

A Twist Of Fate: Heir To The World's Wealthiest Man
Chapter 105 Love Imbrolio

Summary

"

At this point, Brenden glanced at the people in the crowd, pointed at Helga, and loudly declared, "The friends, when Helga was just starting her business, she approached me because she desperately needed my help.

A special young man who was wearing a suit with a bouquet of roses in his hand seemed to be emitting an aura of aura. hostile.

He had just parked his car and returned to the entrance of the apartment building when he saw a group of people holding flowers and ribbons, staring

staring at him with strange and rather hostile behavior .com

I did it from the start!

Out of surprise, Helga strode, grabbed Garry's arm, and announced in a loud voice, "He's the one. my fiancé!"

He finally came to the end, as if he were a gambler. lost everything he had. "

Upon hearing this, Garry's eyes widened

*****

Garry was at a loss.

He had just parked the car and came back to the entrance of the apartment building when he found a group of people holding flowers and ribbons, staring at him in a strange and rather hostile manner.

A young man in particular, who was dressed in a suit with a bouquet of roses in his hands seemed to be giving off a hostile aura.

His eyes were as sharp as knives, as if he was raring to cut Garry into pieces.

What was going on? Garry was utterly dumbfounded.

From out of the blue, Helga strode over, clung onto Garry's arm and announced in a loud voice, "He is my fiance! When he heard this, Garry's eyes widened in s come done it in the first place! At this point, Brenden glanced at the people in the crowd, pointed at Helga, and declared in a loud voice, "Guys, when Helga first started her business, she approached me because she was in desperate need of my help.

You could not imagine how gentle and sweet she was at that time.

She tricked me with her fake facade. I was foolish to think that she really loved me.

But, now that she no longer needs my help, she intends to cast me aside so that she can be with another man! He finally went off the deep end, as though he was a gambler who had lost everything he had.

"I'm telling you, Helga! You're dreaming!"