

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 531

Chapter 531 New Prescription

Very quickly, three sets of identical dishes were placed on the table. Netherworld did not move his chopsticks or take off his mask even as he looked at the salivating dishes. He did not eat a single bite the entire time. Xing Yue and Feng Qing did not care about him either. The two of them ate until they were full and burped in satisfaction.

After the meal, the three of them left the restaurant and went straight to the underground parking lot. Suddenly, Netherworld stopped in his tracks. A few colorful fruit candies appeared in front of him, and Feng Qing was looking at him with a smile. "You haven't eaten yet, you must be very hungry. What if you have low blood sugar and faint?" Feng Qing said.

To be honest, they were very cruel just now. Xing Yue and her looked at the Netherworld as they ate, looking like they were deliberately making him crave for it. What was even worse was that Xing Yue even ate Netherworld's portion.

Of course, she did not feel sorry for Netherworld, but it was because she was a student who respected her instructor. Anyway, she still had a lot of this kind of fruit candy, so what if she gave the instructor a handful?

The man reached out and took the fruit candy. Feng Qing looked at it very carefully. The man was wearing a shark skin glove. Although it was very thin, it was very tough. The man did not eat it but pocketed the fruit candy. He still had a cold aura.

In the underground parking lot.

This time, Xing Yue did not go to the backseat. Instead, he took the initiative to sit in the front passenger seat. However, after waiting for a long time, he realized that Netherworld and Feng Qing had not gotten into the car. Therefore, he turned around and saw that Netherworld had actually blocked Feng Qing on a stone pillar.

Xing Yue: "...This Netherworld is really becoming more and more complicated the more he lives. When did he start to like to bully girls?"

In the shadows, Netherworld's golden mask turned a little dim, and his tall figure even covered Feng Qing in his arms. The man's voice had been processed by the voice changer. "I've taken the medicine you prescribed me previously, but why hasn't the poison in my body been removed?"

Hearing Netherworld's question, Feng Qing's eyes suddenly flashed and she felt a little guilty. Seeing her like this, the man knew that this woman was definitely up to something.

The next second, his entire body exuded a frightening aura, and his voice became much colder. "You still remember who I am, right? You're the first person in the world to have survived after poisoning me. You should also remember your other identity, right? If you don't cure me, how can you be considered a miracle doctor? Huh?!"

Feng Qing's body was tightly pressed against the square stone pillar. Under the man's pressure, she lowered her head and said, "Netherworld, this illness of yours might not be easy to treat."

Netherworld's figure trembled as he said angrily, "What did you say?! You promised me that you would treat me every time during this period. The day you board the plane back to Xia country, it will be the day I recover. But you've treated me for so many days and there's no reaction at all. How are you going to explain it to me?"

Feng Qing sighed and admitted helplessly, "Netherworld, you also know that I'm a married woman. Moreover, my husband has always been very strict with me. Although my medical skills are superb, I won't treat any man other than my husband in that kind of place. Therefore, I can only prescribe medicine for you at every stage according to your condition and use this method to achieve the goal of treating you, but..."

Netherworld said angrily, "But what? You better tell me the truth!"

Feng Qing said truthfully, "But I didn't expect your body to be different from that of ordinary people. Your tolerance and resistance to medicine are so strong. The medicine I prescribed for you is definitely very strong for ordinary people, but it has little effect on you."

Netherworld questioned, "Then why didn't you increase the dosage of the medicine for me? If I didn't ask, would you have planned to treat me slowly?"

Hearing him say this, Feng Qing took out her phone and opened the notebook function. She quickly typed on it. She decided to give Netherworld a new prescription. After writing the prescription, she even asked Netherworld to take a photo with his phone.

Glancing at the new prescription, the man said coldly, "Are you sure this prescription will work?"

Feng Qing raised three fingers and said, "Go and grab the amount of medicine for three days and boil it on a small fire. Every time it boils, add three bowls of water. No matter how much water is used, in the end, you just have to boil it into a small bowl. That way, the medicine that's brewed will be very strong and the effects will be stronger. This prescription is definitely a ruthless medicine. Ordinary people definitely can't take it, but yours won't have any problems. Drink it once in the morning, once in the afternoon, and once in the evening. Although the taste isn't good, you will see the effects after three days."
