

UNEXPECTED TEMPTATION: BILLIONAIRE LOVE STORIES CHAPTER 96

Janet Stanmore

I never thought the feeling of coming back was this exciting and happy. After recovering from the sadness and everything, I'm starting to get better everyday. I started to write and write and write and I'm just happy.

I'll be lying if I said I don't miss and think about Sky because I miss him a lot. I didn't know he was this kind and just understanding in everything. We can't judge people from one side, they have another side that we never see.

Currently I was dragged Sophia, she said she wants to introduce me to someone. I followed her and chuckled seeing her interaction with Aaron. Aaron is possessive and Sophia is just doesn't care about Aaron's possessiveness, this is their night but still Aaron keeping his wife tightly in his arms.

"Janet, I want you to meet Rose Hastings." Sophia introduced me to this beautiful woman standing in front of me.

"Janet Stanmore."

"Rose Hastings." She smiled widely.

"Aaron, I want to talk to them can you please go to the boys for awhile." Sophia asked sweetly and Aaron shook his head.

"Please." She kissed his lips and seeing Aaron like this makes me think that Aaron always lose the battle when it comes to Sophia.

"Where is the Jean anyway?" Rose asked and Sophia scanned the room and her eyes twinkles as she find Jean. She gestured her to come here. Jean was currently talking to someone with Blake and she walked to us.

"Hello girls." Jean said excitedly.

"You're the Red Heart right?" Rose whispered and I know it's only the 4 of us who can hear that, I nodded.

"I have read your blog before and I love it." Rose added.

"Thankyou." I smiled widely.

"Ohh Sky can't take his eyes of you!" Jean teased and I took a quick glance at him. He smirked at me and I turned back to the girls.

"This is so great, our squad just add another people." Sophia said and I don't understand what is she saying actually.

"Explain it girl, Janet must be confuse." Jean chuckled.

"Welcome to our squad girl, the Tame Squad." Sophia said and Rose laughed.

"Since you're with Sky and you're nice, we already make you join our squad."

"I'm not with Sky, we're just boss and secre-"

"We all know you will end up with him, he never has that face." Jean pointed at Sky and I turned to him. He has his eyes on me and I chuckled.

"Not really, besides he has Laura."

"Laura is a definition of b**** Janet, he hurted Sky so much." Rose said and I looked at her wanting her to explain a little bit more.

"Among the 7 Gold Lifes, Sky is the most nicest and kind kid. He came from a really good family. He dated Laura for about 1.5 years, I mean I considered that as a really long relationship. You see Sky is handsome yet he picked Laura who is just average not beautiful. Guess what?" Rose sighed.

"Laura cheated with so many guys along their relationship which is crazy. Sky was the last member of the 7 Gold Lifes and since Kenneth caught Laura cheat a few times he decided to show to Sky's face." I nodded completely understand.

"He ended up with her that day, so Janet he won't go back with Laura again." Rose said.

"What's with their friendship?" I asked.

"Oh girl their friendship is so powerful, they went through a lot of things together. They have each other backs and no one even can tear them down." Rose chuckled.

"When is your wedding?" Jean asked Rose and my eyes widen.

"You're getting married with Max?" I asked.

"No." She shook her head.

"I'm sorry I don-"

"It's okay Janet, everyone always think that but no."

"My wedding will be in 6 months." Rose said.

"Does your brother know this?" Sophia asked.

"If he knows, he already tell Max. Like I said, their friendship is so strong that they can understand each other by looking into their eyes. My brother doesn't know it yet and I'm not planning to tell him until 2 months before the wedding I guess." She said sadly and I know she still like Max.

"What wedding?" I flinched hearing Sky's voice beside me.

"My wedding you dumb." Sophia quickly cover it for Rose and Sky nodded.

"Now can I take her away? I just got her." He said straightfoward and I elbowed him.

"You're so violent!" Sky looked at me and I rolled my eyes.

"Just go home and do your thing." Sophia said bluntly and it made my face hot suddenly. Rose and Jean laughed at me.

"Thankyou Sophia, you're so kind." Sky said and smirked.

"Come on Jenny, let's go!" He pulled me away, I looked at the girls one last time and they mouthed 'protection'. I looked at them disbelief.

"Where are you staying?" I asked Sky as I linked my arm to him.

"At yours" He said.

"What?" I looked at his disbelief.

"I haven't got to the hotel yet and I'm not planning to, I will just crash yours." He said as he slides his hand to mine, intertwining our hands.

"Go book your own room!" I said and he shook his head.

"Why would I?"

"What do you mean 'what would I'?" I asked and that made him laugh. I looked at him raising my eyebrows not understanding it a bit.

"I don't have money to book another room Jen, so I-"

"What kind of saying is that? You have a-" I cut him but he cut me again.

"You already gave me 2 months of hell and don't argue with me again about this Janet Stanmore." He stopped and I looked at him blankly.

"You're the one who send me there."

"Did I tell you that you look sexy and beautiful tonight?" Bipolar much?

"That attitude of yours." I shook my head and he laughed. He pulled me out from the ballroom, he called the valet service to take his car.

"Sky." I called him and he turned to me.

"What?"

"How can I repay you for all the things that you do for me?" I asked and he smiled.

"Let me ask you, what will you do to repay me?" He asked raising his eyebrows.

"Work with you for the rest of my life maybe or I'll work my butt off to pay back every-"

"You should go with the first one." I looked at him and there's a really big push inside my heart to just jump to him and kiss him.

"I remembered last time you said 'you will touch me when I'm sober', am I right?" I smirked and closed the gap between me and him. I put my hands on his chest and I felt his breath got hitch and his eyes darkens.

"As much as I want that but I want to take you somewhere." I smiled and really satisfied with his answer.

"Well what are you waiting for Mr. Locason?"
