Chapter 1121: Sacred Phoenix Clan's inheritance grounds (2)

The more Huang Yueli couldn't understand, the tighter her slender brows grew.

"It's like this, my father left me a piece of treasure map and he wanted me to follow the hints on the map to look for this early historical remains...."

The man replied, "That's right, those who knows this place are all passed down by their parents. But since your father wants you to come here, didn't he tell you what use this tower is for?"

"Ah? Regarding this... my father didn't say."

In actual fact, Huang Yueli had no time to look at the treasure map which Bai Liu Feng left behind so she didn't know if he left any other clues but now that she has said like this, surely she can't retrieve the treasure map now and took a look right? So she could only pretend till the end.

The man shook his head as he said in total displeasure, "Your father is simply too irresponsible! Such an important matter and yet he didn't tell you clearly, what kind of that is he?"

Huang Yueli hurriedly explained for Bai Liu Feng, "Senior, don't be mistaken. My father had been missing in an expedition since I was still at a very young age, so he didn't purposely not tell me about this."

The man then responded, "No wonder... since that's the case, towards the clan's matters, you know nothing at all?"

Huang Yueli was dumbstruck, "Clan?"

"This... is a long story. Let me self-introduce. My name is Huang Zixiao, the guardian for this inheritance grounds. As what you have seen, I am in a spiritual body state and have been living in this inheritance grounds for eighty thousand over years...."

"Eighty thousand years!" Huang Yueli cried out in shock.

She had thought that this high tower had been here since ten thousand years ago but whoever knew that it had already been in existence since eighty thousand years ago?

What concept was that? Simply unbelievable! Ten thousand years ago, Soaring Heavens Continent underwent a huge change and the past history had all disappeared, only leaving some early historical remains behind.

How was it like eighty thousand years ago, that was something no one had any way to find out.

She discovered another strange point, "Wait a moment, you... your surname is also Huang? And you said, this is... an inheritance ground? What inheritance ground?"

Huang Zixiao laughed as he said, "You and I are all members of the Sacred Phoenix Clan so isn't the surname Huang a matter of fact? As for this place, it is.... The Sacred Phoenix Clan's inheritance grounds."

"Sacred Phoenix Clan?" Huang Yueli repeated after him, not knowing why that it was supposed to be a strange name but it seemed to tug some strings in her heart.

Huang Zixiao nodded and continued, "The Sacred Phoenix Clan had originally been one of the strongest families in Soaring Heavens Continent. Several thousands of years ago, when Soaring Heavens Continent's Profound Qi was still abundant, among the entire God Realm's subsidiary Three Thousand Continent, it was considered top rated. We, the Sacred Phoenix Clan, had always been residing in Soaring Heavens Continent and we have given birth to numerous famed peerless geniuses in Three Thousand Continent! Even in God Realm, we have established ourselves to be one of the four major families!

As he reminisced about the past when the clan was at its peak, the cherished look which flashed past his eyes, with a deep gaze, as though he had returned to the past.

Little Phoenix was hiding in Huang Yueli's arms originally but when he heard this, he couldn't help but jump out.

"Ah! Sacred Phoenix Clan! I remember now, I heard of this family before! They are famous in God Realm! Among God Realm's Top Ten Gods, three were from Sacred Phoenix Clan! But what you're saying is a problem, isn't it? Such a powerful clan, how could they possible have started from the Soaring Heavens Continent?"

"Tsk tsk, this is actually the body of an infant phoenix? And just completed it's first advancement? I think he seems to be at least a few thousand years old and it's only now that he completed his first advancement, isn't he a little slow in development?"

Little Wang Cai was instantly riled up and retorted, "You.... who are you saying is slow in development? Little Master I am so handsome and suave, so aggressive and formidable...."

He tried his best to hoot but Huang Zixiao treated him like air as he continued talking, without minding anyone else.

"... but, you're so young and already succeeded in contracting a phoenix, so you can be considered to be a top talent among our clan in God Realm, and that is extremely hard to come by! Even though this phoenix's development has flaws, but you are still considered as a top-rated genius in the clan!"

When Huang Yueli heard this, she was still unable to regain her senses.

From Huang Zixiao's tone, contracting a phoenix didn't seem to be a universally shocking matter? He said it was "hard to come by", so that meant that it wasn't "one and only", but something which happened once in a while.

But the Phoenix was an authentic spiritual beast! To frequently contract a spiritual beast...

Heavens, what kind of terrifying clan was that? Even though they were a large clan in the God Realm, surely such foul play couldn't happen right?

Moreover, from what Huang Zixiao meant, she was a member of that powerful clan? Was there a mistake somewhere?

"Wait a minute! Senior.... Huang! That... you're saying, I'm from the Sacred Phoenix Clan?"

Huang Zixiao paused for a moment as though he was looking at an idiot, "Of course! This inheritance tower can only be activated by practitioners who possess the bloodline of the Sacred Phoenix Clan. Furthermore, the density of the bloodline must reach a certain degree otherwise even if you let all the blood in your body run dry, you'd not be able to open the door at all! Now that you've already entered this place, you actually don't know which clan you belong to?"

"Bu.... But.... this is not possible, isn't it? I mean.... My background is very ordinary and there aren't many high levelled practitioners in my family, and we are just an ordinary practitioner's family....."

"Your background is ordinary?" Huang Zixiao laughed grimly, "You have a rare Flame Spirit Physique which is not commonly seen even in the God Realm! If your background is indeed from an ordinary practitioner family, how would you have such good innate talent? Please use your brain slightly to think, don't tell me your innate talent and physique was changed because you were struck by lightning?"

"Ughh... this....."

Huang Yueli felt that under Huang Zixiao's continuous setbacks, she was almost going to be despised to an idiot.....

This, to her, was a rare experience and usually she was the one who despised others for being dumb, but today she had actually been despised by others.

But the news which Huang Zixiao brought her was indeed too shocking, so there was no way she could remain calm.

Suddenly, a thought flashed past her mind as she suddenly recalled her mother who she had not met before, that she was a ninth grade talented super genius, but her background was a total mystery, could it be that.....

"How is it? Finally understood what happened?"

"Still not very sure....."

“Don’t feel that it’s not possible, since things have already come to pass, and the inheritance grounds absolutely would not allow those non-blood related people to enter, so no matter what tricks they try to use to enter forcefully, they would all be expelled!”

After so long, she tried ways and means to shut Ling Wenbin outside the inheritance tower, in the end, it was a total waste of her energy?

Chapter 1123: Sacred Phoenix Clan’s inheritance grounds (4)

“That year when the Sacred Phoenix Clan was still in Soaring Heavens Continent, Soaring Heavens Continent isn’t what you see now! The Profound Qi was abundant and was a place in which all clans were fighting to stay in. If it wasn’t for the fact that the Sacred Phoenix Clan was powerful enough, we couldn’t possibly occupy Soaring Heavens Continent for several thousand years that long! Only, later... an accident happened.”

“Accident?” Huang Yueli blinked as she asked, “What accident?”

Huang Zixiao bypassed her question once again, “Anyway, the Heaven and Earth Profound Qi became so thin only one tenth of the past so this resulted in the clan’s decline in the number of geniuses, even those who were able to ascend to the God Realm also kept declining so the clan had no choice but to make the decision to relocate.”

Saying until this point he paused once again.

But this time Huang Yueli kept silent, not continuing from there.

She sort of understood that Huang Zixiao was simply self-conceited to the extreme so naturally there probably was some clan secret which he couldn’t let her know about. In conclusion, no matter what she asked, there wasn’t any use as he would not pay any attention to it, treating as though he didn’t hear anything and would not answer her at all.

As expected, even though she didn’t say a word, Huang Zixiao continued to weave his story.

“Roughly eighty thousand years ago, when the clan was at its peak, in order to filter out the clan’s geniuses, the clan leader at that time had borrowed the entire clan’s strength to build this inheritance tower. In this tower, there is a large amount of the clan’s resources and cultivation methods inheritance. At the same time, it is an extremely harsh system, used to filter out the best top geniuses. During that time, the inheritance tower would be activated once a year and the clan’s talented practitioners who were between fifteen to twenty years old would enter the tower and obtain the inheritance according to their performance. All the peerless geniuses who were formidable and renown in the God Realm had all experienced the inheritance’s assessment.”

“However, after the entire clan relocated from Soaring Heavens Continent, this inheritance tower was left idle here. Your luck is extremely good, under such thin Profound Qi in Soaring Heavens Continent, to be able to enter the inheritance tower and have the standard ability to take part in the assessment!”

Huang Yueli finally couldn't help but butted in, "Taking part in the inheritance assessment requires one to reach a certain standard ability?"

"How is that possible?" Huang Zixiao stared at her.

"You know that to activate the inheritance tower requires how much Profound Qi? The inheritance tower now is sometimes visible because of the lack of Profound Qi! Furthermore, when the clan was at its peak, there were millions of clansmen living in Soaring Heavens Continent and it was not possible for everyone to take part in the assessment! So everytime the inheritance tower was activated, the talented ones among the clan had to obtain a quota according to the battle ranking and only those ranked top five hundred geniuses could enter the inheritance tower."

"First five hundred....." Huang Yueli's mouth twitched.

She thought only the first five could enter the tower! First five hundred, seemed like there wasn't any difficulty at all...

Huang Zixiao saw through what she was thinking as he snorted, "What? Looking down on the first five hundred geniuses? Let me tell you, at that time, those geniuses who had the qualifications to enter the inheritance tower, without any exception, were able to breakthrough to the tenth stage realm before they turn thirty and ascend to the God Realm!"

"What? How is that possible?" Huang Yueli turned pale with fright.

Hearing this, she could no longer remain calm!

The clan's top five hundred were able to enter the inheritance tower and moreover the inheritance tower was activated yearly!

This meant that in the Sacred Phoenix, there were five hundred genius practitioners who advanced to the tenth stage realm before they turn thirty yearly!

Chapter 1124: Innate skill assessment (1)

Tenth stage realm!

That was something which Mu Chengying, in his past life, had spent numerous effort on but yet still unable to attain at that realm!

Remembering the incident before something happened to her, Mu Chengying once said that he had finally felt the threshold of breaking through to the tenth stage realm but that, in order to save her, he forcefully stopped his closed door cultivation and his stage realm dropped. And now she had no idea how he became Li Moying.... tenth stage realm, probably wasn't able to attain that.

So it could be seen how difficult it was to attain to the tenth stage realm!

Even so, several thousand years ago, when Soaring Heavens Continent's Heaven and Earth's Profound Qi's density was ten times more than the current, based on Mu Chengying's innate talent then, he would probably had ascended long ago.

But even so, on hearing that so many young practitioners breaking through to the tenth stage realm every year was still a shocking achievement.

No wonder Little Wang Cai said the Sacred Phoenix Race was one of the four large clans in the God Realm.

This potential, was indeed outstanding!

Huang Zixiao saw her gasp in admiration expression as he felt more comfortable in his heard. This inexperienced young lass, when she first entered here, she was totally clueless about the clan's glamorous history, which simply made him, someone who was bursting with glory with the clan's honour felt like his chest was so stuffed that he could die. Now... her performance finally seemed normal.

"Now do you understand? Know how big of an advantage you've picked up?" Huang Zixiao hummed as he said chillingly.

Huang Yueli nodded her head, "Indeed rather surprised..... but surely this cannot be called as picking up an advantage right? I feel that with my innate talent, even if it was several thousand years ago, I would still be able to enter the inheritance tower."

Huang Zixiao had thought that after Huang Yueli heard what he said, she would absolutely put on a look as though a huge pie had dropped from the sky, knowing how lucky she was. In the end, this lass actually seemed as though it was a matter-of-fact thing to happen?

Did she think that having a Flame Spirit Physique was something incredible?

Certainly, the Flame Spirit Physique wasn't commonly seen among the Sacred Phoenix Race but in the way of cultivation, it wasn't purely just based on the innate physique only!

Huang Zixiao spoke in displeasure, "Looks like, you're very confident? Feel that your innate talent is very good? Then why not hurry over and do the assessment."

"Assessment?" Huang Yueli blinked.

Huang Zixiao's wide robe sleeves waved towards the sky as the centre of the high tower which was originally empty suddenly appeared a long crystal like pillar, and under the strong reflection of the light, it looked sparkling and translucent with brilliant lights and vibrant colours, looking very magical.

Although Huang Yueli had guessed something in her heard, but she still opened her mouth to ask, "What is this?"

Huang Zixiao said, "This is the mechanism which we use commonly in the God Realm to assess one's innate talent. Now walk to the centre position of the pillar and unleash all the Profound Energy in your body into it. The light pillar's brightness will undergo changes according to your innate talent and different brightness represented different innate talent grades!"

Huang Yueli was stunned for a moment, "Innate talent grade? My Flame Spirit Physique should be ninth grade innate talent and above!"

Huang Zixiao's lips revealed a scornful smile, "First to ninth grade innate talent, is something which those ordinary practitioners who aren't from a clan, uses to assess the grade. In a large clan like the Sacred Phoenix Race, innate talents of ninth grade and below are all considered as ordinary grade innate talent!"

"Ordinary grade innate talent? What is that?" Huang Yueli couldn't understand it at all.

Although Huang Zixiao seemed slightly impatient, but he still started to explain.

"In God Realm, the real geniuses innate talent grading are categorised into four different grades, Heaven grade, Earth grade, Human grade and Ordinary grade. Soaring Heavens Continent's so called first to ninth grade talent all fall into the category of Ordinary grade."

Chapter 1125: Innate skill assessment (2)

"Ordinary grade, is the most basic innate talent grade. That only represented that this person was barely enough to cultivate to become a practitioner! Whereas human grade innate talent meant that this person had the ability to pass through the cultivation to ascend to God Realm. Of course, Soaring Heavens Continent's current method of assessing innate talents is wrong so for those extremely strong practitioners with better innate talent may only be tested as ninth grade but there was still a possibility of a human grade genius."

She was saying, that year Mu Chengying's innate talent had obviously surpassed her ninth grade talent by so much then but their assessment results was still the same. Looks like Mu Chengying should at least be a human grade genius, only Soaring Heavens Continent wasn't capable of assessing it correctly.

She asked again, "Then.... heaven grade and earth grade innate talent, what are those?"

Huang Zixiao sneered coldly, "You certainly have some self-confidence to ask about heaven and earth grade innate talent, but what's the point? Anyway you cannot possibly have that kind of innate talent!"

Huang Yueli was first stunned, as she asked puzzledly, "Why is it not possible? The speed of my cultivation had always been very fast, moreover, you had said earlier that my type of Flame Spirit Physique is not commonly seen in the God Realm, so surely there must be something which is exceptional about it right?"

Huang Zixiao replied, "You're right, Flame Spirit Physique is indeed rarely seen but that's only part of your innate talent, which means to say your affinity towards fire attribute is extremely high! Although this is an obvious advantage, but the real innate talent isn't just about affinity but your power of comprehension, endurance, physique.... A combination of various elements to yield the result! Having the same Flame Spirit Physique, some may possibly be a heaven grade genius but many are merely a human grade genius!"

Seeing Huang Yueli still not convinced, he continued, "You think that heaven grade geniuses are that easy? In God Realm, among ten thousand human grade geniuses there would only be one earth grade genius. Among ten thousand earth grade geniuses, there is only one heaven grade talent! If it was a practitioner who is a direct descendant of the Sacred Phoenix Race, then there is a ten percent chance that the person is an earth grade genius!”

“Although the Sacred Phoenix Race bloodline runs within your body, but the members who stayed behind in Soaring Heavens Continent were all sub branches among the branches and the density of their bloodlines are not high. So after tens of thousands of years, the bloodline now has probably thinned out and the innate talent which was inherited naturally wouldn’t be any higher!”

“I see.”

Huang Yueli nodded.

Hearing these, to say she was not disappointed was not possible but changing her thoughts, the Profound Qi’s density in Soaring Heavens Continent was just like that so the chances of ascending in the future is not high so whichever grade genius she belonged to in the God Realm didn’t seem that important at all.

As long as she could successfully obtain the inheritance in the inheritance tower, and raised her own ability, as long as she doesn’t drag Li Moying’s hind feet, to her, that was already a huge reward.

With this thought in mind, she turned towards Huang Zixiao and said, “When can I start the assessment?”

Huang Zixiao said, “Go to the centre of the light pillar first to test your innate talent grade. In the inheritance tower, towards different clansmen with different innate talent grades, the difficulty of the tests are different. The higher the grade of the test, the better the rewards are. So you must try your best to unleash all of your ability to obtain the inheritance tower’s acknowledgement.”

Although he said so, but in Huang Zixiao’s heart he had already ascertained that Huang Yueli was definitely a human grade genius, and furthermore, someone who was in the lower level among the human grade.

No matter how much Profound Energy she unleashed, the result would still be the same.

Chapter 1126: Innate skill assessment (3)

His detailed explanation earlier was merely a formality.

Huang Zixiao said, “Let’s start!”

Among the surge of fire attributed energy, other mixed attributed Profound Energy also charged towards the entire light pillar!

The colour which was instantly reflected was a blazing fire red colour, as its rays were dazzling, attracting one's eyes!

Huang Zixiao was originally looking on the side line with an expressionless face, thinking that this was just a formality but as the bright glare lit up the light pillar, it illuminated the entire high tower and an astonished look was shown on his face as his eyes turned wide as he couldn't help but take a step out.

"This... how could this be possible? How could the brightness possibly be.... So strong??"

Huang Yueli's continued to imbue her Profound Energy into this light pillar and not only was it dazzling, it even climbed all the way up!

In the inheritance tower, the brightness of the energization of the light pillar represented the intensity of the practitioner's affinity and strength. Whereas the height of the light pillar represented the practitioner's innate talent grade.

Huang Yueli had a Flame Spirit Physique and originally her fire attributed affinity and strength were already very strong so towards this point, Huang Zixiao had long expected this outcome.

But no matter how much mental preparation he had, when this happened right in front of his eyes, it still gave him a great shock!

Because... this was just too bright! It was simply not possible for common Flame Spirit Physiques to achieve such brightness! Even when the entire clan was at its peak, such a practitioner who could light up the pillar to such brightness were mostly the top talents within the family clan!

Not only that, Huang Yueli's light pillar was not totally red in colour. Amidst the red coloured rays were mixed with other colours. Even if the red was shining brightly, but there was no way to suppress all the other colours rays!

This meant that she didn't just had one single fire attribute, but also had the innate talent for the other attributes! Furthermore, under the circumstances where her fire attributed affinity and strength were so strong, there was simply no way to conceal the other attributes' innate talent which she had, so that meant she was a hundred percent multi-attribute genius. The other attributes innate talents as compared to fire attribute..... were not inferior in any respect!

"Heavens... how could this be? Her fire attribute affinity and strength is actually so high! Even if her power of comprehension, determination and others are not so good, but with this kind of affinity, there are hopes for her to become an Earth grade genius!"

But immediately following that, Huang Zixiao shook his head as he mumbled to himself, "But, this is only a possibility. Only one or two Earth grade geniuses among the Sacred Phoenix Race, would appear every several decades. And basically those were all direct descendants or side branches clansmen, who could become Earth grade geniuses, and sometimes there might not even be one after several thousand years. This young lass... naturally couldn't be one."

Just as he was in deep thoughts, the light pillar continued to climb up.

Very quickly, it had already shot past the bottom most portion and reached the height of Human grade genius, but the light pillar didn't stop there and continued climbing upwards!

But after rushing past half of the height, the speed of the light pillar started to slow down gradually, especially the nearer it reached Earth grade genius's height, the speed of ascension became slower and slower.....

Huang Zixiao sighed with emotion, "My guess is indeed correct, this young lass.... is unable to reach the Earth grade....."

Chapter 1127: Innate skill assessment (4)

"But, she's already very incredible! This innate talent, amongst the Human grade geniuses, is already at the forefront. Adding on to her multi attribute innate talents, if she could obtain the clan's inheritance, even if she met the lowest tier of Earth grade genius, she might be able to fight it out!"

The light pillar's ascension speed continued its snail pace and finally... as though it was about to stop.

Huang Zixiao sighed, "About to end....."

Just at this moment, a much more glaring ray than before shone brilliantly and following that, it ferociously jumped by up a notch as it directly shot past the Earth grade talent's checkpoint!

"Wh.. What? What's this situation?"

At this moment, the calm and disdainful look could no longer be found on Huang Zixiao's face, as he had completely gone into a shocked daze by what he saw.

Because, even in his wildest dreams, he had not expected Huang Yueli to be able to reach the standard of an Earth grade genius!

Even several thousand years ago, there were very few Earth grade geniuses assessed in the inheritance tower! What's more about the current place where resources were so scarce?

How did she do it?

Could it be that because she possessed a Flame Spirit Physique, so those side branches remnants of the Sacred Phoenix Race who were left behind in Soaring Heavens Continent had all thrown whatever resources they had onto her, which was why they were able to nurture such a unique Earth grade genius?

But this saying wasn't totally correct? Sacred Phoenix Race's valuable inheritance had all been brought to the God Realm and those which could not be taken away were all in the inheritance tower. Even if she was one of the clan's side branch valued peerless genius, how much resources would she possibly get? Probably what she could not even be compared to what God Realm's lowest levelled rubbish could get!

Under such circumstances... she actually... became an Earth grade genius?

However, what Huang Zixiao didn't expected was, Huang Yueli not only did not get any resources from the God Realm's direct descent, in actual fact, she did not enjoy any resources at all, not to mention anyone nurturing her! If he knew the truth behind this, his tears would absolutely flow!

While Huang Zixiao was in deep thoughts, the light pillar which was energized by Huang Yueli continued climbing upwards.

Besides that, after stepping over the boundary which marked out the Earth grade, she seemed to break through a bottleneck as the light pillar's speed actually didn't decrease, and had been stably rising upwards. Even though it wasn't as fast as initial stage, but it was extremely stable.

Huang Zixiao's jaw tightened as he kept his eye on the light pillar's upwards trend, as he began to feel unwell.

"... Heavens, have I been shut in the inheritance tower for too long, which is why I'm hallucinating? How could anyone possibly reach Heaven grade? Among the direct descendants in the clan, only one Heaven grade geniuses appeared every three thousand years!"

"This absolutely... is a misperception."

"Even if she could get closer to Heaven grade, but she couldn't possibly reach Heaven grade. Because when the light pillar reached the highest one tenth part, to hope to ascend just one inch was as difficult as reaching for the skies! So no matter how close she gets, she will not be able to reach it."

"But, she actually had reached such a fore front position among the Earth grade geniuses, this innate talent is simply incomparable! Even though the Profound Qi density in Soaring Heavens Continent is so low now, she has a ninety percent chance of being able to ascend to God Realm, but she will need to spend hundreds of years to do so. Even if she returns to the clan in God Realm in future, she would be highly valued and nurtured by the clan."

"Wait! What's that??"

Chapter 1128: Heaven grade genius (1)

He saw the light pillar had slowly reached the top of the tower, leaving only just one tenth of a distance from the peak.

But the light pillar had not stopped ascending!

"Could it be... impossible! This probably is already her limit!"

At this point of time, Huang Yueli who was standing in the centre of the light pillar, was indeed reaching her limit.

When she entered this innate testing mechanism, she discovered that this mechanism which was left behind from the ancient times had indeed been as overbearing as the Sacred Phoenix Clan. It wasn't like what Huang Zixiao mentioned earlier, to let her inject her Profound Energy of her own accord.

On the contrary, the minute she stepped in, the light pillar began to actively absorb the Profound Energy within her.

This was why when she just reached Earth grade, the Profound Energy in her hadn't much left and the light pillar seemed to have halted in ascending.

Actually, to be able to reach a standard near the Earth grade genius, to her as a practitioner who grew up in the lower realm was already an universally shocking innate talent. In her own continent, she was already considered to be a top rated peerless expert.

But at this moment, she heard Huang Zixiao's ramblings to himself.

"... side branches clansmen, who could become Earth grade geniuses, and sometimes there might not even be one after several thousand years."

"This young lass... naturally couldn't be one....."

What Huang Yueli hated the most was to be despised by others, not to mention that others saying that she could not do something!

Why was it not possible? She just had to do it to show him that she could do it!

Furthermore, the result of the innate talent assessment was not just about figures, it also decided the difficulty and rewards which she would gain after the training, and she must give a shot on this!

Thinking of this, Huang Yueli clenched her teeth hard as she persisted and continued to throw in whatever Profound Energy that remained within her body.

<< Nine Phoenix Transformations >> was a cultivation method which specialised in recovery, which enabled her to regain her Profound Energy much faster than other people in the middle of a battle.

She tried her best to extract her own capacity, hoping to regain more Profound Energy to inject into the light pillar.

As expected, although the speed of the light pillar's ascension had grown extremely slow, but it was still climbing upwards!

But her effort and perseverance were still limited and just as she was a line away from the Earth grade's standard, Huang Yueli's Profound Energy was completely sucked dry, which meant that she really had reached her limit...

Huang Yueli's face was pale as she bit her lip, with no choice but to accept that this indeed was her innate talent.....

Just as she was waiting to be transmitted out, suddenly, the Sky Phoenix Ring which had melded into her started to vibrate.

Immediately following that, the Sky Phoenix Ring suddenly emitted a glow, as her entire Dantian was enveloped in it, making her feel as though she was soaked in the medicinal bath while she was advancing, her entire body felt as though she was being torched by flames, so hot that she always cried out loudly!

These glowing energy started to spread apart, dissipating into each and every meridian of hers.

Huang Yueli could feel that this energy was not Profound Energy, but a kind of much more strong, and more dangerous energy, but she totally didn't know how to use it!

Luckily at this moment, she was at the centre of the light pillar, and she was required to actively used these energy.

The light pillar automatically absorbed these energy.

Relatively, the light pillar's length swiftly extended by a notch, as it steadily surpassed the Earth grade's checkpoint!

Chapter 1129: Heaven grade genius (2)

The energy in the Sky Phoenix Ring was as though a steady flow. No matter how much the light pillar absorbed it, it still steadily unleashed the power outwards.

Because of that, the light pillar also rose upwards and it didn't met with any further obstruction.

It was all the way until the distance was one tenth away from the peak when Huang Yueli felt the energy in her meridians gradually turning lesser.

By the time it had reached a distance of one percent away from the peak, the energy in her was almost depleted.

Huang Zixiao was already in so much shock that he was totally unable to sit still.

Heaven grade.... This was heaven grade! This young lass was actually so near to heaven grade!

What concept was that? Haven grade genius, was a rare existence in the entire God Realm!

Towards the super levelled Sacred Phoenix Race clan, it was already a high frequency if they were able to come out with one in every ten thousand years.

As for those slightly smaller influences in God Realm, in the hundreds of thousands of history, if they were able to get just one, their ancestors' graves would fume green smoke!

If Huang Yueli could reach it... then.....

But don't think that it was just one percent away, the later it was, the more difficult it became!

At this moment in time, in order for the light pillar to step over that last natural moat, and reach the most excellent standard which everyone looked up to, it wasn't just based on their in-born physique, potential, comprehension but purely determination! It was all based on a heart filled with determination, only thinking of moving forwards and not giving up!

If there wasn't any slightly bigotry determination, no matter how good the in-born qualifications were, then one would not have any possibility of breaking through.

So, there were numerous superior geniuses who had great in-born talents, but they were unable to be recognised as heaven grade, so after they had confirmed that all their potential had been unleashed, they chose to give up.

Whereas for Huang Yueli... would she give up?

It was just this little bit left and she had gone through so much to come to this step, so how could she possibly give up!

She knew that she needed more strength and needed to grow up more. She wanted to stand side by side with Mu Chengying and she wanted to exact revenge towards those who had caused her death in her previous life! All these required her to become strong, furthermore, she must turn stronger in the shortest amount of time!

But after the energy in the Sky Phoenix Ring was depleted, the light pillar could not extract any more energy from her body, hence it started to draw her blood essence.

Blood Essence was a person's underlying foundation and once it had been drawn out, their life span would be swiftly weakened and even a huge possibility which would lead to their deaths directly!

Huang Yueli only felt that there were two different energies in and outside her body, which kept tugging and pulling, as though it was about to split her up into two halves!

But even under such pain and pressure, she still forced herself to remain calm!

Earlier although there was Sky Phoenix Ring to supply energy to the light pillar, but she had not given up on using the << Nine Phoenix Transformations >> to regenerate her own Profound Energy! Even though she knew that this little bit of Profound Energy was definitely not a lot, but she absolutely would not give up any sliver of hope!

The cultivation method had been operated till now and she finally accumulated some Profound Energy. She tried her best to persist on and injected these Profound Energy into her meridians.

The light pillar quickly drew away that little bit of Profound Energy which she managed to squeeze out.

Immediately following that, the light pillar began to move upwards again, its snail pace was so slow that one could not see any changes at all.

But no matter how slow it was, it was still continuing to ascend.

Finally.... gradually moving closer towards the peak....

Chapter 1130: Heaven grade genius (3)

By now, Huang Zixiao had completely forgot to breath as his eyes were totally affixed on the light pillar, not even daring to blink just so that he was afraid that he might miss a single bit of change on it!

He knew that, he was witnessing a miraculous birth right now!

The..... birth of a heaven grade genius!

After a difficult time of climbing, it finally reached the peak of the inheritance tower.

Just at this instance, the entire light pillar suddenly emitted a super glaring ray, which was much more brighter by several times than before, and instantly, the entire inheritance tower was enveloped in this strong light!

Although Huang Zixiao was only a spirit body, but he was still unable to open his eyes fully from such a blaring ray!

It was only after the glow gradually subsided when Huang Yueli's figure finally appeared in the centre of the high tower.

She laid on one side, totally immovable but the expression on her face wasn't in pain, but rather it was exceptionally peaceful.

The light pillar had already shattered into pieces by now as it enveloped her entire body. The shattered pieces, one after another, dropped down onto her body as it begun to be absorbed into her.

"AH—!! Female Devil, what's happened to you—!! Finished, finished, will you die or not! If you die, who will cook chicken drumsticks for me to eat!"

As Huang Zixiao was afraid that Little Phoenix would disrupt the entire process, he had kept it sealed within a boundary so no matter how he bounced or hopped, he was not allowed to leave it.

Now that everything had ended, he finally waved his hand to remove the boundary.

When Little Wang Cai was released, it immediately pounced onto Huang Yueli, bawling loudly.

Huang Zixiao was still soaked in the shock from the birth of a heaven grade genius but on seeing this, his forehead creased as he suddenly felt that an act was put on.

What on earth was happening? This young lass.... actually fed a phoenix chicken drumsticks? And from what it said, she seemed to have fed him a lot?

No wonder this phoenix was so fat, and it had dysplasia!

Sigh, a young lass was after all a young lass, she was still so young and had no knowledge so even if she was heaven grade, but she still didn't know how to rear a spiritual beast! Later he must educate her properly!

Her memories started to return to her as she hurriedly sat up.

She took a deep breath to sense the Profound Energy within her body and shockingly discovered, that she actually... actually advanced successfully??

She was now a fourth stage realm practitioner!

Furthermore, during the last moment in the light pillar, she had obviously felt her entire blood and Qi's energy being sucked dry, and was worried that her life would be shortened but now, her blood essence was flourishing. Not only did she not show any signs of aging, on the contrary, she even felt that she had more vitality than before.....

Just as she was in a daze, she heard footsteps closing in.

"Congratulations, you're the third heaven grade genius to be assessed by this inheritance tower!"

Huang Yueli went into a short blank and instantly gave a mixed expression which showed shock and joy, "I succeeded? Earlier I was just lacking a little to breakthrough to heave grade but after I tried my best, I fainted directly so I thought I had failed!"

"No, you've succeeded! At the same time, so successful and perfectly completed the first stage of refinement!" Huang Zixiao smiled as he said that.

Earlier when Huang Yueli just stepped in, his attitude was still filled with ninety percent of arrogance. After all, he was the clan's minister who had guarded the inheritance tower for several thousands of years whereas Huang Yueli was merely a nobody among the younger generation. He had seen a lot of such people so naturally he wouldn't give a hoot about them.

But now, the situation was totally different!

Perhaps even she herself didn't knew what that meant, but Huang Zixiao knew clearly what it meant!
