

A Twist Of Fate: Heir To The World's Wealthiest Man
Chapter 118 Kneel Down In Public

Summary

"

Omar and his men were badly beaten.

< /p>

Then he suddenly knelt in front of Rafael in public

Under the expectant gaze of the crowd, Ruben walked over to Rafael with his head bowed

Everything happened so fast that stunned viewers speechless

Brenden was also kicked and fell to the floor like a heavy sack of potatoes. < /p>

However, Ruben is also hard to deal with.com will solve this situation.

So they can say that this is a confrontation between two of the men the most powerful man p class = 'p_sj'> "Please stop.

*****

`Please stop it.

Help! Omar and his men were beaten so badly.

But among them, he was the most miserable.

Perhaps it was that frightening tattoo on his face that attracted many fighters' attention at once.

Countless batons were slammed at him.

Omar dodged left and right, struggling desperately.

But in just a short while, he was knocked to the floor, screaming in pain.

Brenden was also kicked and fell to the floor like a heavy sack of potatoes.

He crawled like a dog, but he was constantly kicked and punched, making him scream miserably.

Everything happened so fast that the onlookers were stunned and speechless.

It took them quite a while to come back to their would deal with the situation.

After all, this young man and his father who dared to offend Brenden seemed to have a special background and great power.

With just a phone call, so many people came over.

However, Ruben was also difficult to deal with.

He knew many people from the underworld, the upper class, and even the government.

He was deeply rooted in this city and was considered a true local villain.

So they could say that this was a confrontation between two of the most powerful men.

This must be wonderful! Under the expectant gazes of the crowd, Ruben walked up to Rafael with his head down.

Then he suddenly knelt down in front of Rafael in public.