

The Wife I Picked Up Is Too Chapter Chapter 744

Chapter 744: The Last Spot

As soon as these words were out, the classroom was in an uproar. Everyone had thought of many excuses, but they didn't expect Sun Bin to say this. Lu Yingying sneered and said, "Professor Sun, do you mean that those students who weren't chosen can't compare to Feng Qing, who only took one class?"

Another student also said, "That's right. I admit that Student Feng Qing's results for the last midterm examination were very ideal. She even created a record for the entire school. However, she only attended one class, and Professor Sun said that Feng Qing is better than most of us. Isn't this too ridiculous?"

Lu Yingying and that student's words immediately received the approval of many students, especially those who were not chosen. They looked at Feng Qing with unfriendly eyes.

"Professor Sun, we respected you initially. We know that you're a big shot in our finance department, but we really can't accept you saying this to us."

"I don't believe Student Feng Qing has such strength. Could it be that she has reached an agreement with Professor Sun in private?"

"Professor, it's fine if you insist on giving Feng Qing the spot, but you have to give us a reasonable explanation. Otherwise, you're offending the public. If it really reaches the principal, I'm afraid you won't be able to explain, right?"

Listening to the students' chatter, Sun Bin's expression darkened. He wished he could sew a zipper on the mouths of these students. He controlled his temper and said, "The reason why I gave the spot to Student Feng Qing is very simple. She completed homework very well this time and it was a perfect answer. Some of you questioned her strength and thought that it was impossible for her to know much after only one lesson, but the truth is that Student Feng Qing's performance has completely exceeded 95% of the people in the class. Although my words will hurt many of your hearts, this is the truth."

Lu Yingying said, "Professor Sun, since you said that Feng Qing's homework has completed so well, why don't you put her homework on the screen and let us all study it together?"

Sun Bin raised his eyebrows and picked up the mouse to click on the folder on the computer. He found the homework that Feng Qing had submitted and said, "Alright, I originally planned to explain Feng Qing's homework to you in the next class as a textbook case study, but since everyone is so unconvinced, I'll show it to you in advance and let you know the difference between you and Student Feng Qing."

Before he could finish his sentence, Sun Bin double-clicked on the homework and turned on Feng Qing's homework. He also turned on the projector. Then, he sat down with the infrared speech pen and drank the water brewed with dates as he quietly watched the expressions on the students' faces change.

Everyone's performance did not disappoint him. Just a few minutes later, the way the students looked at the screen changed. Lu Yingying's disdain turned into shock. The originally bustling classroom instantly fell silent. Liu Yan looked at Feng Qing's homework seriously. Then, he took out his phone and took a series of photos of the screen. He wanted to take photos of all this content and study it carefully when he was free.

Seeing that everyone had seen enough, Sun Bin put down his glass and chuckled. "Have you all seen it? Are you still unconvinced that I gave the last spot to Feng Qing?"

Speaking up to this point, Sun Bin stood up and pointed at the content on the screen. "If you can all answer your homework like this, I can risk my reputation and apply for the Xie Corporation's financial center in the name of the school to get the Xie Corporation to provide all of you with an internship. Unfortunately, this is simply a fantasy story for you. To put it bluntly, if I'm not wrong, there should be many people in this class who don't understand Feng Qing's homework. There are even many things that you don't understand. However, this is also normal. After all, even I can't hand in homework like Feng Qing's. To put it bluntly, it's already possible to submit it to the world's most famous financial magazine, Global Finance, for a professional academic journal."

"Hiss..." Upon hearing this, everyone gasped. They knew that Sun Bin admired Feng Qing, but they didn't expect him to have such a high opinion of her.

The "Global Finance" magazine, which was called a magazine, was actually the top and most authoritative financial journal in the world. Many top financial scientists in the world would publish articles in it. For example, Sun Bin, who was not even forty years old this year and had been in the industry for more than ten years, had only published it once in "Global Finance".
