everyone is full and would love to go.

Garry took the elevator and reached the entrance to the restaurant.

Jaime sadly watched Garry and Arius leave. "

The girls in that club are quite nice and he wants to recruit Garry for more resources and opportunity."

He met Elin Watson, owner of the Fragrant July Cafe.

He just told Jaime and his son to leave all this behind.

But then he was stopped by a familiar voice.

"Well...

Jaime enthusiastically suggested," said Mr.

At that moment, Jaime stood up and said with a bright smile, "Ha-ha!

`Well...` Garry frowned and hesitated for a moment.

He had just told Jaime and his son to put all of this behind them.

He had no inclination to punish them, so it would be unreasonable to want their restaurant now.

At that moment, Jaime stood up and said with a bright smile, `Ha-ha! What a coincidence! The Gentleman Restaurant contract expires soon.

I have actually planned to close that restaurant because of that moron, Bruce's wily ways.

It seems like a good opportunity to offer the restaurant to Miss Watson.

`He had seen Elin Watson, the owner of the Fragrant July Cafe.

She was a mature, elegant, capable and charming beauty, and Fraser had been chasing after her.

After learning that Fraser had had a conflict with Garry be Read full chapter everyone was full and raring to go.

Jaime proposed enthusiastically, `Mr. Smith, there is a great club nearby.

How would you like to go there and indulge in some much needed fun?` The girls in that club were quite nice and he wanted to win Garry over so that he could get more resources and opportunities.

`No, thanks,` Garry refused without a moment's hesitation.

He knew what Jaime meant, but he still despised that kind of feckless and dissolute life.

It was just not up his alley.

Jaime sadly watched Garry and Arius leave.

Garry took the elevator and arrived at the entrance to the restaurant.

He bid Arius goodbye and turned to leave.

But then he was stopped by a familiar voice.

`Garry, what are you doing here?`.
