

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 128

Angelia Selosvone

I'm sweating right now, literally sweating because I'm nervous. Jean decided to go home because she's not feeling well. I thanked her a lot because she still come to me and worried about me while she's pregnant.

I went to the bar with Sophia and Janet. Janet lead me inside and to the small door, I can't help but rolled my eyes. It's a really small lift.

"You go first. Just scan the card okay?" Janet smiled as she press the secret button.

"How do you know this?"

"Sky brought me here once and we both get into that lift together since we only have 1 access card." She smiled cheekily and I chuckled.

"Go!" Sophia said as I entered the lift.

"How about you guys?"

"We'll go after you besides we will fit there not like me and Sky.." Janet laughed as she pressed the button closing the door. I scanned the card and press 2.

The lift went up and the door opened, I walked out slowly and the lift closed again. I saw their private room and walked there. I'm literally shaking, I held on to the door knob.

"Go inside." I jumped as I heard Sophia's voice.

"Okay." I pressed and opened the door. The guys froze and looked at us 3 in shock. I looked at Alex and his eyes widen.

"Baby" Sophia squealed and hugged Aaron. She kissed his cheek.

"Where is my gold card?" Aaron asked straight to the point, Sophia put it in front of his face and when he wanted to take it she hide it behind her body.

"Let's go home." She said.

"He just got here." Ken said annoy.

"Janet, where's mine?" Sky asked as he glared at his wife. Janet pouted and I gave her the card. She took it and gave it to him.

"Janet let's go dance down stairs!" Sophia said excitedly.

"No!" Aaron and Sky answered in unison, I chuckled.

"Let's go." Sophia quickly took Janet's hand and walked out.

"Janet! Oh shoot!" Sky called and walked out to get his wife.

"I need to take care of my wife first okay boys.. adioss." Aaron said and he followed them outside.

"It's hot here." Max commented.

"I felt weird here, let's go Kenny and Bastian." Luke gestured them and they groaned before they all went out. I saw Alex looking away from me and I closed the door so we can have some privacy.

"No hello? No how are you?" I asked as I sat across him, he turned to me.

"What are you doing here, Angel?"

"Getting into the Devil's lair." I said as I took a bottle of alcohol and drank it from there.

"Go home Angel."

"The Angel decided to jump to the bottom of the chain.. so Devil entertain me." I smiled and he sighed.

"Angel it's late, you have to go home." Alex looked away.

"Who are you telling me what to do?" I asked.

"If you don't go than I will." He stated and stood up from his seat.

"I miss you Alexander." That stopped him but he suddenly continued to walk again. I stopped him by standing at the door preventing him to go out.

"Do you miss me?" I asked and looked straight into his eyes.

"No."

"Why are you still wearing the necklace that I gave you?" I asked and he looked at the necklace. He looked away immediately.

"Can you just stop lying to yourself Alex?"

"I can't Angel! I can't risk you again!" He bursted and looked at me seriously. He put his hands on my shoulder and tried to get me off the door but I kept standing there not even move a bit.

"Until when will you keep your feelings? Until when Alex?" I asked and he looked down to me.

"Stop saying stupid things, Selosvone." He said coldly.

"So you will spy on me for the rest of your life? Looking at me for a distance will make you happy?" His eyes widen.

"Move Angel before I do something to hurt you."

"Hurt me! I don't care." I said it to his face.

"Move Angel." He closed his eyes and said it coldly.

"Marry me." I said and that made him look at me disbelief. He let out a scoff. I quickly take this chance to kiss him. I slipped my arms around his waist, he kissed me back.

"Stop lying to yourself will you, Alex? If you don't want to hurt me then you better don't avoid me." I said, I closed my eyes and hugged him tightly. He didn't say anything and that made me a little bit nervous.

"You'll get hurt again." He suddenly stated.

"I'm going to LA in 3 hours.. I just want to tell you how much you're mean to me Alexander, find me when you're ready. I'm ready taking the risk, why won't you?" I said but still hugging him. Tears came out from my eyes.

"I'll wait for you.. if you don't want, find me and tell that to my face so I can move on even I don't know until when." Tears kept coming out from my eyes, I quickly wiped it and looked up to him. He looked into my eyes.

"I'll miss you." I smiled awkwardly and tip toed to give him a peck on his lips.

"You're worth it Alex, I want to fight for you and I hope you will fight for me too." I smiled and he just looked at me blankly.

"See you when you're ready okay?" I hugged him briefly, memorizing him for the last time and slowly walking towards the door. I turned my body and opened the door.

I never thought walking away from someone who is mean almost everything to you will be this hard.

I'll miss you Alexander. I.. think.. I'm falling for you.

The Angel fell in love with the Devil.