

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 542

Chapter 542 I Will Smash Your Head

Blood Loli raised her arm and touched her forehead through her gloves. When she fought with Netherworld, the disguise mask on her forehead was scratched by an exploded glass piece. Although the human skin mask made by Mr. Qing Er had a certain degree of defense, that was because the glass piece had slid past her forehead. If the glass piece was changed to a metal piece and pierced her forehead, she would probably be disfigured even if she didn't die.

She touched it and only a layer of the mask on her forehead was gently scraped off. It did not hurt her. Blood Loli gritted her teeth and said, "You still want to hurt my face? I'll definitely smash your head!"

After a few exchanges just now, she felt that Netherworld today was completely different from usual. It was as if he had lost his mind and was crazy. His entire body was enveloped by an unknown anger. Every time he attacked, he would have a killing intent. He looks like he would not be human unless he killed her. Fortunately, she had already discovered the flaw in Netherworld.

However, even though she had discovered it, it was indeed too difficult to grasp these flaws in the battle and kill him in one strike. Moreover, she had suffered some internal injuries. If she continued to exhaust herself like this, it would be very disadvantageous for her. Not to mention that there is a huge gap between the strength and endurance of men and women.

At this moment, Netherworld's voice sounded. "Blood Loli, although you're the best student I've taught and you're the strongest in terms of talent and ability, you've disappointed me today. Now, I declare that you've failed your test as you didn't kill me. You should know very well what will happen to people who haven't completed the test, right?"

The Six Netherworld Organization always had a rule that one could not quit once they joined. There was only one way to quit, and that was death. As for those who failed the test, there was no point in continuing to exist.

Bang bang... There was another series of machine gun shots. The 7.62mm bullets exploded crazily at Blood Loli's feet. Blood Loli hurriedly moved, pressed her hands on the half wall in front of her, and flipped her body in the air. She even threw two daggers glowing with purple lights at Netherworld.

Swoosh! Swoosh! The two daggers streaked across the air, producing a sound of cutting air.

Netherworld hugged the machine gun to strike the two daggers, knocking the two daggers aside. He was the one who had taught Blood Loli this move. The man turned around gorgeously and threw out a hand from his waist. Similarly, two daggers suffused with purple light flew out. The daggers pierced through the black smoke and flames and flew straight into the half wall.

However, there was no sound of a dagger piercing into flesh, nor was there any scream. Netherworld knew that Blood Loli had dodged it.

At this moment, Blood Loli strangely appeared behind him. The petite woman raised her hand and aimed the custom-made gun at the back of Netherworld's head. Her gun was originally a large caliber gun, and she had specially changed it into an armor-piercing bullet just now. She didn't believe that no matter how hard Netherworld's mask was, it could block an armor-piercing bullet.

The moment she pulled the trigger, Netherworld seemed to turn around in a position that she couldn't understand and aimed the gun in his hand at her chest.

Blood Loli's eyebrows twitched, and her raised arm trembled slightly. A ball of pink powder smoke quickly shot out of her sleeve. In an instant, the pink smoke blocked their vision. At the same time, Blood Loli pulled the trigger and the armor-piercing bullet shot out of the gun barrel. It flew past Netherworld's golden mask and created a bowl-sized hole in the wall behind him.

Netherworld did not shoot at the first moment after looking at the pale pink smoke that was spewed out. This is because using poisonous smoke to interfere with the opponent in battle was not something he had taught Blood Loli. Moreover, he would not use this method to fight the enemy.

Netherworld couldn't help but frown when he felt the armor-piercing bullet brush past the golden mask. Who did Blood Loli learn from?

The next second, Netherworld pierced through the pink smoke like an arrow and threw a punch at Blood Loli in the air. Blood Loli dodged sideways. Netherworld then switched from punching to grabbing and grabbed Blood Loli's fist that was just swung over. His large hand exerted strength and pinched Blood Loli's wrist like a steel pincer. Blood Loli was in pain. She released her hand and the specially modified gun fell to the ground.

At the critical moment, Blood Loli also unleashed her potential. She swiped her other hand from her waist and a dagger appeared in her hand. She waved the dagger and stabbed at the arm that Netherworld was holding her wrist with.
