

The Three Little Guardian Angels Chapter 2449

Chapter 2449

Colton turned his head to look at her. "Why? You don't want others to see me? Am I not presentable?"

Freyja had never introduced him to her classmates ever since he came to Yaramoor. Every time he came to pick her up at the university, he needed to keep a very low profile.

'Does she think I'm ugly or what?'

Freyja was stunned. "Have I ever said that before?"

"You didn't say that before, but who knows what's on your mind." Colton leaned on the back of the seat and said sulkily, "Every time, you just leave me at home and go out to have fun with your classmates. Why don't you introduce me to them? You women are all the same. Even though you're married, you still want to live a single life."

Freyja chuckled and held his hand. "It's not that I don't want to introduce you to my classmate, and it's definitely not because you're not presentable."

Colton pulled his hand out of her grip and looked outside of the window. "Then what is it?"

Freyja leaned against the back of the seat and said, "You're so handsome. What if my classmates fall in love with you? I don't want to invite any trouble to myself."

Colton squinted and gripped her chin. "So, you think that I'll bring you trouble."

She pushed his hand away. "Are we leaving or not?"

Colton harrumphed and started the car.

Soon, he stopped the car in front of a restaurant.

Freyja was stunned and asked, "I thought we were going back?"

Colton unbuckled his seatbelt and said, "I feel like eating out today."

After that, he got out of his car.

Freyja couldn't help herself and chuckled. After getting out of the car, she saw him extending his arm at her. After realizing what he was going to do, she put her hand on his arm and said, "Don't you think you're a bit too childish?"

"So?"

They entered the restaurant and sat by the window. The waiter came over to them with a menu in his hand and said, "What would you like to order today?"

Colton took over the menu. He lifted his eyelids to look at the person in front of him and ordered a few dishes.

Freyja was stunned as all of the dishes he ordered were her favorites.

After Colton finished ordering the food, the waiter went away.

Freyja picked up the glass of water and asked, "This is our first time coming to this restaurant, right?"

"Yeah," he replied flatly.

Just when Freyja was about to say something, the waiter suddenly returned with a bouquet of roses in his arms. He handed the roses to Freyja and said, "This is a gift from your husband for you."

Freyja looked at Colton in surprise.

Colton turned his face sideways to look outside through the window embarrassingly.

"Thank you." She took over the bouquet of roses with a smile on her face and held it with her arms. The roses were red as fire and brilliant as sunshine. They signified endless life.

It was also the reason people liked to give their partners roses when they were wooing them.

"You brought me to a restaurant and gave me flowers..." She caressed the flowers and stopped for a second before continuing. "Is this our first date?"

Colton's face turned red with embarrassment. "You... You don't like it?"

Freyja looked at him, and a smile appeared on her face. "It's a bit corny."

Colton was rendered speechless.

“But I like it.”

“What?”

Freyja lowered her head to look at the bouquet of roses in her arms.

“This is the first bouquet of roses I received.”

Colton placed his hand in front of his lips and cleared his throat. “If you want it, I can send you a bouquet every day.”

She laughed. “Nah. You don’t have to do that, but I’m already very happy that you’re willing to do that for me.”

Colton did not say anything. No one could tell what he was thinking right now.

“Freyja.”

Freyja lifted her head to see two of her classmates coming toward her. They were Leia and Shannon.

“What a coincidence. I didn’t know you were here.” After Shannon finished speaking, she looked at Colton. “And this is...”

Just when Freyja was about to say something, Colton smiled and said, “I’m her husband.”

Leia and Shannon were stunned. “You’re married!?”

Freyja smiled but did not say anything.

Leia and Shannon sat down. They were shocked to find out that Freyja was married. “Oh my gosh! We didn’t know that you were married. When did it happen?”

Freyja looked at Colton.

Colton picked up a cup of water and took a sip. “We just married this year.”

“No wonder we didn’t know about it.” Leia chuckled and continued.

“You didn’t get married secretly, did you?”

Freyja replied embarrassingly. “Nope...”

Suddenly, Shannon turned to Colton and asked, “You’re from Zlokovia, right? What do you work for a living?”

“Just some small business,” he replied flatly.

Freyja looked at him speechlessly.

‘Yeah, just some small business. It’s so small that you can see his company logo every where.’

“Is it your own business?”

“Well... You can put it that way,” replied Colton.

Shannon rested her chin on her hand and smiled. “I see. I heard that men who start their own businesses are cool. No wonder Freyja likes you.”

Leia nudged her as a sign to tell her to stop speaking.

Colton squinted slightly, and Shannon realized that she had said something wrong. She hastily covered her mouth and apologized, “Ah, I’m sorry. I didn’t mean that.”

Freyja smiled and looked at Colton. “It’s okay. You’re right. Men who start their own businesses are cool. So, I’m very lucky, right?”

Colton looked at her. It seemed to him that she was enjoying the acting.

Shannon was momentarily stunned and chuckled. “Yeah, you’re indeed lucky. It already isn’t easy for normal women to find a man with a good appearance and family background nowadays, let alone you. Your mother is in prison, and it’s indeed difficult for you to find a good man.”

Everyone fell silent.

Leia hastily stopped her and said, “I’m sorry, Freyja. Shannon likes to speak whatever is on her mind. She doesn’t mean anything.”

Freyja’s expression remained unchanged. She looked as if she had expected something like this as she said, “Don’t worry. I don’t mind.”

Shannon continued. “See? I told you that Freyja is very kind. She wouldn’t mind something like this at all, right?”

Leia stopped Shannon because she noticed that Colton's expression had changed. It was just that she did not expect Shannon to be so ignorant. She couldn't read the situation at all.

Suddenly, Colton rose to his feet and said, "We've finished eating. You guys enjoy."

After that, he pulled Freyja, and they went away.

After they left, Shannon pouted and said, "What's his problem? We just ordered our food. We're having a good time, and he just left like that? Don't you think it's a bit rude?"

Leia placed her hand on her forehead.

'No one would be in the mood to continue eating after hearing what you said.'

However, Shannon still did not realize she had said something wrong.

"But I think they've paid for our meal. Her husband is so handsome and owns a business himself. I'm sure he'll help us pay for our meal."

Leia looked at her. "Are you sure?"

Shannon replied, "Well, men are all the same. They care about their reputation more than anything. Have you ever seen a man asking a woman to pay for a meal?"

After she finished speaking, she continued. "But unfortunately, although he's good-looking, he has to start his own business. I'm sure he comes from a humble family as well, and I guess that's why he married her."

Everyone knew Freyja's mother was in prison, so finding a good husband with an excellent background would be even more difficult than reaching the sky.

Soon, they finished their lunch. Just when they were about to leave, the waiter stopped them. "I'm sorry, but you guys haven't paid your bill yet."

Shannon was stunned. "Didn't they pay the bill for us?"
