brother? What brother? I don’t remember having any brothers.” “Molly May! What attitude is this?! How rude!” Walter yelled at Molly when he saw her behavior.

Both Molly’s eyes and expression were cold. “I have always been like this. I return favors and treat people the way they treat me! Keep it to yourself if you’re upset about it!” She then turned and covered Grandpa Dave with the blanket gently. “Molly!” Behind Molly, Diana pretended to be shocked as she interrupted, “How could you talk to your family like this? No matter what, they’re still the elder ones. If you’re angry, you should let it out on me. After all, I was the one who took your family away from you. I was also the one who made grandpa fall. But I beg you to treat dad, mom, and Nathan with respect. They did nothing wrong, and you shouldn’t act like this.” Diana spoke passionately as if she was sincere. She was defending Walter, Lara, and Nathan and even putting all of the blame on herself. Molly did not even have to look back to know that Diana was speaking with an innocent look on her face.

As expected, Lara's voice was heard at the very next second. "Diana, why are you putting all the blame on yourself? You did nothing wrong! We can only blame fate. Why aren't you my real daughter?"

"Hah!" Molly could not hold back her sneer. She had a stern look on her face as she spoke without the slightest hesitation, "The mother-daughter bond you share sure is strong! Diana May... Oh, wait. Your last name isn't May. Who are you to lecture me?" Diana was not having it and was looking pitiful as she stood behind them. Lara yelled, "Have you no respect?" Before Molly could speak, Alex already had enough of them bullying his mother. He immediately responded, "Respect is earned. My mom doesn't need to have any respect for a disrespectful person." "That's right! You're all ganging up on my mommy, yet you're talking about respect?" Ben's stomach was protruding when he put his hands on his hips and spoke. Claudia puffed out her cheeks and chimed in angrily, "Yeah! You people are the ones who are disrespectful!"

Lara's face turned red from anger as she got lectured by the triplets. 'Who are the triplets to speak?'

She pointed at them and yelled, "You mongrels! Is this how you talk to me? I'm your grandmother. Molly, is this how you educate your children? The apple really doesn't fall far from the tree. Every one of you from the countryside is a mongrel. You're embarrassing!" Molly's face darkened when she heard her triplets being insulted. She stood up and stared at Lara dead in her eyes as she walked toward her with her suffocating presence. She then asked in a deep voice, "Mongrels? Say that one more time." At that moment, Molly was exactly like a mother bear protecting her cubs. Her eyes were fierce as she glared at Lara like she was going to pound at her the very next second.

Lara was frightened by Molly's stance! She retreated instinctively as she wanted to escape. Molly's gaze was too terrifying!

Chapter 45 Nathan saw what was happening and darted forward to step in front of his mother. "What are you doing? Are you trying to hit mom?" He frowned as he thought, 'Molly is hopeless.'

Molly's eyes were filled with ice when she looked up at him. She stared at him coldly and said, "Hit her? I don't want to get my hands dirty. She's old, yet she's spitting these insults to these five-year-olds. Is this what you mean by educated? If so, you sure are 'educated,' alright! I'm warning you. If I ever hear you saying those things again, I won't go easy on you!" Molly did not need to be physical. Her sharp tongue and words were enough to fire back at Lara.

Lara was at a loss for words as she trembled.

Knock, knock

Suddenly, someone knocked on the door. When the door was opened, Molly saw another face she did not want to see. It was Adam!

When he laid eyes on Molly, his eyes widened. 'We meet again!' Molly glanced over at him faintly, not even bothered to properly look at him.

"Adam, why are you here?" Diana walked up to him in surprise as she asked. Adam responded, "I heard Mr. May Sr. got hurt, so I came here to pay him a visit. I didn't expect Molly to be here as well..."

While he was speaking, his eyes fell on Molly as he looked at her deeply. 'I made the right choice by coming here!' he thought.

Adam initially just wanted to show up for a while to impress the May family. He did not expect to benefit from this.

Molly paid no attention to him, unbothered to respond. She just turned back to Grandpa Dave and focused on him, waiting for him to wake up.

Adam was ignored, but he did not mind at all. He just looked at the triplets and frowned, though he quickly put on a gentle look on his face. "Molly, are these your kids? They look bright and sharp." Molly did not turn back as she remained silent. The triplets did not shy away from looking at Adam as a sense of disdain grew in their eyes. 'So, this guy is Adam Herring. He just looks okay. Compared to our daddy, this guy is nothing!'

Ben pouted and looked away immediately. Alex looked at Grandpa Dave with concern.

"Mommy, when will great-grandpa wake up?" Claudia nested in Molly's arms as she looked up and asked Molly adorably, "Is great-grandpa in a lot of pain after he fell down? I'll blow on his bruise when he wakes up. Then, he won't feel pain anymore." "Very soon, Claudia. You're the sweetest." Molly brushed Claudia's head as she said gently. Adam was treated like he was invisible by Molly and her children.

Diana's eyes were filled with hatred when she saw this, her nails digging into her palms. Adam did not look like he was pretending to be welcoming. He treated Molly with more passion than he treated her, and she found it weird.

Besides, Adam had treated Diana differently after he saw Molly. 'Could it be that...?' Diana started to panic! 'Is Adam interested in Molly?! Never! I will never let this happen!' Diana started to worry, so she immediately walked up and hugged Adam's arm. "Hey, honey, what will happen to grandpa?"

Chapter 46 Diana intentionally pinched Adam's arm a little, but she quickly let him go and acted as if nothing had happened.

Adam frowned in pain as he looked toward Diana. He pursed his lips, and he looked rather upset at her. However, it only lasted for a brief second. He seemed to just notice that Diana had just cried and knew that it was not the best time to argue with her. Besides, Molly was present.

He pretentiously showed concern. "Why were you crying? It'll be fine, and don't worry, Mr. May Sr. is a good person, so good will follow him. He'll be alright." He patted Diana's shoulder gently as he spoke, but his eyes lingered on Molly. His true intentions were obvious!

Molly did not spare him a glance.

And Diana was gritting her teeth as she cursed Molly in her head! 'Since you've already left the May family, why did you come back? The May family doesn't welcome you either. You changed a lot, and all you know now is seduce men.'

Diana could not stand it and act pitifully by saying, “It seems like grandpa really doesn’t like me. I should come back less often next time. Molly, grandpa is getting old. Since you’ve come back from overseas, why don’t you move back into the May Residence? That way, grandpa wouldn’t have to wear himself out by moving around. If you don’t want to see me, I won’t show up in front of you as well. Don’t worry.”

Though Diana sounded like she was sad and compromising, her words had a deeper meaning to them –

Diana was taking one step back to take two steps forward, which was her favorite tactic. She would appear weak and put herself on the weaker side. But she would indirectly criticize Molly for being petty and narrow-minded, a person who would do anything to achieve her own goal, tormenting Grandpa Dave without taking his health into consideration.

She was a skilled schemer!

Lara was immediately reminded of the shares that were going to be under Molly’s name, so she said, “Diana, the May Residence is still your home. Just come whenever you feel like it. You can even stay with us! You’re my daughter, and anyone who wants to chase you out has to go through me!

“Besides, the May family would never have such an evil daughter! But I want to make this clear to you, Molly. You have no right to get those shares. Those are your grandfather’s blood, sweat, and tears. Do you think you deserve it? No matter what happens today, you’ll have to return us everything!” Lara was firm as she cut to the chase. “Pfft!” Molly scoffed while sitting next to Grandpa Dave’s bed. Her frame was frail, and she looked incredibly thin. But still, she sat upright, and her whole presence was strong. “What if I don’t?”

“If you don’t, you won’t be leaving this place today!” Lara was dead serious.

The atmosphere in the room got tense, and the conflicts arose.

At that moment, Walter spoke, “Your brother and I have been the ones managing the company these years. You, on the other hand, contribute nothing, so you have no right to those shares. On top of that, you’re a girl. What’s the use of owning so many shares? Even if you enter the company, no one will know you.”

He switched the topic and continued, “However, I could give you a million dollars in cash since you’ve been raising your children alone. It’ll be enough for you, so I hope you can let go of the shares.”

If Molly was not familiar with them, she might really believe that they have “good intentions.”

Chapter 47 These two people were playing good cop, bad cop!

Walter’s tone even sounded like he was giving money to chase away a beggar. ‘A million dollars, what a nobleman!’ Molly listened and started to find them repulsive as she said in a deep voice. “Grandpa is the one to decide whether I have the right to own it or not. Just as you said, they belong to grandpa! Since you have no say over this, stop bugging me. I don’t think I have anything else to talk about with you people. Grandpa is unconscious in the hospital, so I don’t want to argue about this here.”

Walter was livid!

He yelled, "Know your place, Molly! Do you think your grandfather will protect you forever? Even if you get the shares, they're nothing but pieces of paper if I don't approve of it!"

"Is that so? Go ahead and give it a try." Molly was also getting angry as she said sternly.

Their voices got too loud and caught the nurse's attention, so she came in to warn them. "This is the hospital. Though this is a single room, I hope you can tone it down and be considerate of other patients, alright?" They then kept quiet after listening to the nurse. "Sorry, miss. We'll be more mindful of our volume," Nathan apologized politely.

The nurse then closed the door and left.

"Mm..." At the same time, Grandpa Dave woke up.

Everybody quickly surrounded him, circling around his bed, their faces filled with concern.

"You're finally awake, Dad! Are you feeling unwell? You really scared us!" Lara patted her chest as she let out a sigh of relief.

"Dad, we told you to stop wearing yourself out. Isn't it nice to just stay at home and rest? You just love going out, don't you?" Walter could not help but say that in hopes that Grandpa Dave would change his mind about moving out. Even Adam had stopped looking at Molly. "Mr. May Sr., I'm Adam. I heard you got admitted into the hospital, so I came here to visit you." Molly brought her triplets next to Grandpa Dave and greeted him, "Grandpa, I brought my kids to see you."

Grandpa Dave ignored everyone else, but when he heard Molly's voice, his eyes wandered around to look for her. When he saw his great-grandchildren, a smile grew across his face as he said, "You little rascals, you're all here! I finally met you guys. Come here, let me have a look at you. Did you grow taller? Oh, my darlings..." "Great-grandpa!" the triplets called out to Grandpa Dave lovingly as they hurled next to his bed. Their faces were all looking very concerned. Alex asked, "How are you feeling now, Great-grandpa?"

"Where does it hurt? I'll blow on your bruises if it hurts," Claudia said adorably. Grandpa Dave was over the moon when he heard them caring for him. "I'm fine. I just fell and hurt my back a little. It's no big deal."

The triplets nodded in response.

Claudia said, "Mommy can treat you if your back is unwell. I guarantee you'll be way stronger, Great-grandpa!" "I'll also go on walks with you to make your muscles more active, Great-grandpa," Ben raised his arms as he pursed his lips and promised Grandpa Dave. Alex chimed in and said, "I'll cook tasty food for you, Great-grandpa." Grandpa Dave felt like he was on cloud nine when the triplets were surrounding him warmly. His mood was immediately elevated as he struggled to sit himself up. Molly stepped forward to help him out with his sitting posture.

Chapter 48 'How pretentious!' Diana cursed in her head as she watched Molly offering her hospitality. She found Molly utterly shameless to the point where she would use her children to impress Grandpa Dave. Diana obviously would not let go of this opportunity as well. At that moment, Diana decided to be a wet blanket and ruin the wholesome picture by apologizing to Grandpa Dave. "Sorry, Grandpa! This is my fault. I made you fall because I was careless. It's all because I desperately wanted you to stay. Please forgive me. Also, Grandpa and Molly, don't worry. I won't... go to the May Residence that often anymore. I'll know my place."

She then bowed down to them after she was done speaking. Though she went all out on her acting, her tone sounded like she was weeping as if Grandpa Dave and Molly were the villains.

Grandpa Dave was still grinning before he saw her. He immediately turned cold and said, "You don't have to apologize to me. I've already made my decision anyway. I won't return to the May Residence anymore, so you can go there whenever you want. Even if you want to stay there, you won't be a bother to me."

He immediately looked away after speaking, unwilling to spare Diana another glance.

Diana's face turned white in an instant.

Walter frowned and responded right away, "Dad! What are you saying? Where will you live if you don't come back to the May Residence? People will think we don't care about you if you do this. They'll think we chase you out."

It was obvious that Walter only cared about how they were perceived by others.

"I'm obviously going to live with my granddaughter," Grandpa Dave said without the slightest hesitation.

Lara snickered and said in a sarcastic tone, "How nice would her place be? In the end, you'll be the one who would pity her and transfer your shares under her name. Giving her another house wouldn't be a problem as well."

Another string of knocks on the door was heard after Lara said that. Everyone looked over and saw Sean and Tony standing on the other side of the door.

Sean's expression was cold. He was sitting in his wheelchair, but his presence was not lacking at all. Everyone's eyes immediately glued onto him when he appeared.

"Excuse me. We're here to see Ms. May," Tony smiled politely as he spoke. 'Why are they here?' Molly looked at the both of them with a confused look.

Before she could speak, Nathan, Walter, and Adam were all stunned! They had obviously recognized the person outside that door.

That was Sean Anderson!

The Anderson family's status was nowhere near the May family or the Herring family in Northfolk They were the blueprint of a wealthy family. On top of that, Sean was known for his capability and tactics. The three of them could not hide their shock as they thought, 'Why is this man here?'

But they quickly recollected themselves and realized that Sean's assistant had just mentioned that they were here to see Ms. Molly!

At the very next second, they looked at Diana almost instinctively.

Adam looked rather suspicious, while Nathan frowned. They were both wondering, 'The two of them don't look like they have any connections with each other. Something is off.' But Walter was elated as someone from the Anderson family actually went to see Diana, which implied that they share a special relationship. Walter had never heard any rumors about Sean throughout the years as Sean had never gotten close with a woman. 'If my daughter managed to get closer with Sean...' "Diana, is Mr. Anderson looking for you? When did you get to know Mr. Anderson?" Walter could not wait to ask Diana. His eyes were filled with anticipation as he waited for Diana to nod and respond with a "yes." 1

Chapter 49 "Huh?" Actually, Diana was a little confused as well. She had no idea who the man in the wheelchair was, let alone a Mr. Anderson. However, though that man was copied, he was extremely charming. Besides, he was from the Anderson family, so Diana could not know the fact that he was a cripple.

"Maybe he had seen me somewhere and came to look for me." When Diana thought of this she suddenly felt like she was above everyone. She subconsciously put her hands to her face and tucked her hair behind her ear as she smiled unknowingly. She walked up and asked Sean why did you come to see me?"

Walter rushed up to welcome them as well. After all, the man before them was sure who had great power over the economy of Northfolk

"Mr. Anderson, I'm the president of the May Group, Walter May. This lady here is Diana" Walter took the initiative to introduce themselves with the best attitude he could. "This is my son, Nathan May, and this is Adam Herring." As for the engagement between Diana and Adam, Walter treated it like it never happened. Adam understood his intention but kept quiet about it as well. "Mr. Anderson is only here for Diana, bringing this matter up won't do me any good anyway," Adam thought Sean looked at them with a straight face as his brows furrowed instantly. While he was on the way here, he had overheard their insults to Molly when he was in the corridor. So, he was not really fond of them at that moment. Looking at them, Tony was amused. He purposely said, "Sorry, who are you?" Diana was still smugly pleased before she heard this, and her face froze. "Wo-whoa" The corner of her lips twitched as she was taken aback. Everyone was shocked when they heard Tony. 'Aren't they looking for Ms. May? Could they be referring to Molly instead?!' "We're here for Ms. Molly." Tony intentionally raised his voice so they could all hear Molly's name loud and clear.

Molly walked over to them at the same time and asked, "Why are you here?" she asked informally as if they both knew each other very well.

Sean responded in a deep voice, "We're done with our errand, and we couldn't reach you on your phone, so we came by to ask you if you're ready to head home? We can send you back since it's on the way, and you won't have to trouble yourself."

Molly touched her pockets as she listened to them when a pang of realization hit her "I came out in a rush just now, so I forgot to bring my phone and left it at home. Thanks for coming by. My grandfather just woke up, so I might have to leave a little later." When Molly got to know that Grandpa Dave was admitted to the hospital, she panicked and could not think straight. Not only did she forget her phone, but she had also forgotten her purse. If it was not for Sean, Molly would have no idea how to go home with her children

"Then we'll wait for you at the parking lot. Just come to us when you're ready to leave." Sean nodded.

Molly nodded back, telling him that she got it. After getting her answer, Sean lifted his hand, and Tony pushed him away from the ward. From the moment Sean appeared at the ward until the moment he left, he had never spared Diana a glance. He did not even bother looking at Walter and the rest of them. Other than Molly, Sean had Tony speak on his behalf to the rest of them. Needless to say, Molly was special to Sean.

After they left, the atmosphere in the ward turned awkward. Everyone was silent, and it was as quiet as the grave.

Chapter 50 Diana stood on the same spot as she felt like she was about to explode! Her whole body froze as she did not know how to react to this. She just knew that she was utterly embarrassed! The hot sensation on her cheeks felt like she was slapped hard. It was as humiliating as being stripped in front of a crowd, and the shame just kept growing in her. However, Molly was shocked as she wondered, 'How did Molly get to know someone like Mr. Anderson? It is simply impossible!

'Molly is just a wilted flower with three sacks of burden. Why is she getting so much attention from such an outstanding man?' Diana could not help but clench her hands into fists. She had blamed all the humiliation she endured today on Molly. Everyone else in the room was shocked as well! They were very familiar with Sean's identity.

Besides, Molly and Sean sounded like they were very close with each other when they talked just now. However, they were from two different worlds that were parallel to each other, which won't link them together. They were as different as night and day.

They were all looking at Molly, but it was like a cat had got their tongue. It seemed like they had a lot of questions for Molly, but they just could not bring themselves to ask them. Molly completely ignored them and turned to Grandpa Dave as she asked gently, "Grandpa, do you want to go back with me now? Move-in with me, okay?"

"Sure! I've already planned to go over." Grandpa Dave agreed naturally. He asked Molly suspiciously, "How did you get to know Mr. Anderson? Also, what did he mean by sending you back? Did you come here with him just now?"

The triplets smiled as they answered, "Great-grandpa, we're staying at Terahis Grove now. Uncle Handsome, that man just now, is our next-door neighbor. Mommy doesn't have a car, so when she heard that you got admitted to the hospital, she immediately went to Uncle Handsome to borrow his car. Uncle Handsome said mommy was panicking and shouldn't drive, so he sent us here."

Alex did not control his volume and purposely left out the fact that Sean happened to come here to settle some business at that moment.

When Grandpa Dave was asking about Sean, everyone in the room kept their ears open to listen as they were afraid that they might miss out on some details. The ward was not spacious, so everyone could hear Alex clearly.

The people in the ward were shocked once again after hearing what Alex said! Their jaws had almost hit the floor as they wondered, 'Terahis Grove!'

It was not an area that was open to anyone, even if they were rich. The whole world knew of the security system of that neighborhood, which incorporated the latest AI technology. There were strict requirements for the residents in that area as well.

Not only Diana and Adam, but no one from the May family and the Herring family was eligible to live there.

'Molly actually stays there! Most importantly, she's Sean Anderson's neighbor,' everyone exclaimed inwardly.

Diana's expression was twisted as she could not help but ask. "How is this possible?" She just did not believe that Molly had that ability. Molly shot her a cold glance and ignored her question. While everyone was still in a daze, Molly started to settle the discharge procedure for Grandpa Dave.

Though she had already examined Grandpa Dave's pulse and confirmed that there was no serious injury, Molly was still worried about him. So, she went to the doctor's office to get a clear idea of Grandpa Dave's condition.

After ten minutes or so, she brought Grandpa Dave and her triplets to the parking lot.

The triplets followed next to Grandpa Dave as they protected him carefully, just like they were holding a national treasure. They all got in Sean's car and went back to Terahis Grove.
