

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 178

Hailey Anderson

"Breakfast." I smiled widely as I greeted Luke outside his lift again for the 20th times in total. I mean I can't cook, I always tried but I always fail. So I did buy the foods and put it on a beautiful package.

"Are you freaking kidding me?" He said in a cold tone, I always got that but today was different. His tone was really cold and his expression was quite scary.

"Have you eat breakfast?" I asked slowly as I followed him to his office but I got no answer from him.

"Luke?" I called and suddenly he turned to me and looked at me with his furious eyes.

"You're starting to piss me off!" I bursted angrily.

"What did I do?" I asked in a really small tone.. almost mumbling to be exact.

"Stop texting me useless thing, stop calling me, stop going to my office.. you clingy b*!" He bursted and my eyes widen. His last words got me a little shock.

"I- I- was-"

"You're a nightmare to me, my worse nightmare. Do you think you will always get what you want, princess? People like you have to experience the ups and downs in life not just sit back and have everything you want in a flick." He bursted angrily to me.

"What should I do to prove you?" I asked bravely not caring if he's mad now.

"Just go fucking away from my life, you're ruining everything!" He stated but I don't understand. I ruin what?

"But I like you."

"I hate you. I freaking hate every inch of you. Get over it." That got me piss a little bit.

"So should I work from 0? Janitor?" I asked and he looked at me disbelief.

"Just go." He pointed at the door.

"I'll prove you.. I'll prove it to you, I'll work hard." I said it and promised myself even though my dad had been scolding me because I was lazy these days.

"Just go away and stop contacting me, I already blocked 5 phone numbers so don't make me piss again because you won't like it." He stated coldly.

"I can't do that.. I like you."

"Like me?" He walked to me and looked into my eyes seriously.

"I like you.. I think you're the only one who doesn't know that while everyone notice that" I crossed my arms in front of my chest to make my chest look bigger. I wore a tight black dress so he can notice me more.

"Mind if I use you red head?" He asked in a really dangerous tone, I looked at him disbelief.

"You say you like me.. if someone you like ask you to give what they want, you should give it." He said coldly and looked into my eyes waiting for my answer.

"Oh right, I bet you'll like it because you love to sleep around." His words got me mad, I slapped his face hard. He turned to me disbelief, he held the both of my wrist and his eyes darkens. I'm in big trouble right now.

"Listen b*, don't come here again and don't even show your face in front of me again!" My eyes started to water, I was hurt by his words.

"Don't contact me. Don't come to my house. Don't come to my office again ever." I looked at his blue eyes that's currently burning right now.

"Oh yeah Luke. Of course I already sleep around, but I don't f an a-hole and jackass like you." I pulled my wrist from his grip and I saw the paper bag that I brought already lay on the floor.

"You know Luke, if you think I will give up now.. I won't." I stated and took the paper bag with me.

"Just give up now, Harley." I closed my eyes and wiped the tears that came out from my eyes.

"I'm not a type of girl that if you ask me to give up and I'll just give up. Just you see Luke, I'll prove it to you that I'm no princess and I can live on my own." I looked at him and he scoffed.

"You can't.. spoil brat."

"What if I can Luke? What if I can and I'll prove it to you?" Now it's my turn to say it coldly.

"You can't, a girl like you loves to shop and throw away money like it's nothing. Buy anything you want in a flick and never know what hard work is.. never know how hard life can be."

"Fine.. I'll prove it to you, if I can prove myself.. you have to marry me." He laughed.

"Marry you? Who would want a girl like you? Flat.. too skinny.. ugly." He mocked and I wanted to throw this lamp near me to him.

"Just you wait Luke.. I'll make you crazy about me, every single of your cells will be screaming for me." I stated and he laughed out loud.

"Me? Crazy about you? Are you serious?" I glared at him and I walked towards him, I closed the gap between us.

"Not yet Luke.. I'll prove it to you." I smirked and trailed my hand slowly down from his chest, he pushed my hand away.

"Just go away, I'm sick looking at your face. Do it when I say nicely."

"Okayokay.. fine." I raised my hands up and slowly walked backwards to the door but my eyes was still stuck to him. He turned away and walked to his desk. I opened the door and slowly walked out.

Just you wait Luke. I'll prove it to you, I'll make you crazy about me until you can't get away from me even a second.

Just wait until the game starts Luke Hastington. You stole my heart and I'm going to steal your last name to be mine!