Thump, thump... Feng Qing heard a familiar frequency and familiar rhythm. In Feng Qing's mind, a familiar figure appeared. It was her good brother, Xu Mingjian. In that instant, Feng Qing's eyes widened. She suddenly looked at Night God, who was turning on the computer, her eyes filled with disbelief.

At the same time, the Night God turned to look at her. An electronic voice sounded. "Speak, what do you want to check?"

His words pulled Feng Qing back from her shock. Feng Qing quickly adjusted her emotions and said, "Help me check the topographic and structural designs of the Duke's Manor. It would be even better if I can find their defense methods."

The Sword God was curious. "Master, why do you want these things?"

Feng Qing snorted and looked at the Sword God as if she was looking at an idiot. "Only by knowing yourself and your enemy can you win a hundred battles. If you don't figure out the background of the entire Duke Manor first, are we going to die three days later?"

The Sword God scratched his head awkwardly with an expression that said, "I'm an idiot, don't be like me." In the end, he was a warrior deep down and was used to solving problems by force. Although he could be sharp at times, in front of people like the Healer and the Night God, his 1Q still seemed insufficient.

To Feng Qing's admiration, when she looked at the computer screen again, the three topographic and internal structure designs of the entire Duke's Manor had already appeared on the screen.

After taking a closer look, Feng Qing's expression instantly darkened. She gave Madam Crimson Snow a thumbs up in her heart. She never expected that the former Duchess of Country F would actually know about the Qimen Art and Yi Jing Eight Trigrams. The layout of the entire Duke's Manor was completely a set of Qimen Formations.

"How amazing!" Feng Qing couldn't help but exclaim.

The Sword God was instantly curious. "What's amazing? Is there a problem with the Duke's Manor?"

"Have you heard of the Qimen Dunjia? The layout of the entire Duke's Manor combined with the surrounding terrain formed a very powerful array formation. This array formation is called the Seven Extremes Array. From the name, you can tell that this is an array formation that is in charge of killing."

Feng Qing explained.

The Sword God scratched his head and recalled, "Oh, I remember now. After I fought with her back then, I did secretly investigate her. Many people in the streets said that Madam Crimson Snow was very strange and it was easy to fall for her tricks when they fought her. Now, I finally understand what happened. No wonder I couldn't beat her back then. It turns out that she knows these ancient secret arts of Xia country."

Everyone had heard of the Qimen Dunjia, but very few people knew about it. Even in Xia country, only some national scholars dared to say that they knew the basics. To ordinary people, this knowledge was something that they would never learn in their lives.

"D*mn, why can't I see any difference?" The Sword God looked confused as he stared at the computer screen.

Feng Qing said, "It looks like the two of us are lucky to be able to come out alive today. After all, my other identity has made Madam Crimson Snow miscalculate. However, three days later, when I cure Madam Crimson Snow, it will also be the time she kills us. At that time, when they combine this Seven Extremes Array, it will be difficult for the two of us to come out again."

The so-called Seven Extremes Array was an extremely fierce formation. It was formed by the seven formations of Heaven, Earth, Wind, Ice, Gold, Fire and Water. What was even more powerful than the Seven Extremes Array was the Ten Extremes Array that only existed in ancient legends. However, it had long been lost, and no one knew it at all. The Seven Extremes Array was not mysticism, nor was it feudal superstitions, but a kind of feng shui science. It was a form of transformation by humans by constructing scenes and surrounding a certain natural environment before using the power of nature.

The Sword God asked in confusion, "Master Qingyi, since we've already seen through their tricks, aren't we a little stupid to still go in after three days? Isn't that the same as moths attracted to a flame?"

Feng Qing said slowly, "It would be stupid not to earn money."

The Sword God : "..."

"Three days later, Madam Crimson Snow will definitely mobilize more assassins and activate this Seven Extremes Array to kill us. If the two of us die inside, what's the point of giving more money?" Seeing that Feng Qing was not listening, the Sword God was a little anxious.
