

A Twist Of Fate: Heir To The World's Wealthiest Man
Chapter 81 He Had Almost Made A Mistake

Summary

At the entrance to my village there is a vast river, whenever there is nothing, I and my friends go to the river to catch fish and shrimp...

`No, not really.` Frieda swam to Garry's side.

Then, she rested her hand on the pool's ledge.

`I lived in the countryside when I was a child.

There was a vast river at the entrance of my village.

My family was always busy making a living, so they didn't spend much time with me.

Whenever I had nothing to do, I went to the river with my friends and we tried to catch shrimps and fishes...`The sunlight fell perfectly on Frieda's body as she talked about her past.

The allure of her long hair was doubled as it flowed against the golden color of the sunlight.

Her face, smooth and moisturized by the Read full chapter mim into her house during the night.

Naturally, he knew what she meant.

It put Garry into a bit of a dilemma.

He had already refused her earlier, did he have it in him to reject her once again?

Staring at her affectionate eyes, Garry considered giving in.

Abruptly, the shrill ringing of a phone pierced through the moment.

The serene and romantic atmosphere Garry and Frieda had just a few seconds ago completely dissipated.

Blinking, Garry picked up the phone and saw that it was a call from his father.

This startled him a lot.

What was the matter? Did his grandfather return home? .
