"So beautiful" I praised my wife for the first time if myy memory serves me right ad I earn a weak chuckle from her as Joy ad Stevan step aside when I finally got hold of my wife.

"You look so beautiful" I complimented her appearanec though it really take her a lot of hours dressing specially in her state now.

She started preparing since a ernoon annd not its night time.

"Your also handsome to your self to, Husband" I nnodded at her compliment to me a I hug while we slowly sway with the music.

I wanted to hold her hands and dace normally but its eems that its hard for her to stand anymore.

"Step on my feet" I said to her.

"Ahh, what a beautiful dancing position it is" She said looking at me, tilting her head upwards as I bow down also to give her a peck while swaying to the music.

"I wish I daced you when we got married and eventhough it was and arrange I still have the responsibility to give you the moments as my wife back then' I said to her regretfully.

"Vance. Its not the time now to be a regretful bastard instead dance with me tonight okay? I prepare this for a lot of hours so shut up being regretful and just dance with" I just noddod at her biting my own lip to supress my tears from flowing specially when she stumble a little.

I couldn't explain this execurating pain in my chest as I hug the woman who completed me. The woan who love and stayed with me until her very own last breath.

"Till we see again, Love" I whisper again and just letmy emotion show in this room so as my son's cries.

Ii can't help but to blame my own.

All my life I believe that people where useless to me since they all only wanted my life and that is why I was blinded.
