

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 698

Chapter 698: Unyielding Spear and Night Battle

Xie Jiuhan took the purple diamond the size of a pigeon egg and played with it for a while. “Hmph, three years ago, my wife had 108 of such things when she was still my girlfriend. Later on, she strung them into a necklace for her dog to play with. I heard from the servants in the house that her dog didn’t care either. I think it buried that necklace in the garden.”

Bran did not know how to answer upon hearing this. Should he praise Xie Jiuhan’s dog for having too high a taste, or should he say that he was worse than a dog? Hence, he could only smile dryly and hold up a large bunch of colorful gems. He had to give them to him even if he did not cherish them. Otherwise, what could he use to exchange for his life?

Xie Jiuhan did not even look at the gems. Instead, he said coldly, “If you want to live, obediently take out the good things you’ve collected. For example, the legendary Queen Crystal Crown.”

Before he could finish his sentence, a few more infrared rays moved to Bran’s face. It was as if as long as he dared to say no, he would immediately be shot into a sieve. The situation was better than him. Bran swallowed his saliva and knelt on the ground and reached towards an oil painting hanging on the wall. It was unknown what switch he pressed, but the painting rose automatically. Then, a space was revealed. There was a glass cover inside, and inside the glass cover was a transparent crown that looked like it was artificially made.

Although he was reluctant, in order to survive, Bran could only take out the crystal crown with a pained expression.

Xie Jiuhuan sat on the polar bear fur mountain and glanced at the crystal crown lazily. The reason why this crown was valued by Xie Jiuhuan was not because of how much it was worth, but because of its historical significance, research value, and so on.

The original name of this crown was the Queen Crystal Crown. It was accidentally discovered in the crystal mine three hundred years ago. After various checks and experts' identification, they found that the Queen Crystal Crown was naturally formed. There were no traces of stitching or polishing. Most importantly, after going through the carbon fourteen positioning method, it was confirmed that the Queen Crystal Crown had existed for at least a hundred million years. At that time, there were no humans at all. Then, who made this crown? Could it be that the Goddess of Nature made it herself?

There was also folklore regarding the Queen Crystal Crown. It was said that there was once a sorcerer who was very powerful and could communicate with the Heavenly Realm. Therefore, when the sorcerer was communicating with the Heavenly Realm, he specially asked about the secret and function of the Queen Crystal Crown. The sorcerer knew that any female human who wore this Queen Crystal Crown would obtain the special ability of eternal youth after communication. Moreover, after death, their body would not rot, and their souls would rise to the Heavenly Realm because of the Queen Crystal Crown.

Xie Jiuhuan stared at the Queen Crystal Crown for a while and felt that this thing was not bad. Regardless of whether it was really as godly as the legends said, at least there was only one in the world. It was considered the only thing. It was not bad to bring it back as a gift for his wife.

Bran's heart beat like a drum as he saw the obscure expression on the man's face. He couldn't guess the man's thoughts. If the man wasn't interested in the Queen Crystal Crown, then he had nothing to show. Therefore, his strong desire to live made his thoughts run wild again, thinking about how to please this man.

Suddenly, Bran's eyes lit up as a thought flashed across his mind. Xie Jiuhan was a man after all. There was no man who was not lecherous. Hence, he said obsequiously, "Lord Phoenix, please wait a moment. I have another treasure for you."

As he spoke, Bran turned around and entered the dark room again. He rummaged through it for a while before walking out with a white wooden box.

Bran opened the box respectfully and handed it to Xie Jiuhan. "Lord Phoenix, this thing is called 'Unyielding Spear'. Taking one can let men show off their prowess and make those women beg for mercy coquettishly. This thing is very precious and rare. It's a plant that grows on the cliffs of the tropical area. It blooms once every ten years and bears fruit once every ten years. It can't be bought with money. I also obtained it when I robbed a pirate ship. I can't bear to use it usually. I only enjoy one when my stamina is exhausted."

After introducing the first one, Bran picked up another black thing and continued, "And this thing. Don't look at how disgusting it looks, it tastes very sweet, and the function is also very domineering. It's called 'Night Battle'. I even ate it once last month and f*cked seven women in one night. That taste was simply awesome!"

The reason why he placed his attention on these things was because in Bran's opinion, as long as it was a man who was breathing, there was no one who did not like women. Especially for someone like Xie Jiuhan, who had been licking blood all year round, his need for women was even more terrifying. He had also spent a lot of effort in order to please Xie Jiuhan.
