Chapter 303: Just For A Warning

“Uh... What did the Night God do to anger Tian Sha?”

“God is God. It’s indeed different. We don’t know what the Night God did in the Capital, but he can’t escape God’s eyes.”

“Holy shit. Although I’m very good at Internet tracking technology, I’ve secretly tracked the Night God many times, but every time, I ended in failure. God easily did it.”

“This is interesting. The Night God dares to be smug in the territory of Tian Sha. Is he teaching one’s grandmother to suck eggs?”

Below the post, the hackers left another round of comments, but most of them were just watching the fun. At least a small number of them were analyzing the situation secretly.

Capital University, boys’ dormitory.

Xu Mingqian was sitting cross-legged on the bed with a laptop on his lap. He leaned against the wall and stared intently at the screen.

He remembered very clearly that for Feng Qing, he had hacked the surveillance system twice in the Capital. The first time was when he hacked into Jia Le and found the video of Wang Jingwen framing the Siren. The second time was today.

“As expected of Tian Sha, he’s indeed powerful. I was actually discovered.” Xu Mingqian said to himself.

Actually, there was one time that he didn’t count. That was when he hacked into the surveillance camera at the Health Center in Zhe City. However, that was in Zhe City and had nothing to do with the Capital.

Night God: “I’m sorry, there’s a reason for this, I really have no choice.” In front of the King of Hackers, Tian Sha, he, the Night God who was already called the current boss of the hacker alliance, had to lower his head and admit his mistake.

Tian Sha: “I don’t care about the reason, I just want the result. If there’s a next time, bear the consequences.”

As soon as these words were out, all the hackers gasped. As expected of the King of Hackers, these words were definitely domineering. This was no longer a warning, but a threat.

Seeing Tian Sha’s merciless words, Xu Mingqian replied, “If that’s your sister, I believe you’ll do the same as me.”

The hackers all left comments under the post. The conversation between Tian Sha and the Night God made them smell gossip.

“One is a God and the other is the Night God. The conversation between these two big shots is indeed because of a woman...”

“In front of Tian Sha, no one can show off, not even Night God. But what happened between them?”

“Does anyone know what they mean? Come out and translate for everyone!”

Seeing Night God’s reply, Xie Jiuhan turned to look at Feng Qing. His thin lips couldn’t help but twitch. How could he not know that his little kitten had a good brother like Night God?

Perhaps because she felt the man’s gaze or because the car had jolted slightly just now, Feng Qing woke up. She rubbed her eyes and subconsciously looked at the man.

Xie Jiuhan exited the app expressionlessly. The next second, the Nameless Forum system’s notification appeared again. “Goodbye, Tian Sha. I look forward to your return.”

Looking at the golden system notification, the hackers were completely confused. They all left comments under the post crazily.

“Sigh, I feel that apart from the Night God, no one else can survive for three seconds in the eyes of Tian Sha. He didn’t treat us seriously at all. However, this is also normal. After all, he’s the ancestral master of Xia country’s hackers!”

“How ridiculous! He came online after so long just to warn the Night God. It looks like God’s thinking pattern is indeed different.”

Just as the hackers were talking, Night God also exited the forum. The system also gave a notification, but his notification was much smaller and the special effects were much simpler.

“Uh... The Night God has left too? This is too... Forget it, I’ll leave too.”

“D*mn, I watched for a long time and felt lonely. I don’t know anything. I feel like a fool in front of the two of them.”

“Almighty Night God, I support you. You have to persevere and continue to use your sister to seduce Tian Sha. That way, it won’t be long before he gets online again.”

The hackers chatted for a while more before dispersing.. To them, being able to personally see the hacker king, Tian Sha log in was already enough to satisfy them.
