

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 186

Hailey Anderson

"Thankyou!" I smiled as I put the dirty towel to the clothes bin. I looked at the time and it's already 10, I have 1 hour to workout since it's close at 11.

I told Greg that I'll be working out and he took over my shift. I quickly changed into my working out clothes, it took me a long time because I hurted my hand.

Yesterday when I was making a red velvet cake, Tyler was beside me cutting cheesecakes into small pieces and he left the knives on the edge of the table. Stupid me when the knife unbalance, I caught it with my hand. Yes stupid I know.. so I cut my palm quite big.

I walked out from the locker room and started running on the treadmill with a high speed. Sweats started to appear.

"Hailey." I was so shocked to hear that voice until I tripped from the treadmill and fell back to the ground. I groaned in pain.

"Get up." He said and I completely forgot that I hurted my right hand.. I tried to get up using my right hand but ended up groaning in pain more. Luke held my waist and helped me to get up.

"What are you doing here?" I asked as I looked up to him, he took something from his suit. My eyes widen as I saw my phone.

"Thankyou." I smiled widely.

"You're working out this late?" He asked and I nodded.

"You said I'm flat, skinny and ugly.. so I'm trying to fix that." I said and he looked at me disbelief.

"Well aren't you stupid.. I'm saying that because I clearly don't like you a bit." He stated coldly and I sighed.

"Didn't I told you stop pushing me away and stop trying to make me hate you? It's not working." I shook my head and crossed my arms in front my chest.

"Fate.. close the gym okay?" I heard Greg shout.

"Okay." I answered and turned to Luke again.

"You can go home.. you must be tired because of work" I said as I pushed his body towards the door.

"When will you go home?" He suddenly asked.

"11 maybe.. I just start." I said as I tried to push him out but he's so heavy.

"Go home, it's late. You already work since the morning until now.. go." I said to Luke but no answer, suddenly he walked out by himself. Oh well.. he looked really tired and I hope he rest well. I need to buy him something for tomorrow's breakfast.

I quickly finished my workout, I took a shower and locked the door one by one. Checking it all again and again, I walked out from the gym and locked the last door.

I slung my bag across my chest and started to walk home. My apartment is just 3 blocks away and it's not that far to be honest. 12 minutes walk and I'll be home in no time.

I plugged my earphone and started to listen to slow music. I really enjoy listening to slow music, it makes me feel calm and just.. relax.

Suddenly the wind blew and hit my face, it's making my nose itchy. I sneezed a couple of times and shoot I wore a crop top. I sighed and walked my way back home quickly.

Suddenly someone grabbed my arm and I almost screamed out loud. He closed my mouth and pulled me towards his car.

"Why are you still here? Didn't I told you to go home?" I asked and he stopped.

"Can you stop appearing in front of my face?" He suddenly said and I looked at him weirdly.

"What? Why? I like you and-"

"I don't like you! Accept the fact Hailey!" He bursted and I just looked at him calmly.

"What do you want me to do? Do a boob job? Work more? Uhhh-"

"You're messing with my head lately and I don't like that. Stop whatever you're doing now!" He said coldly and glared at me.

"Okay I'll get a boob job tomorrow." I stated and he looked at me disbelief.

"What do you want? I'll do it."

"This is stupid."

"I like you Luke.. a lot, you can't tell me to stop this thing. It's my feelings and if I can pick someone to love.. it won't be you because you're so mean but my heart picked you.. accept the fact Luke, you can't get rid of me." I crossed my arms in front of my chest and he just stayed silent.

"I will do anything you want me to." I said as I closed the gap between us but he still stayed silent. I looked up to him, looking deep into his blue eyes.

"What do you want Luke?" I asked and he sighed.

"I'll take you home." He stated and turned around, he walked to the driver side but before he got in. I turned his body around and crashed my lips to his.

I cupped his face and kissed him deeply, he kissed me back and I pushed him until his back meet the car's body. He circled my waist with his hand and I felt the burn when his hand touched my skin.

I ran my hands through his hair and keep kissing him. I love this feeling and I don't want to stop. It's like the best drug that I've ever tasted.

Did he say that I messed with his head? Oh Luke after this you won't be able to get rid of me from your system. Every single of your system will scream for me.

You're in big trouble Luke.
