

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2346

Chapter 2346

At least Freyja was no longer alone.

While Daisy was staying at the Seaview Villa, she received a call from Charlie. She came to the courtyard to accept the call. "Chuck?"

"Come back to the office now. This is urgent," said Charlie.

Daisy hung up the call and rushed back to Tenet.

Charlie was waiting for her in the office. When he saw Daisy, he put the variety show notice in his hand on the desk. "This is the variety show 24 Hours in an Inn. Are you interested?"

Daisy was stunned. Wasn't this the variety show Tiffany participated in?

It was a variety show that showcased the life of celebrities. It was recently aired with great popularity and high ratings.

Daisy returned to her senses and asked, "You want me to join this variety show?"

Leaning against the back of the chair, Charlie replied, "The investor of this variety show is Mr. Hannigan. He wishes the show to give the audience a different experience. You're the most famous person in Bassburgh right now. Besides, everyone is curious whether you're using your identity as the daughter of the Goldmanns to get everything your way, so I believe the variety show will give the audience a better understanding of your true self.

"Initially, I planned to let you and James join the variety show, but unfortunately, James is pretty occupied right now. Therefore, the director invited Mr. Boucher to be the temporary guest for the next season."

"Mr. Boucher will be joining as well?" Daisy was shocked.

Charlie nodded. "After all, you're the main focus in the next season. You may choose two special guests of your choice to accompany you."

Meanwhile...

Nolan was having a meeting with Tanner in a restaurant.

Tanner handed a document to Nolan. After reading it, Nolan lifted his eyelids and asked, "You want to rent my place?"

Tanner chuckled. "Yes, I want this variety show to have a rustic style, and your place is exactly where I want it to be."

Nolan frowned. "You want my daughter to help you earn money?"

He chuckled. "We're partners. Do you think you would lose money while I'm earning money?"

Nolan picked up his coffee. Apparently, Tanner knew that this was a good business opportunity. He started to invest in the entertainment industry and made a variety show that was different from others.

Other people only invited celebrities to take part in a variety show, but he chose to make a reality show for the upper class.

Other than Daisie, the rest of the people were not celebrities, but at least they were well known.

If he wanted to stand out in the variety show, he did need to be different.

"I'll discuss it with my father. After all, those flowers and plants in the garden are his treasure. He might not be happy about it if something were to happen to them."

Tanner said, "Don't worry. I'll ask the crew to be careful. They won't destroy a single thing in your house." T

At Emperon...

At noon, Cameron turned around on her bed. She touched something and cracked her eyes open.

When she saw Waylon lying on her bed, she sprung up. "What are you doing here again?"

He chuckled. "Look around you. Is this your room?"

Cameron was stunned and turned her head around.

'Wait for a second! I remember I went back to my own room last night!'

“Why am I here?” she asked.

He sat up and replied, “Who knows? Maybe you sleepwalked into my bed.”

“Impossible!” Cameron refuted. “I never sleepwalk! It must be you!”

Waylon squinted and pinned her under him. “Really?”

Cameron put her hands on his chest and shouted nervously, “Get off me, Wayne!”

Waylon went nearer to her and pressed his lips on her cheek. “I’ll get off you after you kiss me.”

“You...” Cameron’s cheeks turned red. It was only now that she realized how shameless Waylon could be.

Waylon looked at her intently and continued with a hoary voice. “If not, I’ll kiss you.”

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2347

Chapter 2347

Cameron held his head in place and kissed him.

Waylon squinted and put his hand on the back of her head to deepen the kiss, causing Cameron’s heart to leap into a gallop.

The hair and clothes of the person underneath him were disheveled. She looked just like a broken beauty, and he just couldn’t hold himself back anymore from wanting her.

Waylon’s eyes were filled with desire. He could barely hold himself back anymore. He grabbed her wrist and kissed it. “Cam. It’s about time...”

Cameron’s mind was a muddled mess. She couldn’t think straight right now as she asked, “What did you say?”

“I said I want to-”

Suddenly, the bell rang, causing Waylon to stop midway through his sentence.

Both of them opened their eyes and looked at each other. Cameron finally came around to her senses and quickly pushed Waylon away. She sat up on the bed and said, “I think you should go answer the door.”

Waylon covered his face with his palm and took a deep breath. “You go out first.”

Cameron hastily left his room. While in the corridor, she patted her chest and heaved a sigh of relief.

If it hadn't been for the doorbell, she might have already offered herself to Waylon.

She put on a jacket and went downstairs to open the door.

Daisie was standing in front of the door. When she saw Cameron, a smile appeared on her face. "I hope I didn't disturb you guys." 1

Cameron gave her an embarrassed smile as she grabbed Daisie's hand. "Of course, you didn't disturb us. You're here right on time. Are you here for your brother?"

Daisie replied, "I came to look for you two."

After Waylon put on his clothes, he came downstairs unhurriedly and stopped in front of the couch. "What's the matter?"

Daisie walked up to him and grabbed his arm. "Waylon, I'd like to discuss something with you two. After all, you may get mad at me if I make the decision without asking you guys."

Waylon was caught between tears and laughter. He poked her forehead and said, "Did I scold you for the lousy idea you gave me?"

He was referring to Minzy.

Daisie laughed dryly and looked at Cameron before whispering into his ear. "Then what do you think about the outcome?"

Waylon sat on the couch and replied, "Not bad."

"What are you guys whispering behind my back?" Cameron narrowed her eyes.

'How can they keep a secret from me?"

With a smile on her face, Daisie walked over to Cameron and coiled her arms around hers. "Cameron, I need you and Waylon to help me with something."

"What is it?" asked Cameron.

Daisie smiled at her and said, "I want you two to participate in a variety show with me."

Cameron was stunned. She pointed at herself and said, "Me? You want your brother and me to participate in a variety show with you?"

Daisie nodded. Then, she said, "Uncle Tanner is one of the investors in the variety show 24 Hours in an Inn. The guest for the next season will be Uncle Helios and me. Besides, I can bring two special guests with me, so I thought about you and my brother, then I came to ask you two about it."

Cameron looked at Waylon.

Waylon lifted his eyelids but did not say anything.

She pulled Daisie to the side and whispered, "Daisie. I don't think we should trouble your brother about a trivial matter like this. It doesn't matter if your brother wants to go or not. I'll go with you as long as I can get paid."

After all, only a fool would say no to money.

Daisie looked at Cameron. She was not sure if her brother would come with her or not, but she was certain that Cameron would be interested. "Sure."

If Cameron agreed, there was a high chance that her brother would come with her too.

Waylon poured himself a cup of tea and looked at them. "Since you ask me for your help, as your brother, of course, I'll help."

Cameron turned her head to look at him. "I thought you didn't want to go?"

After all, he clearly looked like he was not interested at all just now.

He picked up the cup of tea and replied, "Did I ever say that?"

There was no way he would say no to his sister since she was basically creating a chance for both of them.

Cameron was rendered speechless.

Daisie clicked her fingers and said, "That's decided then. I hope you won't back out on me."

The smile on Cameron's face froze. She did not know why, but she felt that she had walked into a trap.

At Zestar...

“Han, I heard that you accepted the invitation from 24 Hours in an Inn. But Daisie will be the main guest for the next season. Are you sure you want to go?”

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2348

Chapter 2348

In the dressing room, a few actresses gathered around Hannah when they heard that she had accepted the invitation to 24 Hours in an Inn and talked about it.

The show staff had announced the trailer for the next season. Daisie was the main guest. She had been receiving a lot of attention throughout the entertainment industry because of Tiffany.

In the last season, Tiffany was kicked out of the variety show, and she had created quite a lot of commotion across the entertainment industry.

There was a rumor going around saying that Daisie was the one who got her removed from the variety show by using her strong family background. Even though Tiffany was exposed to be a hypocrite and was blacklisted by the entertainment industry, there were still a lot of topics about Daisie across the Internet.

At present, what was going on in the entertainment industry was that most female celebrities up

the were afraid to have any interaction with Daisie. They were scared that they might end same as Tiffany if they rubbed Daisie the wrong way.

Three years ago, it was rumored that Hannah had apologized to Daisie in front of the media. after Daisie received the Best Actress award. It was also because Hannah had been at odds with Daisie before, so they all thought they did not have a “good” relationship.

Therefore, they were kind of surprised when the show staff invited both Daisie and Hannah to the same variety show.

Hannah was flipping through the magazine absentmindedly as she replied, “It’s just a variety show. There’s nothing to worry about.”

“What if she gives you trouble while you’re there? There’s nothing you will be able to do at that time other than swallow the humiliation.”

“Yeah, Han, I think you should reject it. After all, those who get too close to Daisie don’t end up well.”

After all, she was the daughter of the Goldmanns, the apple of her family's eyes. Tiffany's bad past deeds were exposed by them just because she was at odds with Daisy. Naturally, normal female celebrities like them would never stand a single chance against Daisy.

Hannah closed the magazine and raised her head. "It isn't easy to get a chance to participate in a variety show, so why should I reject it? I think you should mind your own business."

After she finished speaking, she rose to her feet and left the dressing room.

The remaining actresses looked at each other. They were unhappy with Hannah's attitude as they said, "I'm sure she just wants to ride on the wave of Daisy's popularity."

"Hah, just because she became an actress earlier than us, she thinks she can give us that kind of attitude? No matter how successful she is, it can't change the fact that Tenet Media fired her"

Several days later, the show staff of 24 Hours in an Inn received permission from Nicholas to use the Goldmann mansion as the shooting site. They began to decorate the site. The mansion was finely built, and the view of the town was beautiful. It looked just like a paradise and fit very well with the main theme of 24 Hours in an Inn for this season.

Daisy did not expect the show staff to choose her own house as the shooting site, and she was stunned.

"What's wrong?"

The question came alongside a big hand that landed on her head.

Daisy turned around and smiled. "Godfather Helios?"

Helios was standing outside of the courtyard, looking at the staff as they decorated the site. Tanner really has great taste. It seems like this season is going to be a lot different from the previous session."

Daisy did not say anything in return.

The variety show 24 Hours in an Inn was a new show that got released recently. Unlike other variety shows, the recording was done live.

It was said that the variety show did not have many sponsors in the beginning. Therefore, the shootings for the first few seasons were done in hotels, and the crew spent a little money out of their own pockets to turn the hotels into lodging style.

Of course, this was very close to normal people’s lives. After all, it was a show where celebrities experienced life on their own.

The show staff did not have a big budget. They could not invite A-list celebrities, so they turned their target to B or C-list celebrities. However, since the show was broadcasted live, and the interaction between guests was awkward, the show did not have much viewership.

Only after Tanner invested in this variety show and the budget increased did the show staff decide to change the style. They would shoot the show at different locations in a season. They would go to the seaside, the grass plain, the forests, or even a big city.

Chapter 2349

They would shoot at scenic spots and eat the most delicious dishes across different cities. They would play different games as well. The show became even more interesting. The different lifestyles, the coziness and laughter, and the companionship were what people desired, and the ratings naturally surpassed other shows.

Daisie looked at him. “It’s indeed different. After all, we have two special guests who are not from the entertainment industry.”

Helios squinted. “Two special guests?”

At that moment, a black luxury car stopped in front of the courtyard. Daisie turned her head around and said, “There they are.”

Waylon and Cameron came down from the car. When Helios saw them, he laughed, “Your brother is considered a child star as well. It’s just that he didn’t choose to become an artist afterward.”

Daisie raised her brows and asked, “So, are the special guests I invited outstanding enough?”

Waylon walked over to Helios and greeted him, “Uncle Helios.”

Helios patted his shoulder and said, "I didn't expect that we would work together again on a variety show after so many years. I'm starting to miss the way you did the TV show with me when you were a kid."

When he was only a kid, he played Helios' son with Daisie in several TV shows. He also played the childhood of the character that Helios played.

When they thought about it, they realized that it had been a long time.

Waylon chuckled. "Yeah. Please take care of us this time as well, Uncle Helios."

Cameron was stunned. She looked at Waylon and asked, "You were a child star when you were young?"

Daisie walked up to Cameron and said, "I remember I've told you before. My brother and I were child stars. It's just that he didn't become an artist when he grew up. He had played several roles with Uncle Helios in the past."

Cameron found it hard to believe.

"Unbelievable."

She did not know why, but she suddenly wanted to watch those TV series that Waylon participated in when he was a kid.

The director walked over with a smile on his face and said, "Mr. Boucher, Ms. Vanderbilt, the site has been set up. We plan to start the recording today. What do you think?"

Helios nodded. "Sure."

The director then reminded them, "This variety show is presented in the form of a live broadcast, so there is no script. You need to play it by ear and show your usual selves as much as possible."

When the show started, Daisie suddenly remembered something. "Oh yeah, you guys aren't afraid of dogs, right?"

Everyone was confused.

'Dogs?'

Soon, Daisie went to the backyard and brought Goldbar over. It was a big and fluffy Alaskan Malamute with light blue eyes.

There were two small Alaskan Malamutes beside Goldbar as well. They were its kids.

Cameron was stunned. "You guys have a dog too?"

'And it isn't a small dog?"

Daisie squatted down and rubbed Goldbar's fluffy fur. "This is Goldbar. We keep it at the Goldmann mansion to keep our grandfather company. These two are its kids. The white one is called Fortuna, and the one with point coloration is called Cash."

The corner of Cameron's lips twitched.

'She sure has a weird naming sense!

Fortuna and Cash were more obedient as they were afraid of strangers. However, Goldbar was friendlier. When Cameron went near it, it allowed her to pet its head.

Helios lowered his head to look at his watch and said, "The others are about to arrive. Wayne, let's go prepare some snacks for them."

Waylon nodded and followed Helios into the kitchen.

The cameraman followed them as well.

Daisie and Cameron stayed in the courtyard and played with the dogs. Cameron seemed a little bit uncomfortable with so many cameras around her and whispered, "How long will they keep recording us?"

Daisie lifted her head to look at her. "A whole day."

Cameron was stunned. "What?"

Daisie chuckled. "Don't worry. We'll have a break in the middle, so just relax."

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2350

Chapter 2350

A car stopped in front of the door. Daisie rose to her feet and said, "It should be other guests. I'll go check it out."

Daisie came to the door and looked ahead. The woman who came out of the car first took off her sunglasses and said, "I wondered who it was. So it's Daisie."

Daisie walked up to her with a smile on her face and hugged her. "It has been a long time."

Hannah snorted and replied, "I thought you had already forgotten about me."

“Don’t be silly. I’ll never forget about you.”

After Daisie finished talking, she looked toward the other two guests who came down from the car. One of them was Denzel Norris, a rising male artist, and the other one was Zoey.

Daisie was slightly dumbfounded when she saw Zoey. The show had invited Hannah, who was rumored to be at odds with her, but the reality was that they were good friends.

However, Zoey had fought with her for a role in the past.

‘Are they for real? Do they not know about our feud?’ How could they invite her?

That being said, the show had already started, so Daisie could only greet them with a smile on her face.

Zoey seemed rather indifferent as she did not respond to Daisie.

Denzel sensed something was wrong, so he hastily took the gifts he had brought out of the car. “Daisie, Han, these are the small gifts I prepared for you. I hope you’ll like them.”

Hannah took over the gift and replied, “That’s so sweet of you, Denny. Thank you.

‘Denny?’

Daisie felt that there was something fishy between Hannah and Denzel, but she did not think too much about it.

The staff handed the tablet to the director. Over 100,000 fans were watching the live broadcast. The number of viewers was increasing rapidly, and there were more than tens of thousands of comments.

[D*mn it! I can’t believe that they’ve invited Helios too!]

[Is the show staff for real? Do they not know that Daisie and Zoey fought each other for a role before? How could they invite both of them to the same show?]

[How can Zoey be so rude? Daisie took the initiative to greet her, but she just ignored her. Who does she think she is?]

[This mansion seems expensive! Well, as expected of the Goldmanns.]

[So Hannah and Daisie are good friends.]

[I wish Daisy wasn't on this show. She's so fake.]

Just as they expected, Daisy and Zoey got the most attention from the viewers. Daisy's fans were not happy with Zoey's attitude, while Zoey's fans accused Daisy of her hypocrisy.

Helios carried some snacks to the courtyard and said, "Guys, the snacks are ready."

Denzel put down the gift and offered his help. Helios then said, "Den, there are some beverages and tea in the kitchen. Can you do me a favor and bring them out?"

Denzel nodded. "Okay."

[Denzel is such a good kid!]

[Helios is still so kind and gentle to his junior.]

The long table in the courtyard was covered with a white tablecloth. There were some fruit platters and fine snacks placed on top of the table.

Daisy then introduced Cameron to Hannah. "Meet Cameron, my future sister-in-law."

Cameron was stumped, "What are you talking about? I..."

When she realized that there were cameras around, Cameron cleared her throat and continued. "I'm not your sister-in-law yet."

Zoey sat in front of the table and commented sarcastically, "Wow, since you brought them to the show, why don't you bring your whole family instead?"

Hannah narrowed her eyes.

"Does she know what she's talking about?"

Cameron looked toward Zoey and fell deep in thought.

The staff on the side broke into a sweat with fright. What they intended to create to attract more audience was a "buzz," not a "conflict!"

More and more people started commenting after they heard what Zoey said.

[Is she there to mess around?]

[What is wrong with the show staff? Why did they even invite her?]
