

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 535

Chapter 535 Looking More and More Like a Human

With her rapid fall, the 25th, 24th, and 23rd floors of the Capra Hotel exploded one after another. Countless glass shards flew out, and sand and stones fell from the sky.

Boom! Boom! A deafening explosion made the entire Capra Hotel tremble violently, as if it was hit by an intercontinental missile.

Accompanied by the explosion, black smoke started to rise from the Capra Hotel. From time to time, there would be a few smaller explosions. The thick smoke was breathing in and out like fire snakes circling the hotel.

At the same time, on the other side of Bali, Netherworld wore a golden mask and a black suit. He stood there like a javelin.

Behind him was a secret military camp, and in the tent in front of him, more than twenty surveillance cameras were operating. At this moment, his phone rang. The man looked at the screen and realized that it was Little Wu. Whenever Little Wu called him, it was related to Feng Qing. For this reason, he even set a completely different ringtone for Little Wu. Behind the golden mask, the man raised his eyebrows slightly and swiped the screen to answer.

Little Wu's flustered and afraid voice sounded. "Ninth Master, there was a violent explosion at the Capra Hotel just now. The 25th floor where Madam Qingqing was on was destroyed. From the way the explosion happened, it should be a remote control bomb. Because the explosion was too powerful, even the 24th and 23rd floors were affected."

At this point, Little Wu heaved a sigh of relief and continued, "Just now, Madam Qingqing sent me out to buy something. I just left for a while when it happened..." Before she could finish, there was a beeping sound on the phone.

The man put away his phone and turned to the surveillance camera in the tent. His voice was especially cold as he said, "Immediately pull out the surveillance cameras around the Capra Hotel!"

Many people in the tent looked at the man, wondering why he was giving orders to the higher-ups. Has the rules in the army been changed by him?

Netherworld didn't have the time to care about what these people were thinking. He directly kicked the so-called superior out of the tent and then sat in front of the computer to start operating. A pair of good-looking hands were like butterflies fluttering on the keyboard.

In less than thirty seconds, a total of twenty surveillance cameras switched the images and monitored the situation of the Capra Hotel from multiple angles.

Netherworld glanced quickly. He could see very clearly that thick black smoke was rising from the upper floor of the Capra Hotel in the surveillance camera. Orange flames would flash in the smoke from time to time.

The man counted and confirmed that the place where smoke was rising was the 25th floor where Feng Qing lived. Immediately, a violent and bloodthirsty killing intent exploded from his body, scaring the officers in the tent.

At this moment, Xing Yue walked in. He was wearing a neat military uniform and was about to ask Netherworld what had happened when the man brushed past him like lightning and rushed out of the tent like the wind.

Netherworld jumped onto the Jeep. "It's urgent, I have to go now!"

Xing Yue shrugged and asked curiously, "Hey, hey, you're the Chief Instructor for this assessment after all. The assessment isn't over yet, and you're leaving just like that?"

Netherworld tapped the Jeep. "No matter how important it is, it's not as important as mine."

Xing Yue's breathing paused, and his expression was a little ugly. "Netherworld, I spent a lot of money to invite you over so that you could train them. The examination is about to start, and you actually quit..."

Netherworlds shouted, "Stop talking nonsense. At most, I won't be this Chief Instructor anymore! Let me tell you, there's nothing more important than my woman in the world."

Before he could finish his sentence, he ignored Xing Yue and stepped on the accelerator, disappearing in a cloud of dust.

Xing Yue covered his mouth and nose as he choked and coughed in the smoke and dust. He shouted in the direction of the jeep's disappearance, "Hey, Netherworld, damn it, what happened? If you have any difficulties, tell me. I'll send people to help you. Also, aren't you a f*cking bachelor? When did you have a woman? Cough cough... Moreover, Qingqing told me that you f*cking like gay..."

His words were automatically ignored by Netherworld. When the dust dissipated, Xing Yue walked to the side and looked at the billowing dust in the distance. Then, a faint smile appeared in the corners of his eyes.

"Heh, this fellow is becoming more and more like a human." Xing Yue scolded with a smile.

In the past, in his eyes, Netherworld was a cold-blooded and ruthless beast. He was a killing machine that killed people like flies and drank blood to stop thirst. He thought that a person like him would be like this his entire life. He didn't expect that he actually had someone he liked and cared about. He even abandoned everything for that person. He was really becoming more and more humane.
