

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 537

Chapter 537 The Strongest Battle

Other than the clothes on her body that were more eye-catching, no one on the street would look at such an ordinary girl. However, her hands were stained with blood.

The little girl was holding a doll in one hand and a very special pistol in the other. This pistol was very long because there was a dagger shining with a purple cold light under the muzzle. Everyone could see very clearly that this dagger was definitely poisonous. If one touched it, they would die.

Everyone couldn't help but swallow their saliva and subconsciously move their feet back when they looked at the little girl walking out of the smoke. Although the opponent was only a little girl, none of them dared to look down on her because she was the number one on the world's assassin rankings-Blood Loli.

Legend had it that Blood Loli had never failed in melee combat or long-range sniping. She had once accepted and completed an SSS-rank mission that no other assassin on the rankings dared to accept.

Of course, this was not the only legend about her. To be able to see this legendary little girl today, should they say that they were too lucky or too unlucky?

A person wearing a gas mask shouted at Blood Loli, "Hey, Blood Loli, did you kill the new Madam Crimson Snow? Otherwise, why are you wearing the Blood Demon Ring on your hand?"

Blood Loli did not speak. She suddenly raised her gun and pulled the trigger. At this moment, a black shadow suddenly jumped out, making her froze for a moment when she was pulling the trigger.

In this second of shock, a violent and disdainful killing intent attacked her. A golden mask appeared in front of her. At the same time, the man pulled the trigger and fired at her.

Bang! The two bullets collided in the air, producing an ear-piercing sound and sparks.

However, the bullet from Netherworld was still aimed at Blood Loli. It only used the angle and friction to send Blood Loli's bullet flying.

As if she had expected this outcome, Blood Loli retreated rapidly and actually dodged the shot. However, before she could steady her feet, Netherworld arrived in front of her. It was so fast that it seemed like he could teleport.

Blood Loli couldn't help but gasp when she looked at Netherworld, who was inches away from her and filled with killing intent. She was like a candle in the darkness, unable to escape the moth that was pouncing on her. Unfortunately, this moth was a little terrifyingly strong! The two of them fought in close combat. Blood Loli only lasted for three moves before she was kicked far away by Netherworld, her petite figure turning into a rolling gourd. The next second, Netherworld's tall and strong figure appeared in front of Blood Loli again. He kicked her stomach again, sending her flying into the air.

"Hmph!" Blood Loli fell to the ground heavily and couldn't help but let out a muffled groan. Faced with her former instructor, she was actually beaten until she couldn't fight back.

An intense pain came from her abdomen. Blood Loli's throat tasted sweet. She resisted the blood that she wanted to spit out. With just a few rounds, she was injured by Netherworld. But before she could catch her breath, Netherworld attacked again. The gloves made of shark skin clenched into a fist and smashed towards her face.

At the critical moment, Blood Loli tilted her head to the side and dodged the punch. His heavy fist hit the corridor wall and instantly cracked the tile on the wall. The strength of his fist was shocking

Blood Loli did not doubt the power of this punch. If she had not dodged, her little head would have been blown open, and her white brain would have probably flowed to the ground. Her two large eyeballs would have even escaped from her eyes.

Enduring the pain on her body, Blood Loli turned around twice and distanced herself from Netherworld. Her combat skills were all learned from Netherworld, which meant that if she knew it, Netherworld will know it. He was even much better than what her, but she also knew Netherworld's moves.

Facing the punch that was chasing after her, Blood Loli gritted her teeth and grabbed the only flaw in Netherworld's move. She threw the cloth doll at Netherworld's face. The cloth doll flew into the air and suddenly exploded, spraying an unknown gas towards Netherworld's face.

Although Netherworld was wearing a mask, in the face of this unknown, colorless, and odorless powder-like gas, his attack still paused for a moment. Fortunately, the wet towel from before was wrapped around his face under the mask, so it could still serve as a filter. However, in this short pause, Blood Loli took the opportunity. She twisted her body beautifully and aimed the modified gun in her other hand at the man's eyebrows.
