

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 93

Sky Locason

2 months later..

"No no no, didn't I told you to fing send it?" I closed my eyes and completely pissed at my secretary right now. Gosh this is so annoying! I swear I regretted sending Janet away because my work is damn a mess! My new secretary is not that neat and she's clumsy.

"You're fired!" I ended the call and threw my phone to the table.

I still have 1 month more before Janet will come back and I'm sick not seeing her face for awhile. Call me crazy but I dreamt of her quite a lot.

I even committed to myself not to call her and now I hate to commit to that. I wanted to go to Greece so bad but I promised to give her time and let her be the one who come to me.

Why did I pick 3 months? Argh I'm so regretting this now.

"Hello boy." I looked up to see Sebastian entering the room without knocking or telling me that he will come.

"What are you doing here?"

"Wanna hangout?" He asked and I rolled my eyes.

"What?" He asked and I shook my head.

"Missing the blondie?" He smirked and I glared at him.

"Where?" I asked as I stood up, walking to the hanger and wore my grey armani suit.

"As usual."

"I don't get why do you come here, when you can call me." I said as taking my phone, we walked out from my office. We walked towards the lift and waited for it.

"I miss you."

"Gay." I shook my head.

"Tomorrow is Aaron's wedding dude, cheer up will you." He said as he patted my shoulder. I sighed as we both enter the lift. Pressing the L button.

"Last day being single for that bastard." I said.

"Not for long." I turned to him and chuckled.

"You're going too settle down? With Jean's friend? Alexis?" I asked and I knew my words hit his button, he has been searching for that girl quite for some time but she disappeared.

"Shut it!" He hissed and I laughed.

"Isn't it our time to settle down? We're 28." I said and at the same time the lift door opened.

"Well are you planning to?" He gave me a cheeky smile.

"What if I am?"

"You're always been the most nicest and the kindest between us so to be honest it's not shocking to see you settle down but seeing Aaron first it's kinda weird." He said as we walked to our cars.

"Blake was the first and then Aaron join the club." I chuckled.

"Going to LA at midnight, wanna join or you're going to go alone?" He asked before he got into his car.

"Join."

"Good." He said and got inside. I got inside my car and went straight to the usual place.

Settling down? Hearing that words still quite awkward in my ears and beside I never think about settling down since I was in highschool and the fact being with the guys made me not want to settle down more. Arriving at the bar and got off from my car, I walked inside to the private room.

"Skylarrrr!" Kenneth greeted and I rolled my eyes.

"Shut up, Barbie!" That make him laughed, it's his fault having a name like a the barbie's boyfriend.

"You all going to ride my jet right?" Sebastian asked.

"Yeah." I nodded and so is Max and Alex.

"Oh I saw Laura on the dance floor." Alex said and I glared at him. They all know about me and Laura but still teasing me for it.

"Shut it!" I glared as I sipped my alcohol.

"Johnsons came to me yesterday." Max said and I raised my eyebrows.

"What did he want?" Ken asked.

"As usual, he never got a deal between us." Max said and I agreed with that.

"I think he will go to you, Domanco." Alex said and that's right. Johnson was a really sly man and we all never want to get a deal with him.

"Let's see about that." Kenneth said and I chuckled.

"That man is so desperate." I said.

"I mean he almost got broke last year but he seems to get a way to stand up back again." Alex stated.

"Hello boys." We all turned to see who is standing by the door.

Laura Black.

"Well well well, isn't it the b*?" Max said and I can't help but chuckled.

"Oh handsome, sexy is the perfect word." She winked to Max.

"Get the f out!" I bursted and she walked towards me. She sat on my lap without my permission and circled my neck with her arms.

"Baby take that words back."

"Take your ass out!" Alex added and I started to push her away.

"Alex don't be mean, I know you had a crush on me back then." With that he glared at her, I don't care about that anymore. I shoved her away and it made her ass kiss the ground.

"Oh that's painfull." Ken coughed and laughed.

"Janet Stanmore or should I say Red Heart." She said and my eyes widen, I turned to her and she already smirking at me.

"Peter Johnson, or should I say you play with an old man to get his money.. or should I say.. you're his mistress." Kenneth said calmly and that made Laura's face fall off the ground.

"Try to mess with my boys, you're facing me." Ken sipped his wine and turned to Laura in his calmly.

"What if I tell the world about Red Heart, Sky?" She turned to me and she's so pathetic.

"Upload your video when your having fun with Peter?" Kenneth answered and that got her so mad.

"Get out, don't you dare to touch Janet! I'll kill you!" I threatened and looked at her seriously with looked at her coldly.

"Oh yeah, does Peter's wife knows about this? Or sho-"

"Argh!" She stormed out and we all laughed.

"Thanks man." I said to Ken.

"Anytime and by the way I don't have that video." He said and I turned to him.

"What?!"

"So you better keep Janet in under your nose, I know the fact she's his mistress but I don't have that video." Ken stated and I face palmed myself.
