Leon finished another 'training' session with Ilyana wondering if something was wrong with him . Ilyana could even use curses, and even though it wasn't painful being cursed, it was very unpleasant . Still, he didn't feel all that bothered by it . . . Although he didn't trust her completely, Leon didn't imagine that she would attack him while he was in such a state . If she wanted, she could burn Leon to a crisp, after all .

'I'd better not overthink it . . . Efreet,' Leon shook his head and then materialized Efreet . 'You are up now, teach me some useful OFFENSIVE spells . '

' . . . Why did you have to say it like that?' Efreet frowned . 'I'm not Undine . If you become stronger, our duels will become more fun!'

It was refreshing to talk with a spirit that wasn't so troublesome . . . Although Efreet was noisy, he wasn't as difficult to deal with like Undine . . . maybe it was because he wasn't that smart, but Leon was thankful for it, anyway .

'You are not a melee fighter, but the first skill that I will teach you will help you surprise your enemies,' Efreet said and then punched the ground, causing an explosion that could be compared to the explosion of a grenade . 'This skill is called Explosive Touch; you create a dense but small sphere of fire in front of your hand and then attack the enemy . You already know Fire Explosive Arrow, so this should be easy for you . '

'Don't you think that spell is a bit weak?' Leon frowned, looking at the small hole on the ground . '

'I adjusted the strength,' Efreet explained . 'If I had used all my strength, I would have destroyed all your plantation . Bahahaha!'

‘That is not funny, but it sounds like a powerful spell,’ Leon said . ‘Why didn’t I see you using that before?’

‘I tried to use on you,’ Efrete laughed . ‘But you never let me get too close .’

‘Were you trying to kill me?’ Leon raised his voice . ‘Don’t use something so dangerous!’

‘It won’t be fun unless we fight serious, so it can’t be helped,’ Efrete laughed again .

Leon sighed again . . . it was amazing how every single spirit made him changes his opinions about them so frequently . Regardless . . . Leon started his practice . Although he soon managed to replicate the effect, he also damaged himself .

‘Ouch . . .’ Leon was shaking his hand, trying to decrease the heat he was feeling just like that . ‘Why the skill damaged me?’

‘Hahaha, that is what you get from trusting Efrete too much,’ Undine laughed .

Leon shook his head and sighed . . . it was a very troublesome way to train skills, but since his elemental armors were at a low level, Leon decided to practice to obtain those extra status points .

Although it caused some problems, Leon felt pretty cool when he punched the air and caused explosions by activating that skill . The skill was very convenient, and it became much more powerful when Leon used alongside Fast Conjunction . Even though he couldn't punch that fast, every single punch caused at least five explosions . . . it was an excellent way to cause damage while surprising his enemies and train his elemental armors . As for Fire Arrow Shower, Leon didn't have many difficulties since he already knew the others, the only difference was the element of the spell, after all .

'I have some information for you,' Ilyana said, using Telepathy .

‘All right, I will use Transfer and . . . ‘ Leon said .

‘You don’t have to,’ Ilyana interrupted Leon . ‘I just want to inform you that Yuki sent some of her soldiers as ambassadors to talk with Gisela and Hector . Neither side is showing any ill feelings until now . It looks like they will ignore each other and just strengthening their soldiers for the time being . That is all . ‘

It was weird . Usually, Ilyana would be too friendly, but now she was quite unsocial . Leon didn’t expect her bad mood would last for so long, given their previous conversations he concluded that such things wouldn’t bother her all that much . After all, if Earth gets destroyed and its inhabitants end up dead, nothing would change for her .

‘No . . . maybe she is hoping that by helping me, the people of Earth would eventually become an ally . It doesn’t matter how much powerful she is . . . it is crazy to hope that she alone can take down hundreds of other individuals like her . Individuals that perhaps have been fighting for far too long . ‘

Leon could only keep imagining such possibilities, even though he wasn’t good at deciding what was possible and what wasn’t, he was pretty sure that the wasn’t far from the truth . Besides, it was a fact that Earth and the people of Earth wouldn’t find genuine peace unless they get rid of every single enemy and monster .

‘I can only hope that such a thing can be achieved . . . Still, I can’t imagine myself nor anyone else reaching such a level of strength in order to make that happen . The only where I can see myself doing that is by defeating a harvester and use Summon Zombie to obtain control over it . ‘

Novel Chapter 462

Chapter 462: 462

Although Hector and Gisela were making their soldiers go rather frequently to such places, they weren't slacking off in the construction of their new base . They knew that time wasn't something they could afford to waste, but they couldn't just live in non-walled cities now that monsters that could quickly melt steel or destroy it with their magic attacks were roaming all over Earth .

‘Thanks for the help, Volt,’ Leon said . ‘You can rest now . ‘

‘Understood,’ Volt nodded . ‘You can always call me when you wish to learn more spells, Leon . ‘

Leon felt weird because he was starting to treat his spirits like Pokémons, but he was pretty sure that everything would be fine unless he starts to give them commands like ‘use scratch . ‘ Regardless, Leon beginning to get tired of his routine, he felt like challenging a dungeon . However, he soon gave up on the idea because challenging a dungeon that would prove itself to be a challenge would literally be a waste of time . While Leon would hunt down a few thousand tier four monsters in a few hours, he could have trained for days in Ilyana’s world . Having such a downside, Leon didn’t feel compelled to escape from his routine .

‘I just have to hang in there . I’m sure that things will become more interesting once I learn how to summon golems . I just hope that Farming and Alchemy will still level up . . . even though I intend to outsource all the work . ‘

He had to move quite a lot to buff all his slimes, but since the effects of the skill didn’t last long, Leon soon could use them on the same group of slimes again . After a few hours, Leon also decided to level up Hateful Gaze . He didn’t even have to move to level up that skill . Since Ilyana’s monsters were frequently leaving her castle, he just had to stand near one of the entrances, and he would be able to use the debuff on many creatures .

‘Why are you so stingy?’ Celsius said, and Leon imagined her frowning .

‘You don’t use those coins for anything, why don’t spend all of them already?’

‘Although I don’t use coins that frequently, I like to the number high, I guess . . .’ Leon scratched the back of his head .

‘You are so weird . . .’ Celsius said .

‘ I can’t deny that . . . ‘ Leon shrugged .

It couldn’t be helped that it became a habit for Leon to see and enjoy his coins growing in number . Although he couldn’t see them, those increased every day while he was on that island for four years . But now that Leon thought about it, perhaps spending them would increase the speed that he obtain status quite a bit . Even though those skills couldn’t be used frequently, Leon could ignore the cooldown time by using Multi-Conjuration, and since that passive skill would always be useful, it was an excellent time to make use of it .

‘You can also tell that, huh?’ Leon said, not even a little bit surprised .

‘Obviously,’ Ilyana said . ‘Since you already summoned the ten thousand slimes, that I recommended you to summon, I guess I can teach you some spells that will help you to increase the power of your summoned creatures and allies . The cost will be high, but those are very useful .’

‘Really? I’m getting interested . . .’ Leon said .

‘However, since you are a stubborn and prideful idiot, it will take a while to learn all of them,’ Ilyana said .

Leon frowned when he heard that, it was actually the first time Ilyana blatantly insulted him . . . even though she only told the truth . As if that had never happened, Ilyana explained how to learn the spells, and Leon listened to it .

‘This kind of spell belongs to the emanation series, you emit your mana to an area around yourself and with it you recover one type of your allies energy or increase one of their statuses,’ Ilyana explained . ‘Fortunately, you can keep more than one skill at a time active, so eventually you will be able to increase all the status and regenerate the energy of your allies and monsters . However, it will take a long while before you obtain the power to keep such skills active at all times . ‘

Based on what he heard, it looked like a type of active skill that also resembled the passive skills . It was also a buff, but Leon was more interested in the speed he could level them up . Leon just needed a few more points, and he would be able to learn of how to summon a golem, and he couldn’t wait to outsource his job of creating mana liquid .

‘Let’s start with the basics . . . ‘ Ilyana said . ‘Try to combine Regeneration and Mana Shield . ‘

Leon frowned when he heard, but it kind of made sense . . . Ilyana wanted to learn something that basically was the combination of two things that Leon already knew . Unfortunately, Leon had no idea how to combine a defensive spell and a healing one . Besides, they worked in different manners . Mana Shield worked around Leon, while Regeneration did its magic healing his wounds .

‘You can train outside, and once you learn it, I will teach you the other skills,’ Ilyana said .

Leon left the castle in a hurry since Ilyana still was in a bad mood . Although she only explained the basics and couldn’t say that she teaches anything, Leon couldn’t complain since it was his idea to learn new skills without relying on tomes .

‘Let’s see . . . since it is a skill that heals everyone around me overtime, I don’t have to make the mana thick like Mana Shield . . . but I also have to heal everyone nearby me, unconsciously . This is more complicated than I thought . ‘

‘I see . . . Thanks for the tips,’ Leon said .

Although it was weird for Undine to be so cooperative and not mess with Leon for a change, he decided not to complain or make jokes . Otherwise, she would never do that again . . . possibly . Besides, the insight of spirits was more than welcome since they were essentially beings made of mana .

Regardless, Leon started his practice . Just like always, things started very slowly because healing was one of the skills that he was really bad at . . . since he couldn't heal anything without touching it . Although Leon's intelligence was high, healing spells didn't rely on that . They relied more on control and mana . Thanks to his increase in control, Leon was obtaining results faster than he had had expected . . . but emitting mana while trying to make the mana heal everything nearby was complicated because a lot of mana was continually being consumed .

‘Even though she said that this spell would consume a lot of mana, I didn't expect it would be so much . . . I guess this one of the spells that only become useful at high levels . ‘

Fortunately, Leon's plantation of blue angel leaves was nearby to solve that problem . That being said, it took Leon three days for him to learn that . . . three days where he didn't do anything but to practice that spell . So, when he finally received the notification, Leon didn't feel like celebrating, because he could have obtained the status points he needed to learn to summon golems .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Health Zone .

‘That is why I taught that skill,’ Ilyana said, using Telepathy .

‘ . . . How can you hear me from so far away ?’ Leon frowned .

‘My Sharp Ears skill is at the max level,’ Ilyana answered, still using Telepathy . ‘Putting that aside, to learn the mana version of Health Zone, you need to combine Mana Shield and Mana Infusion . ‘

Leon already imagined that, and it was looking forward to learning that one because he would be able to restore his slimes’ mana and, thus, make them level up even faster . That skill had been quickly learned since Leon already knew the basics .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Mana Zone .

‘Hahaha! Grow my minions! Grow stronger and become my strength!’ Leon laughed maniacally .

‘Why don’t you say the same thing when we level up?’ Undine asked .

‘You guys, aren’t my minions . You are my friends,’ Leon said .

‘Because we are powerful?’ Undine asked . ‘If we were weak like slimes, wouldn’t you treat us differently?’

‘I would like to think that you wouldn’t threat any sentient and sapient being as my minions,’ Leon said . ‘But, I guess only words aren’t enough to prove that . ‘

In the end, Leon got ahead of himself, and that caused a misunderstanding . For a change, Undine makes a question without using her usual mocking tone . It was clear that she had doubts about Leon’s intentions . It was weird considering that he joined his side without much of a fuss, but it was evident that Leon couldn’t drop his guard or relax . Otherwise, he eventually would take the path the harvesters took . . . they killed fragments of spirits to obtain their power and probably still are hunting the original spirits .

Putting such thoughts aside, Leon finally had the status necessary to learn how to summon golems . Still, he was pretty sure that Ilyana wouldn't teach him until he learns all the other skills from the 'emanation series . '

In the end, in no time, Summon Slime reached level one hundred, and Mana Zone reached level fifty . Although Leon wanted to keep leveling up those skills since it was so easy, Ilyana had other plans .

'You probably already know things, but to learn the next spell, you have to combine Mana Shield and Stamina Restoration,' Ilyana said using Telepathy .
'Now that I think about it, you should learn more skills that consume stamina . Although you rarely will use them, the extra status will help, anyway . '

Leon already knew that, but it couldn't be helped since he was stingy and always only looked for new spells to learn . . . even though the cheapest ones weren't that useful . Regardless, Leon finally understood why he learned Mana Zone so fast . . . it was because he had a lot of it and because he had a lot of experience using it . The same thing couldn't be said about his stamina, and even though his mana was being consumed, it didn't make things easier .

'If learning how to restore health, mana, and stamina in a massive area is difficult, I can't even imagine how difficult it will be to increase the other attributes . I don't even have buffs that increase my status without doing things like shouting or looking at the enemy . . . '

Congratulations! The skill Lion's Pride has leveled up .

Although Leon was getting tired of spending so much time learning the spells instead of using tomes, not everything was bad news . Even though he was stubborn and prideful, that were his characteristics, those were the straits that granted him such useful passive skill .

Congratulations! You have learned the skill: Stamina Zone .

Cost: 100 mana per second .

Three days later, Leon finally received that notification, and he started to question those skills . Although they were useful, their cost was too high, and he wouldn't be able to restore his energy or even increase his own status with them . Those skills would be only useful to someone who would fight with friends and allies, Leon obtained Lion's Pride because that rarely happened . Even considering the extra status he was receiving, it wasn't enough to make Leon felt motivated to keep using them .

‘ . . . Whatever, I don't have time to waste with such thoughts . My goal is to kill the bastards who caused my parents' death and those who wanted to destroy Earth . ‘

‘It is time,’ Ilyana said, using Telepathy .

‘It is time for another torture session . . . I mean . . . training session . Those are getting mixed up in my head since both of them are actually true . ‘

Leon felt like sighing, but he still headed toward Ilyana’s castle .

That is why I taught that skill, Ilyana said, using Telepathy .

. . . How can you hear me from so far away ? Leon frowned .

My Sharp Ears skill is at the max level, Ilyana answered, still using Telepathy . Putting that aside, to learn the mana version of Health Zone, you need to combine Mana Shield and Mana Infusion .

Leon was starting to wonder how come the pain he always felt wasn't decreasing even though his resistance skills were leveling up like crazy . But the answer was obvious; it was because Ilyana was adjusting her power . Not only that, little by little those training sessions were increasing .

‘About the next spell . . . ‘ Leon said after using Full-Recover again like usual to decrease the feelings of weakness .

‘To learn Power Zone, you have to emit your mana like you do when you use Mana Shield,‘ Ilyana explained . ‘But you need to make your mana stick on the skin of your allies . Don't let it be absorbed . ‘

‘ . . . I was thinking about learning Summon Golem next,‘ Leon said . ‘It will be more useful to make them create the mana liquid in my place . ‘

‘You should give up on that,’ Ilyana shook her head . ‘Even if the golems will be made using your mana, you won’t level up Farming or Alchemy . I don’t mind teaching you how to do that after you learn the emanation series spells, but you should make both skills reach level max before you do that . ‘

Leon sighed, as expected, he wouldn’t be able to level up Alchemy unless he does the difficult work himself . Alchemy increased the effects of the mana liquids he makes, after all . So, such a skill needed to be leveled up .

Since it was a waste of time trying to negotiate with Ilyana, Leon decided to leave her castle and resume his training . . . in the end, he had to train for three months to learn all the spells that increase his allies’ status . ‘Hey, Leon . Let’s play . . . ‘ Sylph said, looking bored out of his mind . ‘You can’t just use all your awaken time training . ‘

‘I wish that something could happen . . . anything because these days are looking even more boring than my time in that temple,’ Celsius said while she was lying on the ground and looking at the sky .

‘Let’s fight, Leon!’ Efreet said . ‘After sweating a little bit, everyone can feel much better!’

‘I wasn’t to increase the size of my labyrinth,’ Gnome said .

‘So noisy . . . ‘ Undine sighed .

Leon summoned all his spirits for a change of pace since the last three months had been filled with intense training . However, soon he started to regret that . Volt was the only one who wasn’t causing a ruckus . . . Although Leon didn’t use many thunder spells, he became his favorite spirit since he wasn’t noisy, and when he had free time, he just meditated, and he was doing exactly that . . . even though meditation wouldn’t increase his powers all that much .

Regardless, since it has been a while, Leon decided to take it easy for a change of pace . He still had some mana liquid nearby so his spirits could stay on their physical forms for one hour or two . So, instead of worrying about that, Leon started to wonder about several things . One year had passed since he met Ilyana and he was already thirty-five . . . Even though he had a wild imagination, never in his wildest dreams, he imagined that he would live such a life . Everything seemed insane . . . using magic every day, not for the fun of it but to get stronger and prepare for a battle that it will take place in hundreds of years, traveling between planets, talking with spirits . . . becoming the student of a five thousand years old witch . Leon’s life didn’t make any sense .

‘I never wished for a boring life, but I never asked for a crazy one either . . . ‘

Although Leon became someone who could influence other people and change a little bit the whole destiny of Earth, he didn’t feel satisfied with it . He lost his parents, his home, he wasn’t there when his sister needed him, and now he had been forgotten for every single person he cared about .

Leon paid a high price for the power he obtained, but if he had the chance, he would trade everything for his old-life . His ultimate goal was revenge, and

Novel Chapter 466

Chapter 466: 466

Things were going well on Earth, according to Ilyana, his friends were building their new homes and also making use of the time dilation . . . things were going well, perhaps too well and that kind of thing was what bothered Leon most .

‘I guess so many things happened so fast in the past that I got used to it to the point where I miss troublesome situations for me to solve . . . ‘

Regardless, after walking for two hours, Leon reached Ilyana’s castle, and after half an hour, he found her in the center of the empty building . As always, she was sitting cross-legged and creating Ghost-Swords .

‘Mmm ? I don’t think it is time for your weekly resistance training,’ Ilyana said, surprised at Leon’s arrival . ‘If you want to train your resistance more and faster, you need to increase your health . ‘

‘Didn’t you hear me approaching?’ Leon said, surprised . ‘I thought you are always watching me . ‘

‘Do you want to be watched every single moment by me?’ Ilyana frowned .

‘No . . . ‘ Leon answered . ‘Anyway, I learned Determination Zone . . . though I think it is weird that there is a spell that can motivate my allies . Regardless, I have come to learn how to summon a golem . ‘

‘It isn’t much different of how to summon a slime . . . you just have to create a mass of earth of the size of the earth golems you saw before and concentrate forty-five hundred mana points in its center,' Ilyana explained . 'The feelings you have to think while you create it is something like: attack everything on sight and the same feeling you have when you manipulate Earth . '

Leon frowned upon hearing that, again the exact numbers . . . but he didn't overthink it . The problem was the things he had to feel while creating the golems since he had to pass those feelings to them . Otherwise, they would only become statues .

'You look confused, but it isn't that complicated,' Ilyana said . 'Just imagine yourself like a golem that attacks everything and also imagine yourself using Earth Manipulation . '

Fortunately, Geomancy made everything much easier . The old and good elemental magic was straightforward to use, so Leon managed to create the statues pretty fast . However, he only stopped when he could make a perfect golem when he could do that in 0 . 1 seconds . It was insane, but Leon could do it thanks to Lion's Pride that enhanced his attributes even without consuming his mana .

‘Now I just have to make a copy made of mana of the golem’s core, at the very moment I finish its body . . . ‘

Just as Leon expected, things got difficult from that moment onward . Mostly because the cost of mana to create the core was high . After failing only three times, Leon had to use mana liquid or blue angel leaves to restore his mana . However, since Leon was really looking forward to that skill, he persevered, and two days later, he finally succeeded .

It couldn't be helped, but Leon couldn't help but frown while looking at the golem . . . the fact that creature was in status only five times stronger than a slime was depressing . The cost of mana was also insane . . . even though it was expected . Regardless, Leon started to create more and make them attack Ilyana's Ghost-Swords . Things got noisy since the magic projectiles were made of earth, but Leon ignored that because he also started to receive a lot of notifications .

'I knew I wanted to learn how to summon them, but . . . man, they take a lot of space . '

Leon created three and tried to control them in order to make some mana liquid, but even though he only made them make the powder, the effects of the mana liquid decreased . When Leon was the one who made the powder, and they add it to the water . . . the same thing happened . It couldn't be helped, but Leon couldn't help but frown while looking at the golem . . . the fact that creature was in status only five times stronger than a slime was depressing . The cost of mana was also insane . . . even though it was expected . Regardless, Leon started to create more and make them attack Ilyanas Ghost-Swords . Things got noisy since the magic projectiles were made of earth, but Leon ignored that because he also started to receive a lot of notifications .

I knew I wanted to learn how to summon them, but . . . man, they take a lot of space .

Leon created three and tried to control them in order to make some mana liquid, but even though he only made them make the powder, the effects of the mana liquid decreased . When Leon was the one who made the powder, and they add it to the water . . . the same thing happened . It couldn't be helped, and Leon already knew that, but he couldn't contain a long sigh once he confirmed that fact .

‘I guess the power of the attacks also influences how fast someone or skills can level up . . . just attacking powerful monsters isn’t enough .‘

Although Leon was creating golems five times slower, the speed of the skill leveling up was the same as the slimes . In fact, it was slightly faster since their attack growth was much more noticeable . Regardless, while Leon was working, Leon heard Ilyana’s voice in his mind .

‘We need to talk, come here,’ Ilyana said .

‘Did something happen?’ Leon asked, surprised . ‘Can’t you just say via Telepathy?’

‘I can, but you will have to come anyways,’ Ilyana said .

It was a bit troublesome to obey without knowing why, but Leon decided to do so . Although he was trying not to rely on Ilyana that much, his debt was increasing at a fast pace since she was keeping an eye on his friends, teaching him new magic, and letting him attack her monsters .

It looked like that was a serious matter since Ilyana stopped summoning Ghost-Swords and was making a serious expression while she waited for Leon’s arrival . The only time she did that before was when Gisela and her army came to Earth and was about to attack Japan . So, Leon could easily imagine the gravity of the situation .

‘I want you that you do something for me,’ Ilyana said .

‘What is it?’ Leon said, trying to hide his surprise .

‘I found the existence of some individuals that may cause problems for us,’ Ilyana said . ‘I want that you deal with them . ‘

‘By deal, you mean killing, right?’ Leon asked . ‘Did they do something?’

‘Yes and no,’ Ilyana said . ‘They are the sole survivors of a certain planet . Their psych is damaged since they just lost all their relatives and friends . I said that they might cause problems for us because of that . ‘

‘So, they will become harvesters?’ Leon asked . ‘Even if that is the case, don’t you think we have a good start over them? Besides, are you sure that you want them dead just because they might become enemies?’

‘What about talking with them and make them become our allies?’ Leon asked again . ❖❖❖ ‘Wouldn’t it be better to increase our numbers by acting first and not letting the harvesters contact them?’

‘You are so insistent . . . ‘ Ilyana sighed . ‘As I said, their psych is damaged, they won’t listen to reason . At this moment, the last thing they care about is about other planets or the battles of others . After losing everything, do you think they will do what you are doing? They would wish to obtain power on the quickest way even if they had to become minions of some asshole . ‘

Leon understood what Ilyana was talking about, something very similar happened to Donan . He sold his soul and the fate of his world to obtain power and fill the void inside him by trying to protect his world and its people using the power of an unknown creature . Still, eradicating another species wasn’t something Leon wanted to do, but . . .

‘If you can’t do it, then I won’t force you,’ Ilyana said . ‘The weight of killing the last members of the species of a world isn’t something to be taken lightly . However, it won’t be the first, or the last time this will have to be done . Unless you get used to this, you don’t have any chances of facing the harvesters who will invade your world and defeat them . ‘

‘ . . . I will do it,’ Leon said after a sigh .

It was a bit too much to act considering the possibility of some things that were even truer when lives were on the line . But it was time for Leon to repair at least some of the favors he was owing to Ilyana .

‘Efreet, come and absorb their attacks,’ Leon said .

‘Bahahaha! Now we are talking!’ Efreet said, visibly excited .

Gremlins used Fire Tornado and Flamethrower, but as if he was a magnet to those, Efreet absorbed all the flames . Meanwhile, the monsters that tried to pierce Leon with their weapons got killed by a single Plasma Bullet in the head .

Leon couldn't help but wonder if he was weak by having second thoughts or if he was reasonable . He didn't ask Ilyana if he could talk with them, but since she didn't say anything about it, most likely, it would be a waste of time .

‘Efreet, absorb their attacks and use half of the fire to recover my mana,’ Leon said .

‘You got it!’ Efreet said .

Unfortunately, Leon didn’t have time to waste . Although that world was only on the third stage of assimilation and it was crowded with monsters, there was a chance that the ones Leon was looking for would escape . Ilyana probably could track them, but letting them escape would deteriorate their partnership . Until now, despite everything, Ilyana showed herself to be lenient and patient, but she clearly disapproved of several of Leon’s actions . She didn’t need him, but Leon needed her to keep track of his friends and also to grow strong at a decent pace . In case he doesn’t obtain the strength necessary to protect Earth, he more or less could count on her since her goal was to kill the harvesters . . . Leon had no choice but to keep himself on her good side .

After dealing with that massive number of gremlins, Leon finally could analyze his surroundings or what was left of it since the gremlins were little devils that liked to destroy everything . It wasn’t surprising that Leon could see several forests burned, but he didn’t find any real building . In all directions, he could only find scorched mountains and burned down forests .

‘She could have told at least tell me how the targets look like . . . ‘

‘I guess I will leave this spears on the ground for the time being . . . those will help me to find the way back . ‘

In order not to be noticed, Leon killed every single Gremlin as soon as he spotted them . His targets were on the north, so he couldn’t let those little bastards reveal his position . After flying for a while, Leon also found chimeras, centaurs, and minotaurs . Their numbers as expected it was immense, but since the monsters were killing each other . Leon didn’t have much trouble attacking them by surprise .

After flying toward North for a few hours, Leon found only mountains and more mountains . All of them had caves, and those caves looked pretty well-made . It was clear that the previously dominant species of that world created them, and Leon finally understood why he didn’t find a single building or destroyed city so far . The species of that world lived inside the mountains .

‘I guess they are a race like the demi-minotaurs, closely resembling humans and another type of creature . . . I don’t know how that is possible, but given that mana can change everything in many ways, it isn’t that surprising . ‘

Regardless, if they lived inside the mountains, they probably would notice Leon’s approach if he tries to use an underground route . Leon would have to approach by foot while keeping Anti-Mana Field active that way, he will cancel all spells that may reveal his position, and when his mana starts to decrease, he will have to find his targets .

‘Well, until then . . . I will have to check every single cave while hoping that those aren’t dungeons . ‘

After making Efreet return, Leon started to explore those caves one after another . It didn't take long before he could find something . . . since there was a limit of how someone could build inside a mountain, Leon only found small destroyed villages . Their houses were quite rustic . It looked like those had been carved out of the rocks and stones of the mountain .

Also, it didn't take long before Leon could find some corpses . Although most of them had been burned down to a crisp, some of them had only be stabbed by the gremlins spears . The once-dominant species of that world had long and hairy ears and nose . Most of their bodies were covered by black fur . Although the overall shape of their bodies closely resembled humans, the fingers of both hands and feet were a bit longer .

‘Those were . . . a Rat-men species ?‘

Leon didn't see many animals after he fell from that airplane, but now that he thought about it, it wouldn't be weird if animals also could evolve thanks to mana . He didn't find any sign of other dominant species, but the chances of the rat-men being only animals that evolved were relatively high .

Efreet, come and absorb their attacks, Leon said .

Leon found a lot of gremlins in some villages . The little devils sometimes just enjoyed watching things burn . That became clear once Leon realized that there were no rat-men nearby . Regardless, Leon could easily escape from their sight and explode their heads using Transfer and Plasma Bullet . Besides, he also could restore his mana using their spears, so they were just a minor nuisance .

‘I’m starting to wonder if Ilyana actually wanted to make me see this and experience the tension and apprehension while searching for the targets . . . ‘

Although he was doing an important job, things could have ended quickly if Ilyana had told him the precise location of the rat-men . So, he couldn’t help but feel that she also had other goals aside from killing possible future enemies .

Just a few hours had passed since Leon started his search, but it was already getting dark in that world . Although his eyes wouldn’t be that efficient at night, he decided to keep looking for the targets, just in case something unexpected happens . Unfortunately, as usual, fate itself would make sure to surprise Leon no matter what . Despite his cautiousness, he quickly found signs of his targets, and it looked like he had a visitor . Leon noticed that after seeing a battlefield that had signs of a recent battle, Leon deactivated Anti-Mana Field for a moment and felt trails of mana of six individuals . . . Ilyana said that he would kill five .

‘To leave so much mana behind that even Mana Dominion can still feel it . . . I don’t remember seeing or feeling anything like this before . ‘

Leon wondered if he would have felt something like that when he fought against the fake harvesters and the angels . Those guys and the rat-men probably had the same level of power, after all . In fact, since they had flashy attacks, the chances of that being true were high, but he didn’t use Mana-Dominion when he fought against them . It didn’t matter, either way .

Leon found their trail, and someone was with them . . . and only someone troublesome would appear at such an inconvenient time .

Looking around and toward all directions, Leon tried to imagine which direction they went . Thanks to his high intelligence and control, Leon managed to increase the range of Mana Dominion at an astonishing speed . If he knew that he could level up that skill like that, Leon would have done it much before . Regardless, the range that was three hundred meters became three kilometers in just a few minutes . Leon's mana was being consumed much faster than before, and he was also feeling an annoying headache since he could feel the presence of hundreds of monsters, but he didn't stop .

When Leon was about to run out of mana, he felt six humanoid-like presences ten kilometers north of his position inside a mountain . He also noticed that one of them noticed Leon's presence . Without wasting time, Leon used his remaining mana to approach the nearest Gremlin and then hit its head with his elbow . Before the creature could fall, Leon grabbed it and used Mana-Absorption to recover his mana . When his mana was full again, he killed the beast and picked its spear . . . he would need all the mana he could get .

Ten seconds later, Leon was at the top of the mountain where he felt the presence . However, even though his Mana Dominion was supposed to make still Leon feel their presence, he couldn't at the moment . Leon looked around and then saw small points flying the distance .

'They sure are fast . . . '

Leon used Transfer and appeared two hundred meters away from them . At that distance, Leon finally could see five rat-men and the sixth individual . Much to his surprise, he closely resembled a human . . . black short hair, brown eyes, and no physical sign that made him look like a member of another species . However, Leon saw a tattoo of a dragon on the left arm of the sixth human, and it closely resembled the ones Leon saw on Earth . The only difference was the pieces of silver armor around his body .

Leon caught off guard . He didn’t expect to find a human in such a place . It looked like he wasn’t the only irregular human on Earth that had different experiences than most . However, the surprises didn’t end there . The sixth man shot several magic projectiles, and Leon frowned when one of them passed by his Mana Armor and instantly destroyed his arm .

Without wasting time, Leon used his remaining mana to approach the nearest Gremlin and then hit its head with his elbow . Before the creature could fall, Leon grabbed it and used Mana-Absorption to recover his mana . When his mana was full again, he killed the beast and picked its spear . . . he would need all the mana he could get .

Ten seconds later, Leon was at the top of the mountain where he felt the presence . However, even though his Mana Dominion was supposed to make still Leon feel their presence, he couldnt at the moment . Leon looked around and then saw small points flying the distance .

They sure are fast . . .

Leon used Transfer and appeared two hundred meters away from them . At that distance, Leon finally could see five rat-men and the sixth individual . Much to his surprise, he closely resembled a human . . . black short hair, brown eyes, and no physical sign that made him look like a member of another species . However, Leon saw a tattoo of a dragon on the left arm of the sixth human, and it closely resembled the ones Leon saw on Earth . The only difference was the pieces of silver armor around his body .

A human ?

Leon caught off guard . He didnt expect to find a human in such a place . It looked like he wasnt the only irregular human on Earth that had different experiences than most . However, the surprises didnt end there . The sixth man shot several magic projectiles, and Leon frowned when one of them passed by his Mana Armor and instantly destroyed his arm .

Novel Chapter 470

Chapter 470: 470

‘A laser ? Highly concentrated mana attack ? Light magic ?’

Leon didn’t know what that was, but he knew that it was too dangerous since it also cauterized the wound . He used Full-Recover and recovered himself, but Leon immediately paid the price . His body felt a little heavier and sluggish, but Leon ignored that .

‘The speed of the attack is too great . . . I can’t react in time if he attacks using that again .’

Still, Leon couldn’t just chase them from a safe distance, they could find a dungeon and escape from that planet at any moment, and things would become much more dangerous from that moment onward . The only way to solve that as quickly as possible was by taking some risks, and Leon decided to do it .

Leon used Transfer and appeared in front of the man, he moved his arm to grab him by the neck and activated Mana Absorption, but then suddenly, Leon felt his body losing all his mana . . . it was the effect of the Anti-Mana Field . Instead of grabbing the man's neck, Leon decided to punch it in order to make him suffocate . Without having the power to use mana, active skills, or passive skills . Leon could rely only on his tenacity to kill the man . His fist landed, but it didn't cause damage as Leon had imagined . That man smirked, and everyone started to fall since his Anti-Mana Field was very large .

That man grabbed Leon's left arm and prepared a punch on the right side of Leon's ribcage, but he raised his knee to block it . Leon succeeded, but he felt the power behind the attack . . . Although that bastard could use some complicated spells, he was stronger physically than Leon .

'Shit . . . How can he be so physically strong and know Anti-Mana Field?'

The power of the enemy attack made Leon's falling speed increase, so he gained some distance over those six . However, not to the point where he could leave the range of his Anti-Mana Field .

Ten seconds later, everyone landed, and the impact created a wave of dust spreading around . Things couldn't have become worse, Leon was alone, and he couldn't use his magic or mana . Six enemies were in front of him, and all of them were obviously physically stronger . . . Still, Leon couldn't run away .

'You . . . how . . . ' The human said .

Leon had no idea, he could feel that he couldn't use magic or any skills, but his body felt light like usual . Perhaps, Ilyana did something, but Leon couldn't feel anything different . . . in the end, Leon understood that Lion's Pride was still working .

'That, huh . . . ' Leon said .

It was weird that Leon didn't notice that before, but considering that he learned that passive skill in a strange way, it wasn't odd that still could work . Regardless, Leon's best weapons and fighting style were still sealed . Besides, it was clear that despite everything, the rat-men were still physically stronger than him . . . While that human was recovering, Leon had time to observe them up close from the first time, and he bit his lips . Two adult men and one adult woman . . . and a little boy and a little girl .

'Shit . . . ' Leon said, visibly conflicted . 'You have got to be kidding me . '

Those five were heavily armed and protected by several pieces of armor; lances, sword, ax, and bows were their weapons . The very moment the moved just a little bit, Leon pointed his hand toward them . He couldn't use magic, but they didn't notice his bluff .

'Don't move . . . I don't want to, but I will kill all of you if any of you move,' Leon said .

The human finally recovered from Leon's counterattack and glared at him as if she was some piece of shit . Leon himself couldn't help but frown while looking at that, he didn't want to use the concepts of good and evil, but it was clear that that human was doing something immoral by trying to obtain allies on the moment of their weakness .

'Who are you?' Leon asked . 'Why are you doing this?'

'I could ask you the same thing,' The human said . 'Why did you come to this place and are chasing us?'

'Answering a question with another question?' Leon frowned . 'You have quite the nerve . . . I know that you are working for one of the harvesters . I'm asking why you are doing this considering that one of them caused the destruction of Earth . '

'The hell are you talking about?' The man said, visibly annoyed . 'I'm working with someone who is hunting them . '

‘What a stupid lie,’ Leon smirked . ‘If that were true, would have to come to help those guys much sooner . . . why did you come only now on their weakened state?’

‘Again, I could ask you the same thing,’ The man said .
