

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 166

Maximillion Cesantio

Happy.

That's the perfect description for me right now, we both got back to the hotel after talking. We talked a lot and it felt so comfortable to talk with her again.

Her beautiful face, her perfect smile and her beautiful blue eyes. I can't stop admiring this girl.

We're planning to go to the Eiffel Tower after this, I took a shower first and then we'll go. Now, I can't stop looking at the clock because I'm damn excited.

Looking at the situation now, I started to look at her in a really different way than before. It was liked, I fell in love with her all over again.

I'm not going to rush our relationship, I want to take it slow. I want to treat her right and just make her happy, that's is my first priority. It won't be easy I know but I have to try. I have to show it to her, heal her scar and just make her felt love.

"4.30?" She asked.

"Yeah, I'll wait for you at the lobby okay?" I said and she smiled.

"Okay." She entered her room and I entered mine. I can't help my smile every second. I felt my cheekbones hurting, this is officially the happiest day of my life. I jumped into the shower and need get ready in flick.

After I finished showering, I quickly get ready. It's still 3.45, still 45 minutes to go. I'll just lay down on the bed.

I still can't believe that she said that.. I won't mess this up again. I swear, this is my last chance and all I want now is claiming her and take her back.

I'll make her fall in love with me all over and there's no turning back anymore. Suddenly there's someone knocked my door, I walked to the door opening it.

"What's up?" I asked Luke.

"Where are you going?" He asked me as he looked at me from head to toe.

"Going with Rose to the Eiffel Tower." I said honestly and he looked at me weirdly for awhile.

"Going on a date?"

"She missed it so I want to take her there." He walked in and threw himself to the bed. He suddenly let out a sigh.

"Are you planning to get her back?" He suddenly asked.

"Yeah." I answered confidently.

"What if you hurt her again?"

"I won't Luke, I swear. I love your sister so much and 1 year and a half made me think if I go on with my life without her. Not being able to talk to her for a year already got me crazy." I said truthfully and he sat up facing me.

"If you hurt her again, I'll cut my friendship with you dude." He said seriously and I nodded. I don't want to lose them both. I love them both, I mean I love Luke in friendship way but Rose.. I love her so much and I won't let her slip from me again.

"I won't hurt her again Luke, I swear. I'm going to make her happy and even step to the next level." I said and he looked at me very seriously.

"Ah shoot.. you're getting whip too?"

"To your sister.. yes." I chuckled.

"Damn, why is everyone getting married one by one? I'll just hangout with Sebastian and Kenny then."

"Suck it up dude, loving someone is damn good. Alex, Sky and Aaron did make a really good decision. It's the best feeling in the world." I finally admitted.

"Ah shoot.. girls are stupid." I glared at him.

"You will get whip one day Luke. I swear that, you will have this one girl that will make you crazy at one point until you can't handle it."

"Dude you're the most playboy among us, you're the fourth person who got whipped. Are you kidding me?" I laughed seeing his reaction.

"Sorry dude.. I'm going to make Rose to have my last name." That made him curse more.

"Oh shoot!"

"Yeah oh shoot. After this maybe Sebastian or Kenny or maybe you.. who will get the turn to get whip." I smirked and he glared.

"Girls are stupid dude.. no I won't." Luke shook his head.

"Watch your mouth."

"But I'm serious about my sister dude.. if you hurt her again, I'll cut my friendship with you foreverz" He said seriously and I nodded.

"Won't let you down this time."

"Good.. I love you Max." I looked at Luke in disgust, of course I love him as a brother but listening to him saying that makes me want to puke.

"Too bad, I don't like D." He laughed and got up from the bed. He patted my shoulder and I looked at my watch. It's 4.16 now, let's just wait for Rose at the lobby. Luke walked out and I walked out too, he entered his room just right across me. He told he wanted to get some sleep, I walked to the lift and waited for it.

"Boo!" I turned to see Rose standing there smiling after trying to make me jump. I chuckled.

"Nice try beautiful." I said and she pouted, I looked at her. Her hair was braided half up and she wore a denim shorts with a white crop top that showed her belly along with her white adidas sneakers.

"You're early."

"Well you're early too, I was going wait for you at the lobby." I said and she smiled.

"I'm excited." She squealed. I closed my eyes for awhile trying to hold the urge of wanting to kiss her so badly. God help me please.. What if I lose control?

"Come let's go." I said as the door lift opened.

"This is going to be fun." She said.

We got into the car and I opened the door for her. She got in and I ran to the other side. I got inside too and started the car.

"Ready?"

"So ready!" She smiled. God please help me control myself.

"Eiffel Tower.. here we go."
