

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 529

Chapter 529 Order

Xing Yue glanced at Netherworld and continued asking, "Qingqing, then you registered your marriage as an adult?" Feng Qing said truthfully, "Yes, on the second day of my coming of age ceremony, I went to the Civil Affairs Bureau with my husband to settle the marriage procedures. Actually, I didn't want to get married at that time."

Xing Yue frowned. "You mean you were forced to get married?" If Feng Qing was forced, he would immediately go to Xia country and beat Feng Qing's husband up without hesitation. Then, he would send him a bullet to see God.

Hearing that he had misunderstood, Feng Qing hurriedly shook her head. "Brother Xing Yue, you're thinking too much. My husband treats me very well. Not only is he handsome and perfect, but he's also successful in his career. He's the dream lover of countless girls. When we first met, my eyes were blind, so at the start, I didn't even know what he looked like. However, at that time, I knew that he was the most handsome, best, and cool husband in the entire universe. Therefore, I had to marry him. I just didn't expect it to be so early." Xing Yue nodded in his heart after he saw that she had praised her man to the heavens. From Feng Qing's eyes, he could tell that she really felt blessed and loved her husband. Her husband must have treated her really well.

However, the only thing that made Xing Yue unhappy was that her husband was a little old. He was already twenty five years old and was six years older than Feng Qing. However, when he saw Feng Qing's blissful expression, Xing Yue did not say anything.

Xing Yue asked, "Didn't you say that your eyes were blind in the past? What happened?" After he looked at Feng Qing's palm-sized pretty face, it was very difficult for him to imagine how Feng Qing looked when she was blind. Just the thought of it made him angry and heartache.

Feng Qing smiled brightly and comforted him. "Don't worry, that's all in the past. The reason I can see now is all thanks to my husband. He was the one who helped me find a suitable retina."

She never left out her husband in everything she said, and her words were filled with pride. It was as if her husband was the only husband in the world, and other people's husbands were trash.

Xing Yue nodded. Although Feng Qing did not mention anything, he remembered this matter in his heart. When he returned, he would get someone to check in Xia country to see what was going on with Feng Qing's blindness.

Netherworld, who was sitting opposite her, also kept staring at Feng Qing. It was really not easy for this woman to keep thinking about her husband's good points outside, but the man quickly shifted his gaze.

Feng Qing had a strong sense of what others were looking at. This was a 'divine power' she had practiced when she was blind. She could sense it even from afar.

At a five-star hotel on the West Bank.

Twenty minutes later, the car arrived at their destination. Under Xing Yue's lead, the three of them took the elevator from the underground parking lot to the top floor. This was a VIP room, and only members could bring people in.

However, just as the three of them stepped into the dining room, Xing Yue shouted with his hands on his waist, "Now, everyone leave immediately. I'll book the entire place."

After the customers saw that it was him, they quickly ate and paid the bill and left. From the start to the end, no one dared to say a word. Many people didn't even dare to look at him. The adopted son of the Presidential Manor, be it power or status, was not someone ordinary rich businessmen like them could offend.

Under the hotel manager's personal hospitality, the three of them chose a table in front of a large French window to eat. The manager personally helped them order.

Netherworld did not look at the menu the entire time. He was not here to eat. Liking to watch people eat delicious food is also an excuse. He was here to keep an eye on Xing Yue so that he would not have any crooked thoughts about Feng Qing. Looking at the menu, Feng Qing would speak a few Country F words from time to time. She had been studying their language for the past few days, so she could only say a little. Although they could not communicate, it was not a problem to order a dish.

"A beef brisket stew with red wine," Feng Qing said. In the end, she realized that Xing Yue was also ordering the same dish. Hence, the two of them looked at each other and smiled before continuing to look at the menu.

The waiter confirmed, "Two portions of beef brisket stew with red wine?"

Xing Yue smiled and said, "That's right. This beautiful lady and I will each get a portion."

The waiter nodded and quickly recorded it in a small book. The two of them continued to order dishes on the menu.

"Burgundy snail!" The two of them spoke again. The waiter raised his eyebrows at the two of them. Although he didn't say anything, he was asking if they wanted two portions.

Xing Yue looked at Feng Qing and curled his lips. "There's no need to doubt it. We'll order two portions."
