Chapter 82

Chapter 82

"What? You're one of the Four Heavenly Kings of Dragon Temple, the Slaughter King? Hold on, this has gone wrong, why did you attack us brothers? We've always stayed out of each other's business, and we've always respected you and the Dragon Temple..." Only the killer of God of War left, who had fled far away, was frightened to death at this moment. This was one of the Four Heavenly Kings of the Dragon Temple, and his combat capability was even better than the God of War! Moreover, the moment he attacked, he directly killed a companion who had equal combat capability as him. Slaughter pulled out his giant sword, which was 1.5 meters long and around 20 centimeters wide, from the ground and said slowly, "No reason. I was born in Frogua. Do you understand?" The gaze of the killer of the God of War were complicated. He looked at Slaughter from distance and said, "But, but aren't you in Wafresh? Vanish King is the master of the Dragon Temple here, isn't it?" "Where I like to be has anything to do with you? Now get lost, or die, choose for yourself." Standing with his sword, Slaughter stared at the God of War a hundred meters away, and his gaze was extremely calm. "Retreat... quickly! The mission has been given up, let's go..." The gaze of the remaining God of War changed immediately, and he ran away in an instant. Because he knew that if he stayed, it would be very troublesome, and Slaughter would really kill him. At that moment, Slaughter probably still had some concerns, so he didn't kill all of them. But if he provoked him again, he would definitely kill him. Soon, the God of War fled into the depths of the desert with his subordinates. At this moment, Charles, who was standing behind Slaughter, was extremely shocked too. Not only Charles, but also the warriors of Frogua under his command, as well as Yin Chaoge, who was sitting in the chariot, were all shocked. Especially when the powerful man in front of them said that he was born in the Frogua, all of them were proud and excited. He killed a master of the same level as their marshal with one strike of his sword! He was too powerful. After Charles Dawson came to his senses, he quickly thanked Slaughter, "Charles Dawson, the God of War of Outer Region of Frogua, thanks Slaughter King from the Dragon Temple for the help! I will report today's matter to the military of Frogua. Military of Frogua will definitely repay you!" Slaughter looked back at Charles, and his gaze became cooler. He snorted and said, "Are you Charles Dawson from Dawson family in Vowhye, Frogua?" Charles was stunned, but he quickly answered, "Yes!" The coldness in Slaughter's gaze became even stronger, and his gaze was fixed on Charles, Charles turned pale because of fright, because he felt a murderous intent from the Slaughter King in front of him! Yes, it was murderous intent! But it seemed that the Slaughter King was suppressing it with all his might. However, Charles, who was very experienced still felt it. In an instant, he was shocked, because it would be very easy for Slaughter King from the Dragon

Temple to kill him, even at his peak! "I am always curious about one thing. I met Vanish King from Dragon Temple in Fofluidor a few years ago, and he also had murderous intent towards me, it's the same as you today! I, Charles Dawson, have been fighting for Frogua all my life. The Dragon Temple has always helped Frogua, and we have never been enemies with the Dragon Temple! So I want to ask you why the Dragon Temple wants to kill me?" Charles asked in a deep voice, staring at Slaughter King in front of him. Yes, this question had bothered him for a long time, Over the years, he had been staying in the battlefield at Outer Region. Naturally, he knew very well that masters of the Dragon Temple born in Frogua, including the mysterious and powerful Lord of the Dragon Temple, as well as the Four Heavenly Kings under the command of the Dragon Temple. They were all born in Frogua! This made him very excited. He also wanted to visit the masters of the Dragon Temple. In fact, he had asked for it many times over the years. But what made him very confused happened, the masters of the Dragon Temple were very willing to meet the other experts of Frogua, except for him! The Vanish King, who was in charge of Fofluidor, hated him very much, and Slaughter King was the same on that day! Therefore, even if Charles risked his life that day, he had to find out the reason. If he had offended the people of the Dragon Temple by accident before, he would at most die to clear the resentment between Dragon Temple and Frogua! At the same time, the Slaughter King felt the determination of Charles. He, who initially didn't want to speak anymore, looked at Charles and said, "You didn't offend Dragon Temple, but some people from Dawson family in Vowhye are very disgusting..." After Slaughter King finished speaking, his figure disappeared into the distance, and he walked step by step into the depths of the desert. He wanted to cross the entire desert alone. It seemed that he walked slowly, but in fact, he was crossing a long distance with a single step. The huge sword, which was twenty centimeters wide and one and a half meters long, was carried on his back... Earlier, he did not kill all the killers because he indeed had some concerns. He was even more powerful than the God of War. If he slaughtered those killers who were weaker than God of War without reason, he would naturally provoke some masters from Outer Region to fight with him. This time, he really happened to just pass by. His original intention was just to stroll around... As for the hatred for Charles? Everyone in Dragon Temple, all the masters above God of War level probably didn't have any good impressions of the Dawson family in Vowhye. The reason was very simple. Their Lord's identity was being cancelled and was thrown out from the vson family. If Dawson family could do that, how could they expect to receive the friendship of the soldiers of Dragon Temple? It was impossible... "Vowhye, people from Dawson family! I've been staying in Outer Region all these years. What have you all done!" Charles murmured the words of Slaughter King. Finally he solved the doubts that had troubled him for several years. It turned out that the younger g his family had angered the people of Dragon Temple. "Mr. Dawson, how are you feeling? Do you still have any medicine? You should heal your wounds now, eat it quickly..." Yin Chaoge jumped down from the chariot anxiously, ran to Charles's side, and supported his body. Charles shook his head and said, "It doesn't matter. Now that the master from Dragon Temple had shown up, we can scare those killers from the Outer Region for a short time. Let's go..." After Charles Dawson realized what was going on, he quickly ordered his soldiers to push the chariot back to the road and began to move to the original place where they had left earlier. He also took some healing medicine and sat on the chariot to heal his wounds. As for the remaining hundred kilometers, they did not encounter any more attacks. They all reached evacuation location safely, where there was a battleship of Frogua. When Yin Chaoge boarded the battleship, the battleship returned to Usmit. As a result, the rescue mission was basically completed. No matter how strong the power of Outer Region were, they did not dare to attack the battleship. An hour later, in a secret chamber of the battleship, Charles reported to Sebastian, who was far away in Vowhye of Frogua, "Yin Chaoge had boarded the battleship. Now we are returning to Usmit..." On the other side of the phone, Sebastian asked with concern, "Well, how is it going? Are you having a safe journey?" After a moment of silence, Charles answered, "It was safe in the beginning, but the last part of the journey almost failed. I almost died on the battlefield. Our opponent sent killers to attack us..." On the other side of the phone, Sebastian was also stunned and asked, "How is that possible? Aren't you injured? How did you escape?" Charles took a deep breath and said, "It's the Dragon Temple. It's one of the Four Heavenly Kings of Dragon Temple, Slaughter King happened to be around and killed a God of War killer. The rest of them were also scared away..." "Oh... Dragon Temple, that's fine. Alright, Charles, take good care of yourself. If there's nothing else, then I'll hang up..." When Sebastian heard that it was the Dragon Temple's Slaughter King that took action, he didn't mind. He felt relieved. "Erm..." Sebastian's indifferent attitude confused Charles. Charles asked in confusion, "Since Dragon Temple saved me this time, which means they had helped us. Isn't our military department going to do something?" Soon Sebastian's impatient voice could be heard from the other side of the phone. "What do you mean? It doesn't matter. Take good care of yourself. I have something to do here, I will hang up first..." Then Sebastian really hung up the phone. At this moment, Sebastian, who was in the headquarters of the military department of Vowhye, was speechless and said, "What is he talking about? Do we need to? The more I talk to him, the angrier I am. The Lord of the Dragon Temple is your grandson! Your grandson's subordinate saved you. Is there any problem? D*mn it, it's all your Dawson family. You want me to repay them? F*ck, you can go ahead by yourself..." Sebastian was depressed. "F*ck, why is such a powerful grandson not my grandson?" At this moment, when he thought of Charles's tone, he was angry. D*mn it, only you did not know! Your grandson is the Lord of Dragon Temple, even more powerful than me! At this moment, Sebastian was furious... At this moment, the first commander of the Frogua's Military Department walked to Sebastian and said with a smile, "Don't be angry, Mr. Park. Mr. Dawson doesn't know either, does he? Why don't I send someone to tell him?" Sebastian quickly waved his hand and said, "Don't! Don't tell that old man! His family did this and asked me to deal with the consequences? No way! Although he hasn't gone back to the Dawson family all these years, and he doesn't know that the child was chased out of the Dawson family, it doesn't mean that the old man has no responsibility at all! His own family has no family rules at all, and he let outsiders mess it up. When he gets well, let him go back and deal with it himself! And now I wish that Joseph Dawson doesn't go back to the Dawson family and come to inherit our military department. Why does he want to go back to the Dawson family?" As Sebastian spoke, he laughed. He already knew the real identity of Joseph Dawson and all his past, but he just didn't want to tell Charles. How good would it be to let Joseph be his successor? In fact, he was just saying it for fun. Because Joseph had suffered a lot in the past, he was almost killed by the woman of the Dawson family. Joseph naturally had a monstrous resentment against the Dawson family. Therefore, he couldn't intervene in the affairs of the Dawson family at the moment. Because now Joseph was too powerful, and he was no longer alone. Moreover, he had Dragon Temple, which were extremely powerful at the Outer Region. This matter was very complicated, if he didn't handle it well, it might cause a big disaster. Sebastian thought carefully for a while, and then took out his mobile phone to call his grandson, he scolded his grandson for being a trash... "Is he trash? Is grandpa crazy?" At this moment, Eason from another division of the military department was very depressed, and his body was twitching. He, Eason, the grandson of Sebastian Parks, the commander of the Frogua military, the twenty-nine-year-old God of War, were actually called trash by his grandpa... At this moment, Eason, a young master of the God of War, was not feeling well...

At the same moment, Charles was also depressed. Earlier, when he called Sebastian and said that he wanted to repay Dragon Temple, what did Sebastian mean? Did Dragon Temple belong to Frogua now? Don't mess around. If that was the case, he would have received the news long ago. Charles Dawson looked depressed and couldn't figure out what Sebastian Parks' exasperated attitude meant. At this moment, Yin Chaoge saw that Charles looked better, so he couldn't help but ask curiously, "Mr. Dawson, can you tell me about the Dragon Temple? Why are they so strong? And are they also from Frogua? Is the Lord of the Dragon Temple stronger? Is he also from Frogua?" Yin Chaoge, the most beautiful and talented woman in Usmait, became extremely curious about the mysterious Dragon Temple for the first time. After Yin Chaoge finished asking, Charles's face became very serious. He looked up at Yin Chaoge in front of him deeply and said slowly, "Well, the Lord of the Dragon Temple is also very strong, and it is said that he is very young, almost the same age as you. Miss Yin, you and the Lord of the Dragon Temple are the most outstanding juniors in Frogua..." "That Lord of the Dragon Temple is about the same age as me? Oh my god, is this true? Is that man so powerful? He can establish a powerful organization like the Dragon Temple?" Yin Chaoge was surprised when she heard Charles tell her the age of the Lord of the Dragon Temple. She was very curious about the Lord of the Dragon Temple. Yes, between geniuses, especially the masters, although they seemed to be indifferent from the appearance and could be friends with anyone, deep inside, they did not like each other at all. Only those who had the same achievements as them in certain field would really gain their respect! And at that moment Yin Chaoge almost approved Joseph in her heart at once. Of course, she had never seen Joseph before. Charles nodded seriously and said, "Yes, I don't need to lie to you about this.." Yin Chaoge rolled her eyes and said to Charles, "Mr. Dawson, please tell the authorities that I want to meet the Lord of the Dragon Temple when I go back. I want to meet him to repay his subordinate's help for saving our life this time." "Erm." Charles was in a dilemma. After a while, he said, "Miss Yin, I'm sorry. The Lord of the Dragon Temple doesn't belong to the military department of the Frogua. I haven't even seen him either. It's difficult for you to meet him. Of course, I'll pass on your request to the authorities..." Yin Chaoge nodded and said, "Well, thank you, Mr. Dawson..." After Charles left, Yin Chaoge looked out from the window at the scenery outside and mumbled, "Someone as outstanding as me? I really want to meet him..."

Chapter 83

At the same time, although it was midnight, the meeting hall of the Dawson family in Vowhye still brightly lit. All the Dawson family's direct descendants, elders, and important family members from all walks of life were gathered there. Sitting on the main seat was William, the head of the Dawson family, and also Joseph's father. Sitting next to William was the second elder of the Dawson family, Timothy, who was also Joseph's granduncle. Now, in the Dawson family, the old patriarch of the Dawson family, Charles, was absent, so both of them had the most authority. As for William, the second generation head of the Dawson family, he had greater power. After all, he was Charles's eldest son while being the second generation head of the family. At this moment, William and Timothy were sitting in the main seat, while the rest of them were sitting in the two rows below. There were about twenty important members of the Dawson family who came here for this meeting tonight, which showed how powerful the Dawson family was. But at this moment, the important members of the Dawson family looked very serious. Some of them were from the sub-branch Dawson family, and they had a faint smile on their faces, with a hint of irony in their eyes. As for the second patriarch of the Dawson family, William's face was very gloomy because the meeting tonight was not arranged by him. It was the second elder, Timothy, who forced him to hold it with a group of important family members. William's face darkened. He glanced down and asked in a deep voice, "What do you want me to do by forcing me to hold a meeting tonight? Or do you want to bring me down?" William's words were very straightforward, leaving no room for negotiation. The Dawson family had used to follow his words for the past few years. He was already used to the feeling of everyone obeying his orders. But now, the situation seemed to have changed. From half a month ago, the family members looked at him with inexplicable sarcasm in their eyes. He also found something that his eldest son, who had disappeared for five years, had returned and was conferred the title of God of War in Outer Region! At this moment, William's cousin, who was also the son of the second elder of the Dawson family, Timothy, Sinclair picked up his teacup and took a sip. Then he smiled meaningfully and said, "If you insist that we forced you tonight, then... that's it. So what? Haha.." As he spoke, Sinclair narrowed his eyes and looked at William, who was sitting in the main seat, with sarcasm in his eyes. Bang! The next moment, William, who was sitting on the main seat, slammed his fist on the table and stood up. He pointed at Sinclair and said, "Sinclair! Let me tell you, even if I don't want to be the family patriarch, it's not your turn! And you? Do you have the right to cripple me? Or are you going to work together with your father?" Sinclair put down his teacup and looked at William with a meaningful sneer. "Ha... Boss, you know very well what you've done five years ago. My nephew was so outstanding, but you chased him out of the family. He's now a God of War at the Outer Region, just like uncle. Hehe, do you think my uncle will spare you for what you did for that outsider? As for the position of the patriarch of the family, I'm sorry, but I really have no interest in it. It's not suitable for me to be the patriarch of the family, but my nephew, who's a War of God at his twenties, is not qualified to be the patriarch of the family? "What? You want to welcome that unfilial son back to the family? Don't even think about it! That's impossible!" William, the second patriarch of the Dawson family, was furious. He would never let Joseph come back again! The royal family had no family affect sake of power and status, he would never let Joseph come back! Moreover, Joseph once fought with him! Joseph didn't treat him as a father at all, so he naturally wouldn't recognize that unfilial son! At this moment, the smile on Sinclair's face disappeared. His eyes narrowed as he said slowly, "What if I... insist on welcoming Fernando back? William, what can you do about it?" As soon as Sinclair finished his words, the entire Dawson family's meeting hall fell silent. The atmosphere instantly became extremely solemn. This was obviously a battle of authority for the Dawson family already. Everyone's thoughts were also very strange. Other families were usually the main branch that were desperately suppressing the side branches, while the Dawson family was completely opposite. The side branches was desperately helping the third generation successor to seize the power, while the main branch was actually opposing it with all its might... William, who was standing on the main seat became silent. His eyes were terrifyingly gloomy. At this moment, he did not look at Sinclair anymore. Instead, he looked up at the crowd below and asked in a deep voice, "Everyone, what do you think? I'd like to remind you that even if the unfilial son has been conferred the title of God of War, don't forget that he has started a massacre in Apren City, now that he had been expelled by the military department, he is no longer the God of War. Are you guys still on his side?" "Expelled by the military department? It's not a big deal. The military of Frogua is short of

Even if he was completely expelled, I can help Fernando to find some connection with boss..." At this moment, the second elder of the Dawson family, who was also sitting on the main seat, spoke. As soon as Timothy spoke, all the important members of the Dawson family in the hall lowered their heads, but their gazes were shining weirdly. Each of them was thinking about something. In fact, such a situation had lasted from half a month ago, and it was only tonight that they officially voiced out. However, the important members of the Dawson family were not interested in who would be the family patriarch. Anyway, it would never be their turn. But if the Dawson family had another God of War, whose combat capability and power were stronger, and whose future was more broad since he was in the Outer Region, they were naturally very happy. After all, the Dawson family was the founding family of Frogua. With a God of War, they had already gained a foothold in Vowhye, and their status was only second to those reclusive families that had been inherited for thousands of years. What about an outer region God of War? A family with two Gods of War! They were both Gods of War at Outer Region that had the strongest combat capability, and the Dawson family would definitely welcome a bigger development in the future. Moreover, Charles was too old, and there were too many hidden injuries on his body over the years. Maybe he would fall one day. If Charles collapsed, the Dawson family would really be in trouble... Therefore, tonight, all the important members of the Dawson family who came to attend this meeting had already made their stand clear. That was to welcome Fernando back. Of course, he was now called Joseph. It didn't matter. "Bang..." The silence of the members of the Dawson family, as well as Timothy's attitude, immediately made William fall on the chair in disbelief. That day, everyone's attitude was clear. If he insisted on not agreeing, then the division of the Dawson family would be that day!

At this moment, William felt a little regretful. Half a month ago, when he received the news that Joseph was conferred the title of God of War, he was extremely shocked too. He had never thought that his extremely rebellious son would actually be conferred the title of God of War! He was even conferred the title of God of War in Outer Region! Therefore, at that time, William regretted it. He had already had the idea of letting his son return to his family. But deep inside, he couldn't bear it. When his wife died, Joseph completely broke up with him. He even fought with him and threatened to kill his favorite woman! "Was I wrong? What did I do wrong? I never liked the marriage back then! The family forced me to marry a woman I didn't like at all for the sake of benefits! Did anyone ever care about me? And that unfilial son even wanted to kill his stepmother! How dare he! How could he! His biological mother is dead! If she is dead, why can't I marry another one? Am I, the patriarch of the Dawson family, not even having that little power? But why did you hurt your stepmother! Why!" "As long as you didn't do anything and didn't stab your stepmother, I would cripple you and chase you out of the family? I even planned to hand over the Dawson family to you. You continue to be a patriarch, and I retired to live my life. Can't you do that? Why did you treat me like this? I am your biological father! Why!" William roared in his heart. Yes, his feelings for Joseph were very complicated. He had strongly opposed his marriage with Joseph's mother twenty years ago, but it was useless. The family forced him to marry a woman he didn't like, a woman he had never seen before! Then he suffered twenty years of pain. Now that the Dawson family side branch was going to bring Joseph back, that Joseph who wanted to kill his stepmother five years ago, will he let that woman go if he really came back? Impossible, absolutely impossible. That was why William had to strongly oppose it. "Why! Why can't you think about it for me, your father! Why!" William roared in his heart. The next moment, William forcefully suppressed the anger in his heart. He glanced at the crowd and slowly said, "As usual, as long as I am still the patriarch of the Dawson family, I will not agree to your proposal! Don't even think about it!" At this moment, the second elder of the Dawson family, Timothy, who was sitting next to him, said faintly, "Haha... William, don't be angry. Is there any other way? Have you forgotten that when our elder brother established the Dawson family with our old brothers, there was a non-negotiable rule, which was that anyone who married into the Dawson family should not interfere with the internal affairs of the Dawson family. If there was, the elders of the Dawson family would have the right to cripple her or even kill her! Of course, we don't know whether Lin Feiling, whom you married five years ago, interfered with you or not. But now the fact is that she is the reason why the Dawson family is about to fall apart. Therefore, now our elders have the right to disable her, or kill her tonight. As long as she dies, our Dawson family will have another God of War, right?" After Timothy finished speaking, William's face changed instantly. But before he could speak, five elders of the Dawson family stood out in the hall below in an instant. They bowed to him and said, "Patriarch, please kill the troublemaker to ensure the stability of the Dawson family..." After the five elders of the Dawson family finished speaking, all of the important members of the Dawson family immediately stood up and walked to the middle of the hall. They lowered their heads and said to William at the same time, "Patriarch, please make a decisive decision to ensure the stability of our Dawson family's inheritance.." "You, you, you... how dare you! How dare you!" William's face turned pale because of fright at this scene. He was frightened. Yes, he was really scared. Although he was the patriarch of the Dawson family, at this moment, if all the important members of the Dawson family wanted to kill his new wife, he had no way to stop them. "William, be decisive. Fernando, no, he is called Joseph now. Joseph is a good child, and he tle impulsive in the past. But as a father, you have gone too far that year. Bring him back and apologize to him. After all, we are doing this for the family's good, and let the woman you married apologize to him." Timothy who sat beside William tone became colder and colder. William listened to Timothy's words and stared at the important members of the Dawson family standing below. Time passed slowly. Ten minutes later, William sat on the chair weakly and said, "Okay, I agree. You guys send someone to pick up the unfilial son...." Timothy continued to say faintly, "William, you have to apologize to him in person, or he will be angry and will not come back." William's gaze was blank as he nodded his head dispiritedly. "Alright." "You still need to ask that woman to apologize to Joseph. Don't refuse. You know how much that child hates that woman deep inside..." Timothy continued. William narrowed his eyes and wanted to resist, but after a while, he nodded and said, "Okay..." "Haha..." Timothy laughed. Then he looked at his son Sinclair, who was standing below, and said, "Sinclair, arrange for someone to pick up Joseph. The child must have suffered a lot out there these years, compensate him more. In addition, tell him that I will start to help him in the military. In two or three years, try to let him return to the military and take back the glory of the God of War. Tell him not to worry..." Sinclair, who was standing below, also smiled. He nodded and said, "Okay, don't worry, Dad. I will arrange it..." Soon after, everyone in the Dawson family dispersed. Soon, only

William was left in the entire family's meeting hall. After a while, William walked back to his residence wearily. As soon as he returned home, a long-haired woman with a slim figure and a beautiful face came up to him. The woman was now in her forties, but she was well taken care of. She looked no different from a 30-year-old woman. Every frown and smile of hers were enchanting and attractful. She was the new wife William married five years ago, Lin Feiling! Twenty years ago, she was the most pretty girl in Vowhye! "What's wrong? You seem to be very unhappy.." Lin Feiling asked William. She stepped forward to hold William's arm and helped him sit on the chair. William looked at Lin Feiling with a complicated expression and said apologetically, "I'm sorry, the elders of the family are going to bring that unfilial son back and force me and you to apologize to him..." "What! You want me to apologize to that unfilial son? That's impossible! Isn't it enough that I had been bullied by your Dawson family for so many years? You want me to apologize to him, it's impossible..." Lin Feiling was furious, and her facial expression instantly turned cold "If I don't do what they said, they will split up the Dawson family and attack you. They will chase you out of the Dawson family or kill you... So, Feiling, bear with it..." William said dispiritedly. The next moment, Lin Feiling fell on the chair with a bang. She lowered her head, and there was endless hatred in her eyes... She! Lin Feiling! She would never allow Joseph to return to Vowhye alive! Never! "What's so great about becoming a God of War? You're not a god! I don't believe that I can't kill you this time! Don't think about coming back, and don't think about inheriting the family! Don't think about it!" At this moment, Lin Feiling's killing intent surged wildly in her heart. Half a month ago, she had already contacted the top killers from all over the world. Although she couldn't get in touch with the killers at the God of War level, she had contacted dozens of masters at the Semi God of War level. Originally, she wanted to wait, but now she couldn't wait anymore. Moreover, she believed that no matter how strong Joseph was, dozens of killers could kill him with poison or heavy weapons! This time was different from five years ago. She had stayed in the Dawson family for five years. After five years, she had accumulated too many internal emotions...

This time, she must kill Joseph!

Chapter 84

The next morning, after Joseph and Paige finished packing, they were ready to leave Aglela and go to Usmit. Joseph never dragged things on, so did Paige. She could finally go to Usmit to pursue her dream. At the gate of the Parry family's villa, Logan and Bethany sent Joseph and Paige away. While Logan was talking to Joseph, on the other side, Paige said goodbye to her best friend Bethany. Paige was dressed in a long black dress and high heels, with a noble temperament. Bethany was also dressed very beautifully. At this moment, both of them were smiling, and they looked very happy. Bethany looked at Paige happily and said, "Paige, go to Usmit to pursue your happiness and career. I believe that you will be happy in the future. With such a good husband, everything you did in the past is worth it. You should cherish everything in the future." Paige elegantly nodded with a smile and said to Bethany, "Yes, I will. You too, Bethany. It's time for you to find a husband. You can't always be single, can you? By the way, I heard from Joseph that Mr. Parry had opened a company in Usmit recently. Don't you want to go to Usmit?" Bethany said, "Yes, I will go too. But now there are a lot of things going on in Apren City. When I settle it, I will go see you." She nodded and said, "Okay, I'll wait for you at Usmit. On the other side, Logan was also reporting to Joseph in a low voice. "Mr. Dawson, the Junlin Group had been reorganized yesterday. The old employees you left five years ago have all gone back. All the factories, workshops, and so on have been repaired. The whole Junlin Group has been completely refreshed. Dennis and I have also looked for those people who know your identity in Usmit City. They absolutely don't dare to reveal anything to others." Joseph nodded and said, "Okay, you've worked hard these days, especially in the afternoon yesterday. I requested you to go all the way there. I'll bring Paige and Chloe to Usmit first.

You can go there after arranging the things here. After all, career development is better there." "Thank you, Mr. Dawson." Logan was extremely excited because Joseph had given him an express way to success. The largest group in Usmit City, Junlin Group? That was only a small part of the power of the man in front of him. The longer he worked with Joseph, the more he respected Joseph deep inside. While Logan was chatting with Joseph, Bethany, who was bidding farewell to Paige, secretly glanced at them.

Of course, Joseph noticed Bethany's suspicion, so he turned his back to Bethany and whispered to Logan, "Your daughter is much smarter than my wife. She seems to doubt my identity. But it doesn't matter. Just give her a small warning. If it doesn't work, just tell her that the Frogua's military wants me to go back and keep watch over Usmit. If your daughter asks you more, you can just reveal a little bit of my identity. Don't tell her everything." Logan nodded slightly and said fearfully, "Yes, I will warn her when I go back. I will never let her talk to Madam Mooney. Joseph shook his head and said, "It doesn't matter. No matter how smart your daughter is, she won't guess everything. I don't intend to hide it for too long, but it's not the right time yet. Well, that's it. We will leave for Usmiti." "I wish you a safe journey, Mr. Dawson." Logan lowered his head and said to Joseph. On the other side, Paige elegantly hugged Chloe and Bethany then said goodbye to them. Then the three of them got in the car and drove to the airport. After arriving at the airport, they boarded a plane to Usmit City. On the way, Joseph said to Chloe who was sitting behind him while driving, "Chloe, Mom and Dad will take you to a big city today. You can go to school there later, okay? There are many children there, and they will play with you." Chloe nodded happily and said, "Yes, dad, I always wanted to go to school, "Honey, thank you." Paige sat at the back and said to Joseph. She was very grateful for everything Joseph had done for her. She looked up at Joseph, who was driving in front of her, and her heart was full of love and affection for this man. At the gate of the Parry family's villa, after Joseph and the others left for a long time, Bethany still stood there in a daze, Logan walked up to her with a smile and said, "Okay, Bethany. They have gone far. Let's go back." However, after Logan finished speaking, Bethany still stood where she was. She still looked ahead and asked her father Logan, "Dad, can you tell me the truth? What is the identity of Joseph? Is he really just a God of War of Frogua?" Bethany directly voiced out the doubts in her heart. She always felt that something was wrong, it was very strange. Logan's heart skipped a beat. He thought to himself that Joseph's guess was correct. His daughter was indeed suspicious. But Logan still pretended not to know and asked, "Bethany, why do you ask this? Mr. Dawson is the God of War of Frogua, and he is no longer in the military." Hearing this, Bethany turned to Logan and looked deeply at her father, asking, "Dad, last night when I was reading the news of Usmaït City, I saw photos of you and Dennis and Ernie at the gate of Junlin Group. Shouldn't you explain it to me? Also, in Apren City, our family has just stood our ground, but you are so anxious to transfer the industry to Usmaït. Moreover, I have checked the company's accounts and contracts. In just a few days, we have secured the cooperation project with the top company in Usmaït. Dad, do you think I am a three-year-old child? Does all of these relate with Joseph?" Logan, who was still smiling, frowned deeply when he heard his daughter's question. He looked at Bethany and said, "Bethany, there are some things that you shouldn't ask, and don't tell Miss Paige. You are very smart. Do you understand what I said?" Bethany's face also became serious. She frowned and asked Logan, "Dad, I understand. But Paige is my best friend, and I am worried about her."

Logan waved his hand and interrupted Bethany. "Don't worry! Your best friend will be happy and honoured for the rest of her life. You don't have to worry about Mr. Dawson's feelings for Miss Mooney. There are many things that you don't understand, so don't ask. I can't tell you even if you ask."

Bethany was stunned. She knew her father too well. Her father's serious words already hinted everything. She looked up at her father and asked, "Dad, do you mean that Joseph can return to the military of Frogua and serve as the God of War?" Hearing this, Logan was stunned. He thought for a moment and said with certainty, "Well, that's for sure. I can also tell you that Mr. Dawson had never been expelled from the military of Frogua. He quitted voluntarily just to spend more time with Miss Mooney and Chloe. Therefore, as long as Mr. Dawson was willing to, he could go back at any time. Otherwise, did you really think that the God of War, who had made countless contributions to Frogua, would mess with him just because of this Kennedy family? How is that possible? That's why I told you just now that you don't have to worry about the happiness of your best friend for the rest of your life. In the future, her life will only have glory and happiness, and there won't be sadness." Bethany's heart was full of joy again, and then she asked the last question in her mind, "Dad, then... what about the Junlin Group? Don't tell me that the Junlin Group has nothing to do with Joseph." Logan laughed. After laughing for a while, he said, "You asked me about the relationship between Junlin Group and Mr. Dawson? Haha." Of course, it had something to do with him, because now the Junlin Group, which ranked first in Usmaït City, had always belonged to him. It was just that Mr. Dawson's authority of Junlin Group was robbed by a traitor when he was fighting at the Outer Region. But now Mr. Dawson had got it back." "What? Dad, you mean that Junlin Group, the top group in Usmaït City, even one of the best five hundred companies in the world belongs to Joseph?" Logan nodded and said, "Well, if not why Mr. Dawson is going to Usmaït? Of course to take back what belongs to him. Well, it's not appropriate for him to explain this matter to Miss Mooney now. Miss Mooney had been suffering for the past five years. He can't tell Miss Mooney all at once. Since you know it today, you must keep it a secret." After saying that, Logan turned around and went back, leaving Bethany in a daze. She was even more shocked. She had long suspected that Joseph's identity was not so simple. It turned out that that man could be so strong and powerful. In a few years, he could establish the largest group in Usmaït City, and even the top ten companies in the entire Frogua! He entered Outer Region battlefield and became the Outer Region God of War within five years! This man was so strong, too powerful. At this moment, Bethany muttered in her heart. She finally understood what her father, Logan, had said. The future of her good friend's life would really be very glorious. Paige, you really found a good man. You couldn't even imagine how outstanding your husband was. At this moment, Bethany silently felt happy for her good friend who had suffered for five years. At the same time, Yahir, Serena, and Estella were at the gate of Paragon Villa, Oplen. Alpha 1 was there with the moving company. Yahir and Estella had decided to go to Usmit with Joseph and Paige. For the sake of safety, Joseph informed Alpha 1 last night and asked him to escort them all the way. At 11 o'clock in the morning, they had done packing and Yahir and his family began to rush to Usmit under the protection of Alpha 1. A new city, a new life, a wider future. A more wonderful future had begun.
