Less than half an hour after the video was released, under the cooperation of the netizens, the female student who abused dogs was dug out.

The title 'Capital University, Woman who Abuse Dogs, Wu Xue' took only an hour to successfully occupy the top spot on the trending topic. It included Wu Xue's age, height, measurements, likes, family background, and so on. All her personal information was posted online.

The Capital University was in an uproar as well. The students surrounded the female dormitory and scolded Wu Xue. Even her roommate isolated her. As for the Capital University's official website, it was attacked by the netizens. On average, there were more than a hundred comments every minute. They were either insulting Wu Xue or asking the school to give an explanation.

"What's wrong?" Feng Qing asked.

Xie Jiuhan switched on his phone and opened the two videos sent by Su Yu. Looking at the video, Feng Qing's eyes flashed with a cold light.

"Shall I make her disappear?" Xie Jiuhan asked.

Feng Qing shook her head and gritted her teeth. "Such a person is not worthy of staying in Capital University, much less having a degree."

Xie Jiuhan nodded and understood what Feng Qing meant. However, he still said, "You're going to let her go just like this? Isn't it too easy for her?"

Recalling the scene of Wu Xue abusing March in the video, Feng Qing said coldly, "Then let her experience what it's like to be caught in something."

Xie Jiuhan pulled Feng Qing into his arms and patted her back gently, as if he was consoling her. He did not say anything, and Feng Qing would not ask anymore because she believed that he would definitely fulfill her wishes.

The two of them left the infirmary and sat in the luxury car. Feng Qing sent a message to Shen Suying and it could be considered that she had officially applied for leave. Unexpectedly, Shen Suying did not say anything and directly agreed. She even hypocritically instructed her to rest more.

In the car, Feng Qing was leaning against the man with her eyes closed. The man typed on the tablet with one hand and quickly hacked into the Capital University's surveillance system. In the end, he found traces of the Night God of the hacker alliance.

When he received the call just now, he had suspected Night God. He could not think of anyone else other than Night God who could find and release the video in such a short time. But why did Night God secretly help Feng Qing? What was his goal? Who was he?

After turning off the tablet, Xie Jiuhan looked out of the window, his eyes filled with hostility. Night God was acting suspiciously and had stood up for Feng Qing time and time again, this made him really unhappy!

Suddenly, Feng Qing left Xie Jiuhan's arms and leaned against the car door to continue sleeping. The man ignored her and thought for a while before picking up the tablet to operate.

"Welcome the King of Hackers, Tian Sha." The man opened a nameless app and successfully logged in after scanning his iris. Then, a line of special effects words appeared on the screen.

Xie Jiuhan was not the only one who could see this line of text. All the hackers who were using this app could see it because it appeared in the most eye-catching position on the screen. Moreover, there was a very good-looking animation.

The 'Nameless Forum', Xia country's one and only hacker network was personally created by the legendary hacker king, Tian Sha.

Many years ago, foreign hacker organizations attacked Xia country's Internet for no reason. At that time, Xia country's Internet had just been popularized. After being maliciously attacked by foreign hackers, it suffered heavy damage one after another. Various industries suffered heavy losses, and even confidential information and technology in the industry were stolen.

Just as the country was at a loss, a person from Xia country called Tian Sha appeared on the Internet. In the beginning, he fought alone and attacked and destroyed foreign hackers on the Internet. He had completely shocked and attracted the attention of the foreign hacker organizations after he successfully infiltrated the nuclear base in Country A.

Tian Sha became famous overnight. Very quickly, many hackers in Xia country started following him. Later on, under his leadership, they established the Xia country's hacker alliance, and he was also called the King of Hackers.

Later on, for some reason, Tian Sha gradually withdrew from the hacker alliance, leaving only a friend in charge of the 'Nameless Forum'. This forum also became the only holy place for hackers in Xia country to gather.

Over time, the Xia country's hacker alliance grew stronger and stronger, producing batch after batch of outstanding talents.. However, all the hackers still worshiped Tian Sha, so much so that later on, the strongest person in the hacker alliance was never conferred the title of king, and the words 'King of Hackers' became exclusive to Tian Sha.
