Chapter 58

"Boohoo..." Paige knelt in the same place, burying her head deeply into her knees. She desperately tried to suppress her crying, trying her best not to let her tears fall, but she couldn't control it, no matter how hard she tried. In the past few years, she had given birth before getting married, was chased out of the Mooney family, and brought Chloe with her. She had accumulated so much grievance in her heart, and suffered a lot. All these years, after she graduated from college, she had been wandering with a young child alone. No one had ever done so much for her. And of course not such a big matter, like this amazing wedding... Paige trembled as she tried her best to suppress it... Buzz... At this moment, hundreds of thousands of people in the venue all fell quiet. Many people who didn't know about Paige's past were more confused. And those who knew about the incident five years ago now looked at the crying Paige, and they were all silent. Many had begun to blame themselves. They blamed themselves for laughing at her and attacking her and insulting her on the Internet. She was close to silent when she sobbed to the extreme, it clearly showed her emotions... The entire venue was extremely quiet. No one knew what to do next. The Outer Region God of War of Frogua was still standing on the other side of the red carpet. His eyes were red, but there was still a faint smile on his face as he waited for his bride to vent her emotions. He waited quietly for the bride to accept everything that had happened here now, everything... "My poor daughter..." On a high platform in the distance, Estella couldn't help but cover her mouth and burst into tears. Yahir's eyes were also red. He clenched his fists and his body trembled violently. He gritted his teeth to prevent his tears from falling. At this time, Dennis, who had been standing behind Yahir, quietly stepped forward and said to Yahir, "Yahir, it's time for your entrance. Today is Miss Mooney's wedding day. She and you should be happy and strong, shouldn't you? The God of War is still waiting there. According to the rules, he can't come to comfort Miss Mooney, but the wedding... must go on. Please calm down and go over..." Yahir took a deep breath and nodded heavily. Estella quickly wiped her tears with her hands and nodded to Yahir, saying, "Yahir, go ahead. Take Paige to Joseph. Today is their wedding day. Don't cry anymore. You must make Paige laugh. You must..."

Yahir nodded and then walked towards Paige...

Time passed slowly. One minute... two minutes... five minutes... ten minutes had passed. Paige still could not recover from her emotions. Even her body, squatting on the ground, had begun to shake as if she was about to pass out. At this time, the people around the venue became anxious for her when they saw Paige's abnormal behavior. If Paige fainted here, then the grand ceremony and wonderful wedding would be ruined. Such a grand Hundred Cities Wedding in the Central Region might not happen again in this life. Because Joseph had already given her a surprise. Paige already knew that there would be no surprise next time. "Come on..." One of the bridesmaids behind Paige murmured in her heart as she looked at Paige, who was squatting in front of her, crying. "Come on..." "You can do it!" "You can do it!" At this moment, as time went by, more and more people began to secretly clench their fists, silently murmuring to Paige in their hearts that she could do it. Chloe was still standing on the high platform, standing in front of a screen, looking at Paige who was crying in front of the red carpet on the screen. She quickly ran to the microphone on one side, looked at Paige, and shouted anxiously, "Mom, come on! Go to Dad! Mom, come on, Mom, you can do it!" The venue, which had been quiet for more than ten minutes, was suddenly broken by Chloe's childish voice. Chloe's anxious voice echoed in the venue.

The next moment, Bethany and Serena, who were standing behind her, also anxiously clenched their fists and shouted at her, "Paige, you can do it!" "Paige, come on, stand up..." Yahir also walked up to her. He stretched out his left arm, looked down at his daughter who was squatting on the ground crying and said, "Paige, come on, stand up. Joseph is still waiting for you there. Come on..." The next moment, the emcee standing in the middle of the wedding ceremony also held the microphone and said to Paige with red eyes, "Paige, come on!" When the emcee at the wedding also shouted out these words, the bridesmaids behind her could no longer suppress themselves. They urged her together, "Paige, come on!" Then, there were the 1314 bridal couples in the middle of the venue. The scores of beautiful brides urged Paige, "Paige, come on..." Boom... Then, the entire venue exploded with cheering, and more and more people began to urge her on. They started from the middle of the venue and then spread out at an extremely fast speed. Hundreds of people, thousands of people, tens of thousands of people... In the end, hundreds of thousands of people who had come to this wedding ceremony began to shout and cheer at Paige, the main bride of the day. Their voices resounded through the venue. The next moment, some exciting music was also played by the emcee. Then the whole venue was filled with the music and the cheering sounds. Everyone in the middle of the scene, apart from the three thousand soldiers of the Dragon Temple, were looking at Paige in the middle of the venue. The hundreds of thousands of people outside the venue also looked at her on the big screens around them. But at this moment, everyone, whether inside or outside the venue, had their eyes on her, shouting and cheering anxiously... "Mom, come on..." Chloe, who was standing on the high platform, also anxiously clenched her small fists and shouted to Paige. Yahir took a deep breath, lowered his head, and said to Paige, "Paige, Chloe, and Joseph are waiting for you. Hundreds of thousands of people are watching you. Joseph did all this for you. Some things have already happened. He has left the military now, but he doesn't regret it! I believe that he will be a good man, a good husband, and a good father. This is the only wedding in your life. Don't let all his efforts be in vain! Paige, come on! Stand up!!!" Paige, who was squatting on the ground crying, finally got rid of her grief. Then she heard her daughter's shouts, her father's words, and the deafening cheers of the audience. "That's right. I can't let everything that he has sacrificed be destroyed. I can't spoil it all!" Paige thought to herself. The next moment, she clenched her teeth and slowly raised her head, slowly standing up from the ground... "Go on!!!" As she stood up, everyone present watched her. However, perhaps because she had been squatting for too long, her body was still shaking very violently. At this moment, everyone in the audience also saw that her face seemed to be a little pale, so more loud cheers rang out again. Finally, she stood up. Looking at the end of the red carpet in the distance, her eyes were still red. She looked at Joseph with a smile. She took a deep breath and said to him, "Joseph, thank you. Thank you for everything you have done for me. This wedding is beautiful. I am very happy..." With her tear-stained face, Paige forced a smile at Joseph. Then she put her hand on Yahir's arm and nodded to him. Yahir heaved a sigh of relief and nodded to the emcee standing in the middle of the wedding The emcee heaved a sigh of relief in his heart. The next moment, he took out the walkie-talkie from his waist and said, "The Flight Team, set off!" As soon as the emcee finished speaking, a rumbling sound came from the distant sky. All the people present couldn't help looking up to the clouds. Then they were shocked to see a fully armed helicopter flying toward them one after another. Two helicopters were in a row, and a large projector screen of nearly 100 meters hung between them.

After that, it was a total of two hundred helicopters flying over, carrying a total of one hundred pieces of projector screens with them. They looked very far away, but the helicopter's speed was at its maximum, so they all arrived at the wedding scene soon. The next moment, the helicopters hovered in the air two hundred meters above the ground. Then, those hundred pieces of screens were hovering outside of the wedding venue, forming a huge circle. When the helicopter and the screens were connected, the emcee on the wedding scene heard the report from the walkie-talkie. He put down the walkie-talkie, picked up the microphone, and stretched out his hands to press down on the audience. As the emcee moved, all the shouts and cheers suddenly stopped, leaving only exciting music echoing in the background. The wedding master looked at Paige, then glanced at the whole room, took a deep breath, and said with a smile, "Then I announce that now the wedding officially begins, and welcome our bride to the stage! Everyone, warm welcome! To the marriage of the princess of Oplen! Where is the applause! Please clap for her!" Instantly, the audience burst into thunderous applause... "Let me say one more thing. Today, there are many people who don't know the story of the groom and the bride. They also think that it is not appropriate for me to call our main bride today the princess of Oplen. But when she comes out here, let's see if she deserves to be the hostess of the city, the princess of our city! Does she deserve it?" "Now, all units kindly release the authority to broadcast all the live broadcasts in Oplen! Broadcast all over the city!" The emcee picked up the walkie-talkie, switched to another channel, and spoke to all the media in Oplen. "Now, let's formally welcome our extremely beautiful, exceedingly breathtaking, the hostess of the Hundred Cities Wedding, Paige Mooney... Miss Mooney..." After saying this, the emcee quietly retreated to the back, leaving the center of the venue to Paige... At this moment, the applause sounded again, and Paige took a deep breath. Following Yahir, she put her right hand on his left arm, stepped on her delicate crystal high heels and walked step by step toward the venue. Bethany and Serena were about ten meters away from her. They picked up the end of the wedding dress with both hands, smiled and walked over with her. At this moment, the bride finally formally stepped into the wedding venue and on the red carpet in the middle of the wedding. Joseph, who was 1314 meters away at the end of the red carpet, was greatly relieved at this moment. A strong sense of complexity rose in his eyes. Paige was his bride, the most beautiful bride. She was so beautiful, so amazing. He was bound to protect her, love her, and protect her for the rest of his life... The moment she stepped onto the red carpet for the wedding ceremony, some scenes of her and Joseph began to play on the 100 large screens hanging from two hundred helicopters. At the same time, as soon as she stepped into the red carpet, all the media on the wedding site were released. They immediately displayed Paige and Joseph on the camera. In an instant, the figures of Joseph and Paige on screen spread to the whole city of Oplen! At this moment, all the media in Oplen began to formally broadcast the grand occasion. On all the streets and alleys in Oplen, all video advertising boards began to broadcast the grand occasion of this wedding in the city at the same time... At this moment, in the Mooney family's company, Leonard, Dominic, and Tommy, who did not go, as well as Lily and Rory, who had been rejected from attending the wedding, were gathered. The previous day, such a big issue had happened to the Mooney family, so they were not in the mood to watch the wedding... But even if they didn't go, they still allowed the employees in the company to turn on the TV in the office center to watch the grand occasion of the Hundred Cities Wedding Lily looked a little unhappy and said to Rory, "Honey, it's okay. We didn't qualify, so it doesn't matter..." Rory's expression was also very displeased. He nodded his head and did not say anything, because last night, he had been scolded by his father Harrison all night. Since the afternoon before yesterday, after the Mooney Family sent Maxton to the hospital, the ominous feeling in Harrison's heart grew stronger and stronger.

Therefore, when Rory came to find Lily today, he was also in a very bad mood. He had quarreled with Lily twice, so when she called him Honey at this time, he did not even want to talk to her. Rory was very annoyed because yesterday night, his father Harrison asked him to break up with Lily if anything happened to the Mooney Family in the next two days! Stay away from the Mooney Family... When Lily saw that Rory ignored her, a trace of gloom flashed in her eyes, and there was a hint of resentment in her eyes. In fact, she also knew that Rory, the heir of the Shelton family, was a rich second generation in Oplen. The reason why he was with Lily was not that she was beautiful, but because she had an elder brother who was a general in the central region. Now, Rory treated her so badly. She also knew that it was because Maxton was beaten up by Joseph yesterday and got into the hospital.

Thinking of this, Lily hated Paige and Joseph even more. She clenched her fists and persuaded Rory, "Honey, it's okay. My elder brother has been discharged from the hospital this morning, right where the Hundred Cities Wedding is at. Honey, don't think too much. Joseph is just a soldier expelled from the army, and my elder brother is one of the nine Eagle Troops under the God of War of the Central Region! After that wedding, my elder brother will definitely not let go of Joseph. Besides, we have driven that Paige out. From now on, I am the vice president of the Mooney company. If we join hands in the future, our career will definitely be better. Honey, don't be angry, okay?"

agreement to Rory. "Rory, don't think too much. Max will definitely be fine. It's just Chloe's dad Joseph. He's not worth mentioning. It's because the God of War is coming to the Oplen these days that the superior was angry with him yesterday. It's not a big deal..." Hearing this, Rory nodded with a dark face. Then he looked at the 70-inch TV in the office and said, "Well, it's okay. Let's watch the wedding first..." Lily, Tommy, and Leonard nodded and looked at the big screen. Maxton's father, Dominic, also looked over there. At this time, with a scream from the staff of the company, a pretty TV host from Oplen finally appeared on the TV screen. She was excitedly reporting to the wedding scene with her back to the audience. "Hello, citizens of Oplen. At this moment, the grand Hundred Cities wedding has officially begun. And before I move the camera at the groom and the bride, I have to tell you about the groom's identity!" Speaking of this, the TV host took a deep breath and said more excitedly, "Our groom is the outer region's God of War who has been guarding our country and fighting on the battlefield!" Boom... After the host finished speaking, all the members of Aceshine Group were shocked. Even Dominic, Leonard, and the others were moved. The staff invited by dozens of the Mooney family behind them, especially the young female employees, screamed excitedly. The groom of the Hundred Cities wedding was the God of War of Frogua!!! They were so excited that those female employees went into a frenzy... In the next moment, the TV host was so excited that she turned the camera to the groom and the bride who were walking on the red carpet at the wedding... Immediately, the figures of Joseph and Paige appeared in front of the Mooney Family... "How is this possible? That's Joseph and Paige? How is this possible!!!" Leonard, Dominic, Tommy, and Lily, the four direct descendants of the Mooney family suddenly stood up. Their faces changed wildly, and their hearts were shocked to the extreme. Rory was even so frightened by the face of the groom on TV and fell to the ground...

Originally, the Mooney family was still unwilling to believe it. After all, he was a high and mighty God of War. Although Frogua attached great importance to battle achievements, it was extremely difficult for one to become God of War. Even if they had done battle achievements, they still had to have the corresponding strength of God of War. Therefore, even if their Mooney family only had a Deputy General Eagle Troop, and were already extremely excited. But now, Joseph was the God of War! The God of War of Frogua! He was also the outer region God of War who guarded the territory of Frogua! With such a status, he was much more powerful than a deputy general of an Eagle Troop. The day before yesterday, the Mooney family even forced Paige out of the family! Maxton even slapped her in the face. Therefore, at this moment, all the direct descendants of the Mooney family did not believe what was said on TV. Because once it was true, their ending would be extremely miserable. How could Joseph let them off the hook? Therefore, at this moment, no one in the Mooney family was willing to believe it. Then they widened their eyes to see if the groom was really Joseph. However, they soon became desperate, completely! Because the groom was Joseph. In front of Joseph, there were thousands of iron-blooded warriors kneeling on one knee. They had seen Felix, the God of War of Central Region, who was the Maxton's superior's superior, bow his head in front of Joseph. And the extremely beautiful bride was undoubtedly Paige. However, they had never expected that she would be so alluring when she dressed up and wore a wedding dress... "It's over... The Mooney family is destroyed..." Leonard's face was pale, and he sat down on the chair. At this moment, all the strength in his body seemed to have been drained. The Mooney family was too bold that they had offended an outer region God of War of Frogua. As for Maxton's father, Dominic, after seeing Joseph's face repeatedly, his vision went black and he fainted. Lily's father, Tommy, was also shocked to the core. "No, it's not true, it's not real. How could she become the hostess of the Hundred Cities wedding!!! No... even if she wants to be the hostess, it should be me, it should be me..." Even if others already believed it, only Lily didn't dare to believe it. She had fought with Paige for a lifetime, and the day before yesterday, she finally succeeded in driving Paige out of the company, and Lily herself became the vice president of the Aceshire Group. Lily was still very proud of herself. After all, she would be in charge of the entire Mooney family's company in the future. However, no matter how big the Mooney family's company was, could it compare with Joseph's? Could it compare with the status of the wife of a God of War? She couldn't accept it at all and couldn't accept that Paige would be the main bride of the event... Rory, who was lying on the ground at this time, suddenly came to his senses. He stood up and roared at Lily fiercely, "Lily, in fact, I came here today to break up with you. I came here to break up with you! We have already broken up. Oh yes, I have told you in the morning that it doesn't matter before the wedding. Yes, that's it. Don't f*cking pester me in the future..." After saying that, Rory quickly ran out. Lily was shocked by Rory's words. The next moment, she quickly hugged Rory's arm and pleaded with Rory bitterly, "No, no, no, no, Rory, don't leave me. Please don't leave me. What you see is not real, that is not real.." Lily desperately tried to persuade Rory to stay. "Get lost!" However, no matter how hard she tried to persuade him to stay, Rory, who had already been scared out of his wits, would never dare to be with her for the rest of his life. So Rory pushed her to the ground. Then, he immediately rushed out! "Don't go... Rory, don't go. You said you were going to marry me next month. You said, don't go... That's not Paige, that's not Joseph. It's fake, it's fake..." After Rory ran away, Lily was still standing on the ground and shouting sadly. At this moment, when the female employees of Aceshine Group saw that the main bride of the Hundred Cities Wedding was actually Paige, they were also extremely shocked. This was because just a few days ago, Paige was still working with them. She even brought a large number of contracts to the Mooney family. They were originally also very excited, because as long as the company's contracts were growing, it would be good for everyone. And then their bonuses would naturally be a lot. However, the day before yesterday, they suddenly announced that the position of vice president of the company had been given to Lily. This made them feel a little aggrieved for Paige, because those large contract orders were originally closed by Paige. However, they did not dare to say anything. After all, Lily was a member of the Mooney family and had been running the Mooney businesses for many years. She had a solid foundation there. Soon after, they got the news that, because of the injustice the Mooney family did towards Paige, the Mysticorps Group suddenly discontinued all cooperation with the Mooneys. This made the employees of Aceshine Group feel disappointed. They could have gotten a lot of bonuses, but now, all of them were gone because of Lily, the scheming woman. But now, when these employees saw that the main bride of the Hundred Cities Wedding was actually Paige, they hated Lily in their hearts, and they hated Leonard even more! Paige's husband was the God of War of Frogua. If the company had fulfilled their promises to Paige, wouldn't they be doing well in the future? Now they finally understood why the biggest company in Oplen wanted to cooperate with their small company. It was all because Paige was here, and it had nothing to do with the Mooney family... Then those people from the Mooney family were really something! They really thought that the cooperation between the Gempoint Group and other big companies was their own hard work. Now, they forced Paige out of the family! Thinking of this, the female employees of Aceshine Group could no longer suppress their anger. Many female employees began to point fingers at Lily, who was sitting on the ground. "You are so shameless. You snatched her contracts just like that!" "Oh... that's right. She doesn't have the ability at all. She just relied on a rich second generation to get this position! That man doesn't want to marry her but she keeps calling him 'Honey! How shameless!" "Humph, she dresses like a sl*t every day, and she still wants to be the main bride of the Hundred Cities Wedding? She really overestimated herself. She looks so disgusting..." "Disgusting... Bah..." "I don't want to stay in this kind of lousy company anymore. It's so despicable..."

Lily, who was sitting on the ground and making a scene, naturally heard the unpleasant discussions. She instantly became anxious. She stood up and pointed at the female employees who were talking about her behind her, shouting, "What are you talking about? If you dare speak again, get out of here!" However, Lily's threatening words did not have the slightest effect. This was because just as she finished speaking, one of the female employees, who had acknowledged Paige's abilities previously, sneered at Lily. "Who cares about a company like yours! Don't be so shameless when you're operating a lousy company! I was really blind to enter your company! Lily Mooney, listen up. I quit my job from now on. I feel sick when I see your b*tchy face..." After that, the female employee turned around and left. Then, another female employee sneered at Lily and also turned to leave. The rest of the female employees stood there with conflicted expressions. Lily was stunned. She had just casually threatened them, but she didn't expect that the two employees would really leave. They had been important project partners. Their departure would have a great impact on the company. But at this moment, Lily was so angry that she couldn't bring herself to beg these employees. So she continued to shout at the rest of the employees, "What are you looking at! You either quit your job or get back to work!" At this moment, a female employee who had just graduated from college said to

Lily, "I resign! But you still have to pay me for my wages today." After the staff finished speaking, the rest of the staff also nodded hurriedly. Lily's mouth was wide open in anger. She roared at them, "You want your wages? No way! Get lost! You're all fired! I'm the one who's chasing you out! I'm the one who's firing you! Get lost!" At this time, an older female employee said to the fresh graduate, "It's okay. Don't be afraid. They dare not refuse your wages. If they do that, we will go to Miss Paige..." The fresh graduate's eyes lit up and she quickly nodded. "Yes, yes, we can ask Paige. She is now the wife of God of War. She is much more powerful than this shameless woman, Lily..." The employees nodded in agreement. Then they looked at Lily with great contempt and left with a sneer. Soon, the company with dozens of employees in the previous large company became empty in an instant. At once, all the employees of the company resigned! Lily was completely dumbfounded. She screamed crazily, picked up a stack of documents from the table, and threw them hard on the ground. "Get lost, get lost, get lost... Arghhh..." "Smash." The next moment, an extremely loud slap suddenly hit her face. The person who slapped her was Dominic, who had just fainted, but was woken up by Lily smashing things around. Maxton's father, Dominic! Dominic slapped her with all his strength. Lily's face was directly swollen, and blood was flowing from the corners of her mouth. Lily was stunned. She opened her mouth wide and looked at Dominic in disbelief. "Uncle Dominic, why did you hit me?" "Slap... Dominic responded to Lily with a series of loud slaps. He shouted angrily while beating Lily, "Lily, don't think that I don't know that you secretly called Max and asked him to stand up for you. You b*tch! It's all because of you! Max's bright future has been ruined! It's all because of you! I'll beat you to death..." As he spoke, Dominic slapped Lily fiercely. Then he kicked Lily a few more times in anger. When Lily's father, Tommy, saw this, he quickly went up to stop the fight, but he couldn't do it either. Dominic had been a soldier before, and his physical strength was formidable. If Tommy came, Dominic would even beat Tommy up! To Dominic, given the daughter's character, her father must be not much better... For a moment, Dominic was very fierce as he slapped the other two, but he also felt regret and incomparable despair. Even Felix, the God of War in the Central Region, had to bow his head in respect to an outer region

God of War. After being offended by Maxton, would his son, Maxton, who should have been conferred a military title, still have a chance? Oh no... No way... The more Dominic fought, the angrier he became. For a moment, the whole company was in chaos. Countless documents and computers were smashed into pieces... As for Leonard, who was sitting in a daze, there was only endless despair in his eyes. Now he finally understood what Aiden, the vice president of Gempoint Group, had said to him in the afternoon the day before yesterday, "Leonard, this is your choice. I hope you won't regret it in the future..." Leonard's eyes were extremely complicated, and he regretted it to the extreme. His heart was trembling. Joseph was a God of War. It should have become a path to greatness for the Mooney family... If only Leonard hadn't broken his promise to Paige, then in the future, the Mooney family would have a God of War as their son-in-law. Just how far could the Mooney family go? However, it was already done. Paige would never return as she had been forced to leave by them.

At this moment, Leonard had nothing but regret in his heart...

Chapter 60

At the same time, in the center of Oplen, on the scene of the Hundred Cities wedding, the crowd inside and outside the venue quieted down the moment Paige officially stepped on the red carpet that was 1314 meters long. They watched the scene of the two hundred helicopters circling the venue and over a hundred strips of projector screens while looking at Paige walking in the middle. Two hundred helicopters hovered in the sky. On the left side of the ground below, there were three thousand soldiers of the Dragon Temple kneeling on one knee. (This novel will be daily updaed at) Their military aura was formidable. On the right, there were the silent blessings from the bridal couples. Paige, in her white wedding dress with a length of ten meters, strolled in the middle of the red carpet. At the end of the red carpet was

Joseph, the amazing God of War! Anyone who saw this scene would remember it for the rest of their lives. Boom... A loud eruption rang in the air. Joseph took a deep breath and his aura grew stronger again. He wanted to welcome his princess with a most powerful gesture. At the same time, Joseph's unparalleled dominance also deeply shocked everyone in the venue. The words "God of War" meant not only status, but also unparalleled combat power! At this moment, Joseph's domineering aura swept everyone away. The main groom of the wedding was the peerless God of War, and the bride was like a beautiful princess. Immediately, everyone in the wedding was shocked the main couple of the day! After Paige took the first step, she got used to it. She held her head high and puffed out her chest. Although there were still tears on her face, she was smiling at the moment. This was the wedding that Joseph had carefully prepared for her. The dream wedding that Joseph had promised her was really here! It encompassed all the cities in the central region, and he booked an entire city to celebrate this with her! How could she let Joseph down?! Joseph then stood straight and walked towards Paige calmly. (This novel will be daily updaed at) On the big screen, some videos that Joseph had hired someone to shoot appeared one after another. In the past five years, how he and Paige had been apart from each other and then reunited... "Sir? Mister? What's wrong with you? Wake up, wake up." A young, beautiful girl from Oplen who had just finished college appeared on the 100 screens. The scene showed how she was trying to wake up a man who was seriously injured and unconscious by the river. The scene showed the time as five years ago... The girl used all of her strength to carry the heavily injured unconscious man away. The camera shifted, and in a shabby rented room, the heavily injured man had blackened lips. This was a sign of being poisoned, and his rationality was affected! After a long period of madness, one night, he went crazy and hurt the girl who saved him...

The picture flashed again, and the third scene appeared. It was the scene of the man's injuries, mostly healed while he said goodbye to the girl after he regained consciousness. "My name is Joseph Dawson. Thank you very much for saving me that day. But I was chased by my enemies. I can't get you into trouble. I have to go now. But I promise that one day when I have enough power, I will come back to you... Can you tell me your name?" "My... my name is Paige Mooney, you... you don't have to come back to find me. You can go..." The girl said to the man with a conflicted expression. (This novel will be daily updated at)The man nodded and began to walk out. But when he reached the door, he suddenly turned to look at the girl behind him and asked, "By the way, I was poisoned previously, so I don't know what's going on. Did I... did I do anything to hurt you?"

The girl was stunned and lowered her head. There was a hint of pain in her eyes, but then she looked up at the man and said with a smile, "No... no, you can go. Take good care of yourself in the future, only by living on, you'd have hope..." In the picture, the man left, the girl lowered her head and looked dejected... There was an indescribable complexity in her eyes... Soon, the third scene was over, and the fourth scene began again... After the man left, he immediately left Frogua, went to the Outer Region, and went straight to the battlefield. He began to fight those smoky violent battles. (This novel will be daily updated at)He fought all the way, and his status rose until he became the God of War! But every time a battle ended, he would take out a photo that was dyed red from blood. It was the photo of the girl who saved him. The man murmured, "Paige, wait for me, I will definitely go back to find you..." The fourth scene flashed away, followed by the fifth one. It was two months after the man left. The girl felt that something was wrong with her body. She had not had her period for two months, so she went to the hospital for a check-up. When the doctor told her about her pregnancy, the girl broke down... The girl burst into tears, followed her mother and aunt, who began to scold her. They forced the girl to get rid of the baby in her belly. The girl was extremely helpless. She took out her mobile phone and wanted to call the man, but she didn't.. When the fifth picture was over, the sixth one unfolded. Half a month after the girl found out about her pregnancy, she finally made up her mind to go to the hospital to get rid of the baby under the pressure of her family. However, on her way to the hospital, she suddenly touched her belly, and then she froze on the spot. She felt some... fetal movement! It was a life in her womb. Perhaps the fetus realized that her mother had decided to abandon her, so she tossed and turned in the womb to send her a message... The girl cried, looked up at the sky, and touched her abdomen again. She stood at the entrance of the hospital. (This novel will be daily updated at)After a long silence, she turned and left... The picture changed again, and the seventh one unfolded. The girl was chased out by her family. She rented the room that she used to live in with that man. Her belly was getting bigger day by day. A few months later, accompanied by no one else, she went to the hospital and gave birth to the baby alone... The image changed again, and the eighth picture unfolded. After the girl gave birth, the girl's family also found out. Her family was so angry that they chased her away and let her die on her own. It was a huge shame. This matter was also reported by the local media. Wherever the girl went, people would curse her. The girl's parents were also very angry. They just threw some money at the girl and closed the door in her face! The girl left the city with her newborn... and went to another city. She began to work and take care of her child alone... When the eighth picture was finished, the ninth one unfolded: Day after day, year after year, the girl worked hard in another city. Fortunately, her baby was very sensible and grew up slowly. Although she worked hard, she was accompanied by her baby, so she could withstand such a difficult life. But every time her baby asked her why other children had a father and why she didn't, the girl would cry silently... After the screen played this, the screen suddenly went blank. The director pressed the pause button to give everyone time to digest. At this moment, everyone inside and outside the Hundred Cities Wedding also knew what Paige had experienced these years... Everyone was silent. All the 1314 brides in the venue shed tears, and even the men began tearing too. When they looked at Paige who was walking in the middle of the red carpet, their hearts were extremely complicated. The girl in the picture was so kind. (This novel will be daily updated at)She had endured so much suffering alone, and she had survived it. What she had was receiving now seemed very reasonable. Perhaps it was heaven's gift to the girl. The man she once saved came back, with unparalleled power and status... The music in the venue was still ringing, and Paige could hear the sounds coming from the other end of the phone. Her heart trembled and she wanted to cry, but she stopped it

Boom... Another voice came from the end of the red carpet. Joseph's eyes were red, and he looked at Paige with tears in his eyes. Paige also tried to raise her head and continued to walk toward Joseph step by step... At this moment, the tenth scene was played on the screen again... When the baby became four years old, the girl worked as a waitress in a restaurant, but she caught the attention of a rich heir. The rich heir forcefully took the baby away to force the girl to be with him. After a few days of this torment, the girl decided to run away to her best friend's home and decided to accept her fate in despair. But at that time, the baby borrowed a mobile phone to call the soldier who was fighting in the Outer Regions. She called him dad...(This novel will be daily updated at) It was not until that time that the man, who was already known as the God of War in the Outer Regions, suddenly realized that when he was poisoned and irrational, he had really hurt the girl who had saved him, and the girl even gave birth to a child for him. In an instant, the anger in the man's heart surged and his eyes were full of tears. His eyes were red, and he returned to the Frogua with his troops at once. And when the girl got in the rich heir's car, the soldier finally arrived and saved her... This was their first meeting after five years! When the tenth scene was over, the 11th one unfolded.

The soldier took revenge for her behind the girl's back, and then they returned to the city where the girl used to live. When the girl's family heard the news, they rushed over and insulted her. The soldier promised the girl in front of everyone that he would hold a grand wedding that would shock the whole city! The scene ended here... But those who had watched all of this were all deeply silent. They were deeply shocked and silently looked at Paige who was still in the middle of the red carpet, trying hard to suppress her sadness as she continued to move forward... "Paige Mooney! Paige Mooney!" Suddenly, one of the brides from the Hundred Cities Wedding couldn't help but cheer on Paige. After that bride chanted, all the other brides on the wedding scene cheered for her. At this moment, they finally understood why Paige cried so hard when she finally found that the main bride of the Hundred Cities wedding was her. At this moment, all the truth was out... (This novel will be daily updated at) "Paige Mooney! Paige Mooney" Immediately, more and more people began to shout Paige's name. "Princess! You are the princess of Oplen! Princess! Princess!" The emcee of the wedding was usually a masculine guy, but at this moment, he was also full of tears.

Holding the microphone, he also cheered on Paige excitedly. As the emcee's voice came, all the bridal couples in the hall immediately began to cheer at Paige, "Princess! Princess!" The voices filled the venue. At the end of the red carpet, Joseph was silent, but he was also moved. He maintained his peerless aura, emanating with power. As she listened to the words "Princess" resounding in the venue, Paige's eyes became moist again. This time, she did not shed tears. Instead, she walked toward Joseph with determination. (This novel will be daily updated at) At this moment, when everyone in the hall cheered on her, it was the greatest glory in her life! All the humiliation she had endured in the city also disappeared at this moment! At last, Paige walked up to Joseph. Joseph nodded to Yahir. Then, he took her hand and led her up the stairs, step by step, toward the round platform in the air... "Congratulations to the God of War on your wedding!" "Congratulations to the God of War on your wedding!" "Congratulations to the God of War on your wedding!" At this moment, when Joseph held Paige's hand and walked up the steps, the 3,000 soldiers below roared at the same time again, and then the whole venue spread out... When Paige finally walked up to Joseph, who took her hand and stepped onto the high platform, their wedding was finally done. The Hundred Cities wedding was finally about to be completed perfectly. And Joseph also fulfilled his promise to give her a grand wedding, which would make the whole of Oplen no longer look down on her from now on! With the voices of the people cheering at the ceremony, the entire venue was at its merriest... But at the same time, those people at Aceshire Group, who were in disbelief, finally had to admit it. They watched Paige at the wedding, who had endured all kinds of misery in the past years caused by them... They were all extremely frightened. After all, even Maxton was almost beaten to death by Joseph yesterday, and what they had done to Paige in these years was no less than what Maxton had done. b Leonard's face changed greatly. He suddenly stood up and said with fear, "Hurry up. Go to the wedding site to apologize to Paige and Joseph. Hurry up..." (This novel will be daily updated at) Leonard realized that the wedding was about to be over. If the Mooney family didn't do anything, it would be over...
