Chapter 2007: Examine on the spot (5)

Huang Yueli nodded her head, "I understand, then I shall give it a try!"

When she said that, it immediately made all the others stunned.

"You.... you're really going to try?" Even Dai Boqi also had a shock.

Feng Xiaoyan totally couldn't help exposing her sinister smile, "Hehe, extremely retarded and totally overestimating yourself! Who do you think you are? Do you really think that you're a pill refining genius? Just wait to be embarrassed in front of everyone!"

The other Pill Masters were also discussing this.

Huang Yueli was totally unaffected as her expression was as normal as usual when she walked straight over to the box and squatted down.

Everyone was staring at her petite figure, waiting to see her next action.

"Make a guess, what would she do?"

"Do we still need to ask? Since there is no difference from the exterior, to sense the Earth attributed energy, it will be to hold the medicinal herbs in one's hand and inject one's Profound Energy to sense the internal portion of the medicinal herb and this process takes at least ten breaths....."

"It needs such a long time....."

"Obviously! This is a high levelled operation on the control of one's Profound Energy! Look, she's starting to make a move. Following this, she will start to sense... eh? Why did she throw that medicinal herbs away so quickly?"

Huang Yueli squatted down and at first she picked up a stalk of medicinal herb as per normal.

Just as everyone was assuming that she could carefully sense it, her brows suddenly rose and she conveniently threw the medicinal herb to one side.

"What is she doing??"

"Surely she really doesn't think that just casually feeling it and that would be considered as sensing?"

"What the... does she really think she's picking the radishes in the market?"

"An amateur will always be an amateur, she indeed doesn't know anything at all! This time round she will definitely reveal her fox tail!"

Everyone was looking at one another in dismay initially but following that, they revealed a smile which seemed as though they were gloating over her misfortune.

Originally, everyone didn't believe that Huang Yueli had such high pill refining innate talent and were not resigned to being stepped down on the person whom they looked down on originally.

Now that she was about to make a fool out of herself, they were naturally filled with anticipation.

What followed after made them feel even more shocking.

Initially Huang Yueli was retrieving the stalks one after another from the box but now after she already felt twenty over stalks, she probably felt that it was a waste of time or something like then hence she started to grab handfuls of medicinal herbs one after another, grabbing one handful after another, that stance seemed as though she was throwing rubbish or something similar.

Everyone was dumbstruck when they saw this, as they were all pondering on the same question, did she really touch every single stalk of medicinal herb? Or had she already given up and intentionally shifted her anger onto these medicinal herbs?

Until the end, Huang Yueli simply flipped the box over and threw all the medicinal herbs on the ground then casually moving her hand around to feel around.

When Feng Zhensheng saw that, his face turned green.

Because these medicinal herbs were all taken out from his private store and after being tormented by Huang Yueli in such a way, god knew how many stalks of it were put to waste!

But at the same time, he was feeling extremely excited in his heart.

Because judging from Huang Yueli's unreliable look, he knew that she totally didn't know how to differentiate the medicinal herbs, nor did she know how to sense the inner energy within the medicinal herbs, totally unable to differentiate between the medicinal effects.

Just this ghastly look, it would be strange if she was able to pick the Nine Leaf Lingzhi out!

This wretched lass's real face was undoubtedly exposed this time round!

After one hour later, Huang Yueli picked out seven stalks from that large pile of medicinal herbs, sending it in front of Dai Boqi.

"Divine Doctor Dai, I've already picked out all seven stalks of Nine Leaf Lingzhi, please have a look."

Before Dai Boqi could even say a word, Feng Xiaoyan who was standing by the side started to give a chilly laugh.

"Are you certain that you've picked it all out already? You ought to get it clear that within these seven stalks, you must at least be certain that three stalks are genuine Nine Leaf Lingzhi otherwise you can forget about continuing to stay on in the Alchemist Guild from today onwards!"

Huang Yueli turned her head back and slighted her faintly, "That's right, I'm certain that these few stalks are it."

"Hahaha, interesting! From your looks, you seem rather confident! Did you really think Nine Leaf Lingzhi are all cabbages? Just casually picking and choosing, and you're able to pick them all out? Are you here to tease all of us?" Feng Xiaoyan couldn't help but laughed out loudly.

Not to mention that this young lass totally doesn't have any pill refining innate talent, even if she had, or even if she had not bad innate talent, it wasn't possible for her to differentiate out these two kinds of medicinal herbs so easily.

So to speak, this time round, Huang Yueli was absolutely going to run into a huge streak of bad luck!

Huang Yueli's expression remained composed right from the start, "Whether the medicinal herbs that I've picked out are right or not, it doesn't seem as though you're the one who can make the decision? Divine Doctor Dai hasn't even taken a look, so on what basis do you have to keep guessing randomly?"

Feng Xiaoyan was stuffed right back but she wasn't very upset over it, merely giving a cold laugh, "Yo, still daydreaming right there? If you are able to pick out the Nine Leaf Lingzhi just based on your calibre, then I will not need to refine pills anymore in future!"

Huang Yueli's lips curled slightly as she replied in a smile which didn't look quite like a smile, "Who's the one daydreaming? You originally seem like there's no way for you to refine pills any longer, isn't it?"

Saying that, she intentionally took a look at Feng Xiaoyan's long sleeves which were hanging down.

Now when Feng Xiaoyan needed to go out, she needed to put on a veil and her sleeves of those clothing which she wore were especially long, which could nicely conceal her twisted and broken fingers.

Feng Xiaoyan was poked right at her sore spot and was instantly smoking from her seven orifices.

"BAI RUOLI——!"

She couldn't control the fury in her and was about to fly into a rage when Dai Boqi couldn't help but frowned, barking out lowly, "Enough! What's there to argue about? If you want to quarrel, scam out of this old man's turf to quarrel!"

Feng Xiaoyan's expression froze instantly, and after some time, she took a fierce stare at Huang Yueli before turning her body around.

At this moment, everyone else was crowded around Dai Boqi as numerous pairs of eyes were fixed intently onto those seven stalks of medicinal herbs.

Huang Yueli was totally not particular as she casually picked out those few stalks of medicinal herbs and just piled it all together. Plus the fact that the box was stained with the dust earlier, those medicinal herbs looked dirty and messy, totally unable to tell what kind of valuable medicinal herbs they were.

"Make a guess... out of these seven stalks of medicinal herbs, how many of them are Nine Leaf Lingzhi?" Someone couldn't help but quietly started to discuss this.

"Obviously, none of it! Haven't you seen how choosy she was earlier? Just this.... And she's able to pick out the Nine Leaf Lingzhi? The sun will rise from the west side!"

"That might not be true? I'm guessing at least one stalk, or perhaps two. After all, casually grabbing a handful might also allow her to grab one stalk of Lingzhi, perhaps her luck is very good?"

"What you say is reasonable, then I'll guess one stalk!"

Dai Boqi couldn't help but frowned, "Throwing these medicinal herbs in such a manner, simply a waste of treasure!"

Feng Zhensheng bursted out laughing, "Divine Doctor Dai, just look at her and you will know, she's totally not the material to be a Pill Master and she's definitely lying! Don't overwork yourself and let's get rid of her quickly and have an early rest!"
