Novel Chapter 231

Chapter 231: 231

Leon had already expected that Darya would have little stamina, but the situation was even worse than he predicted . Since he had to work for fourteen hours straight and could sleep for six hours, she was forced to stop several times to rest in the sewers . However, resting in such places didn't help her that much since the air around was enough to make her face turn blue .

Unfortunately, since the 'soil of the city was only thirty meters deep, Leon couldn't use his mana . Otherwise, someone would notice his presence . Only after six hours of walking through the sewers, they left that place, and Leon created some earth platforms to rest . The smell of the sewers was left behind, but the stagnated air took its place, and Darya didn't feel all that much better .

'You were right . . . it is worse than I imagined . ' Darya said while looking toward all directions and seeing nothing but destruction and poison mist .

Despite Darya's words, not a single warrior complained, but Leon heard some grunts . . . it looked like Darya needed to use her head a little more before talking and saying those insensible things .

After going down, Leon transported the four warriors until near the place where their village was hidden . He was sure that they didn't want to show Darya where they were currently living .

‘Thanks for the help,’ Leon said . ‘I will keep training near the golems dungeon for a while, if you guys or Eadmund wants to obtain more magic items, I will trade them for coins, but don’t take your time . ‘

The four warriors nodded, and then they left, after that, Leon headed toward the elemental golems’ dungeon .

‘Didn’t you become their allies?’ Darya asked . ‘Is because of me you cut your ties with them?’

‘No, we were working together, but only for a while,’ Leon explained . ‘I gave them weapons and they gave me intel . . . more important than that . What do you intend to do now ? As you can see, the world down here isn’t a good place to spend a vacation . ‘

‘ . . . I have no idea what to do now . . . ‘ Darya raised her head and looked at the thick layer of earth that sustained the city above .

‘Don’t you have any relatives or friends who would be willing to take you in?’ Leon asked . ‘Maybe they could help you to start a new life with a new name . . . ‘

‘I have relatives, but none of them would risk themselves to help me . ‘ Darya showed a self-deprecating smile . ‘I think they would even sell me to give my grandfather the chance to punish me for my crimes . As for friends . . . I have none . Over the last ten years, I have been working organizing and sending important information to the frontlines, but since my memory was erased every day . . . ‘

‘Ten years . . . by the way, how old are you?’ Leon asked .

Once Leon used Appraisal on her, he confirmed a few things, it looked like Darya had been born with some talents, and that was why she had been selected to do that kind of job . Although she was depressed and tired of it, she had the perfect skills to organize and collect intel, and that was why her memories were deleted every day . It was to avoid information leaking . . .

‘Now that I think about it losing one’s memories is a pretty scary thing . If that happens over and over again . . . it wouldn’t be strange if someone goes insane . But that probably would never happen to Darya since her Mental Fortitude is at an astonishing level . ‘

Maybe unlike Eadmund previous statements, Darya didn’t have offensive skills because she didn’t have the opportunity to use them . Instead of letting her choose her path in life, her grandfather decided the most convenient way to use her natural abilities . Leon would have to confirm if that was indeed the case, but for the time being, he decided to forget about it .

‘Anyway . . . I don’t intend to stay in this world forever . ‘ Leon declared . ‘So, you should think of a way to live a normal life up above . I will help you with that . . . as long as that doesn’t don’t delay my plans . ‘

‘Okay . . . by the way, do you intend to let me fly on this earth platform forever?’
Darya asked .

Since Leon said farewell to the four warriors, he was walking through the poison mist while he was keeping Darya above the fog . She didn’t have much health and probably didn’t have the Poison Resistance skill, so she wouldn’t last long breathing that air . There was also the problem of gravity . . . since Leon didn’t want to stop letting her rest every five minutes, it was better to let her stay above the mist .

‘For the time being, yes,’ Leon answered . ‘If you want to enjoy this sweet fragrance, wait until we approach the dungeon . ‘

Either way, sooner or later, Darya would have to get used to the poison mist and gravity . Leon would have to heal her to avoid her death, but it would be a convenient way to use his skills that could heal wounds and cancel status effects .

After a while, they finally reached the area near the dungeon, and Leon let Darya experience both the hard gravity and the poison mist . In the end, that had been a bad idea . . . she didn't have the strength to keep standing, and after breathing the thick mist for a few seconds, she collapsed . . . Leon had to keep casting Heal on her for three days straight until she finally woke up .

When Darya woke up, Leon used Appraisal on her, she obtained Poison Resistance, and the skill leveled up a lot while she was unconscious . Her Gravity Resistance probably leveled up a lot too, but Leon's Appraisal wasn't that strong yet . So, it couldn't reveal more than that .

'I think I'm going to die . . . ' Darya got up, showing an exhausted expression .

Leon gave a massive chunk of meat, which was a dragon's heart to Darya . He hoped that before she finished that, she gets used to rat's meat because he wanted to use every single dragon heart to strengthen himself . After a while, Darya regained some color on her face and energy as well .

Controlling his mana inside of another being wasn't that complicated, so Leon learned quite quickly . He now just had to make Darya lose some mana, and he would learn how to transfer mana to another person . However, that wouldn't be useful to her since she already had a lot of mana, to begin with . Regardless, Stamina Restoration would be fundamental for Leon from that moment onwards since he was in a world where everyone had massive pools of mana . He couldn't just overwhelm a group of enemies with his mana, so he would have to strengthen and learn new physical skills to use in case the need arises .

Elemental Golem's Core (Thunder)

Leon wasn't the type of guy who would rely on luck, but after eating so many dragon hearts, his luck increased a lot, and monsters finally started to drop some exciting things . Since the elemental golems were made of the basic elements, they would dissolve when they die, and nothing could be used from their bodies, but now with their cores, things changed a little bit . Leon wasn't on the level where he could fight up close using swords or other types of weapons, but he would have to obtain the strength to fight like that too . He had no other choice . . .

‘Although it looks ugly, this thing is quite good,’ Darya said while she was eating the dragon's heart . ‘I just wish I could drink something sweet alongside this . ‘

‘ . . . Try to infuse your mana in the earth below you . ‘ Leon said after a long sigh .
‘You should have high intelligence, and you have a massive pool of mana, so it should be easy . ‘

Darya frowned at first, but she obeyed, and then she obtained control over a pretty impressive amount of earth .

‘Ah . . . so this is Earth Manipulation,’ Darya said .

‘I thought this kind of thing would be common knowledge in your society,’ Leon said .

‘It is, but only after a while, we start to practice,’ Darya explained . ‘Kids only learn how to control their mana when they are ten years old and at school . Their parents can’t teach them . . . and when I began to work in the research center, I stopped going to school . ‘

‘Well . . . I guess you can compensate now for the lost time . ‘ Leon scratched the back of his head . ‘The same logic applies to the other three basic elements . . . ‘

Leon couldn’t see Darya’s other skills, but since he did that for years, she was more suited to collecting and organizing intel . However, that kind of thing was useless in the world below, so he decided to let her learn offensive magic . Eventually, she would obtain the power to protect herself, and considering the massive mana pool she had, it wouldn’t take long .

Although Leon knew that Darya would learn how to manipulate, transform, and create the four basic elements quite fast, he didn’t imagine she would do that in a single day . He couldn’t help but facepalm in the front of a true genius magician . Maybe it was her own latent talent or thanks to the mana crystal on her forehead . . . either way, it didn’t matter . Leon could easily imagine Darya learning Magma Spear in a single week . That being said, despite her progress, Darya didn’t look that excited .

‘It looks like you thought your life would be different once you become free,’ Leon said . ‘I can imagine that you dreamed of this day hundreds of times . ‘

‘So, you noticed that, huh,’ Darya said . ‘I guess I was born in the wrong age . . . I wanted to live in a world that could let me be free as much as I wanted . I can be free down here, but I can only see how much destruction and sadness the society that treated me like a slave created over the past seventy years . ‘

‘I cannot say that you are wrong, but you are not right either,’ Leon said . ‘Thanks to the society up above, you managed to live a life safe from the harvesters . . . maybe your grandfather treated you like an employee instead of a grandchild, but that doesn’t mean he only made bad things . The world . . . the worlds cannot be that black and white . ‘

Leon knew he was terrible at comforting people, but being realistic was the only thing he could be at that moment like this . Dreams and wishes never helped him, so he could only act like that and keep working hard in order to make his own luck and open his own path .

Novel Chapter 233

Chapter 233: 233

Creating a thin layer of mana around his body was easy, but moving the same layer at high-speeds wasn't . So, Leon was having difficulties learning that spell . Still, he wouldn't stop until he obtains it . Leon was sure that Haste wouldn't decrease the time he recovers his health, mana, and stamina . But his goal was to increase his perception and speed in order to at least duplicate his training speed . However, he couldn't do that all day, and since Darya finally learned her first offensive spells, he decided to change his routine a little .

'The best way to level up skill is by using them in stronger targets,' Leon explained .
'So, I want you to use your offensive spells on me . '

'Why?' Darya frowned .

'I want to train my magic resistances,' Leon answered . 'While I can protect myself from attacks using Mana Armor and Mana Shield, I can't use them forever since they consume my mana . '

‘I understand the logic, but . . . ‘ Darya looked away . ‘We have been doing nothing but practicing magic, and you don’t let me fight against the golems . . . is this how you spend your entire days?’

‘ . . . This is how I expend the entire day when I have an impossible goal to reach . ‘ Leon sighed . ‘Cross the universe using magic or using brute strength will be much more difficult than invading the city above us . Anyway, it looks like you want to do something else, but exactly you want to do?’

‘I don’t know . . . ‘ Darya lowered her head .

‘You said you wanted to be some kind of explorer, right?’ Leon asked . ‘Exploring your planet will be meaningless since the people here probably explored everything . . . but you can still explore other worlds through dungeons . ‘

‘You are right . . . but won’t that be dangerous?’ Darya frowned .

‘How can you experience something new without exposing himself to some danger?’ Leon shook his head . ‘If you don’t want to die, but still wants to see new things, there is just one thing for you to do . ‘

‘Keep training, right?’ Darya forced a smile .

‘That’s right . . . in worlds where dungeons and monsters exist, those who have power can do pretty much anything,’ Leon said . ‘Just don’t let power become your goal . . . ‘

‘I understand . ‘ Darya nodded .

Darya’s grandfather probably wasn’t a person who became influential just because he pursued power, but even if that was the case, he used his granddaughter as a tool . . . he couldn’t be considered an evil person, but he couldn’t be considered good either . With an example like that in her family, Darya probably wouldn’t follow the wrong path .

Leon deactivated his Mana Shield and then let Darya attack him using Fire Bullets . Although Leon’s Fire Resistance was level twenty-five and his mentality reached a decent level, he felt an annoying pain on his chest when he got hit . Darya’s skills didn’t even reach level five, and she already could cause damage in Leon .

‘Well . . . this is a bit frustrating and annoying, but I need to get used to the pain . ‘

Faster than Leon imagined, the pain increased, and now he was being forced to heal the wounds almost after every shot . . . the potential Darya had was terrific, but . . .

‘ . . . I can’t keep doing this . ‘ Darya stopped . ‘I can’t keep wounding a . . . f-friend . ‘

‘ . . . What are you? A bullied child who just moved to the neighborhood?’ Leon frowned . ‘Although I feel thankful for the consideration since you would scare me if you liked this, this is necessary . For you and me . ‘

‘Why?’ Dary asked .

‘You have no battle experience, and eventually, you will have to fight for your life . . . and you can’t hesitate in taking the life of an enemy,’ Leon explained . ‘ If you wound someone in the middle of a battle and hesitate while an enemy is suffering, he will use that chance to kill you . ‘

‘But still...’ Darya hesitated .

‘Geez... you have to understand that unless we make some sacrifices, we will never obtain the power we want . ‘ Leon sighed . ‘ A certain person on my planet once said: ‘the more you sweat in peace, the less you bleed in war . ‘ Do you get it? If we suffer just a little now, we will suffer much less when the time comes to put our lives at risk . ‘

‘Okay... okay . ‘ Darya sighed . ‘Just don’t blame me if you regret it later . ‘

Although Darya said that, she made sure not to hit Leon’s vital points . Unlike her magic skills, her accuracy wasn’t leveling up at an astonishing pace, and Leon sighed in relief . She was talented in magic, but even genius had to work hard .

From that point onward, Leon and Darya spent several hours every day to train her attack and his magic resistances . Although Darya was progressing much faster, Leon didn't feel bothered by it .

Faster than Leon imagined, the pain increased, and now he was being forced to heal the wounds almost after every shot . . . the potential Darya had was terrific, but . . .

. . . I cant keep doing this . Darya stopped . I cant keep wounding a . . . f-friend .

. . . What are you? A bullied child who just moved to the neighborhood? Leon frowned . Although I feel thankful for the consideration since you would scare me if you liked this, this is necessary . For you and me .

Why? Dary asked .

You have no battle experience, and eventually, you will have to fight for your life . . . and you cant hesitate in taking the life of an enemy, Leon explained . If you wound someone in the middle of a battle and hesitate while an enemy is suffering, he will use that chance to kill you .

But still... Darya hesitated .

Geez... you have to understand that unless we make some sacrifices, we will never obtain the power we want . Leon sighed . A certain person on my planet once said: the more you sweat in peace, the less you bleed in war . Do you get it? If we suffer just a little now, we will suffer much less when the time comes to put our lives at risk .

Okay... okay . Darya sighed . Just dont blame me if you regret it later .

Although Darya said that, she made sure not to hit Leons vital points . Unlike her magic skills, her accuracy wasnt leveling up at an astonishing pace, and Leon sighed in relief . She was talented in magic, but even genius had to work hard .

From that point onward, Leon and Darya spent several hours every day to train her attack and his magic resistances . Although Darya was progressing much faster, Leon didnt feel bothered by it .

Novel Chapter 234

Chapter 234: 234

In the end, Leon had to practice for two weeks before he could learn . Around the same time that he learned Haste, his supply of dragon hearts finally ended, and now Leon and Darya were forced to eat rat meat . . . none of them wanted to do that, but they had no other choice . As expected, the meat wasn't any good, and it was hard to chew . . .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Haste .

Cost: 20 mana per second

Although his meals became poor, Leon soon forgot about it thanks to Haste . At level one, that skill increased by one percent, his moving speed, perception, and reflexes . And it would become even better the more he uses it . The cost was a bit troublesome, but it couldn't be helped since the effects were outstanding .

‘Things will get interesting when I learn Slow . . . ‘

Despite the power of his new weapon, Leon knew that with his current status, he couldn't keep using Haste for more than a minute if he tries to run at his top speed . He didn't even have enough mana to keep Haste active forever, much less stamina . Fortunately, Leon could meditate while using Haste to increase the period he could use the skill for a while, and he also duplicated the leveling up speed of Meditation .

‘If I buy mana potions, I will be able to level up that skill quite fast . . . but I already spent too much time learning a single spell . This time I will learn Slow . . . slowly . . . I can't believe I'm thinking about this . ‘

While Leon was thinking that, Darya was behind him trying to learn Mana Armor . Although they faced a few elemental golems here and there, it was time to meet some real challenges . Otherwise, Leon's senses would get dull, and Darya also needed to get used to the tension of a real battle . And that was why she was learning that skill, even though she was terrible at being patient .

‘Stop twitching your eyebrows every five seconds . . . ‘ Leon sighed . ‘You won't be able to control your mana unless you relax . ‘

‘How can I relax on this dirty floor and when everything, even me, is smelling ?!‘
Darya got up and stomped on the ground . ‘I hate this place!‘

According to what Leon learned from Hammath, the system translated the words of sentient beings of different worlds . Somehow the mana of the worlds translated their words, so Darya was supposed to be twenty-years-old in Earth years, but she behaved like a spoiled teenager . That was probably because her life experiences were always deleted for the past ten years . . .

‘I’m sure you will like a real battlefield even more,’ Leon said . ‘I don’t know which direction the frontlines are, but I’m sure you can guide me . Although the people of the city above can see some recorded battles, they can’t feel the smell of death and rotting bodies . . . You will feel alive the very moment when you fight and make monsters blood rain over your body and . . . ‘googletag.cmd.push(function() { googletag.display(‘div-gpt-ad-InStory-1’); });

‘Stop! Stop! All right . . . I won’t complain anymore . ‘ Darya sat down and closed her eyes .

Leon sighed again . . . Although Darya wanted to be an explorer, she was a scaredy-cat and hated bloody stories . So, Leon couldn’t imagine her realizing her dream of exploring new places... the only for her to do that was to cross worlds using dungeons, but she would have to pass numerous battlefields .

Leon couldn't imagine himself learning a new offensive spell before Darya learns Mana Armor, so he decided to make good use of his Stamina Restoration to practice his few skills that consumed stamina .

‘I guess I can surprise enemies quite frequently if I activate Haste right before every attack . . . that way, I can save some mana and stamina while I also increase the damage I cause . ‘

Training magic required a lot of concentration, so now that Leon was using his stamina instead of his mana to train, he could use his head more and think of ways to improve . Still, Leon realized that his head worked in strange ways, even though he was practicing with Emperor's Katana, he had the idea to create his first magic staff . . . it was a bit late to notice that, but he never used a weapon that was appropriate for mages .

‘Now that I think about it . . . what would happen if I create a gun and try to seal the spirit of a monster inside of it? Will I manage to create a magic gun?’

It was an exciting idea, but Leon was sure that it would have some severe restrictions . He imagined himself using a gun and shooting like twenty magic projectiles per second, but... it wouldn't be that convenient .

‘Well, even I don't know much about guns, as long as I give the right shape, it should work . ‘

It would be great if Leon could create the smaller version of the railgun, but he doubted that he could . Anyway, Leon created a replica of a handgun . The shape was a bit weird, but the trigger was working, so Leon was okay with that... it would be even a better idea to create a magic gun that didn't need a trigger, one where the user just has to pour in his mana... but Leon decided to try that later .

Novel Chapter 235

Chapter 235: 235

After defeating a magma golem, Leon sealed its spirit inside the gun, and he smirked when he analyzed his new toy .

Blazing gun

It grants the wearer the skill: Magma Bullet Lv 20 . If the user has the spell, the damage caused by the projectile will increase according to the user spell level .

It can shoot three bullets per second .

Cost: 30 mana .

‘Not bad for a first try . . . ‘

Few people would be able to use that more than ten times on Earth, but the power of every bullet would be the real deal . Not in the long run, but to some extent, it was better to use a weapon like that instead of learning magic .

‘ . . . I keep increasing the number of things I can do and the ways I can defeat the enemies . However, increasing my cards also decrease the time I can practice other skills . . . ‘

Leon decided to store the blazing gun, if he manages to create another one, he would be able to increase the damage he could cause at some golems by manifold, but the mana cost wasn't something to laugh at . . . Anyway, Leon made a mental note to learn Magma Bullet later, because he felt that Darya finally learned Mana Armor . Just as he had expected, Darya got up and sighed in relief .

‘What is the next step?’ Darya asked .

‘Level up your Mana Armor,’ Leon answered . ‘Keep it activated at all times and retreat when you see that your mana is about to end . ‘

Darya nodded and then Leon didn’t waste time, he shot three Fire Bullets that made Darya open her eyes widely because she lost a lot of mana .

‘Wait, Wait!’ Darya said . ‘If you shot again, I will be hit . ‘

‘I didn’t expect much from a level one skill, but this is . . . how many times it leveled up?’ Leon asked

‘Nine . . . it became level ten just now . ‘ Darya frowned . ‘I guess you already surpassed the level of regular guards that work in the city . . . all thanks to the dragon hearts . ‘

‘Thanks to my hard work . ‘ Leon frowned . ‘No one gave those dragon hearts to me . Regardless, we will try to clear the dungeon when your Mana Armor reaches level twenty . ‘

Leon didn’t know the difference in power between an ordinary guard and the soldiers who fought at the frontlines against the harvesters . But before trying to challenge the harvester to obtain the knowledge he wanted, he would have to surpass the first group . Practicing spells against each other was already better than fighting against the elemental golems, the problem was that mana was continually being used . So, they had to buy mana potions at the dungeon shop .

The next day, Leon and Darya walked toward the dungeon . Darya was very tense because they wanted to test how well she could fare against an elemental golem alone . At that moment, she could only use Earth, Water, Wind, Fire Bullets, and the next level of offensive spells, which were Earth, Water, Wind, and Fire Arrows .

‘Just relax, okay?’ Leon said . ‘This is just a test to make you gain confidence . Fear can keep you from making mistakes, but if you let it control you, you make even more mistakes . ‘

‘Okay . . . ‘ Darya breathed in deeply .

Against elemental golems, Fire Punch, and the other spells like that would help Darya to make them stay away . She could learn those in one week, but Leon decided not to give her that time . . . Darya needed to get used to the fear . As a mage, sometimes, Darya will have to keep enemies from approaching, but that couldn’t be her sole goal in a battle . It was better to defeat them faster using spells that cause more damage instead of using the weaker ones, which could give her more time but prolong the battle for too long .

The first golem that appeared had been a ice golem . Without even aiming for a few seconds, Darya shot several Fire Arrows, it wasn’t a surprise since she didn’t aim, but she missed the target .

‘They are slow . . . so you have time to aim,’ Leon said . ‘Lose some seconds, in the beginning, to make your aim steady, and you will be able to cause damage non-stop until the monster dies . Remember, even if you fail, Mana Armor will protect you . ‘

Darya breathed deeply to calm her nerves and to stop her arms from trembling . . . Leon recalled the moments he spent training Gisela . Both of them had talent in different fields, but Darya didn’t suffer as Gisela did . She didn’t have an easy life, but unlike Gisela, at some moment, she accepted that everything couldn’t be helped . She didn’t understand that she could have changed her fate a long time ago, Darya just needed to be a bit braver...

There were two ways to defeat a golem, destroy him before he could regenerate its body, or attacks its core as much as possible . It was hard to be sure, but based on Leon’s experience, the core could receive half of the damage the body could before running out of juice . The problem with that tactic was that by doing that, the golems wouldn't drop their cores no matter what, but that wasn't a problem since the drop rate was low to begin with . Besides, it was faster to kill it that way . . . one just has to have a good aim .

Instead of trying to hit the core, Darya shot Fire Arrows at the ice golem's legs . A few of her attacks didn't hit the mark, but since she calmed down, Darya managed to stop the golem's approach by destroying its legs . Once the creature slowed down to repair its legs, Darya managed to get rid of her nervousness and attacked non-stop . . . at the monster's legs . Eventually, the beast died, but Darya had to use half of her mana . . . she was still afraid of fighting, and that was making her use more mana than she was supposed to .
