7 years later..

I woke up because someone crashed their body to mine. I opened my eyes suddenly to see my son and daughter laughing and jumping up and down on our bed.

"Archer! Autumn!" I called and they kept giggling.

"Oh gosh." I groaned.

"Who stole mommy's cookies?" Angel suddenly walked in and the kids stopped whatever they doing. They attacked me with hugs.

"Archer.. Autumn.. who stole it?" Angel asked the kids and the kids were pointing at each other. I looked at them confuse.

Archer is my 5 years old son and Autumn is my 4 years old daughter. Archer and Autumn got their mom's eyes and hair, they both got my attitude and the way they smile is mine.

"Who stole mommy's cookies kids?" I asked and they both looked at me but still pointing at each other.

"You guys promise that you both will eat 1 piece everyday and yesterday we still have 15 but now it's gone." Angel hissed and they both pouted.

"Who ate it?"

"Archer!" Autumn said.

"You!" Archer pointed back at her.

"Kids.. who? Tell mommy the truth or she won't bake cookies for you in the future." I said, they both looked at each other. I turned to Angel who gestured me a thumbs up.

"We both ate it but Archer ate 9." Autumn said and I closed my eyes.

"You're the one who want it first!" Archer said.

"Kids kids." I said.

"Mommy won't bake cookies forever." Angel said and walked out, Autumn cried and ran to her mom. I laughed looking at my little Autumn acting like that.

"Autumn is stupid." Archer said and I glared at him.

"Why do you say that?" I asked.

"She's annoying!" Archer protested.

"She's your sister and you have to love her! You'll be lonely if you don't have any siblings." I said and ruffled his hair.

"Dad.. can we go swimming today?" He asked.

"If you reconcile with Autumn, then we can go." I said and Archer quickly got off from my bed. He ran out and I laughed.

Damn why do my kids are so funny? They acted like Angel when she's piss sometimes. I walked out and went downstairs to the kitchen, I saw Angel making sandwich with Archer who's begging for Autumn's forgiveness and Autumn being her feisty self she ignored Archer.

I walked to my wife and back hugged her.

"Morning love." I kissed her cheek.

"Morning handsome." She gave me a peck on my lips. Suddenly Autumn cried and I quickly turned to them to see what happen between these kids.

"What did you do Archer?"

"He.. he puladojakdhwid hair.." Autumn said weirdly when she cried.

"He what?"

"It's because she won't listen to me." Archer said piss.

"What did you do Archer?" Angel asked.

"He pulled my hair!" Autumn bursted.

"Archer." I looked at him and he pouted.

"Come with mommy Archer, mommy wants to talk." Angel gestured Archer to follow her, they went into our room. I sat beside Autumn and she looked at me with tears all over her eyes. I wiped it and kissed her forehead.

"Stop fighting with your brother, will you Autumn? Did daddy teach you to fight with him?" She pouted and buried her face to my neck.

"Autumn North! Answer me when I ask you." I said in a fierce tone.

"I hate him!" She answered and crossed her arms in front of her chest. So cute!

"Who is going to play with you if you don't have him? He always plays with you remember? He's the one who bought your favorite doll last year." I said and her face softens.

"Still."

"Autumn.. don't be like that." I said and she turned to me, I raised my eyebrows.

Angel and Archer walked back to the kitchen and I saw Archer walked to Autumn. He poked her and being cute little Autumn she is. She ignored him.

"Autumn, I'm sorry." He said and slowly Autumn turned to him.

"I'm sorry."

"Okay." She smiled brightly, I smiled looking at this. I turned to Angel and I saw her chuckle silently.

"Hug him Autumn." Autumn went down from her chair and hugged him.

"Now dad can we go swimming?" Archer asked me and I turned to Angel. She nodded.

"I guess we can!" I said and he jumped excitedly.

"You want to swim to princess?" Angel asked Autumn.

"Yesyesyes!" She squealed in happiness, I laughed. They ran to their rooms and I walked to Angel.

"Thankyou for giving birth to them love." I kissed her cheek.

"They're so adorable!" Angel said and I chuckled.

"They are and what powerful words did you say to Archer?" I asked.

"It's a secret." She whispered.

"I love you so much."

"Love you too." I crashed my lips to her.
