`Hello, Shelly.

What can I do for you?` Garry asked as he picked up the phone uneasily.

`You are really something, huh?` Shelly's rage shot out from the phone.

Garry couldn't help widening his eyes as he listened to her.

Shelly must be the person his father mentioned.

He didn't tell her that he was rich.

Judging from her tone, she must have been upset that he kept the truth from her.

Shelly, listen to me.

I can explain...` Garry said in a hurry.

`Explain? Do you think it's necessary now?`

Listening to his explanation was the last thing on Shelly's mind right now.

She yelled at him angrily, `You're really something, Garry! I have underestimated you.

Now that yo Read full chapter important anyway.

That's why I skipped classes.``Is that so?`

This time, Shelly believed him and apologized sincerely, `I'm sorry.

I misunderstood you.`She went on, `But as a student, you should focus on your studies.

If you are short of money, I can lend you some.``That's alright.

I have enough now.

I appreciate your kindness.

I'll try not to skip classes next time.

I promise you, I won't fail any final exam this semester,` Garry said.

Hearing his words, Shelly breathed a sigh of relief.

She believed that Garry had changed a lot.

He was now bold and confident.

He was slowly growing to be quite a charming man.

`Alright! I believe in you!` Shelly said.
