

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 88

Sky Locason

Have you ever felt so worried about someone until you need to keep them near you until you make sure that they're okay?

I was burning in anger waiting for her, I kept calling and message her but she didn't answer any of them. I asked the staff with who she went out. They told me she went out with a guy and I know it's Daniel. Who else?

When she walked inside, she looked at the ground looking lifeless. I stood in front of her and she looked up to me. Her face was full of sadness and she looked so tired. My anger dropped down at that time.

"Where were you?" I asked.

"I was eating dinner." She answered but her face was just blank.

"Alone? For 4 hours? Do you even know what time is it now?" I asked a little bit furious until I forgot to breath.

"Yeah, I just need time alone." Why is she lying?

"You're with Daniel." I said wanting to know her reaction.

"I'm tired and you should get a rest too, you have a schedule tomorrow." She let out a sigh and walked pass me, I turned to see her walking towards the lift and I made my way there too.

"Are you okay?" I'm worried but she just nodded answering my question.

"Earlier Was Laura Black my ex , she-"

"I don't care." She cut me, well that's rude.

"Let's have a drink and drunk tonight." I said hoping that she can let out her sadness through drinking. With that, I dragged her to the bar and dragged to the corner of the room so she can freely throw her anger out. I found out girls always let out her feelings when their drunk.

"I don't want you to hangout with Daniel." I said as I took the glass.

"He's-"

"Using me as a rebound moving on from Laura." She cut me and that got me shock. I turned to her and how did she know? Was she eaves dropping?

"He's Laura's ex." She added.

"Not only that.. he's her husband Janet." I told her about the truth.

She let out a chuckled and started to drink. I put my glass down because honestly I don't plan to drink today. I wanted to her let out her sadness by drinking.

"You still love her?" She suddenly asked and that got me shock too.

"Were you eaves dropping our conversation?" I asked to the point.

"I was going out from my room when I heard your voice." She poured the alcohol again to her small glass.

"She was my first love." I answered honestly and she chuckled.

"So Daniel took her away from you?" She asked and now I'm confuse why are we talking about me when I'm worried about her.

"We broke up 10 years ago, we almost got back together but I found her cheating again. She was arranged married to Daniel Sergio 3 years ago." She kept drinking and drinking more. As the time goes by she stayed silent, she just keep drinking and now she's on her second bottle. I was quite shock to see her drinking this much but still not letting out her sadness.

"Are you okay? Did Daniel do-" I asked but she suddenly turned to me. She looked into my eyes and leaned to me. I know where this is going but.. She kissed me hungrily and cupped my face with her hands. She started to circle her arms around my neck and kissed me in a slow pace.

"If I was Laura, I won't let you go. Not even cheat." She stopped and whispered it to my ears. My body immediately froze, my heartbeat went out of control and her touch started burning my body.

I crashed my lips to her again and kissed her with the same pace. I lifted her up and made her sit on my lap. She circled her legs to my waist. I ran my hands through her back feeling her soft skin, thank God for croptop.

Her lips tasted like strawberry with alcohol. I like it.

I'm a guy who doesn't believe in love, I believed it but Laura crushed it making me hate love. I wasn't ready for a new one and I haven't find a girl who can give me the same feeling when I saw Laura for the first time.

Until this blonde came..

"I want you." She whispered to my ears and that hit my bad side. She looked into my eyes and bit her lips. Oh freaking shoot!

I took her down and pulled her towards the lift. Pressed the button and anxiously wait for it to open. I felt my heart was giving a burning feeling that I never felt before.

The lift opened and we both walked inside, she crashed her lips to mine again by pulling my chin. I wasn't expect this girl to be bold like this when she's drunk. Oh s***, if this is what she wants when she's drunk. I will make sure she won't go to the bar without me, she will throw herself to a random guy.. ah f***. Just thinking about it already makes me angry.

"Let's go baby girl." I dragged her out from the lift and I quickly opened my hotel room. We walked in and she quickly jumped to me. Crashing her lips again, she pulled my tie and dragged me to the bed.

I know this was starting get out of control, I held her wrists and looked into her eyes.

"Come on Sky." She smirked and my name sounded so sexy from her mouth.

"You're drunk and I don't want to take an advantage of it." I said as I got off her trying to control myself.

"I want to." I saw her pouting, it's adorable but- argh f***.

"You can see me as Laura." I scoffed and looked at her. My anger rised up, I walked to her and she looked at me innocently.

"You're not Laura that's why I don't want to touch you unless you're sober." I said in a cold tone and that made her look away.

"I'm that disgusting huh?" She suddenly stated and that made me speechless.

"Who say-

"Goodnight Sky." With that she walked towards the door.

"If you don't want me then I'll find someone else who is willing to-" That hit my button hard, I walked towards her and made her face me. She smirked at me.

"Do you change your mind?" She asked innocently.

"Are you that cheap?" I bursted.

"Are you that cheap until you're so desperate to sleep with someone? I thought you were different from other and yet you're a slut. Desperate wanting a man to touch you!" I said completely disappointed.

"You're right, I am. I'm that desperate. I'm a bitch remember? You're right from the start about myself." She looked at me with anger in her eyes.

"F*** get off me so I can find someone who will-" She took out her phone from her pocket and I took it away from her and threw it to the wall. She looked at it calmly and her eyes went straight to mine.

"Fine! Go!" I gave up and turned away. Without anywords she walked out from my room.

She always gets on my nerves real hard.
