

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 541

Chapter 541 If You Cherish Your Life, Stay Away From Netherworld

The assassin was slightly stunned and subconsciously looked into the black smoke in front of him. "Of course I'm going to kill someone. From your attire, you should all be from One Heart Hall in Country H, right? If you don't want to die here for nothing, you'd better leave quickly."

The assassin was wearing a black mask and was dressed in a classic mercenary outfit. He had two daggers at his waist and a sniper rifle in his arms. He walked silently as if he was weightless.

Hearing his warning, the leaders looked at each other and couldn't help but ask, "Since you know, then why are you still going in?"

The assassin curled his lips. "Hmph, what do you know? I plan to kill the number one assassin on the assassin rankings. Have you heard of the Blood Loli? Now that she's being held back and in an extremely disadvantageous position, as long as I seize the opportunity and shoot her at the critical moment, the world assassin rankings should be updated. Hahaha..."

After hearing that he was going to assassinate the number one assassin, Blood Loli, from a distance, the leaders of the forces looked at each other and looked at the assassin as if they were looking at an idiot. They ignored the assassin and continued to crawl forward with their subordinates. They leaned against the wall and tried to crawl in a straight line.

"Brother, since you know that someone is holding Blood Loli back, do you know who's holding her back?" A leader couldn't help but ask.

The assassin was slightly stunned. He looked at the leader and shook his head, indicating that he was not very clear. After all, he had heard from his peers just now, so he wanted to come up and test his luck. As long as he could snipe Blood Loli, he would be the number one assassin on the assassin ranking.

Another leader asked, "Then have you ever thought about the difference between you and the number one assassin, Blood Loli? Do you plan to snipe her and see if she will shoot your head off first?"

The assassin : "..."

Needless to say, he had never thought of this question. When he heard that Blood Loli was at a disadvantage just now, he was so happy that he rushed over with the sniper rifle. Now, after being reminded, it seemed to be the case.

The third leader snorted coldly and looked at the assassin as if he was looking at a fool. "Kid, do you know the saying 'innocent bystanders caught in the crossfire'? I think you're not old. You haven't been an assassin for a few days, right? In my opinion, you're still too young."

The assassin raised his eyebrows. "What do you mean?"

The leader snorted again. "What do I mean? You should go back and ask around. There should be a saying in the assassin's world, it's called 'if you cherish your life, stay away from Netherworld.'"

Before he could finish his sentence, a loud sound rang in everyone's ears. The entire corridor ground started to crack. A hole was blasted in the ceiling not far away. The fallen cement block hit the ground heavily, raising a cloud of dust.

The leaders did not say anything else and crawled out after seeing this. There was the number one assassin, Blood Loli, and the King of Killers, Netherworld. It was not their turn to be smug. If they did not take advantage of the time when the two of them were fighting, they would not even have a chance to escape.

After crawling out for a while, they realized that a person who was crawling faster than them had caught up. That person was carrying a sniper rifle on his back. It was the assassin from just now.

One of the leaders asked, "Why are you out again? Aren't you going to kill Blood Loli remotely?"

As the assassin crawled, he said, "Just pretend that I didn't say anything. I saw with my own eyes. Just now, a peer who was prepared to kill Blood Loli with a Barrett at the other end of the corridor was blown up with no ashes left by the golden-masked man who carried an anti-tank gun."

Everyone from One Heart Hall: "..."

Everyone stopped talking. They all got down on their hands and knees and increased their crawling speed. They wished they were spiders so they could escape faster.

In the corridor on the 25th floor.

Blood Loli's petite figure was blocked by a square stone. She leaned against the wall covered in smoke and fire and tried her best to control the rhythm of her breathing, but a fishy and sweet feeling attacked her throat.

After an intense battle, she had suffered a lot of injuries. Every time she inhaled, there was a pulling pain in her body.

"As expected of my instructor, you're really amazing!" Feng Qing praised him in her heart.

When she fought with Netherworld just now, she realized that any punch from her instructor was not something she could resist. Moreover, the strength of her instructor's fist was very special.

Wherever his fist hits, there would be hidden injuries. There were no obvious injuries on the surface, but when she exerted strength, there would be hidden injuries that were very painful, making her body and spirit unable to hold on