Novel Chapter 361

Chapter 361: 361

‘ . . . What?’ Leon asked astonished .

Leon couldn’t believe his ears, so he asked that on a foolish tone . He was making a face as if he was a kid who just learned that Santa Claus doesn’t exist . . .

‘ I left two years ago . . . ‘ Leon said . ‘What kind of joke is this?’

Again, Leon couldn’t believe his ears . That didn’t make any sense . If that was a joke, Anton was going a bit too far . He knew that Leon’s goal was to return home, and that kind of thing was bad for his heart .

‘No, no, no . . . ‘Leon massaged his eyebrows . ‘You didn’t say that twenty years have passed since I left . . . you said twenty months, right?’

‘ . . . It looks like the assimilation affects the worlds much more than we imagined,’ Anton said . ‘Most likely, time passes ten times more slowly . The higher the planet is on the stage of assimilation . ‘

That was the last thing Leon wanted to hear, he considered the possibility that something like that would happen in different worlds, but he didn't consider that the process of assimilation would cause that, much less be so drastic .

'Three and a half years . . . it means thirty-five years . . .' Leon's face turned white . 'two years there, was twenty years here . . . then two hundred years on Earth . . .

Leon started to tremble, that was a bad joke . . . that had to be a bad joke, it has to be . He couldn't, nor did he want to believe that two hundred years have passed on Earth since the time he left .

'Damn it . . . that fucking bastard . . .' Leon bit his lips . 'I would kill him if he were alive . '

' . . . What are you talking about?' Anton said .

'I'm talking about your dead fucking leader!' Leon shouted . 'The bastard probably knew that, and he didn't tell me . . . fucking asshole . '

The moment Leon said that the guards prepared themselves to attack . However, using Telekinesis, Leon sent them flying toward the walls of the research center . After that, he locked them there, creating steel rings .

'Try to attack me again, and the next time I will bury all of you alive,' Leon declared .

Without waiting for them to resist, Leon flew toward the north, where he was hoping to find the building where Darya was . He still couldn't believe what he heard, but little by little, things started to make sense . That kind of time dilation was probably part of the system, even if a powerful being can't act directly on some worlds, he could send and train powerful minions to those places and do the dirty job for him . That time dilation was a means to help the inhabitants of the new worlds being assimilated to have enough time to grow stronger . Leon didn't know if that was a natural thing or not, but it was terrible for him nonetheless .

‘While I was on Dasaliv or Celosie, a dungeon connecting this world to Earth could have appeared... Shit, shit... why my luck has to be so rotten...’

‘That damn lizard bastard... I will kill him! I will kill him in the most painful way possible!’

It didn't take long for Leon to find another massive building, that was probably the place where Darya was . Since now he couldn't waste even a second, Leon broke the windows of the top floor only to find Darya talking with men and women . They seemed to be high-ranked officials, but Leon couldn't care less about that .

‘All of you, leave,’ Leon said . ‘I need to talk with her .’

‘You!’ Darya got up, annoyed .

‘Give them the order to them leave, now,’ Leon ordered . ‘Or they will leave using the windows, and I will make sure that they won't be able to use Fly or Telekinesis .’

Although those people were powerful, they hesitated to face Leon . They grew stronger over the last twenty years, but their mana still couldn't be compared to Leon's . In fact, some of them still could remember him and even remember the stated he brought Donan back to the surface . He wasn't someone they had any chances of winning, even by joining their forces .

'I'm running out of patience here...' Leon said and then took out the Malahk's sword from his magic box .

'It is okay...' Darya said . 'We will resume this meeting later . Go, he doesn't have any intentions of killing me . '

Darya's tone was much different since the last time Leon heard her, even though her overall appearance didn't change all that much . In those twenty years, she didn't only inherit Donan's position . She became the true leader of that world . That was obvious since no one dared to disobey her . Leon was happy to see Darya, despite the unpleasantness she was showing in her eyes... Still, there was no time to chat .

'Did he tell you?' Leon asked .

'Who told me what?' Darya frowned .

'Your grandfather... did he told you about time dilation?' Leon asked again .

'Time dilation? He never mentioned anything like it...' Darya said . 'Did you discover something about that subject?'

In the end, there was no point for that shadowy figure to say anything about the differences of time on different planets . Leon just went ahead assumed that was the case because he was too mad... that kind of information only interested Leon, because he was the only one who could travel between planets and was far away from his own planet .

Chapter 362: 362

Although that was impossible for the time being, Leon decided to share the knowledge with Darya, because in the future, they might have the technology to travel to a world that is a lower stage of assimilation . They could send their soldiers to that world to practice their skills and obtain power faster... even though the enemies would be weaker .

‘I see... times pass ten times faster in worlds that are in the lower stages of assimilation,’ Darya nodded to herself . ‘I guess we must study and improve our movement spells more and also develop our telescopes . About that, what did you...’

‘Forget about that,’ Leon said . ‘Did any new dungeon appeared while I was away ? Did one of the inactive dungeons became active again, and beings like me started to appear?’

‘No... we monitor all dungeons down below,’ Darya answered . ‘I also go there quite frequently, and I have never seen anyone like you .’

That was a stupid question, considering how much the people of Miebos changed in just a few decades, it wouldn't be weird that the humans of the earth changed and evolved .

‘Did you see any sentient being leaving the dungeons?’ Leon asked .

‘... Only the liches, and they are not even that smart . ‘ Darya frowned .

‘Shit... shit!’ Leon shouted and punched the floor, making the entire building tremble . ‘Why it has to be like this ? Damn you... fucking lizard . ‘

It took quite a while for Leon to calm down, he wasn’t holding back his anger, much less his strength . Although he was tapping his feet on the ground, slowly, the whole room was getting full of cracks .

‘... Did your grandfather said anything to you ?’ Leon said after breathing in deeply for several minutes . ‘How did he die ?’

‘We analyzed his body after the death, but we didn’t find the cause,’ Darya looked away, trying to hide her sadness . ‘The only thing we discovered was that his internal organs just aged too much for some reason... we checked the bodies of the warriors that once lived down below, but we didn’t find any anomaly . So, the cause wasn’t the distribution of his status... the cause was most likely a disease that we can’t identify with our technology . ‘

‘I see...’ Leon said .

That was a bit suspicious, but Leon had many reasons to believe that the cause of his death was the shadowy figure . He gave Donan powers that his body couldn’t withstand, even though he used it just a few times, the price to use it was too high... it wasn’t a power he obtained naturally, after all .

‘He didn’t say anything in particular on his last days...’ Darya added . ‘He only said that we shouldn’t get near the liches area . ‘

Still... now Leon was facing a problem thanks to him . Should he tell Darya what he did? That he erased her memories time and time again and that he possibly sold his planet for an unknown being? Considering that Darya was now on his position and was working hard to proceed with his ’legacy’ the answer was obvious... or so Leon thought at first . It was impossible to know... Darya was forty years old, even though she looked young as ever, she spent thirty years of her life working for her grandfather, and then of those she was being treated like a tool . She looked happy when she recalled the moments she spent with her grandfather, what would happen to her if the last twenty years of her life were based on a lie?

‘It doesn’t matter, even I tell her... she won’t believe...’

Believe in the words of a relative that treated her well for years or believe in the words of a violent invader? Any sane person would choose the first option...

‘... Why are you so quiet?’ Darya asked .

‘It is nothing...’ Leon sighed . ‘Here, this is a building the harvesters used to rest . It has many interesting machines inside . Eventually, your researchers will be able to understand how it works... it will be handy for the future of this world . Don’t try to use it in the middle of the city, though . You will end up destroying several buildings . ‘

‘... Why are you giving me this?’ Darya frowned .

‘I want to have access to all the archives on the research center, and I want to make use of the soldiers you guys train there,’ Leon said .

‘What?!’ Darya asked, shocked .

‘I won’t reveal the things I learn there to anyone, and I won’t kill any of your subordinates,’ Leon declared . ‘That being said, they will get hurt... many times . ‘

‘This is...’ Darya hesitated .

‘I guess this isn’t enough... I will teach your people how to produce mithril . ‘ Leon said . ‘However, if any of you try to stop me, get on my way, or betray me, prepare yourselves . My retribution will only end when I see this whole continent underwater . ‘

Leon didn't enjoy threatening someone who was once a friend, but in order to prevent the worst-case scenario, he had to make that clear . He didn't feel good causing the end of two races, but he won't stop with two if he is betrayed again . Even if a friend betrays him, he won't be merciful...

Leon didn't have time to think about motivation or things like that . He decided to use the research center at his own convenience to get stronger as fast as he could . So, after giving Darya the tower and the knowledge of how to create mithril, he flew to the research center and went to the archives room while Darya was telling everyone what Leon wanted to do there and how things would proceed for a while .

Much to Leon's surprise, several sections had information about how to learn some warrior's techniques . Those would be useful, but Leon wouldn't have many chances to train it .

Leon started learning the first spells he found, and that seemed easy to replicate . He also practiced them until they reached level thirty, the last three were somewhat easy to learn because Leon saw a similar spell before . . . the Prison of Light . Leon just had to create elemental arrows around the target, and then he learned it . . . after practicing and becoming fast enough .

After spending the first-night practicing those spell and leveling them up, Leon sparred with the soldiers of the building . Leon vs . ten mages . . . and he couldn't use magic . However, that much was fine . He wasn't practicing with them to obtain fight experience . It was to obtain mana for Soul Eater .

While he was flying around the massive training field and dodging the numerous magic projectiles being shot at him, Leon attacked them using Telekinesis and Soul Eater . The power of Soul Eater was the same as the strength of its user, even though it wasn't a weapon that was made for the battlefield, Leon could easily behead those soldiers . . . after he absorbed the mana that kept their Mana Armor active .

Although Leon went easy on them to absorb their mana, they didn't last even two hours . Another group came, but they weren't much better . . . in the end, Leon obtained fifteen million points of mana after defeating ten groups of ten soldiers .

The cost to keep that skill active was absurd, but once Leon gave the order to someone plant his blue angel plants, the problem had been solved . To speed things up, even more, he planned to hire one hundred people to produce mana liquid for him . But Darya managed to hire the people for free . . . at least that was what Leon thought, she just used her influence . Besides, the information of a stranger using the research center at his own convenience couldn't spread, so she choose a group of people who wouldn't spread the word . . . she was preventing information leak .

'I guess she is a totally different person now . The current Darya is the person this world needs, and it would be too cruel to reveal what I know . That being said, not revealing it would be cruel . I guess the best option is the one who makes her suffer less . . . Regardless, I guess training isn't enough . I will ask Darya to investigate the other worlds in order to find a possible connection to the earth . It would be advantageous if they find a spirit, but the chances of that are low . . . '

The chances of Darya risking her soldiers to do that were also quite low, but it wouldn't hurt to ask . Anyway, Leon also decided to transfer some coins to Darya in order to make her duplicate the production of blue angel leaves . Most likely, Soul Eater could work against all enemies, but Leon had no intention of getting close to the shadowy figure or even attack with it to absorb mana . At least, not until he has a good grasp of the enemy's skills . So, if that weren't possible, Leon would use the blue angel leaves to increase the mana stored .

Despite the growth of Swordsmanship, Leon wouldn't use Soul Eater up close, no matter what . Still, he could only hope that the shadowy figure wouldn't notice the effects of such a weapon . Otherwise, Leon would be in dire straits if the weapon would break in the middle of the battle .

Although the people of Miebos focused on increasing the power of their Pyromancy, Geomancy, Criomancy, and skills like that, they sure knew how to emulate several easy spells . Leon was quite interested in learning Cryomancy, but it looked like it would take a while, so he decided to try that later . He already knew what to do, he just had to practice, but bending ice wasn't easy .

‘Ice Fang, huh,’ Leon said while looking at the ice projectile in the shape of a small wolf head . ‘It is pretty cool . . . I wish I had the leisure to attack using cool spells instead of only the powerful ones . ‘

Although Leon was keeping the pace of learning a new spell every day and leveling it up until to the level thirty, he wasn't satisfied enough with that . His magic attacks became three times stronger since he had a lot of free status points; it was all thanks to the fact that he leveled up almost all his skills to the level thirty . . . Still, it wasn't enough . Leon wasn't unsatisfied because the Sword of Light was now three times stronger, it was because he didn't know if only attacking would grant him the victory .

‘The shadowy figure can teleport, so I will have to increase my speed many times if I want to have the reflexes to escape his attacks or anything he throws at me . I can't put points into speed, so my only option is to level up Haste and Electric Armor . ‘

Leveling up Haste wasn't a problem, the cost was, but that was another matter . . . However, using Electric Armor wasn't only very costly to his mana, but his health as well . After hearing about Donan's death, Leon got quite wary of Electric Armor, it wasn't as powerful as Dark Aura, but it had several similarities . Even though mana increased the lifespan of everyone, Donan still died due to the effects of Dark Aura . . . So, Leon had to be careful with those skills that boost his physical abilities . Despite all that, it wasn't like he had any other option . Leon would use Transfer, but only that wasn't enough . Just like before, the shadowy figure moved a big distance instantly when Leon met him for the first time . To avoid that kind of power, he would need lightning reflexes .

‘Ugh, it is painful, but eventually Thunder Resistance will level up, and the pain will decrease . . . probably . Besides, leveling up two skills at the same time is very convenient . . . ‘

Once Leon deactivated Electric Armor, he saw the burn marks all over his body . . . It already reached a point where Regeneration alone couldn’t help his body fast enough . . . Even though Regeneration was at a higher level .

‘No pain, no gain . . . ‘

Although Leon could see his spells becoming faster and stronger, he didn’t test the power of his skills on a real enemy . Most of his spells made the training field tremble when he was practicing then, but Leon was missing the feeling of feedback when he attacks someone . So, as a test, he decided to use Gravity on the guys of the research center . . . the result had been very satisfactory . Since every one thousand points, the power of Leon’s magic power increased by one hundred percent . His Gravity now could stop the mages of the research in less than a second . In fact, the pressure of his skill had been so powerful that their legs snapped, and some started to choke .

‘I guess putting all my points in intelligence was a good choice . . . I should keep doing this for the time being . The problem is . . . for how long?’

Leon couldn’t wait to see how powerful the Sword of Light had become, but he wouldn’t find a suitable target on that planet . Besides, if Leon uses such an attack, the undead trent might feel it and inform its master . . . It was a much better idea to keep increasing the expectation and then surprise the shadowy figure with everything he has . In any case, if more than a hundred years have passed on Earth, then the place was probably already on the second stage of assimilation . Time was passing on Miebos at the same time on Earth, but it was hard to know for how long Miebos would stay on that stage . . . that world was full of mages, after all .

Novel Chapter 365

Chapter 365: 365

After one month of training, Leon felt like it was time to study some other types of magic instead of offensive ones . Thanks to the presence of the hulky warriors, the number of physical skills increased, it looked like a good idea to study them . Still, considering that Leon destroyed his arm in a single punch against Donan, it was clear that only some evasive skills would be useful .

‘Did you guys manage to develop some kind of spell that can make a person split in two?’ Leon asked .

‘Is that supposed to be some kind of joke?’ Darya frowned . ‘Of course not . . . You went to the harvesters’ world, right? You didn’t find anything like that there, and you think you will find it here?’

‘I think that my luck stat is bugged . . . I spent almost two years there, but I didn’t find a single tome there myself . By the way, how high is your luck? Mine is forty-two . If I am using a ring, it is eighty-four . ‘

‘I didn’t ask . . . ‘ Darya frowned . ‘Mine is pretty high; it is two hundred fifty-five . . . while the average on the people of this world is one hundred and ten . . . my soldiers don’t increase their luck because their value is around that and they obtain plenty of tomes when they hunt . ‘

Leon nodded, in the end, he was an abnormality in many senses . His luck wasn’t that high, but it didn’t make sense for him to be so unlucky... he was probably cursed or something, and that would explain why the holy sword was still sealed .

‘What about summoning spells,’ Leon said . ‘Did you guys made some progress in that area ?‘

‘No, after you and the harvesters left, we started to explore other planets and found some runes in several places,’ Daria explained . ‘We tried to use those runes to combine them together, but we didn’t learn anything . We hoped that those runes would help us in that area, but that wasn’t the case . ‘

‘Did you guys develop any non-combat spell that could be useful at all ?‘
Leon asked .

‘You talk as if we are a bunch of brutes who enjoy fighting against monsters . . . ‘ Darya glared at Leon . ‘We have some spells that fit those criteria . . . Dense Fog, Sharp Eyes, Sonic Scream . . . ‘

‘Now that I think about it, your grandfather obtained the power to create the Poison Mist down below, right?’ Leon asked .

‘Yes . . . we don’t have any need for that anymore,’ Darya answered .

‘However, that power was obtained thanks to a relic . . . we can’t replicate such large scale spell yet . ‘

‘I see . . . ‘ Leon nodded . ‘Well, I guess I should look for the most useful spells since they seemed to be quite complicated . . . ‘

Cost: 50 mana

Dense Fog was the easiest spell to learn, the fog that appeared was naturally thicker, and as it levels up, the range of the spell would increase . It was just a combination of wind and fire, after all .

‘Sharp Eyes will help me to increase the distance I can cover using Transfer . . . but I guess even if it reaches the max level, my eyes won’t be better than a telescope . . . ‘

It was just a small detail, but Leon only learned Sharp Eyes when he focused his mana on his pupil . Little by little, his eyesight increased, but Leon only noticed the difference when it reached level ten . Like other skills, it only increased the power and efficiency by one percent . However, eventually, even at that pace, it would reach a very useful point .

Although Sonic Scream couldn’t cause a lot of damage, it could stun most targets . . . as long as it reaches a decent point . Even better, it couldn’t be countered by Mana Armor and Mana Shield, even if the target covers his ears, the sound would be absorbed by their skin .

‘What about spells that can stop magic?’ Leon asked .

‘Why would we research that?’ Darya frowned .

In the end, Leon could only shrug . It was a waste of time for the inhabitants of Miebos to research that kind of thing . . . it was like creating a weapon that could cause their doom .

‘Well, it isn’t like a mage wouldn’t have counter-measures against that . Even if I manage to seal his magic powers, it doesn’t mean that I can win in a close combat fight . . . he certainly has a few tricks up his sleeve . ‘

It was kind of hard learning new techniques when Leon’s sole goal was to return to Earth, and his enemy was probably a ten thousand years old creature . . . Everything Leon could think of sounded childish against someone so long-lived . The more Leon thought about it, the more it made sense that the only way for him to return home was to overpower a being that probably was considered to be a deity on his own planet . . . it was insane .

‘What about a spell that can suck the mana of a target from a safe distance?’ Leon asked .

‘ . . . We are researching how to drain the mana from monsters,’ Darya frowned . ‘But only someone like you would think of such a convenient trick could be learned so easily and fast . ‘

Leon could only nod . He thought that if he alone couldn’t learn something in a few years, a group of people could discover how to replicate that in a few weeks . . . Regardless, Leon still had some time to see how things would work out . He didn’t know how much time he has, but he had to wait for some things while he prepares himself . One of them was the massive telescope made of mithril he asked Darya to build .

In the end, Leon had to return and learn new 'offensive' spells . The researchers managed to find some nice non-combat spells, but Leon didn't find much use in learning them since his current goal was to defeat the shadowy figure . Although he had to prepare himself for all possible situations that may happen during the battle, he more or less had the means to avoid the worst possible outcome using Sharp Eyes and other spells combined .

Regardless, based on what Leon knew, the chances of the shadowy figure having the means to drain elemental attacks were quite high . Even if that wasn't the case, he was pretty sure that using the element shadow, he could nullify those attacks greatly . The same probably couldn't apply to Plasma Bullet and the spells of the light element, but Leon still wanted other tricks . Things like Acid Sphere would be nice, but the researchers didn't develop anything like it .

'Using one of my magic bows, I can use Poison Arrow . Acid Sphere will also help me . . . I wanted to learn more spells of that class, that being said, I won't have time to level them up . '

Leon actually had time; he just didn't want to train because it was more efficient learning several easy spells and obtaining some status points by leveling them up . One month has passed since Leon returned to Miebos, and even though he was focused on the task of getting stronger, he barely could endure the weight of his worries and doubts . Was Earth still fine? Were his friends alive and well? He didn't do much, but he worked to make everyone work together . . . he was hoping that someone worked hard to keep the nations helping each other . But that kind of thing was hard to achieve . . .

even before the monsters appeared, only people with power could influence others to that extent .

Leon was losing his focus, but it couldn’t be helped due to his current situation . . . Fortunately, he recovered his focus when he found a group of new spells .

‘We discovered those spells soon after grandfather died . . . ‘ Darya explained . ‘When you cast them, the elemental swords stay near you and attack anything or anyone that wants to attack you . You can cast one more sword after leveling the skill ten times, the cost of mana will increase, though . ‘

That was kind of obvious; it would be weird if he could cast more elemental swords using the same amount of mana . Regardless, it was very cool to keep those magic swords floating around Leon, and it was even better than he didn’t have to control them to attack or to protect himself .

‘I don’t think Multi-Conjuration can cancel the weakness of the spell, but it is still handy... even I can’t summon more than one at a time, but I can cast several of them one after the other since there is no cooldown time . ‘

Those spells would help to increase Leon’s offensive capabilities; it was worth leveling them up past level thirty? It was almost impossible to reach a conclusion... Leon didn’t know much about the shadowy figure, after all .

‘I wish I could obtain some information first before facing that thing... I could create a powerful zombie, but I won’t be able to see anything unless I use the purple crystal too . The best option would be the undead trent since the most powerful monsters are krakens and ancient whales... but they can’t cross the dungeon . Besides, can I turn into a zombie, an undead creature that is already working for someone else ?“

It was very unlikely, even if Leon manages to create a zombie using an undead trent, the chances of that thing coming back to life under the control of the shadowy figure were quite high .

Leon decided to put the plans of strengthening the elemental auxiliary swords aside; those would probably be useful in the future . But instead of using that, Leon decided to count on ‘his’ most powerful attack, which was the Sword of Light, and on his absolute defensive spell, Mana Armor .

‘Just to be safe, I guess I should also leave Mind Armor activated . . . ‘

Although Leon didn’t know much about the enemy, he knew that it would be his end if he ends up falling into an illusion . Unlike against the mermaids, Leon probably wouldn’t escape the illusion of the shadowy figure .

Those spells would help to increase Leons offensive capabilities; it was worth leveling them up past level thirty? It was almost impossible to reach a conclusion... Leon didnt know much about the shadowy figure, after all .

I wish I could obtain some information first before facing that thing... I could create a powerful zombie, but I wont be able to see anything unless I use the purple crystal too . The best option would be the undead trent since the most powerful monsters are krakens and ancient whales... but they cant cross the dungeon . Besides, can I turn into a zombie, an undead creature that is already working for someone else ?

It was very unlikely, even if Leon manages to create a zombie using an undead trent, the chances of that thing coming back to life under the control of the shadowy figure were quite high .

In the end, Im already taking too many risks fighting against an unknown being . . . I dont need to take more risks leveling up skills that I dont know if it will be effective or not .

Leon decided to put the plans of strengthening the elemental auxiliary swords aside; those would probably be useful in the future . But instead of using that, Leon decided to count on his most powerful attack, which was the Sword of Light, and on his absolute defensive spell, Mana Armor .

Just to be safe, I guess I should also leave Mind Armor activated . . .

Although Leon didnt know much about the enemy, he knew that it would be his end if he ends up falling into an illusion . Unlike against the mermaids, Leon probably wouldnt escape the illusion of the shadowy figure .

‘I guess it won’t be possible to keep that pace and increase my intelligence so much . . . Since that is the case, I should learn more spells like Plasma Bullet .‘

Leon couldn’t level up Sword of Light, so it was better to learn and level up a more powerful version of Plasma Bullet . The problem was, for how long? The cost of mana would be huge, and the more time he spends training, the less mana he will be able to store in Soul Eater .

‘Maybe I’m a bit too cautious . . . This should be more than enough mana to deal with a being who lived probably one hundred times longer than me, right?’

It was impossible to know . . . the fact that the creature had to use one thousand liches to be summoned and couldn’t even stay for long on another planet was proof enough that Leon wasn’t too careful in any way . Still, Leon would never feel satisfied with his preparations . Using blue angel leaves alone, Leon could increase the mana stored on Soul Eater by ten million points, but he didn’t feel satisfied with that . Because he didn’t want to fail . . . and die after struggling so much, would leave him with so many regrets . . . even after surviving crazy situations time and time again .

‘Whatever . . . even if I fail, I won’t be able to hear anyone complaint, and as far as I know, the Amanda, Maya, and everyone else already forgot about me . . . they probably concluded that I died a long time ago . . . ‘

In the end, Leon recalled that feeling he had just before he fell on the ocean, he accepted his death, but tried a little more just in case and bet on his small chance of survival . After everything Leon experienced in the last nine years, he wasn’t scared of dying . . . he was scared of giving up . He wanted to return home as soon as possible because it would be useless to return if the people he cares about were no longer there .

Leon spent one month to level up Plasma Arrow up to level one hundred, once the skill reached level fifty, he could one-shot kill krakens and ancient horned whales . So, Leon was more than satisfied with the power of his new spell .

Soul Eater

It drains and stores all the mana of enemy foes .

Mana Stored: 16251369741

‘I guess this is enough . . . with his much mana, I will be able to use Sword of Light combined with Fast Conjunction and Multi-Conjunction for more than one day without stopping . . . I can only hope that this will be enough .

Leon decided to take a day off before facing the shadowy figure . Fortunately, he was quite close to the first island he used alongside Darya and decided to go there . Any signs of their actions there disappeared . Still, that much was fine, Leon just decided to lay on the sand and just sleep . Even though Leon’s Mana Armor was active, he still didn’t manage to relax . Despite that, no monster came even close to Leon .

‘ I guess the monsters can feel my mana and understand that they don’t stand a chance . . . ‘

In the end, Leon soon got bored . . . it was too late, he had already become a workaholic . Regardless, Leon headed toward the liches’ dungeon . It didn’t take long for him to arrive there, and surprisingly, he wasn't nervous .

However, he got surprised when he saw Darya in front of the dungeon alone .

'What are you doing here?' Leon frowned .

'I'm just doing some inspections,' Darya answered . 'So, why did you leave those magic items behind?'

'It was payment for the help,' Leon answered . 'Well, it was nice to see you here . 'googletag.cmd.push(function() { googletag.display('div-gpt-ad-InStory-1 '); });

'... Aren't you going to enter this dungeon?' Darya asked .

'Nope, I was just passing by,' Leon said and then used Transfer .

Leon didn't understand, but that coincidence was a bit strange . So, Leon decided to hide and wait until Darya leaves, but after several hours, she was still standing in front of the dungeon .

'What the hell is she doing here?'

Something was off... Still, Leon had no idea why Darya was there . She didn't show any signs that she recovered her memories, after all . Anyway, it looked like Leon would spend too much time waiting for her to leave .

'Seriously, what are you doing here?' Leon asked once he returned to the entrance of the dungeon .

‘... I dreamed about this place,’ Darya answered while looking at the dungeon .

‘I always wondered why I had the skill to summon lesser spirits while others didn’t,’ Darya said . ‘Grandfather said that once I decided to explore a dungeon and found by coincidence, two spirits that were about to die... He said that I went to that dungeon alone, but I once dreamed that I met two spirits, and I wasn’t alone . ‘googletag.cmd.push(function()
{ googletag.display(‘div-gpt-ad-InStory-3’); });

Leon wondered how that was possible . He knew that the spell to erase memories couldn’t be countered, and the lost memories couldn’t be recovered . That kind of magic was useful, but it was so repulsive that Leon didn’t even think once of learning . Killing an enemy on a battle was the result of several things, it couldn’t be helped sometimes, but erasing the memories of anyone was disgusting beyond reason .

‘I don’t remember the face of the person, but I think it was you,’ Darya said . ‘In the dream, I couldn’t see your face or body clearly, but the shadow used the same spells you used during some fights against monsters . ‘

‘You are just imagining things...’ Leon looked away a bit perplexed .

‘ . . . Before the death of my grandfather, I also had several dreams where I was going to the research center,’ Darya explained . ‘For some reason, I don’t remember anything inside the research center, but I remember the day where I stopped going there . . . that day someone pointed a spear at me . . . I remember that person’s voice . It was yours . ‘

‘ . . . Aren’t you dreaming a bit too much?’ Leon gulped . ‘Considering that you are forty years old?’

‘How did you know how old I am?’ Darya asked .

‘Well . . . you are the most important person of this world, politically speaking,’ Leon said . ‘That kind of information is common knowledge . . .’

‘Only my grandfather and I know how old I am . . .’ Darya said . ‘Right now, that information is a secret, and I don’t plan to reveal to anyone since there are people much older than me, and they would use my age as an excuse to take my place . Well . . . it doesn’t matter . I just want to confirm if those dreams are just hallucinations or if they really happened . Look at me in the eye and tell me if they happened or not .’

Novel Chapter 369

Chapter 369: 369

Leon told Darya everything that happened since the very first moment that they met . Darya spent the entire time looking to the ground without moving an inch, in the end, she didn't even flinch when Leon mentioned that Donan erased her memories . . . many times .

'I see . . . it makes sense,' Darya said .

'How so?' Leon asked .

'Grandfather said many things when he was about to die . . . ' Darya said .
'I'm sorry . . . he said that many times . He was feeling guilty to the point where he couldn't even look at me in the eye . He probably also erased the memories of anyone who knew about my job at the research center . Just to make sure I would inherit his position one day . . . '

Leon frowned, he couldn't imagine that his beating could have changed Donan all that much . Maybe if he had some preaching skill or the 'Talk no Jutsu' from Naruto... but he didn't . It was impossible to know if it was due to remorse or if it Darya was that capable, but both options were possible .

'Anyway, it looks like you didn't even try to rescue me,' Darya said . 'You dislike my company that much, or was I really useless . '

'... I knew that he would erase your memories and treat you well after that,' Leon said . 'Once, I confirmed that there was nothing I could do... you looked quite happy too . My path would be hard, and I didn't know if I would succeed or not . So, I decided not to involve you any further . '

'That is true . I was quite happy, but still...' Darya bit her lips . 'I can't blame you... What should I do now ? Everything around me is based on lies, and everything I worked for is based on those lies...'

'Just keep doing your best,' Leon said . 'It looks like Donan regretted his actions... until now, you didn't regret assuming his place . So, why should you abandon everything you worked for in the last ten years ?'

'It is so easy to solve a problem when you aren't related to it...' Darya looked away . 'Even if I do that, the doubts in my mind will never disappear... I will go with you . '

'Ha-ha, very funny...' Leon said . 'You aren't going anywhere, much less with me . I'm going to face a troublesome enemy, and I don't want your help . '

‘I can’t stay in this world anymore, but I can’t just abandon it either...’ Darya said . ‘I will kill the thing that threatens my world... this will be the last thing I will do for this planet . ‘

‘You may think that you remember about this, but the reality is far worse,’ Leon said . ‘I’m far stronger than you now, and I don’t know if I can survive an encounter with that, much less win . ‘

‘Hah, you are dreaming if you think that I only stayed inside a room giving orders these last twenty years,’ Darya said .

‘If you can’t escape even from this, then you can’t even protect yourself from the monster I’m going to fight,’ Leon declared . ‘You can explore other planets as you wanted before, but I’m not going to let you die by following me . Unless you want to get stuck on a sphere of steel, you should step back and think things through . ‘

‘Kuh! Fine! If you don’t want to, then I don’t want to follow you either,’ Darya looked away, annoyed . ‘I will follow my own path... now stop using your Telekinesis . ‘

It looked like Leon made Darya quite mad . Still, he couldn’t back down... the next battle wouldn’t be like the others, so he couldn’t risk the life of a friend . Although she had powerful items, some things couldn’t be overcome by power or skills alone . Besides, Lion’s Pride wouldn’t work if Darya helps him... to keep her safe and to fight with all his power, Leon had to fight alone .

Before leaving, Darya looked at Leon as if she was furious and disappointed . Although she wasn't acting like before the moment, her memories were erased for the last time, that still made Leon feel a bit hurt . Once Darya disappeared in the distance, Leon let out a long sigh and then calmed down his nerves . His next battle would take a lot from him, and he couldn't waste his energy before and due to his apprehension .

After calming down, Leon confirmed that for some reason, there was no lich nearby . Still... Leon didn't drop his guard and proceeded with caution . After walking for half an hour, he didn't find anything, only the roots of an ancient undead trent .

'I don't know if his minions are here, but why he didn't make the boss return ? Probably because this dungeon can't be used both ways like that... Miebos isn't on the third stage of assimilation, after all . ❖❖

It didn't take long before Leon finally found the boss . As expected, the creature was sleeping or meditating; it was hard to know . Regardless, Leon already knew how to deal with that . So he shot several Steel Spears and then used Thunder Ray to fry the undead trent . Leon was in a hurry, even though Thunder Ray was powerful enough to prevent the monsters even from speaking, he also used Flamethrower...

Leon told Darya everything that happened since the very first moment that they met . Darya spent the entire time looking to the ground without moving an inch, in the end, she didnt even flinch when Leon mentioned that Donan erased her memories . . . many times .

Although she had powerful items, some things couldnt be overcome by power or skills alone . Besides, Lion's Pride wouldn't work if Darya helps him... to keep her safe and to fight with all his power, Leon had to fight alone .

Before leaving, Darya looked at Leon as if she was furious and disappointed . Although she wasn't acting like before the moment, her memories were erased for the last time, that still made Leon feel a bit hurt . Once Darya disappeared in the distance, Leon let out a long sigh and then calmed down his nerves . His next battle would take a lot from him, and he couldn't waste his energy before and due to his apprehension .

After calming down, Leon confirmed that for some reason, there was no lich nearby . Still... Leon didn't drop his guard and proceeded with caution . After walking for half an hour, he didn't find anything, only the roots of an ancient undead tree .

I don't know if his minions are here, but why he didn't make the boss return? Probably because this dungeon can't be used both ways like that... Miebos isn't on the third stage of assimilation, after all .

It didn't take long before Leon finally found the boss . As expected, the creature was sleeping or meditating; it was hard to know . Regardless, Leon already knew how to deal with that . So he shot several Steel Spears and then used Thunder Ray to fry the undead tree . Leon was in a hurry, even though Thunder Ray was powerful enough to prevent the monsters even from speaking, he also used Flamethrower...

Novel Chapter 370

Although the undead trent had a lot of health, it didn't last long while being damaged by Leon's attacks . The combination of Flamethrower and Thunder Ray turned the monster into charcoal in a matter of seconds... like always, the beast didn't drop anything .

Leon approached the crystal, but then hesitated a little bit . The other side of the crystal was another world, and the world as a whole was the enemy territory . Leon managed to defeat the angels and harvesters using a few tricks and thanks to the unexpected power of plasma . However, he still wasn't sure if any of those would be helpful against a being that was another level above his previous enemies .

Although he was already ready, Leon checked his gear one more time . On his head he had his sturdy helmet, Leon doubted that it would be useful elementally speaking, at least it would increase his defense . On his back, Leon had the aquatic mithril guard, and inside of it, it was a soul eater . Unless the enemy destroys the shield, he wouldn't see why Leon's mana wasn't decreasing past a certain level .

On his left hand, Leon had the ice fury, his best magic staff . Although he didn't plan on using Ice Meteor, the status bonuses would be useful . Finally, on his right hand, there was the holy sword he got from Malahk... the weapon Leon intended to use to defeat the monster . Leon breathed deeply again to calm his nerves, and then suddenly, he touched the crystal .

The next moment, Leon appeared on the other side . He hopes to analyze the terrain as fast as possible and also locate his target before he is attacked... but he didn't see anything .

‘What the...‘

Leon felt like his eyes were closed, that was the only explanation, but after blinking several times, he confirmed that wasn't the case . He stomped on the ground and confirmed that there was land under him . . . it was hard to be sure, but it looked like he was on an arid area since, by the sound, Leon concluded that he was in a desertic area .

‘You have come...‘ The shadowy figure said . ‘You have guts, boy... you could have become a very useful minion...‘

Instead of answering, Leon used Sword of Light toward the direction the voice came from . Even though seventeen beams of light flew toward that direction, Leon didn't hear anything being hit by it... Even though such an attack was supposed to illuminate the place, it didn't dispel the shadows even a bit .

‘The hell is going on...‘

Leon created a Fireball, but again... nothing happened . Leon could see the Fireball, but he couldn't see anything being illuminated by it . Come to think of it, Leon couldn't feel any presence nearby either... the voice of the shadowy figure was close, but at the same time, the creature wasn't .

‘You have made nice preparations...’ The shadowy figure said . ‘You even managed to obtain a Soul Eater... Still, it is too early for you...’

‘You are brave, boy??’ The shadowy figure laughed . ‘This wouldn't be a fight... I can see that you won't become my minion, but it is too soon for you to become an enemy . Killing you here would be too easy, and I wouldn't obtain anything from it . ‘

‘I see, you want a good fight, huh?’ Leon asked . ‘So, what are you going to do ? I think it would be very convenient for you if I return to Earth, I would have plenty of time to get stronger there thanks to time dilation . ‘

‘Hahaha, nice try, boy,’ The shadowy figure laughed . ‘Giving you time wouldn't be enough to make you stronger . You need to feel true despair to become strong enough to entertain me... you will soon learn that one year in hell will make you much stronger than one thousand years on Earth . ‘

‘... Come on, man... let’s fight,’ Leon said, nervously .

Before Leon could keep taunting the shadowy figure, he felt his equipment being pulled by something . It was Telekinesis, and he couldn’t counter even when he used his own Telekinesis and Electric Armor... Leon lost every single of his items, even his magic box, and Soul Eater . His struggle didn’t last even a second... Leon felt powerless like a newborn baby .

‘You have got to be kidding me...’

Before Leon could notice, he had been teleported to another place . If he couldn’t see the things on the shadowy figure world, Leon now could see things way too well . At first, Leon thought that he was seeing an illusion since everything around him was red or orange, but the crazy heat and stagnated air proved that he wasn’t wrong .

‘The hell is this...’

Leon was inside a cave, and below him, he could see a river of magma . Leon didn’t know how, but the rocks and walls around absorbed so much heat that they were also emitting heat and make Leon feel as if he was indeed in hell . Leon looked around and found a single path leading to his front, on his back, he only saw a dead-end .

‘Son of... a bitch...’ Leon coughs incessantly . ‘Did that bastard really teleport me to hell?’

It was difficult to know if the creature used a figure of speech or not, all that Leon knew was that he was in a hellish hot place . Before he could even start to move, three creatures left the river of magma and flew toward him . They were pretty fast and had humanoid shapes... more important than that, they were made of magma . Leon tried to stop them using Ice Beam, but his spell had become a lot weaker than he recalled... it was because he lost all his items .

‘Shit... I lost my items, and even the environment is decreasing the power of ice spells...‘
