Chapter 111: Still haven't given up? !

From the moment Huang Yue Li took out that black card, Bai Ruo Qi fell into a state of petrification with her face deathly white, like a dead person.

At the beginning, she still held a silver hope that the card was a fake or not enough funds within.

But after she heard Manager Jin's words, Bai Ruo Qi fell into complete despair!

Clear Jade Bank was the most reputable bank in South Sky Region. It was not possible for them to lie during such an occasion. Huang Yue Li.....did possess that much money!

But how could this be? Where did that cheap slut obtain so much money! Weren't all the properties Bai Liu Feng left behind taken by her father already?

Paralysed in her seat, Bai Ruo Qi's heart filled with terror.

What should she do now? She had unexpectedly gambled! And it was under the eyes of countless people. There was no way she could deny it!

What she owed were Spirit Raising Pills worth one hundred and thirty thousand silvers!

Bai Liu Jing intended for her to obtain that bottle of Spirit Raising Pills to increase her cultivation, so he presented her with one hundred thousand silvers. But now, all her money had been spent while she still carried a debt of thirty thousand silvers. After all that, she still failed to obtain those Spirit Raising Pills! All advantages were given to that cheap slut!

It was as tragic as using a wicker basket to draw water!

How was she supposed to explain to Bai Liu Jing once she returned? And where would she find the money to pay that extra thirty thousand silvers?

She couldn't possibly ask the Crown Prince could she?

The Crown Prince's expression was also unsightly to the extreme. That heavy aura served to further deter people from approaching him.

Thirty thousand silvers was not a sum that he would classify as a family ruining fortune, but his face had been slapped time and time again by Huang Yue Li!

He had personally confirmed that Huang Yue Li was merely bluffing. Unfortunately, in less than fifteen minutes, Huang Yue Li had used facts to give a heavy slap!

Bai Ruo Qi may had been on the only to suffer from the gamble, but the face he lost was not any less than hers!

Just as the two people was in the midst of their depression,they suddenly heard Manager Sun's words!

Bai Ruo Qi was instantly called awake. She cried out: “Manager Sun, you must have calculated wrongly! Even if I lost, the sum should be one hundred and thirty thousand silvers. How is it one hundred and thirty-one thousand silvers?”

Manager Sun replied to her: “Second Miss Bai, the one who placed the price of one hundred and thirty thousand silvers was not you, but Third Young Miss Bai. The auction has yet to end, so if you wish to obtain the Spirit Raising Pills there must be at least an increase of one thousand silvers. This would make a total of one hundred and thirty-one thousand silvers. Please rest assured, this shop is very fair with its prices, making it impossible to overcharge its guests! Or could it be that the money you prepared is not enough?”

There was actually a method of calculation like this! One hundred and thirty thousand silvers was not the final price!

But what Manager Sun was truth. The auction’s rules were like so!

Hurriedly, Bai Ruo Qi shook her head: “No, no, no. I will add that one thousand....”

Manager Sun smiled: “Good. Then I congratulate Second Miss Bai on successfully bidding.....”

“Wait, wait!” Huang Yue Li’s voice sounded again, interrupting Manager Sun’s announcement in the process.

Her voice was just as sweet and gentle as before.

But everyone had just witnessed her methods on cheating someone. So when they heard her voice again, it like they had all heard a monster’s sound instead.

Bai Ruo Qi took man precautions as she look up, “What do you want to do?”

“Manager Sun, the auction has yet to end! Since my Second Sister has added one thousand silvers, am I also able to bid? I recall...that I have yet to give up?”

Bai Ruo Qi nearly spat out a mouthful of blood.

She, she, she...still hasn’t given up? Is she prepared to increase the price? ?

Chapter 112: The little thing’s cheeks are really soft

According to the auction’s rules, if Huang Yue Li had yet to announce her renouncement, the auction would have yet to end!

But the owner of the Spirit Raising Pills had been confirmed. Was there any meaning to increase the price? This would only serve as pure harassment!

It was a miracle Bai Ruo Qi did not faint on the spot!

If Huang Yue Li wished to continue bidding, she was completely unable to renounce bidding. Not mention she was completely unable to pay that amount. She couldn’t even pay the one hundred and thirty thousand!

While Huang Yue Li's black card held two hundred thousand silvers. She was absolutely capable to raise the price to two hundred thousand silvers!

Bai Ruo Qi was on the verge of collapsing.

At that moment, the Crown Prince spoke through clenched teeth: "Bai Ruo Li! Qi'er is still your cousin, so don't bully her too much!"

Raising her eyebrow, Huang Yue Li did not expect the Crown Prince to speak up for Bai Ruo Qi.

"Your Highness the Crown Prince, what do you mean? Do you plan on speaking on behalf of my Second Sister? And what identity will you be holding, to help her fend this?"

"I am just unable to continue watching this!" The Crown Prince said heavily, "Bai Ruo Li, you have already obtained all the advantages available yet still want to increase the price. Are you pushing your cousin onto the path of no return? You are both cousins, yet a few words from your mouth and you have swindled such a large amount of money from her. And you are still unrelenting? Not regarding anything towards sisterly relationships?"

Huang Yue Li's tone frosted down, "Your Highness, your words are very amusing! Clearly it was Second Sister who disregarded sisterly bonds in falsely accusing me first. But now her losses are this disastrous, she can only blame herself! As the country's heir, Your Highness' words should be spoken with evidence. Nobles from others attending today's auction are not a few. Speaking without thinking, inverting black to white will make South Yue into a joke!"

"You!"

The Crown Prince had intended to speak out and help Bai Ruo Qi, but he was unable to out speak Huang Yue Li.

In South Yue, his words had always carried great weight. But today, he was constantly refuted and silenced by Huang Yue Li instead! This experience was incomparably suffocating!

Before he could retort her, Huang Yue Li began to speak out again.

"But I am not someone who disregards sentiments. Though Second Sister deliberately wished to harm me, I am still willing to open the net from one side. I will voluntarily withdraw from bidding. This bottle of pills will be given to my Second Sister for one hundred and thirty-one thousand silvers!"

Bai Ruo Qi nearly fainted, again.

She swindled so much money from her and still said she 'yielded'!

She made merely stopped and further bids, yet she acted as if she owed her such a big favor!

In actuality, Huang Yue Li honestly felt that she yielded quite a lot today.

Sitting in the private room, Huang Yue Li's propped up her chin as she shook her head regretfully.

Ai, money ah. It just flew away like that!

Seeing that her cheeks were puffed out and absent-minded, the man took the opportunity to pinch her cheeks.

Caught unaware, a red pinch mark formed on Huang Yue Li's cheek. Without delay, a palm strike slapped that pervert away.

"What are you doing? Itching for a beating?"

Though the man was hit by her, he was not angry. He was actually recalled the feeling.

That little thing's cheek sure was soft, like tofu. The feeling was so good; really wanted to pinch it a bit more. And if he was able to bite, how good would that be.....

Because he was thinking so blissfully, saliva nearly leaked out of his mouth.

Glancing at him, Huang Yue Li saw that his expression had changed. One glance was enough to tell that he was thinking something suspicious. In a burst of fury, she slapped out!

Godforsaken pervert! Shameless!

Snorting coldly, she shifted her head in an arrogant and cute manner.

Chapter 113: Third Level Profound Armament

When he heard her cold snort, the man regained himself and smirked: "Little thing, why are you angry again? Is it because you can't bear to lose money? Then why did you put on the act of a great scholar, instead of directly increasing the price! With the backing of this Lord, is there a need to be afraid of that something of a Crown Prince?"

Huang Yue Li cast him a sidelong glance: "What do you understand? Giving up bidding here, I will be able to earn even more money in the future rounds! If I were to scare them all here, how would I be able to earn money from them in the future?"

When he heard her words, the man was somewhat flabbergasted.

"What? You plan to swindle more money? From the looks of it, your Second Sister doesn't seem to have any money left. Even if you were to kill her, I'm afraid you wouldn't be able to obtain a single penny more!"

"What swindling? Don't spout nonsense! I am earning money honestly and openly! I am someone.....who has always been upright!"

Her mouth craftily hooked up, "Though Second Sister is finished, there is still the Crown Prince, no? They say that our South Yue's state treasury is flowing with money. The Crown Prince definitely has more than enough money!"

Looking at her for quite a while, the man took quite some time to process. He smiled and shook his head in response.

And he thought that he was quite black hearted normally. Meeting with this little thing, he realised that he was only a see her trail dust, never hoping to catch up! Once he compared himself to this little thing, he had become a good, kind and honest young lad!

The biggest mistake the Crown Prince made today was to provoke that little fox!

Looks like he must have a few more considerations and eyes in the future.

Instead of obtaining a wife, he might be sold off by the little fox he admired!

...

The auction for the Spirit Raising Pills finally ended.

Because quite a lot of time had been consumed in this round, Manager Sun couldn't help but speed up the bidding for the remaining items.

Due to the exorbitant prices and bids that occurred in the previous bidding, many people had yet to recover themselves. As a result, the final prices of the items were not won at ideal prices.

Wiping the sweat from his forehead, Manager Sun felt somewhat nervous.

But when his gaze landed on the next item, his eyes suddenly lit up. His entire body energizing.

"Everyone! I ask everyone to settle down! The item is one of the most important and valuable treasures! If you were to miss this chance, you will definitely regret it!"

Once they heard those words, the people gradually began to clamour again before finally settling down.

All their gazes turned to focus on the case placed in the centre of the stage. They all felt a premonition.

Sure enough, Manager cleared his throat and began to speak.

"I am sure that everyone has already heard for this auction, Thousand Treasure Pavilion was very fortunate to strike a deal with a mysterious Armament Master. This master has entrusted us to sell off a batch of third levelled armaments in this auction...."

Of the people present, everyone erupted into an uproar.

The majority of those present had come especially for those third levelled armaments!

Now they have finally appeared. The rumored treasures have finally shown their colours!

Manager Sun smiled out: "As to how rare and scarce third levelled profound armaments are, I believe that distinguished guests should more or less know. It can take many years for a Third Ranked Armament Master to refine a profound armament at the third level. Each one an accumulation of their blood and sweat! And this time, we shall auction a total of twenty of these items! Each one is a third levelled product! What's more important is...."

As he paused to looked down, he saw everyone had holding their breaths in anticipation for his next words. Manager Sun calmly continued: "By our conjecture, this Armament Master comes from a super sect and his refining standards deep and immeasurable. It is highly likely that they have reached the fifth tier or higher!"

Chapter 114: Didn't come in vain

"Fifth Rank or higher? Did I mishear?"

"God! How is this possible? This kind of Armament Master is a person from legends!"

"If these were profound armaments refined by a Fifth Rank Armament Master, then they would definitely be stronger than ordinary third levelled armaments!"

"I really didn't come in vain today! I could actually witness a Fifth Rank Armament Master's works. Even if I cannot successfully bid for one, viewing one is already the accumulation of three lifetimes worth of fortune!"

As the guests below rose in an uproar, their eye sparkled with excitement.

Even the ever gloomy faced Crown Prince's spirit were raised from the news. He raised his head with great movement, heart beating rapidly.

Today....He still didn't come in vain!

The auctioned profound armaments from Thousand Treasure Pavilion, truly surpassed his expectations this time!

Even within Heavenly Body College, a Fifth Rank Armament Master's work was a treasure that few people would be able to hold!

Although he had been wiped to the floor by Bai Ruo Li and the mysterious male beside her, if he was able to obtain that complete set of profound armour, then everything would have been worth it!

Seeing as the atmosphere was once again set ablaze, the smile on Manager Sun's became wider.

"Then I will no longer wait on everyone's appetites. We shall begin to bid for the first third levelled profound armament."

In one swift movement, Manager Sun whipped open the red sandalwood chest.

The silver blade that lay within immediately started to glow with a dazzling light.

As Manager Sun took out the silver sword for all to see, he also introduced it: "This blade is named the Autumn Water Sword! Just from its outer appearance, I am sure that everyone is able to tell it is a profound weapon with formidable offensive capabilities! That's right, this blade is a third levelled upper grade profound weapon and can amplify attacks by six fold!"

Anyone who heard this, all drew in their breaths.

"Third levelled upper grade? ?"

"Amplification of six fold!"

"And this is the first time for me to ever see a third levelled profound weapon! Truly deserves its reputation!"

“Not just well deserved reputation! I once heard that a third levelled upper grade profound weapon is capable of amplifying attack prowess by three folds, four for good ones. Whereas this blade has actually reached six fold? This is something difficult to achieve even for fourth levelled upper grade profound weapons! Was it me who misheard, or Thousand Treasure Pavilion who spoke incorrectly?”

Hearing the discussion and misgivings of the crowd below, Manager Sun smiled with great satisfaction.

“Today’s profound armaments have all been personally verified by the Armament Guild’s Vice President, guaranteeing its grade and abilities. There is no possibility of being incorrect! However, to convince my honoured guests, we have specially hired a practitioner to test it.”

As he said this, a few practitioners clothed in black, light armour walked onto the stage.

Manager sun began to introduce: “These bodyguards are commanders of our Thousand Treasure Pavilion defense force. They are third stage Spirit Profound Realm cultivators. For the next act, it shall be them who will test the profound armament for all to see.”

As his words fell, restlessness coursed below.

Within South Yue, Spirit Profound Realm practitioners were very rare and could all become lords. The Emperor himself would also have to take the initiative to win them over.

While Thousand Treasure Pavilion actually Spirit Profound Realm practitioners as bodyguards!

Not even the Emperor would be this extravagant. How deep did Thousand Treasure Pavilion’s power run?

All the while, the Crown Prince was staring at the stage rigidly, face pale.

He had recognized the face. That bodyguard was the exact guard who had blocked his steps at the entrance!

No wonder that bodyguard was not afraid of him, the Crown Prince. It was all because his cultivation was far above his; he didn’t put him in his eyes!

Chapter 115: Increasing instantly

Though the Crown Prince felt very stifled, he couldn’t help but rejoice.

Thankfully he didn’t do any drastic moves. Otherwise, he would have tripped greatly in Thousand Treasure Pavilion!

Clearing his throat again, Manager Sun interrupted the crowd below.

“It is not proper to delay affairs, so I invite the guards to test for everyone. I will first invite guard Qi to strike this strength testing stone with a normal sword.”

Raising a normal iron sword, guard Qi walked to the side of the stage.

In the corner, stood a strength testing stone about the height of two people.

This strength testing stone was a common method of testing a cultivator power in the Soaring Heavens Continent. During school entrance examination, this would be used quite frequently.

Walking expressionlessly towards the strength testing stone, he suddenly raised the blade and slashed out.

As the blade struck the strength testing stone heavily, a loud 'boom' sounded. Straight after, it snapped in two.

In addition to this, the qi wave cause from the strike spread out in all directions taking the breath away from the guests in the first few rows.

Meanwhile, the crystal on the strength testing stone was undulating a multitude of colours. It was only after a good while, did it stabilise.

Walking up, Manager read and announced the result: "Twenty-eight thousand jin!"

"How amazing!"

"That guard Qi should be around the Spirit Profound Realm second or third levels?"

Quite a few people began to discuss amongst themselves.

Manger Sun continued to speak: "Next, I will ask guard Qi to pick up that third levelled upper grade profound armament—the Autumn Water Sword! Allow everyone to see if it truly has that much offensive power!"

Nodding his head, guard Qi took up the Autumn Water Sword and once again stood in front of the strength testing stone.

Falling into the same position as before, he raised the sword with great focus and slashed out—

As his profound energy poured into the sword, the dazzling glow began to intensify and light up the entire auction site!

Everyone subconsciously covered their ears, fear that there would be an even louder sound than before.

On the contrary, all they heard was a 'chi' sound. On the side of the large strength testing stone, that sword had actually left a profoundly deep mark!

One had to know that this strength testing stone had endured many strikes from countless masters. It was many times sturdier than ordinary iron!

Very quickly, the crystal on top ceased its fluctuations.

Before Manager Sun could announce the result, those below the stage had erupted into a frenzy.

"Forty-five thousand jin! It's actually forty-five thousand jin!"

"It really is six fold!"

"Just from the strike's power alone, it has already reached the Spirit Profound Realm fifth level!"

“God! Just with this blade, you would be able to contend against the third staged practitioners at the lower level. Too mystical!”

“This sword...I must obtain it!”

Hearing the enthusiastic exclamations below, Manager Sun could no longer conceal his happiness. He immediately declared: “Third levelled upper grade profound weapon Autumn Water Sword starting price is one hundred thousand silvers. I ask for everyone to begin their bids!”

“One hundred and twenty thousand!”

“One hundred and fifty thousand!”

“Two hundred thousand!”

Towards a vassal level power, two hundred thousand was already considered a enormous amount. To use that much for a single use pill, many people were unwilling. But towards an armament that could be passed down to their descendants, even if they were to use all their family’s fortune, if they were able to obtain it, it would be worthy!

Even those sitting in the VIP rooms, the various royalties could not hold themselves back any longer. Gradually, each one began to add their bids.

In a blink of an eye, the starting price had been increased by several folds!

Chapter 116: Did you become stupid from looking at this Lord for too long?

Inside the private room.

As her hands were propped under her chin, Huang Yue Li’s pair of intelligent bright eyes looked at the crowd below. As she watched, her mouth parted in surprise.

As the man watched from the side, he had another sudden urge to pinch her cheeks. Especially after he saw a rare expression of blankness.

Mouth hooking, he went to pick up the teacup to personally pour and serve Huang Yue Li.

“Little girl, what are staring blankly for? The price has only reach five hundred thousand silvers, but it’s enough to shock you?”

Turning her head, Huang Yue Li rolled her eyes at him: “I’m wasn’t at loss over the silvers, I was at a loss over your shamelessness! You opened your mouth to casually say that this mystery master is a Fifth Rank Armament Master. And declared they were someone from a great sect! You sure can lie! You are indeed a shameless profiteer!”

The man’s eyebrows raised coolly: “You cannot slander this Lord ah! Hidden sect...was it not you who said to Manager Sun? As for the matter of Fifth Rank Armament Master, it was a blind guess on Manager Sun's account. But he did not say it was for certain, just that there was a possibility. Do you understand a possibility?

Huang Yue Li stared at him for a while and said only one sentence: "Shameless ah, you!"

Because she had to hide her identity, she had to fool Manager Sun and said this mysterious master of hers was in closed door cultivation. But hasn't this man already seen through her? Yet he pushed the responsibility on her!

As for that set of "maybe, probably, roughly" argument, that was completely deceiving the consumers!

The Huang Yue Li from the past, though had far surpassed the fifth rank, her strength was still lacking. So she did not have the nerve to paste this gold on her face. Yet this man dared to say it!

And still so many people believed his words!

Moreover, this man was not ashamed. On the contrary, he was proud of it.

Showing such clear dislike towards him, he still flashed an extremely mesmerizing smile. Somewhat proudly she said: "Flattery, flattery! This is but necessary propaganda! Can you not see that your profound armament is selling at a high price? This is all because of this Lord's hard work!

Show off!

Lips pursed, Huang Yue Li whipped her head around.

Downstairs, the auction for the Autumn Water Sword had entered the final stage.

"Two hundred and seventy thousand!"

"Two hundred and eighty thousand!"

"Three hundred thousand!"

"Five hundred thousand!"

From the left side of the VIP room, came a low male voice, suddenly raising the price to five hundred thousand!

For a time, no one continued to bid.

Manager Sun began the countdown from three. The Autumn Water Sword was sold to the final price of five hundred thousand silvers!

Ordinarily, a third levelled upper grade profound weapon would generally be auctioned at about three hundred thousand. Though Huang Yue Li's sword increased attack power more than usual, it would at most be raised to four hundred thousand or so.

Yet the current price was higher than the market price by one hundred thousand. It most definitely was linked to the shameless and exaggerating advertisement of Thousand Treasure Pavilion.

Subconsciously, Huang Yue Li looked towards the man, coincidentally making eye contact.

Though the masked covered the man's face, but that pair of profoundly inky eyes was like a magnet; sucking her soul inside.

Huang Yue Li fell into a bit of a daze.

"Little thing, did you become stupid from looking at this Lord for too long?"

She didn't regain herself, until she heard the man's low laughter!

"You think too much!" She pursing her mouth, her face fluttered with an embarrassing flush.

Unknowingly, the man's hand had flittered towards her hands. As those artistically beautiful fingers slid across her hand, they left a shuddering feeling.

Chapter 117: Waiting for you to mature into a little steamed bun

Slender eyebrows raised, Huang Yue Li was about to withdraw her hand.

Unexpectedly, the man firmly gripped onto her lean wrist.

"What? This Lord assisted you in earning this much money and you don't show the least bit of gratefulness?" Playing with her slender jade fingers, the man's mouth hooked up again. Murmuring in a low voice, it became huskier and even more seductive.

This man.....was born with the innate ability to seduce females. Even if his appearance was not visible, his overbearing power and charismatic demonism was more than enough to make others lose sense of themselves.

Huang Yue Li was the exception.

Sweeping her gaze over the man, she said coolly: "Release your hand. I don't like others touching me!"

He smiled: "Not releasing. This Lord is afraid you will go back on your word! How about this, tell me how you will repay this Lord..."

Huang Yue Li responded: "Your skin sure is thick. Thousand Treasure Pavilion had originally planned to take their portion of commission from this auction. I will not go back on my word! Your intention is for me to compensate you through another means? Since you are this miserly, I will increased your commission by one fold. This should be fine? This is the first time I am meeting such a petty person!"

The man's mouth parted.

This little girl's mouth really was toxic. Said he was petty?

Very good. This account he shall remember it well. In the future, he will show her how much of a magnanimous man he was!

Unknown to what charming scene he had imagined, the man revealed a pleasant smile.

"Money, this Lord does not put in his eyes. Profound armaments, this Lord is also not lacking in. If you want to use commission to deal with this Lord, this will be unacceptable. But if you were to devote your heart....."

The man scanned her from top to bottom. Puffing out in laughter: "When your two poached eggs can grow to the size of little steamed buns, then this Lord can think about it!"

What poached eggs? Little steamed buns?

All Huang Yue Li felt was the strangeness in the man's smile. But blanking out for a short while, she realised what he meant.

Instantly her cool and calm face turned into a resentful one!

As Huang Yue Li stared at those perfectly shaped lips, she really wished she could rip them to shreds! A dog's mouth will never be able to spit out ivory!

Constantly she had told herself, that before the auction finished, the man still held great value. Plus, she was currently within his territory. If she were to go up against him now, it would put her at a great disadvantage. Hence her self-control and not presenting him a slap on the cheek.

When the man saw the little fox's gaze become more and more malevolent, he decided to quit while he was ahead.

Slowly retracting his hand, he said coolly: "Tsk tsk. Just making a small joke. Little thing, you have such a big temper! Such a violent woman, careful you cannot be married off in the future!"

This is a case of taking advantage and still asking them to be obedient!

Huang Yue Li raised her chin and frostily said: "What does that have to do with you? You should worry more about yourself! Always finding the flaws in others, so be careful that you don't age prematurely. Otherwise in the a few years time, then that place might become useless!"

Because the man was drinking some tea, he choked on his tea when he heard her words. He coughed for quite some time before recovering.

Was it necessary for this little fox to be this poisonous? Did she really have to curse him so?

Did she have even a little bit of a conscience?

Furthermore, if he were to become incompetent, wouldn't be her bad luck?

Luckily Huang Yue Li was oblivious to the man's inner thoughts. Otherwise a great battle would erupt in this private room!

While these two people were in the midst of their quarrel, the auction below had gone through various rounds already.

One by one, each of Huang Yue Li's profound armaments were carried one stage. Each profound armament's bidding reached outstanding heights.

Chapter 118: Ingenious work

For everyone, this was the first time they had ever witnessed such a large amount of third levelled profound armaments.

So each time a new profound armament was brought on stage, the garnered reactions were surprise and admiration.

From the accumulation of anticipation within the atmosphere, it became more and more rowdy!

Coupled with the ingenious hyping executed by Manager Sun, many large families who did plan on participating were also roused and began to bid. They too stepped into the ranks bidders.

The final prices of each new profound armament also rose higher and higher. So much that for one third levelled profound armament that could increase cultivational speed, had been sold for the astronomical price of one million silvers!

This caused Manager Sun's smile to beam so wide that later, he could not even close his mouth.

So much money!

After this many years of hosting auctions, the total amount of silvers spent in the each auction could not compare to today!

When the mood had reached the highest peak, Manager Sun coughed lightly and said: "Everyone, please settle down. Please settle down for a short while!"

But those below still continued their ruckus.

Wrinkling his eyebrows, Manager Sun spoke again. This time he shouted loudly: "Everyone! Please do not be hot-tempered! Those who did not successfully bid for a profound armament, do not worry. Because we are about to reveal the highlight of this auction!"

Once his words fell, the noise immediately stopped.

Numerous eyes were bulged open in surprise without blinking as they fixed their undivided attention to the stage.

This highlight treasure had already, seven days prior, been painted out by Thousand Treasure Pavilion. Spreading throughout the entire capital!

In the legends, only advanced grade Armament Masters would be able to refine a profound armament set!

Although it was at the third levelled, profound armament sets were extremely rare. It was definitely something that an ordinary Third Tiered Profound Armament was incapable of creating. You didn't even need to mention their boundless might!

The true buyers had all come for this set of profound armor.

Clapping his hands, thirteen beautiful women walked on stage. Each carrying a silver casket!

The entire set of that profound armor was displayed for all to see.

Under the lightning, each component of the profound armor glowed a dark cyan colour which matched with engraved carvings. This made it seem all the more mysterious and powerful.

The bustling auction hall instantly turned tranquil and calm.

Every single person held their respective breaths as they observed in admiration towards the work on stage!

Manager Sun said: “This profound armor set consists of thirteen components. Each one is able to increase offensive power by two fold individually. Once they are completed to form a complete entity, one’s defensive power is risen explosively. It would be approximately three times stronger than a practitioner at the Defensive Profound Realm! Apart from this, there is active attack type profound skill—Dark Vortex!”

“Dark Vortex? What profound skill is this?”

“Right? How come I have never heard of it?”

Towards the questions and musings of the crowd below, Manager Sun was unperturbed.

“This is the first time that this profound skill is seen. It may possibly be a personal skill of this hidden master’s. After going through a round of testing in Thousand Treasure Pavilion, we have concluded that its attack power is immense! It can increase the attack by fives times, dealing a critical blow to the opponent! Furthermore, it has an additional cursing attribute that will greatly decrease the opponent’s speed and offense!”

“What? Five fold? ?”

“And it also has an additional curse? ?”

“How could this be? Such a powerful profound skill should be at the black level middle grade? To carve and meld this profound skill into the profound armor, how high would this Armament Master’s skill be?”

“Right. This is just too amazing. Manager Sun, are you purposely speaking such lies to raise the price of this item?”

Chapter 119: How much.....can one jin of reputation be worth?

Holding onto his beard, Manager Sun said in a stern tone: “Our Thousand Treasure Pavilion businesses were always honest and upright. How could we possible lie to everyone? Since this profound armor set became the highlight product of this auction, it would also be tested on site to reveal its effects for all to see!”

Then he smiled and said: “Below, the Armament Guild’s Vice President Yan who will personally test this profound armor for us!”

“Grandmaster Yan? Did I hear incorrectly?”

“It’s actually Grandmaster Yan!”

“Thousand Treasure Pavilion really isn’t simple. To be able to invite Grandmaster Yan to personally test this work!”

The audience marvelled at Thousand Treasure Pavilion’s large influence in shock!

One must know that the Armament Guild was a very arrogant group. To invite them to test credibility of a product, in their view, was a degrading task. And only those lower class people would do such a thing. Towards such a respectable profession, an Armament Master would not undertake such a dangerous job.

Not to mention that Grandmaster Yan was a stately Third Rank Armament Master. In South Yue, he was a highly respected and famous old man.

It was simply a miracle for thousand Treasure Pavilion to invite such a character!

As Manager Sun listened to those praises, his smile turned very mysterious and unreadable.

In actuality, he knew the truth far better than anyone else. The reason behind Grandmaster Yan's trip today was not through his invitation, but out of his own wishes!

Grandmaster Yan most definitely did not come on behalf of Thousand Treasure Pavilion's face. He came purely because he was impressed but such high levelled work seen through this profound armor set. Even at the expense of several trips to request to examine the piece, he was still declined. In order to grab the opportunity to have a close examination of this work of art, he even volunteered to test it at the auction! Sacrificing himself.

Unfortunately, even if he was ready to put his life on the line, the mysterious master would also refuse to see him.....

Under the supervision of Grandmaster Yan, the test process was carried out in a strict and orderly manner.

Meanwhile in the private room, the legendary creator Huang Yue Li merely hooked her lips in an arc, a ray of sharp light passing through her eyes.

Sitting to her side, the lord of Thousand Treasure Pavilion, narrowed his eyes slightly when he saw her sly smile.

This little fox...what ghostly idea is she thinking of again?

Coincidentally, Huang Yue Li turned towards him, making eye contact.

Huang Yue Li then revealed a toothy grin and said: "Lord Owner, I have an idea. I wish for you to lend me a few of your bodyguards to use. This will enable for this profound armament to sell for a higher price. Do you have an interest?"

The man became startled momentarily, not answering immediately.

When this little girl exposed her two rows of orderly and white teeth, those light pink lips were like cherry blossoms, incomparably beautiful and lovely.

Just like misty pearls, suddenly releasing a dazzling brilliance. Simply breathtaking.

More importantly, it was the first time that the little fox laughed so amicably towards him. It even seemed a bit illogical.....

The man slowly spat out two words: "No interest!"

“You!” That smile disappearing instantly from the little fox’s face. Turning fierce, she stared at him, “Did you not say that you will make money for me? Lord Owner, why are you backing out so soon? A man should possess a little credibility no? Okay?”

The man shrugged his shoulders and said, “How much.....can one jin of reputation be worth? Can you use it to feed yourself?”

The tone he spoke in was not particularly dull. But in the current situation and under that circumstance, it seemed especially flat in Huang Yue Li’s ears!

“Your face is really thicker than the walls!”

“Flattery, flattery.” The man turned the topic around, “However, if you are willing to kiss this Lord.....then this Lord can consider helping you.”

Chapter 120: Yearning for that sweet memory

Huang Yue Li was a bit startled, before a faint layer of anger appeared on her face.

“Lord Owner, if you take advantage of others, you are not a gentleman!”

As the man slowly neared her, the corners of his mouth shifted into a radiant arc, “This Lord has never said.....he was some gentleman.”

He leaned forward and without leaving any part her petite body exposed, he enveloped her within his embrace. This was a very strong invasion of her privacy. In the blink of an eye, the only sound that could be heard was the man’s steady breathing.

Those thin and perfect lips slightly pursed and almost within reach of Huang Yue Li’s own.

Huang Yue Li withdrew subconsciously, but was firmly pressed down by a large hand unable to move her seat.

“You...what do you want?”

As a result of the man’s close proximity, Huang Yue Li’s voice was as light as a mosquito. He was so close that a simple small movement would immediately cause them to touch lips.

His eyes hanging down, he wantonly looked at Huang Yue Li’s seven parts young and child-like face.

That little fox’s usual confident face was in rare moment of panic. Entrancing and tickling his heart.

He huskily smirked: “Kiss this Lord.....your wish, this Lord will complete it for you...this transaction, isn’t it very good?”

Huang Yue Li’s eyes clouded and immediately made up her mind.

Looking to the side, she shot forward to give the man a light peck on the mouth.

What the Lord of Thousand Treasure Pavilion said was correct. A small kiss that could be exchanged for an extremely large profit, was not a business lacking in any way.

In her past life, before she had the chance to touch a man's finger, she was sent to the death row. Though this sort of frivolous affair was never experienced, she still heard of such events occurring.

Merely a kiss. It was nothing really. She could just treat it as a small dog's bite.

When the man suddenly felt a soft and tender beyond imagination touch, he was rooted to the ground. Those light lips, with that sweet and fresh mesmerizing breath was all the more fascinating. Unfortunately it lasted merely for a breath. Before he could fully experience that feeling, it disappeared once again.

You want to deal with me like that? No way!

Sensing the little fox's intention to flee, he moved his caging hand from her shoulder to her waist. This forced a change in her trajectory, allowing her fall into his arms.

Immediately, he bowed his head and resolutely pressed his lips onto hers.

Unfortunately, before he could re-experience that wonderful feeling he yearned for, a searing bout of pain flooded from his neck.

Stopping his movements, the man did not dare look down.

He watched as the seemingly weak and innocent little fox display her sharp canines to display her exceptionally innocent laugh. While her pair of slender little hands tightly held a small dagger about fifteen centimetres long.

This dagger was obviously a very high level profound armament. It was as thin as butterfly wing. And in particular angles, the blade would appear invisible; barely identifiable by the naked eye.

While the dagger's sharp edge was currently lying on his neck. This little thing unceremoniously used quite a lot force. The dagger had cut into his neck skin to allow a trail of bright red blood to flow down towards his collarbone.

Without the slightest bit of doubt, the man was certain that this little thing would ruthlessly sever his windpipe if he were to make the tiniest of movements!

Huang Yue Li sweetly smiled: "Lord Owner, we agreed on one kiss. I have already given you that kiss, so how could you raise the arranged price like that? This business...should not done like this?"
