

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 572

Chapter 572 Theme Song That No One Dared to Sing

“Actually, this movie has finished filming. It’s currently undergoing post-production and dubbing, but Han Jintian has recently caused some trouble. No one in the industry is willing to sing the theme song for his movie.” Li Shaoqun explained.

Feng Qing couldn’t help but be a little puzzled after knowing this reason. Han Jintian was so amazing that he was considered a new noble in the entire Xia country’s director circle. Which director with a box office of ten billion wasn’t a respected figure? Logically speaking, there should be many people fighting to sing the theme song for his movie, but why did it become like this?

Feng Qing asked, “Please don’t tell me that Han Jintian killed someone?”

Li Shaoqun sighed and said awkwardly, “It’s not to the extent of killing someone. It’s just an unspoken rule, he cast-couched a male actor.”

Feng Qing was stunned upon hearing this. The youngest director in Xia country to exceed ten billion was indeed different. His taste was indeed a little special.

Li Shaoqun said awkwardly, “However, I know Han Jintian. I know that he’s not such a person, and he definitely won’t do such a thing to an actor. But he’s been defamed by the third male lead of this movie. The female singer, Tian Kexin, who was about to sing the theme song for this movie, immediately announced that she would terminate the collaboration and said that she would never cooperate with Han Jintian again. I won’t say who Tian Kexin is, but her appeal is great.”

Feng Qing was a little surprised. She didn’t expect that there was still the matter of Tian Kexin here. In the Xia country’s music industry, Tian Kexin had a very strong appeal. Because she had a unique sweet voice, she was called the Empress of Sweet Song. No wonder the others in the industry didn't work with Han Jintian. It turned out that there was a big shot who said that.

"Therefore, after thinking about it, I think you're the most suitable person. However, in order to ensure that your future development in the entertainment industry won't be affected and ostracized, I'll use the voice that is different from Siren to sing this movie theme song. At the same time, I'll also get the producer and post-production personnel to strictly keep your identity a secret." Li Shaoqun shared his thoughts.

He had no choice but to look for Feng Qing because the producer was urging Han Jintian to complete the editing. Not only were the female singers in the industry not cooperating with him, but many male singers had already announced that they would never work with Han Jintian because everyone was afraid that Han Jintian would cast-couch them.

Originally, he planned to help Han Jintian and sing for this movie personally. In the end, he was criticized by the entire company just as he had this idea. Even his manager quarreled with him for a few hours because of this. In the end, it even reached his father. Now, he was already under strict surveillance by his father.

Actually, he could understand the objections of the Li family and the company. After all, the impact of this matter was too bad. As the young master of the Li family, Li Shaoqun represented the Li family in Zhe City. How would the Li family and the company survive among the wealthy families and industry in the future if someone were to misunderstand that he had an extraordinary relationship with Han Jintian because of a song?

Although Li Shaoqun controlled at least half of the Li family's power, he had become a child of the Li family because his mother remarried. Many people gossiped about this and scolded him badly. So for his protection, his parents don't allow him to do this now. They didn't want him to put his status in the Li family in danger because of this.

Tian Kexin, the Empress of Sweet Songs, had terminated their cooperation because she cherished her reputation. She didn't want to taint her career because of this, let alone those female singers who weren't even famous. No one wanted to completely lose their stardom before they could stand out.

Due to various reasons, Li Shaoqun was forced into a corner. He could only beg Feng Qing. The director was a good director who exceeded ten billion at the box office. The movie was a huge IP production, so he had to find a female singer, who was strong and versatile, that could match the movie's value to sing the movie's theme song. He only thought of Feng Qing alone. Previously, Feng Qing had used at least twelve different vocals in a song when the two of them were recording an album. At that time, the music director who was involved in the production was shocked.

"Heavenly State in the Clouds" sounded like a love movie at first glance, but it was actually an anti-war movie. It talked about how people yearned for peace and sacrificed and worked hard for it. It was a tragic and majestic tune, and there was a very suitable sound system among the twelve middle tones that Feng Qing had shown previously.
