

A Twist Of Fate: Heir To The World's Wealthiest Man
Chapter 75 An Expensive Lunch

Summary

But the price of each dish is no joke.

All the names of dishes that Frieda had only seen on the Internet were on the menu, such as Alba's white truffles. Italian, Almas caviar, bluefin tuna,

French foie gras, king crab, and more.

It is known for its great food, ambiance and service.

Certainly Garry is a gentleman.

Yes, after lunch they drove towards the suburbs.

But as soon as she opened the menu, she was shocked.

During lunch, Frieda kept stealing glances at Garry.

Garry takes Frieda to a fancy restaurant.

But of course, she didn't forget her poise.com should not resist the temptation at all.

Garry took Frieda to a fancy restaurant.

It was known for its excellent food, ambiance, and service.

The dishes this restaurant offered were all expensive but worth the price.

They couldn't be found in ordinary restaurants, so Garry brought Frieda here.

But as soon as she opened the menu, she was shocked.

All the names of dishes that Frieda had only seen on the Internet were on the menu, such as Italy Alba white truffle, Almas caviar, bluefin tuna, French goose liver, king crab, and so on.

But the price of each dish was no joke.

Her al Read full chapter couldn't resist the temptation at all.

But of course, she didn't forget her poise.

She tried to eat as elegantly as possible since Garry was in front of her.

There was no doubt that Garry was a gentleman.

He helped Frieda pick up food and offered her a piece of tissue when he saw some crumbs on the corners of her mouth.

Throughout lunch, Frieda kept stealing glances at Garry.

Her eyes were filled with tenderness.

She couldn't help but admire the excellent man in front of her.

True enough, after lunch, they drove towards the suburbs.