

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 513

Chapter 513 Black Card

At this moment, Angus walked over and pointed at Feng Qing. "Please take out your Fragrance Master credentials. According to the International Fragrance Alliance's rules, I want to revoke your Fragrance Master qualification on the spot and put you on the Fragrance Alliance's blacklist, forbidding you to participate in all kinds of perfume competitions forever."

Feng Qing unexpectedly did not refute Angus's words. Instead, she nodded happily. "No problem, as you wish."

Every fragrance master had two certificates issued by the International Fragrance Alliance. One was a Fragrance Master qualification certificate, representing that she had already registered her identity as a perfume maker. The other was the Fragrance Master Level Card. There were a total of nine colors, and each color represented the corresponding fragrance master's level.

In the past, Feng Qing even specially went to Fragrant Island and made a perfume that only a Nine-Star Master could make for the judges of the International Fragrance Alliance. She got the certification of a Nine-Star Fragrance Master on the spot and returned to Xia country with two certificates. Actually, she didn't care about these things at all. Be it One-Star or Nine-Star, they were only for others to see. The key was her own skills. If not for the fact that she promised Feng Yiru when she was young that she would definitely register as a fragrance master when she grew up, she wouldn't have had the time to do this.

It had no effect on her at all even though Angus was going to revoke her two certificates on the spot, and she didn't care at all because she was a genuine Nine-Star Fragrance Master. This had nothing to do with whether she had a certificate or not, and it wasn't important to her at all.

She opened her bag and took out a black card from her wallet. Under the sunlight, the black card emitted a dark green glow, giving people a mysterious and dreamlike beauty.

Angus : “...”

Angus was dumbfounded when he saw this card. He hadn't thought about why there was a problem with this card, but he suspected that Feng Qing had taken out the membership card of some high-end hotel.

The Fragrance Master's Level Card was red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, purple, silver, and black, from the lowest level to the highest level. There were a total of nine colors, corresponding to the nine levels. This was how the so-called Nine-Star Black Card came about. However, in order to make the card appear more noble, a special material was plated on the surface of the black card, causing the card to glow in a dreamily dark green under the light.

Angus looked at the black card and then looked at Feng Qing. He didn't understand why she had taken out such a card. Feng Qing smiled and stuffed the black card into Angus's hand.

Although Angus was still in a daze, he still took out his phone skillfully. As the Vice President of the International Fragrance Alliance, his phone was also installed with the Fragrance Master registration system app. As long as he logged into the app and scanned this card, he would know if it was real or fake.

Ding ding! The phone had successfully scanned the card, and two confirmation sounds were heard. The next second, the Fragrance Master Registration System automatically turned the page and a Fragrance Master file popped up. After looking at the large pile of words in the file, Angus's two eyes were about to pop out. No one could understand his feelings at this moment. He felt like there were countless alpacas running in his heart, and they were even shouting as they ran.

Damn it, did I hallucinate because I didn't sleep well last night? Angus shouted crazily in his heart. This was too exciting for him. The black card in his hand had a huge impact on him. “No, I rested very well last night. I slept very well. Could it be that the phone with the Fragrance Master Registration System had malfunctioned?” Angus thought forcefully. Otherwise, he couldn't understand why Master YLL's file information would pop up after he finished scanning the card.

At the thought of this, Angus took a deep breath and exited the Fragrance Master Registration System and logged in again. He scanned the black card in his hand again. He didn't believe that this was true, so he could only verify it again. However, a familiar interface popped up again. The familiar text content revealed that the owner of the black card was YLL.

Angus : "..."

Not far away, seeing that Angus had been standing there for almost ten minutes without saying a word, Charles frowned and walked over to see what was going on. His old partner was usually hot-tempered and did things quickly. What was going on today? Walking over to Angus, Charles asked, "Old pal, what are you doing? Why did you take so long to revoke her fragrance master qualifications? Is there a problem with your phone?"