Even though Leon had to create a set for everyone, the job hadn't been that difficult . If anything, creating the same things over and over again only helped Leon to become more skilled in creating equipment . Besides, the sweets status points he obtained by leveling up his skills could also be treated as a payment .

‘Satisfied with them?’ Leon asked .

‘Yes,’ Alurelle answered . ‘Mithril will certainly endure the attack of light magic, but the increase of our endurance and mentality will also help a lot since we won’t be able to block every single attack . ‘

‘I hate to use all those pieces of armor,’ Ismenria said . ‘However, they are surprisingly light... just like our weapons . ‘

‘This color doesn’t suit me,’ Ivolaer frowned . ‘Why do I even have to wear those? I will kill those fucking birds faster than they can even think of attacking me . ‘

‘Yeah, I remember that I had to escape while carrying you half-dead on my shoulders just before we fled,’ Jertien frowned . ‘I’m pretty sure you said something similar before getting beaten to death . ‘

‘Shut up, stupid old man,’ Ivolaer clicked his tongue .

‘I don’t know if I should be happy while watching everyone acting like usual after obtaining better equipment...’ Genelosa sighed . ‘Or if I should feel depressed, noticing that this power-up didn’t make us more responsible since we finally have a real chance to recover our worlds . ‘

‘ . . . Now what?’ Leon asked .

‘Now we collect more mana until we have enough to let you use Transfer and transfer all of us and this tower back to Celosie,’ Inglar said . ‘From there, we start to reclaim our worlds . ‘

‘No . . . We will start from Dasaliv,’ Jorhorn said . ‘Celosie will be that last planet we will recover . ‘

‘ . . . Are you sure of that?’ Inglar frowned .

‘Yes,’ Jorhorn answered .

‘Celosie is a world that doesn’t have many natural defenses,’ Alurelle said . ‘So, we will be easily spotted and lose the surprise factor there . It will be a better idea to let that planet to be recovered for last . ‘

‘Why do I have to know that?’ Leon asked .

‘Celosie is the planet I came from,’ Alurette answered . ‘It is the place where we found the Volt’s fragment . So, to obtain his power . . . you would have to help us to retake five other planets . ‘

‘Is that so . . . Well, it can’t be helped,’ Leon shrugged . ‘Well, while you guys work to obtain mana, I will do some tests with my telescope . ‘

Leon flew to the top of the tower, and there he pushed a button that unlocked the telescope the harvesters used to find Miebos . The telescope was thirty meters long and three wide, it took a few minutes to adjust it, but eventually, Leon found the planets in question . Leon didn’t ask their names, but Alurette taught him how to use the telescope since Leon needed to create a better version of it using mithril . Although Leon couldn’t see the six worlds and the sun of that system with perfection, he could clearly see the planets, and that was more enough to use as a basis .

‘So, I will have to help them recover five planets before I can obtain half of what they promised me, huh...‘

It was kind of hard to conclude if their sizes were small or big without having a clear comparison to Earth . However, Leon had the feeling that they were quite big . So, it would take a while before they could reconquest so many worlds and with a small group...

After taking a three meters tall telescope out of the magic box, Leon tried to find the solar system that he would go in a few weeks . Although Leon could see a small yellow point in the distance where the sun of that system was, he didn’t feel satisfied with his progress of creating telescopes for one month .

‘To make matters worse, they will focus on gathering mana to return home... So, I will have to use my own mana and the blue angel leaves to create more telescopes...‘

That was a bit depressing, but it couldn't be helped . Regardless, it was clear that it would take perhaps a few months to create a small telescope that was better than the one the harvesters' had . So, Leon decided to slow down a little bit in that process . He progressed quite a lot in the two years since he came to Miebos, but that much progress wasn't enough to defeat the monsters on several planets that were on the third stage of assimilation .

‘I guess it is finally time to learn a few new tricks . Although attacking with my spears is the best way to deal with a massive number of enemies, they won't be that effective against sentient enemies... It is time to put Pyromancy and Geomancy to good use . ‘

Thanks to Geomancy and Pyromancy, Leon managed to learn those spells in just one week . Explosive Fire Arrow and Spinning Earth Arrow were particularly handy . At level one the first spell could explode upon impact, causing enough damage that was equal to a grenade... it was hard to be sure since Leon didn't see any real grenades exploding .

Spinning Earth Arrow not only had a fearsome piercing power, but it could even destroy some big rocks... Even though those probably wouldn't be enough to kill the angels, it would probably be enough to keep them at bay, in case a horde of them comes to attack Leon . In a world where they were everywhere, using Transfer to escape from a battle wasn't the best idea .

‘The best combination would probably be water and thunder magic . . . but to learn those without something like the equivalent of Pyromancy, it would take too long . ‘

Leon had some idea of spells that would combine Pyromancy and Geomancy, but creating magma out of thin air wouldn't surprise the enemies . The best way would be to attack from the ground, but against flying enemies, that wouldn't work . While Leon was thinking of creative ways to decrease his problems, he thought of something interesting... what if he creates a golem made of earth and put the spirit of a monster ?

‘Mmm... just creating a golem won't work . The same thing will happen when I tried to create a magic backpack... but what if I make a golem that instead of regular limbs, he had spears or swords ?‘

It was worth a try since most likely . The creature would fall on the weapon category . Although that wasn't even necessary since Leon had the Summon Zombie skill, he wanted to use something he worked hard to obtain and learn . Regardless, Leon created a golem made of earth and tried to put a soul in it... it didn't work . The next step would be to try to create one made of mithril since it would be a pain if Leon creates a big golem made of mithril and it doesn't work again, he decided to create a small bird made of mithril . Much to his surprise, he was quite skilled at putting details . However, since it needed to be a weapon, Leon decided to put a short sharp spear on the place of the beak . Leon put the spirit of an aqua slime inside of it and succeeded .

‘Interesting . . . very, very interesting . . . ‘

Since it was made of mithril, the thing couldn't move like an actual bird, but it could fly like a drone . It would be interesting if it could grow stronger, but it wasn't such a useful skill . It also needed mana to move, but considering that was a creature like the lesser spirits that could act independently and follow Leon's orders at the same time, it was useful nonetheless .

‘Control -5... my control didn't decrease . So, my control decides how many of those creatures I can control ?‘

That was probably the case, the skill had several limitations, or it would be way too useful if Leon could create an army of mithril dragons that could follow all his commands . Maybe it was the difference between size and weight, but that bird could fly for one minute using only ten mana points .

‘Although it is cool and all having a familiar working for me, I don’t think I will be able to create many that could be useful in battle . . . until I increase my control, shall I make them harvest blue angel leaves for me ?‘

That probably wouldn’t work unless Leon creates those inorganic familiar using the devourer’s spirit... No, even if Leon uses those, the devourers had to eat things that had mana to absorb mana . So, before putting them to work, Leon would have to waste some time putting the familiars in an appropriate place where they could defeat enemies and absorb their mana . It was a good way to obtain a few extra coins, but not much use to help Leon increase his training time .

‘Wait a minute, what if I give an inorganic familiar the shape of a shield . . . won’t he protect me at all times ? It certainly will . . . but I doubt that can withstand more than a few attacks . Besides, using my Telekinesis, I will be able to prevent a possible magic projectile making the shield smash me . ‘

It would be great if Leon could absorb the mana of those familiars stored, but then again, they weren’t that convenient . In the end, that kind of power wouldn’t be useful unless Leon spends a lot of time and mana on it . Since he was already too busy improving his telescope and training, he would try that later .

Anyway, according to Alurette, it would take a month before they could have enough mana to travel back to their world . Leon would have to keep practicing Transfer for one week at least until that skill reaches level one hundred for efficiency's sake . So, Leon would have two more weeks to train freely . Learning new spells to obtain status points wasn't a good idea, so Leon used his remaining free time to level up Explosive Fire Arrow and Spinning Earth Arrow .

Novel Chapter 313

Chapter 313: 313

Mithril Shield of The Devourers (+6)

It grants you Endurance + 192, Mentality + 192

Just before Leon started his training to level up Transfer, he decided to upgrade his shields. Although it would be better to enchant them using the spirits of angels, it was also better to be safe than sorry.

While Inglar, Jertien, Ivolaer, and Ismenria were working to gather the mana on the Soul Eater, Genelosa, Alurette, and Jorhorn worked together with Leon to level up Transfer. Well, the only thing they did was actually buy mana potions and use them on Leon . Much faster than they predicted, thanks to Leon's equipment, skills, and stats, Leon's Transfer reached the level one hundred .

Around the same time, Leon managed to create a telescope as good as the harvesters have . It was much smaller and easy to carry, so they understood the incredible potential mithril had . Leon wanted to create a railgun made of mithril, but he decided to do that later, once he has some time alone . He and the harvesters were working together, but they couldn't reveal each other's cards just like that .

'We are ready now,' Alurelle said .

Alurelle and friends were on their giant form and equipped with their items made of mithril . It looked like the battles would start at the very moment they arrive on Dasaliv, so Leon also readied himself . He didn't test, but according to the harvesters, everything nearby that Leon wanted to transfer, could be transported alongside with him . So, the harvesters didn't have to touch his hand or his shoulders .

Soul Eater

It drains and stores all the mana of enemy foes .

Mana Stored: 25142363314

After receiving Soul Eater from Jorhorn, Leon checked its status and frowned at the stupid amount of mana stored in there . Leon wondered if he would be able to return to Earth with that amount of mana if he could see Earth from there... Well, such an amount was probably necessary if he wanted to transfer the entire tower with him .

Although Leon was a bit nervous, he didn't hesitate to transfer himself, the tower, and the harvesters after he started to see clearly Dasaliv on the telescope . At a fearsome speed, his mana got drained, and then he recovered it several times within a second . Soul Eater was working, but Leon wasn't worried about that . He got concerned when he saw himself, the tower, and the harvesters traveling through the outer space . Stars in the distance became lines of light due to the speed, they were probably moving much faster than light, but Leon didn't feel that on his body . He felt that he was just distorting space while walking... it was weird, but that only showed him that Transfer was really several levels below the true Teleportation .

‘Mmm . . . Soul Eater still has some mana . . . I guess I will use it . . . ‘

Alurette, Jorhorn, and the others were looking around for enemies . In fact, they could see several angels moving near the ground so, while they were busily observing the enemies . Leon created several things using the remaining mana . He had gotten more skilled in the last few months, so Leon managed to create several things before they could finally prepare themselves for the battle .

Much to Leon's surprise, that place looked a lot like Earth . It was quite colorful, but Leon frowned when he saw several red parts... those were signs of blood and fire . Putting that aside, Leon finally saw the 'angels,' they were pretty much humans, their size was similar and even their bodies had the same shape . The only real difference was the white wings on their backs, but those felt a bit unnatural . Harpies arms were also their wings, but even though the angels had wings on their backs, they looked a bit like monsters .

As if... as if they had implanted those wings on their backs .

‘Well, it doesn’t really matter if they are real angels or not . . . if they try to kill me, they are enemies . ‘

We are finally back...‘ Alurette said while looking at the angels and holding her swords tightly . ‘Leon, your job will be to give us support from behind .
You should focus on healing our wounds, but it would help a lot if you use Gravity or Telekinesis on them . ‘(function()
{ googletag.display( 'div-gpt-ad-InStory-1 ' ); } );

‘... Give back the Soul Eater,‘ Jorhorn said .

‘Sure,‘ Leon tossed the sword at Jorhorn, who grabbed and stored it under his armor .

Jorhorn and the others wouldn’t be able to use Soul Eater with their current size, but he didn’t want to leave such rare items on his hands either . After receiving Soul Eater, Jorhorn approached the tower and clicked on some button, then the tower disappeared... that was Leon thought, but it only became much smaller . Leon couldn’t understand why he didn’t do that earlier .

‘Well❖❖ they can increase their size so... better not to think much about it .

It didn’t take long for the first angels to notice their approach . Although several of them seemed to be fighting near the ground, only seven flew toward Leon and others to attack . Although they had different types of weapons, they were all using a simple breastplate and some light pants... all of those were white . The color fit them, though . Since they were blond and had blue eyes... it was a coincidence that Leon imagined them having that hair and eyes ?

Leon couldn't help but frown at looking at them, putting aside their crazy status, that was even higher than the harvesters, they weren't genderless creatures like Leon thought real angels were . Both male and female flew to attack them... and strangely enough, they were looking at Leon and harvesters as if they were possessed by something .

managed to create several things before they could finally prepare themselves for the battle .

Much to Leons surprise, that place looked a lot like Earth . It was quite colorful, but Leon frowned when he saw several red parts... those were signs of blood and fire . Putting that aside, Leon finally saw the angels, they were pretty much humans, their size was similar and even their bodies had the same shape . The only real difference was the white wings on their backs, but those felt a bit unnatural . Harpies arms were also their wings, but even though the angels had wings on their backs, they looked a bit like monsters . As if... as if they had implanted those wings on their backs .

Well, it doesnt really matter if they are real angels or not . . . if they try to kill me, they are enemies .

We are finally back... Alurette said while looking at the angels and holding her swords tightly . Leon, your job will be to give us support from behind . You should focus on healing our wounds, but it would help a lot if you use Gravity or Telekinesis on them .

... Give back the Soul Eater, Jorhorn said .

Sure, Leon tossed the sword at Jorhorn, who grabbed and stored it under his armor .

Jorhorn and the others wouldnt be able to use Soul Eater with their current size, but he didnt want to leave such rare items on his hands either . After receiving Soul Eater, Johorn approached the tower and clicked on some button, then the tower disappeared... that was Leon thought, but it only became much smaller . Leon couldnt understand why he didnt do that earlier .

Well❖❖ they can increase their size so... better not to think much about it .

It didnt take long for the first angels to notice their approach . Although several of them seemed to be fighting near the ground, only seven flew toward Leon and others to attack . Although they had different types of weapons, they were all using a simple breastplate and some light pants... all of those were white . The color fit them, though . Since they were blond and had blue eyes... it was a coincidence that Leon imagined them having that hair and eyes ?

Leon couldnt help but frown at looking at them, putting aside their crazy status, that was even higher than the harvesters, they werent genderless creatures like Leon thought real angels were . Both male and female flew to attack them... and strangely enough, they were looking at Leon and harvesters as if they were possessed by something .

Chapter 314: 314

‘Heal Level 340 . . . Regeneration Level 400 . . . what the heck is this?’
Leon frowned

‘They have high vitality,’ Alurelles said . ‘So, unless you smash them to bits or burn them instantly, they will eventually recover and attack as if nothing had happened . ‘

‘Why didn’t you mention that earlier?’ Leon asked .

Demons probably couldn’t heal wounds, and the angels obtained that power from the spirit of light... but it was quite weird to think that they are similarly difficult to kill . Anyway, soon they started to attack using their special attacks . Much to Leon’s surprise, even the angels that had spears and swords could shoot beams of light . Leon imagined those magic projectiles would be way faster than his, almost impossible to see with his own eyes . However, although those were faster than Leon’s, Jorhorn swung his spear and blocked all attacks .

‘... Those weapons work,’ Jorhorn analyzed his weapon and said after he confirmed that it was perfectly fine . ‘We can block their attacks! Don’t hesitate!’

Every single one of them could fly, but with that size, the consumption of mana was massive, and the speed wasn't high . So, Ismenria was the fast one to attack . She shot a steel arrow much bigger than Leon, and although she missed, the movement of the arrow caused a shockwave that slowed down the angels, not only that, it caused a large thud when it hit the ground .

Ivolaer didn't waste that chance and then made several lightning bolts fall on the angels with a single swing of his sword . He smiled excitedly because, with that attack, he had the chance to approach and slice all the angels in two . The attack made the creatures fall at fearsome speed, to the point where they landed, a crater appeared . However, their torment didn't end there . Ivolaer fell over their bodies and started to stomp on them .

'Take this, you little insects!' Ivolaer smiled excitedly . 'Did you like this, huh? Did you like it? What? I can't hear you . . . scream a little louder!'

Leon frowned when he watched that, and he couldn't help but wonder if he would act the same if he were in his position . Imaging himself losing his world to alien monsters was indeed scary... but it was hard to imagine the feelings he would have .

'What an idiot... Shut up, Ivolaer,' Jertien sighed . 'Our goal is to reconquest our worlds, but we don't achieve that tomorrow or today . We need to start things quietly . '

‘Well, it is not like they can use their heads all that much,’ Ismenria shrugged after she landed . ‘The moment they see anything that doesn’t have their wings, they attack instead of informing their allies . ‘

‘This is your planet, right, Genelosa?’ Inglar asked . ‘Then, guide us to a place where we can create or use as a temporary base . We can’t just stay in the open and wait to be attacked . ‘

‘All right,’ Jorhorn said . ‘Let’s kill all the angels nearby before heading south . We can’t let any of them seeing us . Otherwise, we will compromise our hideout . ‘

Several angels were already coming, so Alurette and friends didn’t have to look for them . Their size was a huge sign or bait, after all . Regardless, while they were fighting, Leon looked around and saw some corpses of monsters . The holes in their bodies and the extremities of those holes, there were signs of burns... those were signs of monsters that got hit by a projectile of light magic .

‘What a nasty way to die... as I expected, light magic is like a laser...‘

Although that was somewhat scary, Leon was sure that his shields could block them... as long as he is from a safe distance . Attacking those creatures was out of the question for the time being, but Leon could use Gravity and Telekinesis to annoy them .

‘I wonder if I should let their attacks scratch me... just to let me obtain Light Resistance...‘

It would be very painful, but as long as Leon doesn't get hit on his vitals, it would be fine... Besides, it was to avoid problems down the road later . Still, it would be hard to obtain that skill since everyone was smashing the 'angels' to bits quite easily .

‘The last twenty years of training finally paid off? They don't seem to have that much difficulty...‘

Leon thought he would encounter several new types of monsters, but he only found corpses, for some reason, the 'angels' were killing every single monster . Although that only helped them in the long run, it was quite troublesome since Leon wanted to see new types of magic and use the monsters' spirits to create magic items .

‘Well, if I only have one option... ‘

Everyone was fighting quite excitedly, drunk on the taste of the power of their new weapons... but Alurelle wasn't that excited, so Leon decided to give her a hand in order to capture a few angels .

Alurette frowned when she saw some angels approaching her losing speed, but then she saw Leon flying nearby and noticed his intentions . Instead of splitting the angels in half like everyone else was doing, Alurette smashed them on the ground with the hilt of her swords . Although she had to do that a few times before the angel could lose its consciousness, in the end, it had been worth the trouble .

As much Alurelle wanted to test such skill, the effects would be meager against the angels since they had the Light Resistance skill . Noticing that Alurelle got a little stronger, and her swords now were emitting a transparent glow, the others decided to hold back their anger and frustration they suffered twenty-years ago... but it was already too late . They killed all the angels nearby that saw the harvesters falling from the skies . Despite their massive size, only a little more than thirty angels came . But at least Leon also made some progress .

Despite saying that, Genelosa took the lead and started to walk . The more Leon and others walked, the more destruction and corpses of monsters they found . Leon saw several bodies of chimeras, and where he found those, the signs of battles were massive... it looked like chimeras were also troublesome opponents .

‘This is definitely the southern continent of my world,’ Genelosa said . ‘It is the only place I heard that chimeras started to appear... a few days before I escaped . ‘

Leon’s memories were a little blurred regarding fantasy chimeras . In his mind, a chimera would have the head of a lion, the body and legs of a goat, wings of an eagle, and the tail was supposed to be a snake . Those chimeras in that world were five meters long and two meters tall, but they didn’t have the body and legs of a goat, it was the body of a lion added with wings of an eagle, the snake as a tail . It was impossible to use Appraisal on a dead body, so Leon was quite curious about their abilities .

‘No, If I remember well, their dungeon should be located on the east side of this continent,’ Genelosa answered . ‘Although this is the smallest continent, we should be fine . ‘

‘If you remember well?’ Ismenria frowned . ‘Can we even trust your rotten memory?’

‘... You are right,’ Genelosa nodded with a serious expression .

‘We won’t change our plans,’ Jorhorn declared . ‘We will go to the cave, but we will proceed with caution . Also, don’t use flash attacks Inglar and Ivolaer . ‘

‘Yes, yes...’ Inglar looked away .

‘Tsk . ‘ Ivolaer clicked his tongue .

Leon was feeling quite out of place following a group of giants that were walking, trying not to make much noise . Still, from time to time, an angel would appear alone as if it was looking for something, and once the monster saw them, it would charge forward without even thinking about numerical disadvantage . Also, while it was understandable that they didn’t try to talk, it was also weird since they were supposed to be intelligent creatures .

‘Is something wrong?’ Alurette asked . ‘You have been frowning for a while . ‘

‘I’m just wondering why those creatures attack us like that,’ Leon answered . ‘It is a bit weird because they attack us as if we were their mortal enemies . It is also strange that they are killing other monsters... do you know why?’

‘... When they first appeared, they shouted several things,’ Alurette recalled the days when her world reached the third stage of assimilation . ‘One of them was 'we will clean this world from all sinful creatures'... Based on their actions, anyone who isn't with them is a sinful creature . '

'That is a rather dangerous way of doing this...' Leon frowned .

There wasn't much difference between the self-proclaimed angels, the harvesters, and Leon . Even the people of Miebos aren't that different... in fact, just the fact that they could speak was enough to make Leon wonder if in the past if he could treat them like monsters . Right now, he couldn't... but it was hard to think the same as for the angels . Their behavior wasn't much different from beasts, after all . Besides, why would they clean the worlds they obtained access to? Twenty years have passed since Alurette and friends left their planets, so it was evident that the angels weren't doing things the right way... most likely, they didn't come to conquer . Or perhaps, using the dungeons of those worlds, they went to other planets in order to clean them... considering their behavior, it wouldn't be weird that they did a half-assed job cleaning Dasaliv .

Regardless, after flying for half a day, Leon and the others reached the cave in question . Fortunately, they didn't find any dungeons on the way . So, Leon's worries decreased by one .

Chapter 316: 316

Although the cave was big, it wasn't big enough for one hundred meters tall creatures to enter while standing and keeping themselves at that size. So, everyone had to return to their standard sizes while Leon was transporting their equipment using Telekinesis.

Much to Leon's surprise, the cave was pretty near the ocean, and there he could find the same krakens and ancient horned whales. But there was an interesting addition to the sea creatures of that world... a busty woman who had lower-half of a fish... and she wasn't wearing any clothes! The beast wasn't just sexy . It was incredibly beautiful... almost unrealistic beautiful .

The moment Leon looked at her, he felt something entering his Mana Dominion... before he could get mesmerized even further, he shot his

Leon couldn't help but frown once he killed the creature . For some reason, the head of the beast escaped his attack, and that made him feel depressed... because the mermaid also had the head of a fish...

‘Great... now monsters can also play with my brain...‘

When Leon looked behind, he saw Inglar, Ivolaer, Jorhorn, and Jertien looked away... it looked like they have been mesmerized too . But unlike Leon, they didn't notice that something was wrong . Meanwhile, Alurelle, Ismenria, and Genelosa seemed pretty okay .

‘I guess mermaids can't charm other women...‘

Leon didn't even have time to use Appraisal, the very moment he looked at the creature, he got caught by its illusion... it wasn't an enemy . He could analyze or go easy . Otherwise, he would become a minion of a monster .

‘A new type of monster...‘ Genelosa sighed .

‘At least, it isn’t that strong,’ Ismenria frowned . ‘But to use that kind of power... how shameless . ‘

‘Let’s just be thankful that Leon noticed on time the trap,’ Alurette said .

‘The hell am I thinking the same day I arrived in this dangerous world?’

Anyway, even though Kraken and ancient horned whales were monsters that only appeared in the world that were on the second stage of evolution, those mermaids weren’t . By the look of things, they didn’t treat other monsters like enemies either . And that was a relief . The harvesters would be able to find food to maintain their gigantic form... as long as Leon is around to keep the mermaids at bay, because they also found merman, and they could charm the females of the group .

After securing some food, the harvesters and Leon reunited at the cave . Although he was part of the group, Leon didn’t know all that much about what they should do . This was one of their planets, so the harvesters probably would have better ideas of how to proceed . So, Leon decided to plant the blue angel leaves while they talk .

‘What now?’ Ismenria asked .

‘We will decrease their numbers until we have the chance to attack their dungeon on the central continent,’ Jorhorn said . ‘We will have to be patient in order not to let their leader discover about us . That guy isn’t a maniac like the others, and he is pretty smart... if we get careless, he will destroy us again . ‘

As expected, the angels had a leader and considering things Leon knew so far . It probably was an angel who also was a dungeon boss . Strong and smart... it wouldn't be an easy opponent . Still, now that he was on that planet, Leon started to wonder how their plan would work . They couldn't seal a dungeon, opponents of that level could quickly destroy any barrier that the harvesters might create . So, trying to seal the dungeons would be the same as creating a time-bomb .

‘The easiest option would be to strengthen someone to the point where that person can clear all the angels that leave the dungeon, even the boss, but that person would have to stay behind the moment they reconquest the planet . And that would make things difficult on the other planets...’

‘What about the monsters of other dungeons?’ Alurelle asked .

‘For the time being, we will ignore them,’ Jorhorn answered . ‘We don't know the changes the dungeons suffered when we reached the third stage of assimilation . Besides, the angels are by far the most troublesome enemies . As long as we keep defeating them, we will grow stronger, and the difficulty will decrease... at least regarding the fights against non-bosses .’

Leon made a mental note about that topic . He also had to memorize the changes and number of dungeons in that world . Things on Miebos were a bit different and rather irregular, thanks to that shadowy figure . However, all information would be useful later when Leon returns to Earth... as long as he returns to Earth on time .

Anyway, even though Kraken and ancient horned whales were monsters that only appeared in the world that were on the second stage of evolution, those mermaids weren't. By the look of things, they didn't treat other monsters like enemies either. And that was a relief. The harvesters would be able to find food to maintain their gigantic form... as long as Leon is around to keep the mermaids at bay, because they also found merman, and they could charm the females of the group.

After securing some food, the harvesters and Leon reunited at the cave. Although he was part of the group, Leon didn't know all that much about what they should do. This was one of their planets, so the harvesters probably would have better ideas of how to proceed. So, Leon decided to plant the blue angel leaves while they talk.

What now? Ismenria asked.

We will decrease their numbers until we have the chance to attack their dungeon on the central continent, Jorhorn said. We will have to be patient in order not to let their leader discover about us. That guy isn't a maniac like the others, and he is pretty smart... if we get careless, he will destroy us again.

As expected, the angels had a leader and considering things Leon knew so far. It probably was an angel who also was a dungeon boss. Strong and smart... it wouldn't be an easy opponent. Still, now that he was on that planet, Leon started to wonder how their plan would work. They couldn't seal a dungeon, opponents of that level could quickly destroy any barrier that the harvesters might create. So, trying to seal the dungeons would be the same as creating a time-bomb.

The easiest option would be to strengthen someone to the point where that person can clear all the angels that leave the dungeon, even the boss, but that person would have to stay behind the moment they reconquest the planet . And that would make things difficult on the other planets...

What about the monsters of other dungeons ? Alurette asked .

For the time being, we will ignore them, Jorhorn answered . We dont know the changes the dungeons suffered when we reached the third stage of assimilation . Besides, the angels are by far the most troublesome enemies . As long as we keep defeating them, we will grow stronger, and the difficulty will decrease... at least regarding the fights against non-bosses .

Leon made a mental note about that topic . He also had to memorize the changes and number of dungeons in that world . Things on Miebos were a bit different and rather irregular, thanks to that shadowy figure . However, all information would be useful later when Leon returns to Earth... as long as he returns to Earth on time .

For a few days, Jorhorn's group used the cave as much as possible and only left in random moments to hunt the angels . They were being more careful than Leon imagined, but that was understandable . They lived for hundreds of years, so acting like that for weeks or months wasn't that surprising . However, the same thing didn't apply to Leon .

Leon managed to upgrade the last of his four holy mithril shields to its limit, but he wasn't satisfied with the speed of Jorhorn's group progress . Although Leon would probably live or reach their age, as long as he doesn't get eaten by a monster, he didn't have time to do things so slowly . So, one week after they arrived on Dalasiv, Leon decided to use his new spells on the monsters of the ocean . It was risky, but Leon wouldn't obtain power fast if he doesn't accept some risks . Much to his surprise, Jorhorn blocked his path .

'Where are you going?' Jorhorn asked .

'I'm going to train,' Leon answered . 'Unlike you guys, I don't have all the time of the world . '

‘... You can’t,’ Jorhorn said . ‘You will end up revealing our position, and it will take a while to find a good place to use like this if we get discovered . ‘

‘I will be careful,’ Leon said . ‘Besides, if the angels attack only me if they see only me . I will work as a bait, and you guys can finish them off . It is perfect, right ? You guys will have the chance to kill the monsters without even leaving the cave . ‘

‘If we kill too many monsters here, even if we dispose of their bodies, we are bound to be noticed,’ Jorhorn explained . ‘That is why it is important to kill them in other areas . ‘

‘All right then...‘ Leon sighed deeply . ‘I won’t cause problems, but in that case, you will have to be my target... in order not to cause problems for me, as well . ‘

‘What ?’ Jorhorn frowned, annoyed .

‘I just want to level up my spells,’ Leon shrugged . ‘Hitting any powerful target will do . Don’t worry . I won’t try to wound you . I will shot at the same place, so you will be able to block . Here, I will even lend you one of my shields . ‘

‘Well, your confidence puts me at ease...‘ Leon sighed in relief . ‘I will use an earth spell since you have a high tolerance against that kind of elemental attack . If you want me to stop, you just have to say . Also, to avoid any unpleasant surprises, I won't use any items that increase my intelligence . ‘

Jorhorn bit his lips to the point where he started to bleed . Despite that, he didn't attack Leon; he only grabbed his old spear and readied himself . While Leon was putting the rings that increased his recovery, he couldn't help but frown while looking at him... there was a limit of how someone could be so unreasonable . Almost every single one of his actions or words annoyed Leon, and he does that intentionally, but he always got incredibly mad at the rare occasions Leon did the same .

Regardless, despite being a hundred years old, Jorhorn was the type who would self-destruct thanks to his short-temper and anger . Although that would cause some problems for Leon, he already had some plans of what to do in case the harvesters fail . Although it wasn't that practical, he could use containers to store mana liquid, and then he would be able to find the spirit of thunder . After obtaining that power upgrade, he would keep strengthening himself until he can Transfer himself back to Earth or find some other tome that may help him .

Anyway, without wasting much time, Leon shot several Spinning Earth Arrows toward Jorhorn's spear, he didn't even have to move his arms to block the projectiles . The speed also paled in comparison to the attack of the angels . However, every arrow made a thunderous noise when it hit Jorhorn's spear . Not only that, but it also made him tremble from head to toe, even though he didn't change his stance . Little by little, he was also being pushed backward .

It was really useful to have powerful ‘allies’ that could help Leon . Thanks to their existence, Leon could level up the spell he learned a few days ago, like crazy . The earth shards were hitting against Jorhorn’s body and even leaving some scratches... even though he was supposed to have a strong resistance against earth magic .

‘Mmm... using Multi-Conjuration would make this skill level up faster, but I don’t have that much mana and recovery to keep using like that without relying on potions... wait a minute...‘

Leon knew that even without using Multi-Conjuration, he would run out of mana soon . However, instead of worrying about something like that . He had another interesting idea... and couldn’t help but smile while imagining it .

Instead of automatically casting Spinning Earth Arrow, Leon decided to create the projects one after the other manually . His attack speed decreased, but eventually, he was focused enough and managed to attack at the same pace while he was doing that automatically . And when he finally surpassed that speed where he could create a projectile in 0 . 2 seconds...

Leon smiled widely while looking at his new skill, which not only would increase the speed of his attacks, but it was also a passive skill . He would increase the speed of his attacks without having to spend more mana!

‘Hehe, this will be very useful... while I can cast multiple spells while using Multi-Conjunction, I can’t make them hit the same spot . But things change with Fast Conjunction . ‘

That being said, that skill only increased his cast speed by one percent, so Leon would have to level up that skill to level one hundred in order to double his attack speed, attacking instead of five, ten times per second .

The moment Leon learned the spell, those notifications started to appear at a fearsome speed . It was evident because the most powerful the target was, the faster the skill leveled up . Unfortunately, Leon had to stop because he ran out of mana .

‘Thanks for the help,’ Leon smiled, satisfied . ‘Let’s take a break because I used almost all my mana . ‘

‘... Maybe you should practice a less noisy spell,’ Alurette said .

‘I wanted to practice underwater because of that...’ Leon sighed . ‘Besides, even though I’m making noise, Ismenria is watching our surroundings . Didn’t you say that she was suited for that job because she had good eyes as an archer?’

‘Well... even so...’ Alurette said, nervously .

‘... Fine,’ Leon sighed .

It was annoying, but since he wasn’t working alone, Leon had to compromise . Although his attacks were less powerful since he wasn’t alone all thanks to Lion’s Pride, he still was powerful enough to make even Jorhorn be pushed back on his ordinary form . Since Mana Bullet probably wouldn't be effective against angels, Leon decided to learn a new earth spell . It wasn't that powerful, but it could be used to surprise the opponents since the projectile was quite small .

Although those status points will be useful in the future, the fact that Leon wouldn't be able to kill angels with Earth Needle was annoying . Still, he didn't have much choice but to keep training small spells like that, because accordingly with Leon's calculations, his spells were leveling up four times faster while he was using them against Jorhorn .

'I can't wait to obtain Volt's powers... even small spells will be useful since they can electrocute my enemies . '

Still, eventually, Jorhorn got tired of being Leon's target practice, and no one else felt like helping Leon . Their excuse was that they needed to conserve their strength for their future operations .

‘So, it is going to be like that...‘

In the end, Leon was already expecting something like that . However, even if it was slower leveling up his skills against the monsters in the sea, it didn't really matter, because alone, he could level up Lion's Pride . The next time Leon decided to train on the ocean, Jorhorn tried to stop him, but this time Leon paid him no mind and used Transfer . He immediately appeared underwater, and even though several monsters came to attack him, he survived because no mermaid was nearby . It didn't take long for a pair of merpeople to appear, though .

Leon wondered what Jertien was planning, but it looked he didn't have anything in mind since Jorhorn was always making unpleasant expressions while looking at them . In any case, it looked like Jorhorn didn't like the

After hunting angels quite frequently for two weeks, Leon helped them, and at the same time, he leveled up his skills . However, it looked he would have to stop that because Jorhorn was planning to attack the base of the angels on that continent . Much to their surprise, they had one, and after looking around for a while, they found where it was... it was in front of the chimeras dungeon .

‘Our plan is simple,’ Jorhorn said after he declared the attack . ‘Kill every single angel that is nearby that dungeon . This time we can go all out because we can’t risk letting any of them live and report about our presence to that guy . ‘

Leon was tired of hearing about that guy without knowing his name, it was evident that he was the boss of the dungeons on that world, but until now, Jorhorn or any other didn’t tell Leon about his abilities .

‘How strong is ’that guy’?’ Leon asked .

‘... The army of angels has six leaders, and they are more or less two or three times stronger than the average angel in terms of health, mana, and stamina,’ Alurelle explained . ‘However, the problem is their skills and battle experience . You saw that the ordinary dungeons attack us without thinking all that much . However, those six don’t make any mistakes, and they use all their abilities from the very beginning... They can become spheres of light, and by activating that, we can’t even accompany them with our eyes... they are so fast and deadly that we are only alive thanks to a stupid amount of luck . ‘

‘So, it is a spell similar to the one Donan uses,’ Leon said .

Sponsored Content

(function() { googletag.display( 'div-gpt-ad-InStory-3' ); });

‘Yes, but much more effective,’ Alurette nodded . ‘Donan doesn’t have the body to withstand that skill for a long time, so the level of his Dark Aura is probably low . We can react to Donan’s attacks, but not to those six... if we want to succeed, we have to take them down one at a time . If we try to face two of them, we will, without a doubt, fail . ‘

Leon wondered why his luck had to be so terrible... the enemy has six generals, and all of them were much more dangerous than Donan . Since they didn’t fool around, it was impossible to catch them off guard . Leon’s Mana Armor would probably prevent him from instant death . However, for how long ?

It would be quite a sight to see those seven going all out, and Leon would make sure to observe everything with his eyes wide open for many reasons . Anyway, even before decisive battles, Leon didn’t tend to rest . So, he just practiced Gravity and Telekinesis on himself to increase their effectiveness . His new spells would level up a lot using against the angels, but he would have to hit them for that to happen, and for the time being, using spells like those on such opponents was a waste of time and mana .

Although it was a bit hard to travel at night, Leon and the others didn’t have difficulties while flying and killing the angels they found along the way . It was quite easy to find them, after all . One just had to follow the trail of destruction and fire, the more recent the trail, the easier it would be to find one .

‘I guess light magic is really a combination of all four basic elements... but to make them combine like this, it looks like I will have to reach a terrific level in creating all basic types of elemental magic . ‘

Leon concluded that after seeing a perfect hole on the ground, even though it was minimal, he could see signs of earth and water magic in those holes . The extremity of the places that got hit by Arrow of Light of similar projectiles was a little wet, and at the same time, there was a sign that something that had mass, splattered the dirt that didn't melt . Since the burning smell was intense, it was evident that fire was part of that kind of attack . As for wind... Leon didn't identify any signs of wind magic on those attacks, but there was no reason to believe that it wasn't part of the combination .

Leon couldn't help but frown while looking at the 'camp' of the angels . There were no patrols, no barracks, tents... nothing . They were only sleeping on the ground without caring for the cold of the night and the rough feeling of the ground on their bodies . Some angels were guarding the dungeon and waiting expectantly for some chimeras to appear, but there was no sign of them . There was a bonfire in the middle of their 'camp,' but only that...

‘I can't help but wonder what their end goal is...‘ Leon frowned . ‘They want to kill all monsters, but then what? Why they don't even think of building a society here ?‘

‘It doesn't matter,‘ Ivolaer smiled excitedly . ‘They will die, so it doesn't matter . ‘

‘That would be the case if they are the only ones who are still... but it isn’t,’ Genelosa sighed . ‘The only way to discover that would be by talking with their leaders, but even though they are not vicious, they aren’t talkative either, when they see someone who doesn’t have wings on their backs . ‘

Leon wondered what Jertien was planning, but it looked he didnt have anything in mind since Jorhorn was always making unpleasant expressions while looking at them . Much to their surprise, they had one, and after looking around for a while, they found where it was... it was in front of the chimeras dungeon .

Our plan is simple, Jorhorn said after he declared the attack . Kill every single angel that is nearby that dungeon . This time we can go all out because we cant risk letting any of them live and report about our presence to that guy .

Leon was tired of hearing about that guy without knowing his name, it was evident that he was the boss of the dungeons on that world, but until now, Jorhorn or any other didnt tell Leon about his abilities .

How strong is that guy ? Leon asked .

... The army of angels has six leaders, and they are more or less two or three times stronger than the average angel in terms of health, mana, and stamina, Alurette explained . However, the problem is their skills and battle experience . You saw that the ordinary dungeons attack us without thinking all that much . However, those six dont make any mistakes, and they use all their abilities from the very beginning... They can become spheres of light, and by activating that, we cant even accompany them with our eyes... they are so fast and deadly that we are only alive thanks to a stupid amount of luck .

So, it is a spell similar to the one Donan uses, Leon said .

Yes, but much more effective, Alurette nodded . Donan doesnt have the body to withstand that skill for a long time, so the level of his Dark Aura is probably low . We can react to Donans attacks, but not to those six... if we want to succeed, we have to take them down one at a time . If we try to face two of them, we will, without a doubt, fail .

Leon wondered why his luck had to be so terrible... the enemy has six generals, and all of them were much more dangerous than Donan . Since they didnt fool around, it was impossible to catch them off guard . Leons Mana Armor would probably prevent him from instant death . However, for how long ?

It would be quite a sight to see those seven going all out, and Leon would make sure to observe everything with his eyes wide open for many reasons . Anyway, even before decisive battles, Leon didnt tend to rest . So, he just practiced Gravity and Telekinesis on himself to increase their effectiveness . His new spells would level up a lot using against the angels, but he would have to hit them for that to happen, and for the time being, using spells like those on such opponents was a waste of time and mana .

Although it was a bit hard to travel at night, Leon and the others didnt have difficulties while flying and killing the angels they found along the way . It was quite easy to find them, after all . One just had to follow the trail of destruction and fire, the more recent the trail, the easier it would be to find one .

I guess light magic is really a combination of all four basic elements... but to make them combine like this, it looks like I will have to reach a terrific level in creating all basic types of elemental magic .

Leon concluded that after seeing a perfect hole on the ground, even though it was minimal, he could see signs of earth and water magic in those holes . The extremity of the places that got hit by Arrow of Light of similar projectiles was a little wet, and at the same time, there was a sign that something that had mass, splattered the dirt that didnt melt . Since the burning smell was intense, it was evident that fire was part of that kind of attack . As for wind... Leon didnt identify any signs of wind magic on those attacks, but there was no reason to believe that it wasnt part of the combination .

Leon couldnt help but frown while looking at the camp of the angels . There were no patrols, no barracks, tents... nothing . They were only sleeping on the ground without caring for the cold of the night and the rough feeling of the ground on their bodies . Some angels were guarding the dungeon and waiting expectantly for some chimeras to appear, but there was no sign of them . There was a bonfire in the middle of their camp, but only that...

I cant help but wonder what their end goal is... Leon frowned . They want to kill all monsters, but then what? Why they dont even think of building a society here ?

It doesnt matter, Ivolaer smiled excitedly . They will die, so it doesnt matter .

That would be the case if they are the only ones who are still... but it isnt, Genelosa sighed . The only way to discover that would be by talking with their leaders, but even though they are not vicious, they arent talkative either, when they see someone who doesnt have wings on their backs .

Novel Chapter 320

Chapter 320: 320

After those seven positioned themselves around the dungeon, Leon started to fly above where the battle would happen . He was two hundred meters above the dungeon, and his job would be to oversee the entire battle and make sure that no angel would escape... even though the possibility of them running away at their own volition was pretty low .

‘At this distance, the effects of Gravity and Telekinesis will be weak... but it should be fine since they are going all out . ‘

The first one to attack had been Inglar . His job was to increase visibility and give the angels one hell of a surprise . Inglar jumped toward the dungeon, and then he fell, he pierced his sword on the ground, a tsunami of fire went to all directions . Not a single angel escaped from his attack, but the damage they suffered wasn't that impressive . However, all the trees nearby got burn to a crisp .

It wasn't his style to start with ranged attacks, but Ivolaer raised his sword and made lightning bolts fall around the dungeon, and not a single of them fell nearby Inglar . At the same time, Jertien made it fall his ten meters long meteor on the angels that were being electrocuted, and those who escaped those three areas of effect attacks got hit by a rain of magic arrows, Ismenria created .

‘Now!’ Jorhorn shouted .

Everyone with the sole exception of Leon and Ismenria jumped and landed near the dungeon . Leon hoped to see a battle, but in reality, what happened was a carnage . The angels, after getting hit by three massive areas of effect attacks, didn't even have time to recover and got smashed like ants and pierced like pigs . In less than a minute, five hundred were killed .

‘As expected, their power is crazy... I probably can't endure their attacks on their giant form, but the same probably won't happen in their smaller size . ‘

Leon also could survive the sea of fire Inglar could create, but the same things didn't apply to Jertien's Ice Meteors and Ivolaer's Lightning Bolts . He could use Transfer to escape, but the window to notice the attack and escape as small .

Regardless, after the battle, it was time to look for items . For some reason, the weapons of the angels disappear when they die . Even when Leon tried to keep one alive to keep its weapon, his hands got burned when he touched... as if it was an item that belonged only to the angels...

Over the course of the last three weeks, Leon and others found some tomes, but nothing very impressive . In fact, even though the tomes gave powerful spells, Leon already knew them . Fire Lance, Lighting, Ice Lance were of those who appeared . Since everyone worked more or less with the operation, the tome would go to the one who finds it first . Usually, Ismenria would be the one to see since she had good eyes, but Leon had the advantage since he was flying above the battlefield and found the only one that appeared .(function() { googletag.display('div-gpt-ad-InStory-1'); });

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Acid Sphere .

Cooldown time: 05 seconds .

You obtained 01 status points .

‘Acid Sphere?’ Leon murmured while he was frowning .(function()
{ googletag.display(‘div-gpt-ad-InStory-3’); });

Learn such a spell Leon never thought of creating was excellent and all, but the cooldown time was annoying . Still, Leon was a bit interested in how one could create acid using mana . Most likely, it was a combination of three elements instead of two . Which elements? Leon had no idea... the things he learned at his chemistry classes had been long gone forgotten .

‘Well, it is a free spell... I won’t be able to level up like the others, but it may come in handy .‘

It was the third spell Leon learned by using a tome, it wasn’t weak like Freeze Lance, but it wasn’t incredibly powerful like Summon Zombie, so Leon was sure that it wasn’t a trap or something like that... possibly .

Although they were sentient beings but acted a little bit like mindless monsters, Leon hesitated in testing that spell on the corpses of the angels . He felt like it was disrespectful... even though he was a man who sealed the spirits of monsters in items . In the end, Leon decided to test on a random rock that didn’t melt after getting hit by Inglar’s attack, even though it was possibly powerful, it was only a level one skill . It wouldn’t damage the bodies of angels that had high-level resistances .

‘Mmm... it isn’t half bad .‘

Leon shot the Acid Sphere, and it melted a part of a rock and created a hole that it had the size of the Acid Sphere, which was the size of a human head . It would be useful against monsters that had high-defense, noticing the potential, Leon had an idea . Even though he had to wait five seconds to cast another Acid Sphere, if he wanted, using Multi-Conjuration, he could cast nine of those and level it up much faster... if he has a powerful target .

‘I guess I will test it on the chimeras . ‘

Leon reunited with the others and frowned when he saw Inglar and Ivolaer stepping on the bodies of the angels . Leon already expected that, but it looked like Inglar was quite vicious as well . It couldn't be helped; they lost their planets to those creatures and probably saw several of their friends and relatives being killed by them, after all .

‘What is the plan now, brother ?‘ Alurette asked .

‘We will use this place as a temporary base,‘ Jorhorn declared . ‘Hunting chimeras should help us somewhat, and we will also need to store potions and anything useful that we may found on the dungeon shop . ‘

Leon opened his eyes widely; he had forgotten about checking the dungeon shops of that world . Still, he wondered if he would find something useful for him . Leon had almost had one hundred million coins... he certainly was bound to find something, right ?
