

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 234

Chloe Regens

I swiped my phone screen looking at my photos with Xander. It hurts.. He's my first boyfriend and we have to broke up like this. Sipping my drink and feel the burning sensation when it pass my throat.

"Are you okay?" Rose suddenly sat beside me.

"Just went through a crazy break up." I answered honestly but still looking at our photos.

"I'm sorry.. I didn't me-"

"He cheated on me with my bestfriend." I cut her.

"He's a definition of an asshole bastard s fer and the list goes on." She said and I chuckled. I turned my head to her.

"Do you still believe in fairytale?" I asked.

"I was a believer.. it turns out not that simple." She said.

"You and Max already get together when I met you guys." I said and she shook her head.

"We have a rough love story after that.. I ended everything for good with him when he suddenly change."

"I thought you and Max.."

"It took 12 years Chloe, 12 years without anything real for me and him. All he wanted is to play around but I don't." She looked at me and I can't believe Max did that to her.

"He's mean."

"He was.. it's already pass and we're happy right now." She smiled.

"How did you guys one by one starting to get whip? Last time I check they only bang girls." I said and Rose chuckled.

"They met the right person, a person who is capable to tame them. If you see Luke and Hailey.. He might hate love but he end up with Hailey in their own unique way." Rose said.

"I thought Xander was my prince charming.. I thought we're going to be happy." I looked back to my phone.

"I means he's not the one for you, don't stop here. Have fun a little Chloe." I smiled to her.

"What is it like to know that he's the one?" I asked Rose.

"When I first met Max, I attracted to him. We develop this feelings that people can't describe and even we both don't know what is it. We only care for each other but I know I fall for him little by little."

"The weirdest thing is that I didn't cry when I broke up with him. I know I like him a lot because he's really sweet, charming and everything you want in a guy he has it."

"Like.. there's one level higher than like Chloe. Love is the right word to know if they're the one."
Suddenly Max called Rose to introduce her to someone. I gestured her to go and she told me that she will be back.

"Are you okay bud?" Am I that transparent for people to know that I just went through break ups?

"I'm fine, Alex."

"You don't look fine to me." He smirked and how I want to smack his face.

"Where is your wife?"

"She's talking to the girls over there." He pointed at the table across mine.

"She doesn't get jealous when you're talking to me?" I asked.

"Angel jealous? She rarely get jealous Chloe, she trust me a lot."

"You're the one who get jealous a lot?"

"Chloe, you're so smart." He patted my head like a dog and I glared at him.

"Do you love Angel?"

"That's a stupid question Chloe. Of course I am, I love her a lot."

"6 out of 7 are getting whip.. why is Kenneth not?" I asked.

"He hasn't meet the right girl to tame that beast." Suddenly I really want to get drunk right now, I'm in a really sad situation right now.

"Where is your usual club to hangout?" I asked to Alex.

"Why suddenly ask that?"

"I'm in a mood to drink right now, I'm sad if you didn't notice." I answered in an annoy tone.

"Cry it out.. I'm here."

"I'm not going to cry. Come on tell me the nearest club or name a club so I can go there." I begged, Alex turned his head.

"Ken!" Not again.

"What?" Ken walked to us.

"Chloe wants to drink, can you drop her at our usual club?" Alex said and Ken turned to me.

"Jack?"

"I'll tell him.. just company her." Alex said.

"Let's go then." Ken said and I got up from my seat following him out. We waited for his car to come, he gestured me to get inside and he walked to the driver side.

"Do you really need to drink?" He asked.

"Yeah."

"So you owe me one." I turned to him.

"What do you want? A lunch? Dinner?"

"I'll save that for later." He smirked and how can my heart beating weirdly? I turned away and looked straight to the road

The ride was full of silence. Not long after that we arrived at the club. I got out and looked at it.

"Come on." He said and I followed him inside. As he walked inside he turn to the right.. I looked at him weirdly. The main entrance is there and why is he.. a small lift?

"So are you going to come or not?" He asked as he walked inside to the lift.

"This is so small!" I looked at him and the lift.

"Just get in Chloe." I found myself walking in and yes it's really small. My back was leaned to Ken's chest. He took out something from his wallet.

"Tap it there and press 2." He gave me a gold card and I looked at it. It has his name on it, I quickly tap it and press 2.

"Here." I gave his card back and the lift started to go up. The air around us suddenly became intense and I quickly walked out as soon as the door lifts open.

He lead me to a private room, opening the door for me. Sweet! He has a room with a sofa surrounding the table in the middle. It has so many types of alcohol on the table and I found myself smiling seeing so many drinks like that.

I quickly open one and pour it on a small glass. I drank it in one shot. I felt Ken was sitting a few space beside me. I kept drinking and drinking.. I need more until Ken took away my glass.

"You had enough." He said and I know I started to get tipsy. I turned to him and just observing his handsome face.

"I need more." I pouted taking a new glass. I poured the drink but Ken stop it. I turned to find Kenneth's face just a few inches in front of me.

"Stop Chloe." He said but my eyes landed on his lips. I looked at his eyes. There's a magnet pulling me to him and I found myself crashing my lips to him.

He kissed me back as soon as my lips landed on his. The kiss was fast and hard. I ran my hands through his hair and he pulled me to his lap. Circling my legs around his waist, his hands are all over my back.

Feeling his touch against my skin made me shiver and his lips were amazing. He pulled me closer until there's no gap between us. His hands was slowly caressing my thigh and started to go up little by little.

I felt his warm hands on my butt.. I don't know why I kept kissing him. He tasted amazing and I never felt this awesome tension before. Never.. Xander never gave me this kind of tension before.

I can continue this forever.
