

The Three Little Guardian Angels by Ginger Bud
Chapter 1868

Chapter 1868 Daisy had zest and determination and was quite good at acting. Even her family background couldn't compare. Amy had gotten to where she was because of her willingness to get down and dirty, but Daisy didn't have to go through all that and still could get what she wanted. However, Daisy was hardworking, so it was impossible for Amy not to worry. Amy left the office and returned to her room when another actress barged in with a smile. "Ames!" Amy turned to see her. "Yes?" "Don't worry about Daisy. Even if she got the lead character, she's being brutally attacked. I'm very sure that she's probably hiding somewhere, crying her eyes out." Amy froze, then said, "She's not as weak as you think." "So what? The crew did treat her nicer. She doesn't even want to clarify things now. I'm sure it's because she's guilty." Amy looked at her and asked, "How do you know so much about the crew?" The actress walked to her and said, "Because I can't stand her, so I asked someone in the crew for help." "You did this?" Amy was choked. "Are you crazy? You're not afraid that Charlie might find out!?" She scoffed. "There's nothing to be afraid of. She wanted to act like she was special, so Charlie definitely wouldn't want to work with her. He hates it when his artists do that." Amy took a deep breath. "Hannah Salvatore, you better get those tweets removed immediately." Hannah didn't look happy. "Why? It's just the truth." "Listen to me. Charlie says he believes her. You should know his temper. If he finds out, nobody will be able to protect you, a B-lister." Hannah gnashed her teeth. "So what? It's a fact that Daisy is getting special treatment. She's using her influence as a Goldmann. Don't worry. I won't drag you into this. I just don't like her. I'll settle this myself." "Hannah..." Amy wanted to stop her, but she didn't come back. At noon, the crew finally replied and clarified that Daisy had a bad attitude. They said that Daisy had a good relationship with the crew and that they willingly treated her nicely. Daisy had also rejected special treatment. However, soon after that clarification, a user named 'Gossipy' started attacking them and said that the crew said all that because they didn't want to offend the Goldmanns and insisted that Daisy had a bad attitude. That went on for two days, yet the arguments online didn't slow down. Daisy had yet to say anything. That evening, at the Goldmann mansion... Maisie handed some food to Daisy and seemed to be worried about the attacks online, so she asked, "Daisy, do you want your father to help?" "No." She looked up and smiled. "Mom. I don't read the news, so it doesn't affect me. The more they criticize me, the more motivated I get." Maisie chuckled. "I'm glad it doesn't affect you, but no matter what happens, remember that your father and I will always stand behind you." Daisy nodded. When she got back to the room, Daisy got a call from Freyja. "Daisy, are you alright? I saw that you're trending!" Daisy was stunned. "Even you saw that?"
