

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 81

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

“First thing first, the child does not belong to Lucas.”

Bella said, picking up a pen and a book, she was going to plan this in the best possible way ever.

“Which child?”

Blade asked, now sitting up, his mate was like a killer machine, which had an adventure to go and not loose.

“The child which Kira bore does not belong to Lucas, the child belongs to her main mate who was previously her ex boyfriend Ronald. I know Ronald, I always caught them leaving her room even in broad day lights I hear their moans and screams. But all of a sudden, Ronald disappeared from the pack. No one knew where and where Ronald went to. Soon he was forgotten.”

Bella said, stating the main fact.

Blade stared at her in shock, how did she found out about this.

“How did found out about this?”

Blade asked, watching as she folded a paper and threw it in the waste bin.

Slowly she strode towards him, quietly sitting down on the bed, Blade being the touchy type, drew her waist closer to her.

“I saw the vision, didn't I inform you in the party, I found my super hybrid powers, I see people's flash backs and past lives just by touching their hands. I tried doing that on Lucas but he kissed me instead. So as I was saying, I saw her past and everything about her pregnancy when I touched her. I saw when she told Ronald to leave the pack because she could not have him as his mate and she could only give him the favour by bearing his child. Seems Ronald must have escaped.”

Bella said, Blade was astonished at what he heard, he could not believe his mate had this power in her. This alone could affect her werewolf from breaking through. But as far as she still had some werewolf genes in her, her alpha gene could control the pack.

“Am I feeling your emotions right now.”

Bella asked, watching as Blade smiled down at her.

“What are you feeling?”

Blade asked, holding her waist and dragging her to sit on his body.

"I feel Powers and some sort of negative vibes drifting off from me and I love what i feel."

Bella said, staring down at him.

"So what are your plans then mon amour, I will listen to you from now on."

Blade said, he was serious at what he was saying.

"Good, we will invite Lucas and the evil people In the pack to my birthday party and then we expose them, first we expose Kira. That means we got to find out where Ronald is before my birthday party then when we found out his whereabouts. We can trust him a little bit by telling him our plans that involves his mate or perhaps ex mate. But I think he will accept, who wouldn't want a sweet revenge and when that happens, other secrets be exposed."

Bella said, straddling unto his body as she spoke.

"Ok, that is a good plan.....but what evidence are we going to give them."

Blade asked, staring down at her, his man Carson had found out some documents that related to the previous alpha, but it wasn't enough to expose them, there was going to be blood shed which he never wanted because it was his mate birthday.

"Whose birthday are they celebrating and who are we inviting to this birthday of mine."

Bella said, staring down at him as she bent down low to kiss his chest.

Blade felt his breath hitched for a while. His mate was good at seducing even in an important speech like this.

"Is your birthday and we are inviting your previous pack members."

Blade finally said, Bella smiled down at him, slowly grabbing his manhood, she was surprised at every actions she took, but then, she wasn't just Bella anymore, she was a powerful hybrid marked by the almighty vampire king.

"Good that answers your question. Maybe after our aftermath....."

Bella said, stroking his manhood which was already hardened and waiting for her attention.....

Slowly she dipped his dick into her mouth eliciting a groan from his mouth, she removed the dick from her mouth, slowly licking the tip of his dick which was already bringing out some precum, she dipped it back, thrusting his dick in and out from her mouth while he groaned and shook with shock and pleasure.....again she removed his dick from her mouth.

“Tell them every Information I just told you and also lets find Ronald and destroy both Lucas and his minions, including this people who tried to kill us.”

Bella said her last words hot sealed right back in his dick, making Blade groaned In response to his orders.

Bella smiled, she was definitely doing a good job also she will make sure no one passes through the pain she passed through in her pack. Also, she would stop mines digging which have been in ages in the pack.

The sparkling lights in the party was an evidence that this wasn't just a party but a royal party.

It was decorated as if there wasn't going to be a chaos in between the party.

But that was their plan, create a beautiful party planning, make the environment relaxful for their two enemies and then strike and attack them in their vulnerable state.

Everything have been arranged, Lucas and his almost entire pack were standing few feet away from him, smiling and mingling with the other werewolves and vampires, both Bella and her team had made sure they invited every important person in the Air Winder Pack except alpha Vincent, the alpha who had killed her father and took the alpha title.

But there was a problem, their second enemy was not where to be seen, when he had realized who was behind his mate kidnap, he had been tracing their where about with the help of Carson, his every supportive best man and Simone, the one after Carson, not just that, In the observatory where Bella was kidnapped, they had found some clues and evidence that made him realize that Azura was behind all this.

(Have he accepted already, to say the truth, because if he haven't, you can just kill him off)

Blade mind linked to Kurt.

(Brother, you don't have to be quite enthusiastic to kill, today is quite a special day for me and your mate.....)

(Answer my question boy.....you talk alot.....how I hate working with you)

Blade said, cutting him off from speaking any further rubbish.

(Hahaha, well of cause he had to accept, I am good in making people accept, also this is the best decision he had ever made, because his name will be recorded among the people who had sav.....)

Blade cut off the mind link, since everything was set, he breathed in slightly, today wasn't just his mate birthday, today was the day his mate would be crowned and acknowledged as his mate and queen before the whole pack. It was going to be a long day.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 82

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

As he was about to walk towards the werewolves, who were already laughing out and drinking one of the best imported wine, a hand slightly touched his shoulders.....

"Son."

Queen Selene said, slowly Blade turned back to stare at his mother, he had accepted to invite his mother to his mate party because Bella had insisted seeing his mother in the party, also she had missed her, he had to invite her just to make her happy.

"Yes, I told you not to cross my path."

Blade said, looking down at the dress he had brought for her to wear.

"You can't keep on with this grudge for long you know. I even have to wear this dress you bought for me just to please you. You know I will never do that, wear what you bought for me."

Selene said, slowly stretching her hands to touch his shoulder, but Blade averted his shoulder.

"If you never wore the dress, I wouldn't have allowed you attend the party either."

Blade said, quickly leaving her sight.

Lucas had seen the vampire king talking with a woman whom he had no idea who she was, but she had some facial similarities with the vampire king, perhaps she could be his sister or mother, vampires are known to be younger as they old.

"Welcome to my mate party alpha Lucas and to his beautiful mate Kira, I feel so delighted to have you here. I hope you are enjoying the party."

Blade asked, staring at the two werewolves, his attention was only focused on Kira and Lucas.

“Ooh yes, the party oozes of richness and sweet wine. I can guess it is going to be the best party of my life. But I can’t wait to see your mate, that is your celebrant.”

Lucas said, smiling widely as he said those words.

“Of course you will, you will be surprised to see how good and great she have become, she is just a perfect match for me.”

Blade said, watching as Lucas nodded his head as if he was acknowledging what he said.

“Yes, she definitely will be.”

Lucas said, turning to star at Kira who looked lost for a while. The vampire king was the type of man every woman would want, he was full of himself yet he knew how to pose his arrogance, he speaks so fluently without no mistake and walks without no blemish, she wondered who the lucky girl will be, the lucky girl who will get mated to this greek god and who will fuck his brains out.

“King Blade, meet my sister Lara.”

Kira said, introducing Blade to a werewolf who stood behind her, Blade had seen her many times in the werewolf party, but she was not the type of person to spark his interest.

Blade said, shaking her hands lightly, Lara felt a blush appeared on her cheek as she felt the king’s hard hand on hers.

“Thanks. You are the only one who actually appreciated my name.”

Lara lied, but Blade was not a fool to believe those words.

“The party have officially began with the werewolves for the first time in many years among us together with the grand elders of the pack, it is a pity that the great grand elder will have to come quite late, he had already fixed himself a special present.”

Blade smiled down at the speaker, Kurt being good at speech, had decided to take on the microphone and entertain everybody with their already planned actions. Kurt was right about the grand elder great entrance, the grand elder had been taken down to the questioning room earlier the previous morning for questioning.....

"I know everyone will be wondering who is the king's mate since some people haven't met her for once and some of you among her have met her....."

Kurt said, he was good at creating tensions and creating tensions was one way of winning in any battle.

Bella stood behind the door, her heart beat heavily at each word that rolled out from Kurt's lips, it was so hard to keep up with his words because things seem to be happening so fast, now the last minute's doubt was beginning to hit her quite heavily.

What if she was accused of something bigger than her, they always do that to her and then Blade disregards her and allows them to send her back to her pack, that alone would kill her spirit and every element in her.

She waved her head quickly removing the doubts that were in her mind.

NO! She wasn't going to allow these doubts overtake her, no one would ever believe she was going to be a queen with a sash on her neck and a crown which would soon be placed on her head, no one would believe she was going to see her pack in such a big party which was mainly prepared for her, a party designed only with gold and silver, wasn't this the best revenge ever, a revenge that wasn't going to involve a hundred percent blood spilling on the ground. She had planned for no blood spilling unless that was the last option that remained. All she wanted was the truth and an apology for all the awful things they do, it was going to be hard to forgive them but she did try to forgive them, she was also going to take her alpha title back, the alpha's title will only belong to her family and no one else.

".....and here she is, everyone should acknowledge the presence of Manchor Bella...Soon to be Hemlock."

Kurt said, hearing the thunderous claps that were heard among the guests.

Bella breathed out slightly and when she stepped out, her long silver shiny gown reflected through the shiny lights. As she walked towards the auditorium, for the first time, she became the centre of attention, not just the centre of attention, she was the most very important person in the party, the party was for her after all. The only people she could see in the auditorium were Simone and Kurt.

Slowly she turned to stare at her worst enemies who had made her life the most miserable of all and when her eyes made contact with him, she will never forget the expression that laced on his face, all she could see was shock, a big mind blowing shock, his mouth was widely open, then there came the next emotion which was well known by her, it was an emotion of anger, the seething of teeth, the changing of eye colors was enough to know he was absolutely angry and shocked for seeing her alive and not just alive, living well and better than all of them. She smiled, slowly waving her head, she turned to stare at Kira, her protruded Belle felt quite funny with her expression, she looked like she was about to faint because she saw a werewolf holding her from falling on the floor, the expression she saw both on Lara and her fake mother's face including some members of her previous pack shook her to the brim, this was the greatest shock they had ever seen, she knew their exact thought, perhaps they were dreaming, but Bella was not going to make things easier for them, this was time for revenge.

"Today seems to be the most happiest day of my life, my sadness have been absolutely replaced with joy, standing in here with my head high is a dream come true. Now everyone will be wondering what happens next."

Bella said, staring right back at Lucas. For the first time, she could see fear in his eyes.

"Bella, this witch, why didn't I recognize her in the party, how dare she deceived us all, she took us to be a fool and even invited us to her birthday party."

Kira said, things were beginning to make sense now, Lucas closed his eyes for a while, how could he had trusted the vampires so blindly and attend a party which he had no idea who was celebrating it, but the last person he was expecting to see was Bella.

"What are you planning Bella."

Lucas heard himself say, half of his men had came with him, perhaps if a fight starts, his men could defend him but the vampires were much and more stronger than a werewolf.

"Everyone will be wondering who I am, the vampires woke up to see a strange girl standing beside the almighty king, I wasn't just a girl, I was a girl who had been mated twice, my first mate was a devil, he was a bloody liar....."

Bella said, slowly turning her eyes to stare at Lucas, Lucas was absolutely terrified, he waved his head slowly, this was her revenge and she was revenging on his weakest point.

"Also, I was the omega in my pack, I was the punch bag in the pack, so I was surprised when my first mate accepted me in front of everyone in the pack, there was no one to defend me or look out for me. Well that same night I was accepted, he dragged me to his room, forced me to do terrible things and then slide his awful dick forcefully in me...."

Bella whispered, but her whisper was heard among the crowd. The vampires and few werewolves who had no idea about this gasped, the werewolves knew who was her first mate, but they never knew why she ran away from the pack.

"Who dare does that to their mate?"

"Who dare rapes their mate."

That was the questions that filled the room.

Bella threw Lucas a wicked smile, she could see how his knuckles was folded in a fist.

“A gun was placed in my head all through out, while he thrust furiously inside me. I was nothing then. Nothing. After he was done with me, he rejected me, I was an empty vessel, so I never felt any pain. Been rejected was better than anything else. So I ran away, I ran away from the pack that never heard my screams or cries of pain when I was been raped.”

Bella said, now turning to face Blade who was standing few feet away from her enemy.

Blade had been watching every actions and expressions of the werewolves as his mate spoke without a flinch in her head.

“My previous pack wasn’t just an ignorant pack, they were thieves. Because that same night when I escaped, I was been chased by my pack, first they had the scent of my pack then when they crossed the border, they smelt like rogues, the same rogues who had been coming to steal from the vampire’s land.”

Bella said, watching as the vampires gasped with disgust, it was evident that they want to find out who her pack members were. Which she was going to tell them.

“The goddess saw my sufferings and got me re-mated to another king, the vampire king. It was the most difficult thing to accept him, but he thought me love and how to love. And here I am, standing stronger than ever.”

Bella said, smiling widely, suddenly she heard claps from the vampires.

Kira turned around, to stare at the people who was clapping their hands.

“How dare you deceive us?”

Kira screamed, now drawing the attention of everyone towards her, Lucas turned the stare at Kira, slowly waving his head for her to stop speaking but Kira was already filled with grudge and more grudge and also jealousy, she could not believe Bella was alive and now was the center of attention in a positive way.

“You came to my pack to deceive me and yet you have the audacity to insult me you slut.....”

Quickly Blade ran towards Kira, quickly pinning her on the wall, as he held her neck and raised her high on the wall.

“Don’t you ever call my mate slut, because if you do, I will make sure to rip your head apart, I don’t mind the disgusting child you are carrying for the wrong man.”

Blade said, his last words made Kira to frozen and her face turned instantly pale.

“Honey, leave her, the entire pack is ready to know who my previous mate and pack was.”

Bella said, watching as Blade quickly left Kira’s hold, making Kira to fall on her knees, Bella wondered what Blade must have told her that made her pale as if she had seen a ghost.

Every one was anticipating, every single one was and for the first time in her life, people was listening to her speech without argument.

“Bella no.”

Lucas whispered, but the smile alone from his previous mate face was one he had never seen before, Bella wasn’t just an omega anymore, she was someone who could ruin him.

“It is the Air Winder pack and my mate was Lucas Vincent, the son of alpha vincent who killed my father and took the throne. How many abominable sins have your family committed.”

Bella said, she see that they weren’t expecting the last sentence.

Everyone in the room turned to stare at Lucas and his pack, it was a big shame to everyone of them but Kira was not going to allow herself be defeated by Bella.

“You lie, my mate will never do any thing like this, he will never rape you....”

“You think so sister or maybe fake sister, you speak as if you are a saint, you are a liar.”

Bella said, a little smirk appeared on her face.

Kira was stunned to see her sister Bella speak back to her, Bella wasn’t just an omega but it was hard to forget how much she punches her and make jest of her in the pack. This was a big insults to her , but she wondered what she was talking about.

“What do you mean?”

Kira whispered, there was no way she could find out the truth.

“Bring him In.”

Bella ordered, quickly two guards brought Ronald in, he was a handsome man with a blonde hair.

Kira felt her heart stopped beating for a moment, she could not believe who was seeing, it was Ronald, her ex boyfriend and previous mate. He was still alive.

"You remember me?"

Ronald said, staring at Kira who froze with shock. Crazy things are happening so fast.

Lucas was confused on what was happening, he knew Ronald, Ronald was a member of his pack before he left the pack. What relationship does he have with his Luna.

"What do mean, who are you."

Kira said, she folded her hands in fist, Bella was sure going to pay for what she had done.

Blade stared at the triangled couples, one was confused while the remaining two knows themselves so well. This was indeed one of the best revenge ever.

"I am the father of the pup you are carrying, I own the child, I wanted to be your mate and you rejected me, just as Lucas rejected his mate, the both of you are the same and suit each other, you both possess the same characters."

Lucas froze at Ronald words, he shook his head heavily, quickly wiping off his face with his bare hands, maybe all this was a dream and it was time for him to wake up, but it did not seem to be a dream, everything was real.

Again Lucas waved his head, quickly turning to stare at Kira who looked shocked than him.

"Is he....saying.....the truth Kira?"

Lucas asked, this was the worst disgrace he had ever received, how could he trust the vampires, his father had warned him greatly about this decision but he had ignored the previous alpha's words.

"It is not true.....dont believe h...."

"You keep lying, we had sex before you found out we were mate, a week later after we found out what we truly were, you told me you will keep the pregnancy but will never be mate with me, you rejected me, there and then and you threatened to kill me if i inform anyone about this. I ran away to avoid been killed by the men you sent to kill me."

Ronald said, now raising a record clip high, he was wise enough to record the conversation.

"You are ly..."

"Everyone listen to this clip."

Blade said, walking toward Ronald, quickly collecting the clip from him then he played it.

The words that could be heard from the background was a conversation between Ronald and Kira.

"Leave the pack and you will be safe."

The voice in the recorder said.

"I can't, you are my mate plus you bored my child, I can't leave the pack, I can't leave my child."

Ronald said, his voice sounded as if he was pleading.

"I will keep the child, that is the only promise I will give you, but you can't be my mate, you don't worth it. I prefer Lucas over you, I will make Lucas be the father of my child so that our child can leave a good life, can't you see it."

Kira said, it wasn't hard to detect that Kira was speaking to him in an arrogant manner. She always spoke as if she owned the world.

"I can't leave, not without my child."

Ronald said.

"Let's see."

Kira said, then the recorder stopped.

Everyone was quiet for a while, this was what you could call, silence before the great storm.

"How dare you."

Lucas said, dragging Kira towards him as he held her hands so tightly, Kira hissed with pain at his swift action.

"This record is fake, is a voice over, I can't cheat on you, you know that."

Kira said, all she could feel was pain as Lucas squeezed her hands, quickly Envylin strode towards Lucas and with a long force, she pushed Kira away from his hold.

"Don't you dare lay your hands on my daughter again, rapping my daughter isn't enough for you...."

"I am not your daughter Envylin, I am Bella, don't know my real surname though."

Bella said, staring at Envylin who looked stunned at her words.

"What do you mean, you are my daughter, I always loved you, I made sure you were never harmed."

Envylin said, this wasn't the Bella she knew, the Bella right here possessed a different aura, she appears to be more stronger than anyone in this room, she looked very different, more fatter, more beautiful and more outspoken and bold.

Bella laughed loudly, slowly she stepped down from the podium, walking towards the werewolves, she wasn't scared of them, not anymore. She stopped six feet away from them, they cannot be trusted either.

"You loved me yet you tried killing my wolf with this medicine."

Bella brought out a medicine, The medicine that she had been forced to drink.

Envylin gasped at what she saw, she felt shocked and her shoulders quivered with fear, how had she found out things so quickly, was this her revenge, in a vulnerable place.

"Bella, how did you find out about this, what are you doing."

Envylin said, waving her head slowly as she stepped back.

"The goddess gave me a mate who rejected me, then she gave me another to help me find the secrets that laid in my path. Here I am, to correct things up."

Bella said, watching as her fake mother looked totally astonished.

Blade strode towards his mate, the party was going to be a long one.

"I will take over from here."

Blade said, staring at Lucas. Lucas stared back at him, with anger and loathe.

"Since we have found the truth about Ronald and your mate, we have found a lot of truth and my mate is the only one holding me from not killing every one of you in a second. I hate boring speech, I prefer ripping off your head and feeding it to the vultures, it is more entertaining. But like my mate wants, she will have to enjoy every moment of her revenge."

Blade hissed, folding his hands in a fist.

Lucas gulped at his words but yet he never backed down, they can start a war right now.

"Guards, bring him in."

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 84

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

Blade said, Lucas stared at the door, everyone that was brought in through the door was always one to bring surprise and more truth.

When Lucas saw who had been brought into the party ground, he was shocked for a while then slowly, his shock turned to anger.

"How dare you drag my father here. How did you bring him here, you attacked my pack."

Lucas hissed, trying to walk towards Blade but Blade men stopped him quickly.

"Your father stole the alpha title from my mate father who was the real alpha."

Blade said.

Everyone was stunned at his words, how many crimes have this pack committed.

"Blade, first, you deceived us by and now you accuse us of something as great as this, who the hell do you think you are huh, because you are the vampire King you think you can do anything, everything, me and my pack members wishes to leave your territory, I proclaim war between both packs."

Lucas said with a deep voice.

"There won't be any war between the two packs Lucas because you are not the true alpha, your family is a thief, a cold blooded thief and you guys will be in jail for killing my family."

Bella said, Lara stared at the old omega, a gasp escaped from her lips, Bella looked more powerful than she could ever imagine.

"Father, how dare she say such things about your pack and your title. She deserved to be put to death....."

"She is saying the truth, I can't endure pain anymore because I have been tortured."

Vincent said, interrupting Lucas from talking.

"Father you must be joking, the pack have always belonged to you. We never stole a pack from anyone."

Lucas said, hoping his father was lying, Kira and the whole entire werewolf pack looked shocked at what he said, they hoped the king was going to say the truth about the pack not belonging to someone else.

"I told you the consequences you will face for trying to be friends with an enemy, I saw this coming and I can't fight it again. I am old, I will be dead soon enough, it is a shame the title is gonna end in your power."

Vincent said, when he had seen the vampire's king invitation to their pack, he knew he could not stop Lucas from going to the party. When the day finally reached, he had gone to search for the documents which contained exchanging of titles and pronouncing him the alpha, but the documents was no where to be found, he was shocked to the brim.

That was when he realized that something terrible was about to happen, when he tried mind linking Lucas, it turned out that Lucas had closed their mind link including the entire pack who had gone with him.

Then they attacked him, it wasn't hard to guess that the vampires had entered into the pack and have fought with most of the guards in the pack.

It wasn't long for the vampires to find him and quickly they pushed him into their car and drove him out from his empty pack, His nemesis was returning back at him.

"When I arrived this land, a document was thrown on my feet, I tried denying it, but then there was a Wolfsbane beneath my feet, I couldn't endure the torture anymore so I confessed, I had to, I have a foolish and irresponsible son who takes advise from a foolish woman. I made a mistake, I wouldn't have allowed you rejected your previous mate the way you did, the way we all did, I would have treated her better because she is much wiser than Kira and any other woman, but yet she is an omega, maybe I would have killed her off when I had killed her father, perhaps this wouldn't have happened if she was alive....."

Quickly like a flash, Blade ran towards Vincent, taking hold of his neck, he snapped his neck and quickly detached his neck out from his body. Vincent opened his eyes widely in shock, then a little smile appeared on his face. His head fell on the ground and rolled to the feet of Bella.

Everyone was shocked at what the vampire King had done, including Bella, she felt like vomiting.

Then the heavy sound of Vincent's body came falling on the ground.

There was total silence for a minute, pure silence, it was the silence before the great storm.

Lucas looked down at his dead father, his eyes were totally red, his father was dead and had been killed like a slave, his father was first to suffer the consequences of his actions.

"Who is next to speak about killing my mate because I promise you, I will make your life the same as what of your previous alpha. You can spill what ever you wanna spill, but do not think if harming my mate, harming her means death."

Blade said, intensely staring at Lucas, Lucas eyes had instantly changed, his eyes were filled with fire, his wolf was ready to break through and so it happened, Lucas wolf broke through, his wolf was a black wolf, it was huge, but not huge enough to intimidate the king.

A scream rose across the crowds as the vampires surrounded the werewolves who had all changed to their wolf forms to fight against the vampires. Bella looked around, she never wanted blood shed but it seems as if it was bound to happen.

Quickly Bella sighted two people leaving her pack and quickly she left the pack to run after them, her mate will take care of Lucas while she will take care of Kira and her mother, she will not allow them escape so easily.

Being a hybrid came with its own benefits, she could run fast, faster than a normal vampire, especially with a vampire blood in her.

"Where are you running to mother and sister."

Bella said, blocking the two families she had know all her entire.

"Today is my birthday, but it ended up so badly."

Bella said, standing few feet away from her family.

Kira glared at her with anger, quickly releasing her grip from her mother's grip, she strolled towards Bella, her eyes fierce with anger.

"How dare you ruin my life, who the hell do you think you are."

Kira said, quickly like a flash, she ran towards Bella, ready to smash her on the ground, but Bella was ready, she was ready for any attack because quickly she dodged her attack, Kira fell on the ground with a heavy thud, Kira wasn't expecting her to dodge her attack, she screamed with anger and quickly stood up.

"You appear to be more stronger."

Kira said, quickly striding towards her, her hands changed quickly, her claws were beginning to protrude out from hands.

"Yep, I am stronger than you can ever imagine."

Bella said boldly, not shaking for once at the sight of Kira's claws.

"Hahahaha you think because you are mated to the king then all of a sudden you become powerful."

Kira said, to her, Bella was a whore who have forged her way into the heart of the vampire king.

"Nope, I never became powerful because of the king, the king helped me to heal and made me believed in my self. Moreover, I am an alpha blood, the family whom you are married into are thieves. How the hell did you think I found out about your baby."

Bella said, this time taking two steps towards Kira, her stance unshaking.

Kira stared at her, that was still a puzzle for her.

Envylin who have been watching the whole drama stood behind the trees but she could hear the whole discussion between the Kira and Bella.

"You seem to be shocked by this misery, I don't like revealing to much secrets but you might be dead soon enough....."

Kira growled with anger at her words, her dare Bella speak to her like that.

"You seem terrified, OK long story short when I touched you in the restroom, remember the masked lady you met in the party, well that was me, you must have known already, so I was able to see your past, and know some dark secrets about you, there are more darker secrets about you, but this is enough. I don't wanna see any secrets about you."

Bella said, watching as her fangs grew together with her claws. For the first time, Bella wasn't scared of her, she felt an unfamiliar feeling crept up within her and quickly her claws grew longer and became more thicker. Veins protruded out from her face and her teeth grew quite longer and sharper than a normal werewolf.

"What are you?"

Kira whispered, this was the first time she was seeing Bella like this.

"I am what you and your pack took forcefully away from me."

Bella said, watching as Kira braced her self, ready to transform to her wolf.

"But you are still weak, you are still the weak omega of the pack."

Kira said, smiling smugly at her.

Kira frowned for a while, then slowly an insane thought came through her mind, she was going to turn Bella to a living hell.

"Then try me."

Bella said, she felt like a vampire and werewolf, she felt bigger and stronger.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 85

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

She was so lost in thought that she did not see Kira's wolf smashed her forcefully making her lose her stance but Bella wasn't just an ordinary hybrid, she was a special and different hybrid.

Quickly Bella threw Kira's wolf away from her, smashing her wolf on a nearby tree, Kira's wolf howled in pain, she was pregnant so she was weaker.

Kira's wolf stood up, not ready to give up, quickly she ran towards Bella with full force, trying to hit Bella with full force but Bella was a vampire, she dodged her quickly smashing her body on the ground. Kira howled in pain, Bella was winning. Bella slowly strode towards the wounded wolf, the trainings had helped her win against Kira, having powers weren't enough.

Kira tried to stand up, but she could not, slowly she changed back to her human form. She was totally naked, her long hair and protruded belly was able to cover her private area

Bella stared down at Kira, slowly bringing out a gun that she had seen while running out from the party, she pointed it towards Kira.

"You caused me pain now your punishment is to die."

Bella said, still pointing the gun at her. Kira's eyes widened in shock, she could not believe Bella defeated her already.

"I am sorry, I'm sorry for causing you pain, for the sake of my child, the child is innocent, please let me be alive, you can kill me when the child is born."

Kira pleaded as tears flowed out from her eyes.

Bella stared at her, she wasn't a killer, she wasn't ready to stain her hands with blood. She heaved slightly, holding the gun tightly, she brought it down quickly.

"Leave, leave with your child, I don't wanna see you again, train your child to be good and not be like you."

Bella said, turning back to leave but suddenly she heard the sound of gun shot, Bella froze, she wasn't the one that was shot, she could not feel any pain, then who must have been shot.

Slowly she turned back and what she saw shocked her to the brim.

Envylin her foster mother held a gun, she shot a bullet on Kira who held a gun in her hands, blood was dropping out from her head, her eyes was widely opened and she looked as if she wasn't expecting anyone to shoot her.

Bella looked up, her mother had fell on her knees and she looked totally broken.

"Kira."

Bella whispered, her mother had killed Kira who had tried to kill her even after she forgave her.

Bella felt her heart broke into pieces.

Quickly she ran towards Kira, holding her body which was already getting cold.

"Kira! Kira!"

Bella screamed as tears ripped out from her eyes, she felt totally broken, her sister was gone, she had always wished for her death, but that was before, not now when she carried a pregnancy, she risked the life of an innocent baby.

"Kira please wake up, how dare you tryna die, how dare you risk the life of an innocent child. The baby needs to survive, you need to leave."

Bella said, holding Kira's hands, suddenly she felt Kira opened her eyes, her hands came to tighten around Bella's hands.

"I.....am.....sorry.....for...eve...ry...."

She couldn't complete her words, Kira gave up the ghost.

Bella froze when she felt Kira's hands suddenly left hers, falling on the ground slowly.

She felt a figure strode towards her, when she looked up, she saw Envylin, her mother kneeling down before Kira's dead body. There was an unanswered question which needed to be asked.

"Why did you do it? Why did you killed her to save me? Atleast I have found a little piece of happiness, I could have gone, and no one would have felt it. An unborn child would have been alive breathing, the child wasn't part of your sins!"

Bella screamed, slowly raising her hands which was already filled with blood stain. She shook her head shakily, now she was scared, her powers wasn't anywhere to save her from the emotions of emptiness she was feeling.

"You gave her the chance, she misused it and tried to kill you."

Envylin said, staring at the dead body of Kira, she had killed her daughter, she will have to bear this cross alone.

"Then you would have allowed her kill me."

Bella said, watching as Envylin shook her head with tears which was beginning to pour down from her eyes.

"I can't allow her kill two relations and get free with it."

Envylin said, shaking her head shakily, she had been the one who had created this evilness in Kira, she trained Kira and Lara to be cruel and make them have a tyrannical nature.

"What do you mean by killing relations?"

Bella asked, staring at Envylin, Envylin sighed loudly, there was no need of hiding it anymore.

"Kira killed your father, Kira and Lucas were the ones who killed your father by poisoning. Your father loved them so much, he allowed them into the chambers when they were little but he never knew they were little tyrants, alpha Vincent sent them to poison him with an apple, likewise your mother the previous Luna, she was killed the same day but this time by alpha Vincent after the real alpha was dead. I was made not to talk and then Manchor, your foster father tried to reveal the truth but he got killed by alpha Vincent, that was why I maltreated you. Lucas and Kira did the task and they were rewarded. They never knew what they were doing but they knew they did evil. That was what matters. I can't allow her commit another si....."

A loud gun shot towards them made Envylin's words got stuck in her words, Bella's eyes widened, Envylin have been shot, time seems to stop for a while, slowly she looked up to see the enemy and she was surprised by who she saw.

"Azura Ashrak Aloric!"

Bella whispered, quickly turning back to stare at her mother who had already fallen on her laps, blood oozing out from her stomach. Two deaths happened in her face.

"The...name.....of your.....father.....was....Lucas.....and.....your mother.....Kira.....they were named after our parents by your.....own.....parents because your parents loved them but everyone betrayed them....."

It was as if she had spoken the last words with her last breath, because in the next seconds, Envylin gave up the ghost.

Bella's eyes were totally red, she hadn't felt such anger before, all she could think of was killing who had just shot a gun and Envylin, the woman who had killed her own daughter to save her and still told her the most important part of her life.

Slowly she stood up, dropping the gun on the ground, she was gonna kill Azura with her two hands.

"Hmmm seems you are in a mourning state."

Azura said, pointing a gun at Bella. Bella folded her hands in fist, her gown filled with blood, all she felt was anger that she had never held before.

Blade was right, there will be a time he won't be there to protect her against his wish so he had taught her to fight.

"Drop the weapon down let's fight hand to hand."

Bella said staring at Azura.

Azura waved her head, quickly she dropped the weapon on the ground.

Azura charged towards Bella with a high vampire speed, but Bella was expecting it already and quickly she knocked her off to a nearby tree, Azura hit the tree with a huge force, her body breaking down trees which fell onto one another.

Azura stood up immediately, she was not expecting Bella to be so strong to hit her so fiercely.

"You fight like a vampire, you run like one of us. Who the hell are you?"

Azura said, shifting backwards.

"I am not one of you, I am what you call a hybrid. One peculiar in nature, I am more stronger than normal werewolves, not just normal werewolves, even you!"

Bella whispered and quickly they both ran towards each other, smashing their body on each other as they rolled on the grassy ground, they both growled and smashed their fangs and claws at each other, they both performed the same act, quickly a punch came breaking through Bella's face, Bella growled with anger at Azura's sudden action and quickly she smashed her wrist on Azura's rib, causing Azura to groan with pain, Azura loosened her hold on Bella and quickly Bella smashed her on the tree, Azura was quite strong and Bella knew giving her the chance to rise up will lead to more fights, she wanted to be done with the whole shit and have a good rest and quickly, Bella ran towards her with her hybrid speed and without giving a thought on how not to stain her hands with blood, she dragged Azura's head off from her body, detaching Azura's head from her body.

Azura's head fell on the ground, rolling down on the ground, Bella closed her eyes, ready to turn over and face the world again, but it happened quickly, two bullets came running towards her, but a voice called out her name and quickly a body fell down beneath her feet.

Bella felt her legs froze and her entire body went to shock.

Another four bullets was heard but Bella never cared who the bullet was directed too, all her mind and attention was concentrated on who lay on her feet, the almighty king laid on her feet.

"King Blade...."

Bella whispered, falling on her knees as time seems to freeze for a moment.

"Blade..... Blade! No Blade please NO.....!"

Bella screamed out loud as tears fell off from her face.

The Vampire Omega by Angelic Chapter 86

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

Bella fell on her knees, she felt like dying, what was the need to leave when the man whom she had loved with all her heart have been shot with a silver bullet, not just once but twice.

"Blade please, wake up, you not going to leave me."

Bella whispered, holding his cheek as she shook him with force.

"Blade....."

Bella heard a voice call out her mate's name, it was Kurt.

"Let's take him to the hospital."

Bella screamed, quickly placing Blade's head on her laps.

"He can't survive the gun shot, he wasn't shot with an ordinary bullet."

Kurt said, it was true, Blade wasn't shot with an ordinary bullet.

"I don't fucking care, call an ambulance."

Bella said, hugging Blade gently, quickly she heard an ambulance driving towards them.

She sighed slightly.

"You are going to be fine Blade. I love you so much, please do not leave me."

Bella said, watching as some groups of people with uniforms approached them with various tools in their hands.

"Who shot him, who had shot the gun?"

Bella asked, she stood up from the floor, giving the nurses some space, Kurt stood staring into open space.

"They are dead already....."

"I wanna know who the hell shot the goddamned gun!"

Bella screamed, quickly standing up as she took a gun that was beside her.

Kurt stared at Bella, he waved his head slowly, she had every right to be angry.

"Aloric and Simone."

Kurt said, watching as her eyes widened with shock.

Quickly Bella strode towards their body, her swollen eyes was making it difficult for her to see properly, quickly she shot the gun at their dead bodies, she knew they were dead but sometimes pain can make you do strange things, such as killing people who were already dead.

Kurt strode towards her, watching as she stared at the dead bodies which was slowly diminishing into air, Bella had shot them with a silver bullet.

"We found out that Simone was the one who had assisted Azura and her father the whole time. We found out the truth when we were questioning Aloric, seems Simone must have gotten a wind of our findings so he ran out from the battle ground between the werewolves and vampires. He must have gone to rescue the great grand elder and tried shooting you but Carson and I was able to figure out his plan."

Kurt said, watching as she shook with sobs.

"So he was the one, now I realized why his voice sounded familiar when I first met him, he sounded just like one of those vampires that I saw in the hall. He even tried poisoning the king."

Bella said, slowly standing up.

"What about the others, have they been found?"

Bella asked, she hoped not to see a repetition of this betrayal.

"Yes, they have been figured out. Carson is quite good at torturing and finding out the truth."

Kurt said, watching as Bella nodded her head, her heart was still heavy, she did not have the guts to look at Blade wounded body.....she froze.....quickly she ran towards the ambulance where they had kept Blade, Kurt ran after her, wondering what had happened to her.

Immediately she reached ambulance, she saw a figure proudly standing straight, his back was facing her.

Bella's heart stopped beating for a moment, the man who was standing three feet away from her was no other than Blade.

"Blade...."

Bella whispered, she watched Blade turned slowly to face her.

"Is this a dream."

Bella asked, she moved back, this was a dream, she had felt these strange emotions back then and she realized it never belonged to her but Blade, that was why she ran back to the ambulance, she never expected to see him standing as if he was never shot.

"Mon amour....."

Blade whispered, quickly he strode towards her, smashing his body on hers.

Bella's body shook in sobs, this wasn't a dream, her mate was alive.

"You live."

Bella whispered, still hugging him.

"Yes, you never noticed that there wasn't any blood on my body when you were hugging me."

Blade said, slowly detaching her body from his.

Bella looked down at his body where he was shot, he was right, there wasn't a single drop of blood she could find on his body.

"I knew you weren't dead brother, you can't die so easily."

Kurt said, interrupting their moment.

Bella turned to stare at Kurt.

"You knew? You know he was alive."

Bella asked, now she felt like killing Kurt, Kurt had allowed her pass through such agonizing pain.

"Yes, I couldn't find a single blood on him, so I realized he was alive. I never knew my brother would love to be an actor, he acted so damn well and even caused you pain...."

"KURT!"

Both Blade and Bella screamed at Kurt, Kurt smiled down at them.

"Have a nice time and don't die again brother."

Kurt said, leaving the two couples alone, they needed some alone time.

"How did you survived the gun shot?"

Bella asked, that was the question that kept ringing in her head.

"Silver Bullet Proof. A customized one, I made sure everyone wore it, likewise my mother. You did not wear one."

Blade said, closing his eye for a while, she was the main prey In the battle and she never wore a bullet proof.

"Why?"

Bella asked, why wasn't she on one, like the others.

"Because Simone exchanged your dress with another. He knew there was bullet proofs in your dress so he changed it without anyone having any idea. I came to find out later then I realized I needed to protect you before any harm comes to you."

Blade said, slowly touching her face.

"I would kill my self if anything had happened to you, what is life when you are not there in it. I am empty without you."

Blade said, smiling down at her. Bella smiled at his words.

"And Lucas....?"

Bella whispered, she knew the answer to her question, but she hoped it wasn't so, maybe giving him a second chance could work for him...

"He is been held in the hall. I can't kill him until you tell me to."

Blade said, slowly holding her hands, he led her to the hall.

She closed her eyes for a while, Blade had made her proud, he could have killed him, but he wanted her permission to do so, who does that.

When they reached the hall, the party hall was a mess, with blood littering on the ground, she was surprised to see Lara still alive, she shook her head, she was happy to see her alive, at least a foster family had been kept alive. Then suddenly Lucas was dragged out to the hall. He wore only a short, he looked battered, Blade must have hit him so hard. They dragged him four feet away from her, quickly he fell on his knees.

"Bella, please forgive me, I have done so much wrong to you."

Lucas said, holding his knees, he shook with fear and at that second, Bella could not recognize Lucas, Lucas had changed, Lucas who was always looking arrogant, neat and attractive looked shabby just within some hours of a bloody duel.

"Please help me, I will leave the pack and not return ever again."

Lucas pleaded, still on his kness.

Bella folded her hands in fist, the last testimony against Lucas by her foster mother still rang in her head.

"You killed the real alpha yet you want me to keep you alive, my father named you after him, you do not deserve to be called Lucas."

Bella said, Lucas quickly looked up at her..

"The alpha, your father?"

Lucas asked, staring at Bella.

"Yes my father the king."

Lucas raised his head slowly, it was a shame his previous mate came to find out about this, then he do have to give this a try.

"Since you already know, I should give you a try."

Lucas said, it happened so quickly.

Bella found her self been thrown on a body as a bullet came hitting on another body.

Then another bullet came, this time from Blade to Lucas.

Blade growled with anger and without thinking twice, he ran towards Lucas, which was already groaning in pain.

“How dare you still try to shoot her even when she was about to give you a second chance.”

Blade said, squeezing his neck tightly.

Lucas choked painfully, but a smile could be seen in his face.

“She was a bitch and I am so proud I killed her father, I can’t accept a second chance from her, she doesn.....’t.....worth....it.”

Lucas said, still howling in pain as Blade squeezed his neck.

“Then have a tyrannical death.”

Blade whispered and quickly without thinking twice, he ripped off Lucas head from his body, sending his head flying on the air as it smashed on the wall breaking into pieces.

Bella gasped at the horror that had happened in front of her.

Lucas was dead, He wasn’t ashamed of his past, he was dead together with his family.....they had died a bitter death.

When she looked up, she saw who had been shot, it was none other than Kurt, Kurt risked his life to save her, this time, he was bleeding, he was bleeding so much blood.

“Kurt!”

Bella whispered, quickly running to Kurt.

“You aren’t wearing a bullet proof!”

Bella screamed, holding Kurt close to her bosom.

“Yeah, I removed my bullet proof, I never knew there would be another threat, the bullet proof was quite heavy.”

Kurt said, wrapping his hands around her.

"Kurt!"

Blade said, quickly striding towards his only brother.

Selene looked shocked, she was horrified at what she was seeing, her second son was injured with a silver bullet.

Kurt opened his eyes slowly, a painful smile appeared on his face.

"I love you brother, you gave me the permission to touch your mate and hug her. Take care of Bella and mother. Now I can sleep properly."

Kurt said and that was his words before he gave his last breath, there was no way he could have survived the bullet, a silver star dusted bullet which was meant for Bella was shot at him.

Bella was totally quiet, a vampire who have always been considered lively and funny and lousy was now a dead body, he wasn't moving, he wasn't laughing, he wasn't speaking words which makes everyone mad at him except her.

The only true brother whom she had come to know was dead.

"Kurt!"

Bella whispered slowly, she waved her head, this was a dream.

"KURT!"

Bella screamed, her screamed shook through the walls.

Her pain went through out the whole vampire lands, her pain was considered to be the most painful of it all.

Because this was what she called pain, loosing someone you love so much within the twinkle of an eye.

"I love you brother, have a nice sleep."

Blade whispered.

The End!

There is an epilogue, will be released on Xmas.....anticipate.....

The Vampire Omega by Angelic

Epilogue

/ The Vampire Omega by Angelic

It had been three months, three painful months since the passing of Kurt.

Three months of being crowned the vampire's queen, three months of becoming the new alpha to her pack.

Bella looked down at her swelled belly.

A gentle smile appeared on her face, a boy pup lay inside her stomach.

She closed her eyes gently for a while, a lot had changed since these last few months, from being the vampire's queen to being the alpha of the pack.

It was quite a tasking job but her mate was there to guide her through out her journey.

She changed the name of her pack to the Blue Moon pack.

"Thinking about me."

Blade asked, slowly wrapping his hands around her waist, kissing her tenderly on her neck.

"HmMMM you arrived already, that was quick."

Bella said, emerging her body fully on his.

He smelt great and slowly she inhaled his scent.

"Having a beautiful wife, a beautiful mate, why won't I back earlier. I missed you, I could not stop thinking about you through out the conference meeting."

Blade said, quickly carrying her bridal style, he walked into their chambers

"I can walk on my own you know."

Bella said, staring at him with a huge smile on her face.

"I know, but I feel honored to have you by my side and I don't wanna stress you anymore."

Blade said, staring at her tenderly.

Slowly he dropped her on the bed, watching as she giggled loudly.

“So how are you faring. Have you heard any news from Lara my sister.”

Bella asked, after the final battle, no one knew when Lara escaped from the party, she wasn't planning on killing Lara, at least she would have someone close to her family from her pack.

“No news about her yet, she must have escaped to the human lands and she might be living among them. She doesn't worth your forgiveness mon amour.”

Blade said, watching as she nodded her head slowly.

“Carson just messaged me, your pack is waiting for your arrival. It is a good thing my pack and mine are joined together.”

Blade said, Bella nodded her head slowly, she gave a slight breath, she wasn't used been an alpha and queen at the same time.

“Let's go then.”

Bella said, Blade nodded his head slowly, he stride after her, watching every footsteps she took.

In the great meeting hall which was filled with werewolves who were beginning to get used to having a female as their alpha.

There was murmuring among the pack members, this was the first time in history where there was gonna be a woman as alpha and not just a woman, the mate to their dreaded enemy who have abruptly turned to be their friends.

“Quiet everyone, the alpha of the blue moon pack is in your presence so obey.”

A voice said, interrupting the murmurings of the pack members.

Bella gave a gentle smile, she wasn't just an alpha, she was the mother of the pack, past experiences have made her stronger.

“Over this past months, everyone are still getting used to having me as alpha, especially having a female as one. But what happened to the previous alphas, they stole the title, they snatched the title from my alpha who gave his betrayer his name. I wished things wasn't't gonna end this way for alpha Vincent and his father alpha Lucas, but karma always have a way of reciprocating its evil. They both died an unworthy death. Kira's greediness to power led to the death of an innocent unborn child which belongs to Ronald, now I made Ronald the beta, making him beta doesn't mean anything as it won't bring his baby back but he helped to unravel some important secrets.”

Bella said, watching as her packs focused their attention on her.

"This pack undoubtedly was a great pack before alpha Vincent took over it and then made his son alpha. He caused a lot of people to suffer, especially the weaker ones, he sent them to mine in the coals and underground while the mighty kept getting mightier and stronger."

Bella said, a little smile appearing on her face, she looked down at her stomach, she touched it once, a light squeeze from Blade was all the support she ever needed, she breathed in the fresh oxygen which never smelt like violence nor tribulation.

"With the power bestowed unto me, I hereby declare that no werewolf will work in the mines anymore. A weak werewolf have the right like others, living like normal werewolf and not been treated like trash and dirt and unwanted. If anyone among you is found bullying or making life terrible for any werewolf or human or vampire or any kind, such person will suffer the consequences of disobeying the law, I will personally make sure your head is ripped off from its body and the remains of your body will be fed to the vulture."

Bella said, her words made her to become stronger and bolder.

"The mines will be divided among all pack members, everyone will till according to their own accord. Any resources which are found in the mine belongs to the person who tilled it. There shouldn't be violence with this new rule because I won't tolerate any room for violence. When you have problem, bring it towards me, I will solve it amicably. I hope I am understood and I will protect you all, together we will live in peace with the vampires and the vampires will live in peace with the werewolves. I am proud and honored to be the alpha of this pack"

Bella said, watching as they all nodded their head slowly and for a moment, they remained silent, it was as if everyone was going through her words, slowly a clap was heard then another, and another and slowly it turned to a very loud claps.

The hall buzzed with claps and screams of joy and happiness, they were taking a big steps into becoming a new pack.

Bella smiled down at the happiness she saw, when she turned to look up at her mate, she felt her eyes swelled up with undying love, the goddess knew everything, the goddess knew she was gonna have a happy ending, that was all that mattered, nothing else mattered.

Quickly she hugged Blade, who gently wrapped his arms around her.

"I love you Mon amour, you are doing great, you will do great, you will be the best queen to the vampires and the best alpha to the werewolves."

Blade said, the noise seems to be fading away slowly and quietly they left the hall, everything have been set accordingly, things would have ended well only if Kurt, his brother haven't left.

"Fool."

Blade whispered into Bella's ears, forgetting they were still together.

"What....."

Bella said, she heard him and she knew what he was thinking, her mate haven't gotten used to not seeing his brother again.

"Nothing, just thinking about brother, Mon amour, I will be back in some minutes, head to our chamber, I got a surprise for you."

Blade said, kissing her tenderly on her lips 'fuck' Blade whispered, he would never get enough of her and he planned on savoring her throughout the night.

As Bella walked through the dark hall, she felt a movement sped right through her face, she stopped walking abruptly, she was now a vampire, she was fast in seeing movements.....again the flashing speed of a human body flashed through her eyes, the person was definitely fast, he or she wasn't an ordinary being.

Bella froze, the smell, the scent that came after the speed was familiar, the scent only belonged to one person.....

"Kurt....."

Bella whispered.....quickly turning back, this wasn't real, Kurt was dead, she saw Kurt's body when he was laid to rest.

Perhaps this was a dream.....her over thinking for Kurt had taken over her senses.

"Bella....."

A voice said in the dark hall.....making her froze entirely.....
