

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 106

Angelia Selosvone

I looked for this man everywhere, but I found nothing. He's gone just like that. I sighed and decided to stop, I started looking for Kayla because I'm not in the mood to stay here anymore.

"Kayla." I called her but she's busy making out some blonde boy at the corner.

"N- not rig- right now." She was still eating that guy's face. I shook my head annoyed and decided to dragged her.

"Call me." She said to the guy and I dragged her to the lift.

"What the hell is wrong with you?" She bursted and I turned to her.

"I found a guy."

"This better be good Angel or not I will kill you." She said as the lift open and we walked inside. My heartbeat was still unusual because of that encounter.

"What happen?" She asked as soon as we got inside her car. I put on the seatbelt and took a deep breath to calm myself.

"We were dancing carelessly until my eyes landed on 4 guys who were standing at the 2nd floor. They were talking and drinking beers. I saw a stairs to go up and I walked up but there's bodyguard who stopped me. He said it was a private area."

"After that I saw him alone, he smirked at me and drank his beer but he walked inside into the private room. I was trying to find a way to find out about this guy when suddenly he walked out and disappeared. I decided to find a way out from the main door when suddenly he pinned me to the wall."

"He asked me my name and why I went up. He even asked me 'Do you know that the 2nd floor is the devil's lair?' He said that and then told me not to go there anymore. After that he disappeared." I said.

"What is he look like?" Kayla asked and I know she's starting to get curious.

"Brown hair, styled up. He has a brown eyes and perfect jawline. Thin beard and mustache. His tall is about 6"2' and his has a broad shoulder. He's so damn handsome and my heart even skip a beat!" I burst that all at once.

"Wow."

"You didn't ask his name?"

"No, I froze when he was stood near me. My heart wasn't functioned well."

"2nd floor.. I know that floor is a private area but I never know who go there." Kayla said.

"Devil's lair." I repeated what that mystery guy said.

"Do you see the other 3?"

"I only saw their back because they're on their way to go inside their private room. I know there's a secret way from the main door that connects to the 2nd floor. That guy can go down in a different way." I said.

"You make me curious too!" She smacked my arm playfully.

"Who is he? That question kept ringing in my head." I said.

"He must be a famous person or maybe an actor that you haven't meet yet." She said and I shook my head.

"I'm positive he's not an actor." Suddenly we both turned silent, my head was busy with that guy. I don't know what got me but that man just gave me chills all over my body.

She suddenly took out her phone and tried to dial someone. I looked at her with questioning eyes. She put it in a loud speaker.

"Hello."

"Hey Fred" Kayla said.

"What's up Kayla?"

"Do you still work at that private club Fred?" Kayla asked in a careful tone.

"Yeah but on weekends, why?"

"Do you know who is using the 2nd floor of that club?" Kayla asked straight to the point.

"Uhhh." Fred was silent for a moment.

"I think I can't tell you Kayla." He said after a quite long silence.

"What? Why?"

"That's why we called a private club." He said and I sighed.

"Angelia Selosvone." She suddenly mentioned my name, I turned to her confuse.

"What about her?" Fred asked.

"I saw she walking up to the 2nd floor." She pretended she doesn't know me and this Fred doesn't know that Kayla is my friend.

"What is she doing there?" Fred burst in shock.

"That's why I want to ask you, who's staying upstairs?" Kayla asked.

"Oh s*** Kayla, I'm in deep trouble if my boss knows someone going up that stair." He panicked and my eyes widen.

"Can you just tell me who's at the 2nd floor?" Kayla asked.

"Kayla I'm-"

"Tell me who are they or I'll tell the boss that there's no guards to pre-"

"Okay okay fine!" He lost and Kayla smirked. I need to hear this.

"The 2nd Floor are belong to the 7 Gold Lifes, no one can enter that floor except them." My eyes widen as he mention the 7 Gold Lifes. I froze and I felt every cell in my body tense.

"Why are you make this a secret? It's not a big deal."

"You never know what will they do Kayla.. They have power and money. They want to have a private room and the club owner is Sky Locason's brother Joshua Locason."

"Okay thankyou Fred."

"Please don't tell anyone Kayla." He begged.

"Okay." She ended the call and she turned to me.

"You're facing one of the 7 Gold Lifes, Angel.. I bet it won't be Aaron and Sky because they're married" Kayla stated and I quickly took out my phone to see who was the devil that I faced earlier.

I typed '7 Gold Lifes' and pressed enter.

I looked at their profile and my finger stopped scrolling as I saw his handsome face on the screen. My breath got hitch as I read his name.

"Alexander North." I whispered his name in horror.