

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 82

Janet Stanmore

Don't you just love the feeling when a nice wind hitting your face?

I'm a careless person at one point, on the point when I'm really tired handling the things that happened in my life. Now it's the time, Sky's encounter makes me sick, I hate it so much and it bothers me so much.

Thinking how am I going to get out from his territory and try to have a good life for some time? My whole life consist of struggle and sadness, I'm not complaining though. Seeing other girls have a really good lifes makes me kinda envy. When will I get that?

"Pouting in the middle of the day is not good, beautiful." I flinched a little and turned to see who is trying to make a conversation with me.

His blue eyes was the first thing that I notice in him. His light brown that style up. He has a pointy nose, thin layer of mustache and beard. He held a ice americano in his hands. He wore a white shirt and black jeans.

"I know." I answered him and I heard he chuckled.

"Break ups?" He asked and sipped his coffee, I chuckled and shook my head.

"More like getting curse by an asshole." I said and he nodded.

"You're here to take a break?"

"Yeah you can say that." I smiled.

"I'm Daniel." He gave me his hand and I shake it politely.

"Janet."

"Wanna get some coffee?" He asked bluntly and it makes me laugh. He's asking me to get a coffee while he's holding one.

"Not in a mood today and by the way.." I pointed at his coffee and he just realised what he just said. Worse pick up line ever, well at least he tried.

"Yeah sorry." He laughed.

"What brings you here?" I asked.

"You can say that this is my runaway place? I mean look at this." He gestured and I can help but agree.

"You're right." I nodded.

"I think I have to go now." I put my notes inside my bag and stood up.

"Wait!" He stopped me and I looked at him with a questioning eyes. He took out his phone.

"Can I have your phone number?" He asked and I nodded.

"There." I gave his phone back and he smiled.

"Bye, nice to meet you Daniel."

"You can call me Dan by the way." He smiled.

"Okay Dan"

"Nice meeting you too, beautiful. I'll text you" He smiled and I just waved to him. I walked along the small road and turned on my phone. Notifications starting to come and I saw a lot of message from Sky. I rolled my eyes completely annoyed by that name but still remembering that kiss.

Speaking of the devil, he called. I picked it up and put my phone to my ear.

"Where the f*** are you?" He bursted angrily at me and I sighed.

"I swear Janet if you don't come to the office right now, you won't like a bit what I'm going to do with you!" He said and hung up the phone, I looked at my phone disbelief and quickly make my way back to the office.

I kept thinking a couple of scenarios in my head what will happen when I step my feet on that office. Oh great.. a couple of scene flash into my head and it just terrible.

I didn't realise I already standing in front of the building, letting out a big sigh and walked inside. Taking the elevator and go up.

"I'm dead, I'm dead." I mumbled to myself.

"I'm freaking dead." My body starts to shake as the lift opens, I took a small steps towards his office and knocked it 2 times.

"Come in." I heard and I opened the door slowly. I saw his gaze at me and I'm dead. I walked to him and bowed my head down. Ready for his wrath.

"What are you doing?" He asked and it makes me looked up to him, I looked at him confuse.

"You're not going to throw your wrath at me?" I asked with a small voice.

"What are you saying?"

"Nothing." I shook my head.

"Where the f*** are you from?" He bursted.

"From hell" I stated honestly and he looked at me with a really serious eyes.

"Just taking a fresh air." I stated.

"I don't want you to disrespect me like that again, I'm your boss for hell sakes!" He bursted again and I saw his eyes burning. He stood up and walked to me, I took a step back as he walked to me.

"From now on I want you to be by my side, wherever I go you have to go and I don't f***ing care what your excuse is. Do you understand? This is your last warning Janet, if you still don't listen to me and keep do things your way. I'll throw you to jail and mark my words"

"I'll do everything under one condition." I looked up to him and he raised his eyebrows.

"No cursing and control your temper." I said and he laughed.

"I'm your boss and who are you controlling me?" He smirked.

"Then throw me to jail." That made his eyes widen, he closed the gap between us and put his hand on my chin. Pushing it and making my eyes meet his.

"I'm Sky Locason, I never listen to people." His voice was so sexy and it sent shivers all over my body. He slowly leaned to my face, looking at my lips.

Before I can get away, he already crashed his lips to mine.