Chapter 35: Do not insult my intelligence

“Wait, wait. This young master, don’t be so hasty.”

Hastily, Shopkeeper Sun went to block his path.

He was someone who held open doors towards business. Unlike Grandmaster Yan who was subjective.

He had concluded that though the chances of this youngster possessing third tier armaments were very low, let alone a whole cartful. But since he dared to come to Thousand Treasure Pavilion, he should at least have some sort of treasure within his grasp.

Even if he assumed it to be a second tier armament, it was something he could not miss.

With a pleasant tone and smile he said: “This young master, why don’t you take the armament that you brought with you out and let us see it. The person beside me is the Armament Guild’s Vice-President. He is a grand Third Rank Armament Master. If your armaments can be appraised by him, they will definitely be able to fetch a high price.”

“Third Rank Armament Master!”

“Turns out he was the Armament Guild’s Vice-President!”

“My god! He is a such a famous person!”

Hearing that, the customers within the store all started to exclaim in surprise.

On Grandmaster Yan’s face was an expression of content. It was clear that he was a person who enjoyed the worship of others.

Casting Huang Yue Li a side glance, he said: “Old Sun, it’s not that I’m not helping you, but it is just this brat is shooting his mouth so ridiculously. It’s unknown where he found those rubbish armaments. Yet he is randomly calling them third tier items. Completely unaware of the heaven’s height and the earth’s depths! Does he think that armaments are like cabbages? These actions are insulting us Armament Masters! This senior will absolutely not help appraise them!”

Hurriedly Shopkeeper Sun consoled: “Grandmaster Yan, please don’t bicker and bother with the younger generation.”

As he spoke, he used his eyes to signal Huang Yue Li to apologise to Grandmaster Yan.

Ignoring this old man, Huang Yue Li took out a piece of paper she had prepared beforehand and handed it to Shopkeeper Sun.

“Shopkeeper Sun, this is a rough summary of all the items. Because there are far too many items, it is inconvenient for me to bring them all in. I have placed them in a cart outside.”

As Shopkeeper Sun scanned through the list, his gaze immediately turned blank. It was if he was a statue carved out of stone, not moving at all. “This...this.....this is.....”

Never before had Grandmaster Yan been ignored like so. Just as he was thinking how he wanted to slap that little demon to death, he saw Shopkeeper Sun face form an expression akin to seeing a ghost.

Surprised, he asked: "What is the matter? Is it really a pile of junk? This type of boastful youngster, this senior had seen too many!"

Taking the paper from Shopkeeper Sun's hands, he gave it a look. His hand trembled.

"One Third Tier Upper Grade weapon; Profound Weapon Autumn Water Sword, two Third Tier Middle Grade weapons; Profound Weapon Nine Part Whip.....Third Tier Lower Grade.....Profound Artifacts??? What jokes are you making?"

Armaments were divided into Profound Weapon, Profound Armor and Profound Artifacts. These three categories.

Within them, the Profound Weapon armaments contained the most attack power, the easiest to refine and the lowest in prices. The defensive Profound Armors were second.

While Profound Artifacts were armaments that held special abilities. They would commonly possess unique attributes and each one would be unique. They were the most precious.

Additionally, not all Armament Masters are able to refine Profound Artifacts.

Even though Grandmaster Yan was an esteemed Third Rank Armament Master, he was only able to refine Second Tier Lower Grade Profound Artifacts.

However, there was something even more shocking on this list.

"...At the end, there is even an entire set of defensive Profound Armors. This included a helmet, suit, wristguards, boots.....a total of thirteen items. The entire set could amplify one's defensive abilities by threefold and included a unique skill?"

After reading this list, Grandmaster Yan was so astounded that his beard was trembling.

But very quickly, the corners of his mouth rose, revealing a contemptuous smile.

"Little demon, your knowledge towards armaments isn't shallow, even knowing what an armament set is. You must be a child from an influential family, no? But your lie is far too big. You are blatantly insulting this senior's intelligence!"
